FINANCE AND TRADE.

THE MONETARY SITUATION.—THE BOND MARKET.

The financial situation is one of great strength, and the tendency is towards further ease. The monetary centers of the East have been compelled to reduce the rate of discount, and it is now in order for Chicago to follow. The banks that cater to the wants of the packers and the grain shippers may for some time longer continue to exact the 6 per cent rate, but the banks doing business with wholesalers and mercantile houses have shown of late some disposition to make concessions to substantial parties in search of accommodation. The fact is the amount of business paper out is small, and it is a question whether the banks would not find it beneficial in the end to assist in increasing the supply. This they can only be done by lowering discountrates. Money is an international commodity. It is remarkably cheap in Europe and in fact, apart from the purposes of imparting financial stability at London and other great monetary centers, almost a drug. For some time past, the tendency has been to reduce the margin of profits in all lines. This is in accordance with an invariable economic law, and follows competition. The merchant and the manufacturer have shaped their action accordingly, and yet the monies invested in their businesses are their own. Banks, on the other hand, which depend for their profits mainly upon loans made with the monies of depositors, have stood out for the old rates. There can be no doubt but that this operates against trade in many ways. The subject is one deserving attention just now when trade is looking for something in the nature of a new inspiration.

The national banks of Chicago, of which there are now twenty-one, make a remarkably good showing. According to the latest returns to the Coptroller of the Currency the individual deposits aggregated $65,333,000 and the proportion of reserves to liabilities is 31.53 per cent. The same sort of thing exists pretty well the country over. Thus, at New York, according to the last bank statement, deposits increased $8,768,000 making the total $45530,6,300

The return flow of gold to this side has slackened off considerably, and the rate of sterling exchange is such as to leave no margin for profit on the importation of gold. The existing situation as to the yellow metal is as follows: Total gold exported, $76,154,693; imported through New York $31,129,670, through San Francisco $6,600,000; total $37,729,670. Balance against the United States, $38,425,000. This is a big adverse balance, but it may be remarked that matters were even worse in 1889. For in that year, the United States exported of gold $48,-616,000, and imported but $6.330,000—a balance against this country of over $42,000,000. The subject however, though doubtlessly important, needs excite no alarm. The British Chancellor of the Exchequer, Mr. Gosche,n but the other day gave it as his opinion that the indications pointed to a transfer of gold to this side to the amount of £10,000,000 ($48,000,000), and this by a comparatively early date. In that case, we should not only get all the gold sent out of the country back again, but something like $10,000,000 in addition.

There appears no longer to be any room to doubt but that the great iron industry is reviving. For the week ending December 1, the output of pig iron was as high as 193,000 tons, and during the last six months the average has been 181,000 per week against 173,000 tons per week for the corresponding months of last year. The shrinkage was in the first half of the year, for which the output from the furnaces was but 3,371,925 tons, against 4,560,513 tons for the first half of 1890. Most of the iron manufacturers speak quite enthusiastically of the outlook. Some makers of rails think the trade may fairly expect 1892 to rival 1889, in which year upwards of 2,100,000 tons of rail were made and sold. As the production in this line in 1891 was but 1,200,000 tons, this sort of talk is quite exhilirating and it is justified by the outlook. 1892 promises to witness a fair amount of railway building, and the existing tracks must neccssarily be largely overhauled. It is said that the Pennsylvania lines between Pittsburgh and Chicago are to be duplicated in preparation for the World's Fair, and several other important developments are being considered, and have procceded so far that railway managers are already in correspondence with bridge, locomotive and car builders. Steel rail manufacturers report orders for $20,000,000 worth of rail to be delivered in 1892, Putting all these facts together, a conservative authority places the probable output of iron for 1892 as not short of 11,000,000 tons. A Pittsburgh banker, a man in a position to know, in answer to an inquiry as to the outlook for the iron industry, writes: "You can judge for yourself when I tell you that the iron manufacturers here are opening wine. This is something they have not felt themselves able to do for many moons."

The situation in the South continues somewhat disappointing, owing to the fact that the Southern States still depend for their prosperity almost entirely upon cotton. The last crop was good, especially in Texas, but in the Mississippi valley and along the Atlantic coast line there was some reduction in the yield. The total crop was, however, none the less considerable, being placed at about 8,500,000 bales, or but some 200,000 bales short of last year's phenomenal yield. This large yield was in considerable measure due to the fine weather generally prevailing during the picking season. Nor is any complaint to be made as to the quality of the pick, which in texture and color is excellent. The matter is simply one of price. On December 29, of the current year, middling uplands sold at 7¾ cents, as compared with 9⅝ cents on December 19, of last year. If there is any truth in the statement that it costs 6½ to 7 cents to produce a pound of cotton, it will be seen that the margin left for handling and profit is slender. The outlook for the cotton planter is not bright, for there are economic agencies at work that tend to keep cotton at a low level. Bombay is fast displacing Lancashire in the great Eastern markets, and the process may be expected to continue. Increase of competition for Lancashire naturally tends to lower values this side for the raw article. Complaints are useless, and it but remains to devise the best means wherewith to meet the growing strength of India. One thing is certain, the growers of cotton in our Southern States must learn to get along without the extravagant methods of financiering with which they have in the past been content. We refer to the custom of borrowing money at the rate of 8 and 10 per cent., and purchasing supplies burdened with a profit of something like 50 per cent., and then giving a wet-blanket mortgage upon the crop ahead. In these days of international competition, no business can be profitably pursued under such conditions. Something also might be done by reducing the acreage planted in cotton, and in introducing more diversified methods of agriculture. It is satisfactory to note that the South is awakening to these facts, and, indeed, something has already been accomplished in the direction indicated. During the past year, grain has been shipped in largely increased quantities from both New Orleans and Galveston, and several railroads carrying from Missouri and Kansas are making arrangements for further extensions in the same direction. A 1,000,000-bushel elevator has been contracted for at Galveston, which city is also talking of building new railroads with which to open out the grain districts of Central and Northern Texas. Though it looks as if King Cotton is to be overthrown, the South has many other sources of wealth close at hand. If these are fully utilized, there is no reason why the South should not join the procession of national prosperity.

THE BOND MARKET.

The bond market has for some weeks past been steadily broadening, as will be seen by the amount of business in this class of property on the New York Stock Exchange. Thus the sales, at par value, amounted for the week ending December 10, to $9,900,000; week ending December 17, to $12,800,000; while for the week ending December 24, they aggregated to $14,600,000. At the same time, the "over the counter" trade was also on the steady increase; making the total of the transactions something quite substantial. Accompanying the improved inquiry, and in part no doubt on account of it, prices has hardened, so that an all round gain of several points has been established. To give a few examples. We find, upon reference to prices ruling on, or about, September 24, and comparing them with prices ruling on, or about, December 24, (an interval of but three months), that Atchinson 4s have advanced from 82¼ to 85⅜; Canada Southern 5s, from 105½ to 108¼; Chicago & Alton 1st mortg. 7s, from 103¼ to 106; Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, consolidated 7s, from 120 to 124¼; and Reading 1st preference, from 67½ to 71⅝; and Wabash 1st 5s, from 101¼ to 103¾. The list might be indefinitely extended. There are some exceptions, it is true. But for these exceptions there are always some assignable cause; as for instance with the Gould properties.

Wall street continues to be much divided as to the future of values, and the wired advices sent out by some of the leading commission houses would make queer reading if collected and compared. On Monday, the almost universal opinion was that the bears had come in and prices must forthwith advance. On Wednesday, London flung a few thousand shares on the market, and forthwith the wires were made red hot with warnings not to buy save on sharp breaks. THE JOURNAL does not care to share in these tergiversations. It holds that prices are ultimately ruled by the hard facts of the situation. Now the facts underlying the stock market are of two classes, First, those that are on the surface and accessible to all, such as big crops, increased earnings, etc. Second, those known only to experts or those who care with labor to reach them, as for example: The financial status of each particular property, and the idoisyncracies of its management; the action of silver legislation (actual or threatened); also of legislation a la McKinley, and of diplomacy a la Patrick Egan. Then, there is such a thing as a high water line even to the most bullish of markets, though there are some bulls who do not seem to know it. It is safe to say that quite a number of those who argue in favor of higher and still higher prices are blissfully unconscious of the advance already made. To assist such to their bearings, THE JOURNAL would here point out that from the year 1891, the following gains have been established: Chicago Gas, 34 to 70½; Burlington, 75⅝ to 108½; Canadian Southern, 47⅜ to 62¼; Erie, 17½ to 33½; Illinois Central, 90 to 109; Louisville and Nashville, 65⅞ to 82¼; New York Central, 98½ to 116⅜; and Wabash, 8⅜ to 14¼. The last figure, in every instance, is the closing price December 30, 1891. These advances may be warranted, but they are substantial and cannot be overlooked by prudent men when considering the subject of values.

The freight block at Buffalo is removed, and grain can once more move freely to the ocean where ships await it. Since July 1, over 120,000,000 bushels of wheat have been exported. Europe needs every bushel of our surplus, and we can find good use for the gold we are to receive in payment.

The indications are that the year 1892, on the threshold of which we now stand, will be one of considerable prosperity, accompanied in all probability by some speculation and booming. It is, however, to be hoped that these will be subject to some restraint. The simple fact is, the finances of the world are not in a condition for any abnormal strain, and any undue attempt at forcing the pace would in all probability end in a recoil. The big capitalists may be relied no to favor conservative methods. And the politicians will, however unwittingly, assist them in the good work of holding the adventurous in hand. During the presidential campaign, the silverites may be depended upon making themselves heard, as also Pfeffer and Simpson and Senators Stanford and Washburne. These men will chatter the usual foolishness. Their chatterings won't affect the foundations of credit a particle, but will act as a wholesome restraint upon unwholesome speculation and booming. This will leave the way open to solid progress.

The brightening prospects in the financial affairs of our country resulting from productive industry, are doubly assuring to business men. It is certainly gratifying at the beginning of the year to find the money market in prime condition and its relation to the Treasury so harmonious.

Secretary Foster has united the banks and the Treasury, in practical efforts to preserve the ease and quietude of the money market, and that union has been made operative in methods which have tended to the growth of financial confidence and the rehabilitation of private and public credit during the eventful movements of recovery from the depression caused by the Baring disasters of 1890. The gold revenue from customs is rapidly increasing. It amounts to 58.8 per cent of the total, against 41.5 per cent at the same date in November, 18.2 per cent in October and 11.2 per cent in September. The Treasury notes of 1890 paid in for customs duties, amount to 19.5 per cent, against 31.6 per cent in October last. The new movements thus indicated are instructive. They suggest the best anticipations for the Secretary's conservative policy and its continued success. A large gold revenue is essential to the wholesome power which the Treasury during the last year has so advantageously used for the promotion of that industrial strength, financial ease, improving credit and commercial activity, which have been and will be among the most conspicuous safeguards of the monetary machinery in adjusting itself to the vast increase of business due to the pressure of the crops and the unparalled prosperity and new wealth they are creating for the nation.

The American Banker, in its article on the money market has the following:

The total gold in the Treasury December 19, is reported at $176,766,838, against $238,518,121 when the fiscal year began July 1, 1891, $321,612,423 at the same date in 1890, $303,504,319 in 1889, and $313,753,616 in 1888. It will be seen that during the last six months the movevent has been prosperously begun, which is expected to be kept up by the same conservative and salutary forces which started it, and received such timely aid from the powerfully combined union of the whole banking system National and non-National with the Treasury of the United States.

As to the net gold balance it has risen to $129,193,-224, against $117,667,722 at the beginning of the fiscal year, and $190, 232,454 in July 1890, while in July 1889 it was $186,811,560, and 193,866,246 in July 1888. The accelerating ratio of the increase is one of the most notable and potent features of the movement, because it is dependent upon causes connected with the favorable international exchanges present and prospective, which are at present such predominant factors in the forcast of the financial and commercial markets by our bankers, and the mercantile community in all parts of the country. Its causes and operations are also reflected in the bank statements for December, which are being published by Comptroller Lacey much earlier than usual, to give to the banks and the people the full advantage of the publicity required for these facts under the salutary provisions of the banking law.

Bullion has decreased at the Bank of England during the past week £898,000 ($4,319,000); and the proportion of reserve to liability, which last week was 40.05 per cent has fallen to 36.15 per cent. The demand on London for gold has been heavy alike from the continent and South America. The bank directors, however, did not, contrary to expectation advance the rate, though there has been a slight temporary flurry in the outside market which carried money to 5 per cent.

THE LOCAL STOCK MARKET.

Trading on the Local Stock Exchange has been fairly well distributed, but prices have not in all instances been sustained. The street cables look as if coming again into special favor. It is expected that on January 5, an increased dividend will be declared on North side cable. The more general opinion is that the raise will be from 8 per cent to 9 per cent, but some maintain that the property is to be advanced immediately to a 10 per cent basis. As to West side cable, the impression is growing that an increase in the amount of dividend is hardly to be looked for just now. This property is still comparatively young, and much has to be done in the way of extensions and improvements. It has been a principle of the present management to pay all outlays in the shape of ordinary betterments as far as possible out of income. It is a sound policy, but of course, helps to keep dividends down, at least for a season.

North side cable opened strong at 184. Regular held at this figure most of the morning session, but advanced to 184¼ and, in the afternoon lifted a further ¼, the close being 184¼. The close for the 2nd account was at 186¼. Total, 830 shares. On Tuesday regular opened at 184½, advanced to 185 on a solitary small deal, and closed as it opened. The bulk of trading was however for 2nd account, which started off at 186⅜ and slowly sagged down until the close, when it stood at 185¼, 1,283 shares marketed, mostly in fifties and hundreds. Wednesday witnessed a somewhat sharp decline; regular, after opening at 183, selling off to 181. Trading for the account not much favored; 725 shares changed hands. West side cable displayed more strength than the sister property, and recorded a moderate advance. On Monday, the action of this property was as follows: Regular, opened at 128⅛ and lifted to 130, the close. For 2nd account, stood at close at 131¼. Upwards of 2,000 shares dealt in during course of the day, including 500 shares (in two lots) for the 2nd account. Tuesday was another big day, and two lots each of 500 (regular) were placed at 129¾. The closing prices were, for regular, 129½; for the 2nd account 131. Transactions for the day, 3,685 shares. The following day found this property still in active request, though lots of 500 each were not on the order of the day. Prices held steady, those at the close being, regular, at 129; 2nd account, at 130¼. Total number of shares in this property disposed of, upward of 1,750.

City railway has had some life infused into it, owing to a report circulating that its stockholders would be admitted to certain benefits in connection with the Alley Elevated railway stock. At the opening Monday, 10 shares sold at 310, then 318 was offered and accepted for a small lot of 4 shares. For the remainder of the day, the price was 315. This was the opening on the following morning, but a parcel of 50 shares being offered the price fell off to 310. Business for the two days limited to 252 shares. On Wednesday nothing was effected in this property, the the highest bid forthcoming being 304, for a parcel of less than 50 shares.

Street's Stable Car line continues to invoke much controversey, and though subjected to a considerable amount of professional hammering steadfastly refuses to decline. Regular opened (Monday) at 34¼, and closed (Wednesday) at 34. Average daily transactions over 1200 shares (various), mostly in hundreds. The election of officers to the company will take place January 26. The present president, Mr. Fisher will then retire, and it is expected that Henry C. Wicker will be elected to the office. Mr. Wicker is in every sense a desirable party to have as head of the concern he having been traffic manager of the Northwestern railroad for twenty-five years.

Diamond Match steady at 127. This property has been in no great demand during the past week. Western stone, nothing effected.

During the first two days of the current week there was some lively trading in Calumet and Chicago Canal and Dock. The closing prices (Tuesday) were regular, at 74; 2nd account, at 74⅛. Number of shares disposed of in the two active days, 1,435 (various). On Wednesday, there was trading in this property, buyers insisted upon fractional concessions, but, not obtaining them, held aloof.

Arc Light and Power has further declined, and sold (Wednesday) as low as 78⅛. Sales, for first three days in the week, 120 in all.

American Strawboard, opened (Monday) at 69; advanced (Tuesday) to 70; and closed (Wednesday) at 69¾. Light trading.

Packing and Provision steady at 47. Only an occasional deal carried through.

Bond market strong with light trading. Gas Light and Coke 5s, which sold (Monday) at 82½, advanced (Wednesday) to 86. Average business, but $10,000 daily. Consumer's Gas 5s., sold in small quantities at 81¼. Central Safe Deposit 5s., sold down from 99⅞ to 99. Chicago City Railway 4½s., at 98½ for a round $25,000.

A few shares of Chicago Telephone were placed at 225.

Referring to the official list, the par value of the securities there appearing is $835,438,719, viz:—Stock (shares), $418,826,858, and bonds, $416,611,861.

Some idea of the growth of business on the Chicago Stock Exchange may be gathered from the fact that the number of shares dealt in during the past year was 700,000—as compared with 150,100 in 1889, and 79,146 in 1882. Nor does this complete the story for the value of bonds traded in 1891 was $19,250,000—as compared with $18,550,600 and $4,172,700, for the years 1890 and 1882, respectively.

The bank clearings for the week at Chicago were as follows:

Friday	Holiday
Saturday	$16,393,344
Monday	15,315,000
Tuesday	14,515,220
Wednesday	14,257,065
Thursday	16,505,651
Total	$ 76,986,280

PECULIARITIES OF RECENT LEASES.

DECEPTIVE VALUATIONS.

The complete classification of the ninety-nine year leases negotiated during 1891 given by the JOURNAL of last week, has been favorably commented on by real estate men. In fact the entire subject of long term leases is of more than ordinary interest to the real estate fraternity. A few years ago a ninety-nine year lease was a notable incident Now property on all the down town streets and even in the outlying districts is being offered for lease. In last week's JOURNAL nearly 100 leases were selected and grouped as important and representative transactions in that line.

Some of these represent sales of leaseholds with improvements. The majority of them indicate actual leases and the description of properties and actual rentals are given. Dearborn street furnishes the most notable list of long term leases of the Safe building, the Hawley corner, the Stewart-Bentley property and the Reeves property.

In the matter of establishing valuations leases heretofore have been classed with sales. Under the old order of things when property was leased at something near its actual value such a classification was allowable. Under the present custom of making leases for the purpose of selling the fees, the classification is faulty. The negotiation of a ninety-nine year lease and the purchase of a fee were actual real estate transactions five years ago. The purchase of a fee at present is generally a method of loaning money for a long term of years. The leases of a dozen South Side corners could be cited as illustrations of this fact.

The fee of the land at the corner of Twenty-second street and Michigan avenue, 161x125 feet, has been sold for $3,000 a front foot to Thomas R. Lyon. Neither the seller nor purchaser considers that this property is worth over $1,800 a front foot. The buyer simply considers that he is placing $375,000 where he will secure an income of six per cent, and that he is secured by the building improvement for the amount of his annual rental. Such transactions although perfectly regular and businesslike naturally furnish no basis for the computation of square or front foot values. It might be safe to estimate that of the 100 important leases given, forty are involved transactions on which it is impossible to calculate values.

This tendency to inflate apparent valuations has a demoralizing effect on the investment market. Where fees were considered absolutely safe investments five years ago, they are now critically received. One broker is authority for the statement that not more than 20 per cent of the fees which are offered on the general market are bona fide investment properties. A number of purchasers of fees, have discovered to their sorrow that the long term lease business offers opportunities for manipulation and unfair dealing! A choice corner is purchased. The purchaser offers the property in turn for double what it is worth as a fee, agreeing to find a party ready to take a lease back at a fair income on this inflated value. He offers a bond to secure the erection of a building improvement. The fee buyer takes the property and the lease is made, possibly to some irresponsible party. The lessee fails to perform his part of the contract, the lease is forfeited and the purchaser of the so-called fee is left with property on his hands which has cost him twice what it should have brought,

Just how far the future of property may be safely discounted in the negotiation of a ninety-nine year lease is a question which cannot be settled arbitrarily. It is, of course, only fair that a valuation for a long term lease, should be in advance of a valuation for the purpose of making a sale. It is just as clear that a valuation of double the present market price of adjoining property, is not warranted. This system of inflating values, places the entire transaction on a false basis. The seller of the fee gets double what his property is worth. The lessee pays double the natural rental. The purchaser of the fee, instead of obtaining an absolutely safe investment is secured at least in part by the success of the buildings erected by his lessee.

Analysis of Important Transactions.

A YEAR REMARKABLE FOR THE GREAT AMOUNT OF CAPITAL INVESTED IN BUILDINGS AND THE MAINTENANCE OF VALUES IN ALL CLASSES OF REAL ESTATE.

The twelve months just ended formed the most satisfactory period the conservative real estate dealer has experienced for many years. The feverish speculation so characteristic of the market during 1890, made the healthy, even tempered trade of the past year particularly welcome to all who have the best interests of Chicago at heart. The new year comes with every promise of being one of exceedingly gratifying results.

The climax of last year's prices was reached when $7,500 a front foot was paid for the Inter-Ocean corner, but that price for central business frontage was exceeded in September of this year, when the Gillette property at the southwest corner of the same streets, was leased to the Hartford Deposit Co., on a basis of $600,000, being at the rate of $12,000 a front foot on Madison street. After many different parties had negotiated for it, a 99 years lease was made to the lately organized Hartford Deposit Company, the terms of which call for the payment of $60,000 cash on May 1st, 1892. and for four years therefrom, a rental of $23,000, $24,000, $25,000 and $26,000 respectively, after which time a rental of $27,000 per annum to end of term. Counting the $60,000 as capital and not rent as it really is, the interest on which, at 5 per cent, would be $3,000 a year, it makes the rental for the long term practically $30,000 a year, or 5 per cent on $600,000, which is, as stated above, at the rate of $12,000 a front foot on Madison street, or a little less than $130 a square foot. This is the highest price ever established in Chicago, with the one exception of the Atwood corner on Madison and Clark streets. The lease of this property was made on a valuation of the Madison street frontage, of over $16,000 a foot, and over $203 a square foot; but there was no building clause in that lease, and it is, therefore, no true basis upon which to compute values. The Hartford Deposit Co. are to begin work on their twelve-story building, which is to replace the old Hawley building now on the property, next May.

Madison street has figured quite prominently in the doings of the year. A deal, second only to the one above mentioned, is the lease made a few weeks ago by the estate of C. N. Holden to a local investor, of the 45x100 feet adjoining the Gillette property on the west, on a valuation of nearly $12,000 a front foot, and $120 a square foot. Unlike the lease of the corner property, and like the Atwood lease, there is no stipulation in the lease of this 45 feet for the erection of a building. The payment of the rent being therefore unsecured, the price per foot is no guide for arriving at values.

Not only does East Madison street furnish the highest front foot valuation this year, but it is also prominently identified with one of the largest sales of central business property ever consummated in this city, viz.; that of the Major block, often described in the JOURNAL. It established a value $9,807 a foot on Madison street — $70 a square foot. The building, which was an old one, was not taken into consideration in the sale, although it was in fair condition and had been improved just before the sale, at a cost of about $30,000.

The last deal this year on Madison street, east of the river of large amount, was closed in September. it was the leasing of 45x100 feet at the southeast corner of Fifth avenue, to Chas. H. Marshall and others, for 99 years, at $12,500 a year for the first five years, and $15,000 a year for the remaining ninety-four years. On a 5 per cent basis, the short term rental gives a valuation of $250,000, and the long term, $300,000, or $5,555 a front foot, and $55 a square foot, and $6,666 a front foot, and $66 a square foot respectively. Madison street is now one of the greatest thoroughfares in Chicago, and when one considers that for the entire distance from Lake Michigan to the Desplaines river it is paved, its importance as a traffic way can be better understood.

On the west side of the city, Madison street deals have made a good showing. During the last days of March, a sale between Mary J. Meeker and Chas. E. Kohl, of Kohl & Middleton was closed, the property covered being 50x189 feet, north front, with five story building, numbered 136 and 138, for which a consideration of $90,000 was paid. The building was then occupied as a museum. A new building is now about completed there. About a month later, the entire north frontage between Seeley and Hoyne avenues, 266½x125 feet, was sold by Byron L. Smith to Jacob Kramer, for $80,000. From that time till about the close of November, no sale of special moment was made, and the transfer by John Berry the confectioner to Helen Culver, of 35x155 feet, at the northeast corner of Ashland avenue for $50,000 at that time, closed the list of important Madison street deals east of West Fortieth for 1891. The destruction by fire of John M. Smythe's great building on Madison street, between Union and Halsted streets, proved to be a benefit for that thoroughfare, for one of the strongest and handsomest mercantile buildings in the city, has since replaced the ruins of the old block.

The opening of the year found a trio of the greatest structures of the kind ever erected in the world, well under way at the south end of Dearborn street. The sixteen story Manhattan and Monadnock buildings and the Northern hotel. The twelve story Monon, Pontiac and Caxton buildings had been given finishing touches but a short time previous, and the whole district was in a particularly buoyant condition. The largest sale of business property of the year occurred at this point about a month ago, when the title to the Monon Building and the 75 feet of ground under it, passed to the Thayer estate for $500,000: also the title to the Zearing property, 25 feet and five story building adjoining on the north, from A. H. Wilder of St. Paul, to the same purchaser for $75,000. The entire 100 feet and buildings costing a total of $575,000, the ground being valued at close to $3,000 a front foot.

C. C. Heissen purchased from Mary Young the north fifty feet under the Manhatten building for a total consideration of $160,000, or a little over $3,000 a front foot. Mr. Heissen already owned the remainder of the site of that building as well as the building itself, and had previously held this fifty feet under a lease. This purchase gave him full title to the entire property, and enabled him to secure a loan of $425,000 from the Equitable Life Insurance Co., of New York, for five years at five per cent. In connection with this deal was the sale to Mary Young by Mr. Heissen of 75 feet on the opposite side of Dearborn street, being east front, for $140,000, and then leasing it back for 99 years, at an annual rental of $3,000. Another transaction was closed the latter part of February, of the building and leasehold 40x68 feet, at numbers 340 and 342, by Geo. H. Taylor, to Joseph Austrian, for $65,000. The lease has 94 years yet to run, and calls for an annual rental of $4,500.

At the river on north end of Dearborn street, much has occurred since January last to attract special attention, the principal event being the rising of the tower of brick, iron and granite, on the site of the old Unity building. The 80x120 feet of ground forming the site of this building is owned by Dr. T. D Richardson, of New Orleans, who leased it in the spring of 1890 to Judge John P. Altgeld for 99 years, at $18,000 a year, with the stipulation that a new block should be erected there inside of five years. Applying the usual rule of five per cent, this rental placed a valuation of $360,000 on that ground, being at the rate of $4,500 a front foot, and $37.50 a square foot. Some considered this a high figure at the time the deal was made, but recent developments have caused them to re-adjust those conclusions.

The lease by the Reeves estate to the L. Wolf Manufacturaing Co., of the 28x80 feet of ground at number 91, shows that the Unity property was purchased at a reasonable figure. This lease was for the usual term of 99 years, the annual rent being $5,000 for the first five years, and $6,000 per annum thereafter, the lessee to pay $30,000 cash for the building, which was well built and was only partly torn down, the remainder being used in the new building now being finished there. The rental established a value of a trifle less than $119,000 for the ground, or at the rate of $4,250 a front foot, and about $53 a square foot. In comparing, it should be remembered that the Unity block faces south on a wide alley with a narrow rear court, while the Reeves property has no side exposure.

On February 10th, the 62 feet of ground fronting west and adjoining the Real Estate Board building on the north, was sold by C. N. Fay to Boston parties for $160,000. Twenty feet of the ground has a depth of 80 feet, while the remaining 42 feet is 160 feet deep. $60,000 gives a value of $2,580 a front foot, and only $19 a square foot. Mr. Fay leased the ground for 198 years, at an annual rental of $8,000 in gold, being five per cent on the price he receeived for it. The ground and building was purchased by Mr. Fay some years ago for $225,000. About a month after this sale was closed, a half interest in the Real Estate Board building and ground underneath it was sold to Henry B. Mason, the owner of the other half, for $200,000. The property fronts 71 feet west on Dearborn street, and 60 feet south on Randolph street, and cost the net sum of $260,000. This sale placed a value of $400,000 on the whole property, and, the building being valued at $100,000, established a front foot rate of $4,225, and $70 a square foot. There is a wide difference between $19 and $70 a square foot, and considering that one is a corner and the other is inside property, the difference appears much too large. In the Fay property, there are 8,320 square feet, while the corner piece contains but 4,260, yet the latter is given a value of $300,000 and the former $160,000.

The most notable deal in the middle portion of Dearborn street consummated this year, was that in connection with the 40x90 feet and old fashioned 3½ story building, at number 112 and 114, known as the Stewart-Bently property. It was leased last May by Cyrus Bently Jr., and Julia T. Sherman, to W. B. Boyce for 99 years at an annual rental of $11,000 for first five and $11,500 for remaining 94 years, with the provision that a building to cost at least $100,000 should be erected at once, or inside of five years, if a yearly deposit of $5,000 to apply on the cost of said building was made during that time. Two months later Mr. Boyce re-leased the same property to Michigan parties for 99 years, the rental being $15,000 a year, or 5 per cent on $300,000. This was at the rate of $7,500 a front foot and a little over $83 a square foot. The Stewart-Clark property at 97 Dearborn street, was leased sometime ago at a very high figure, but the lessee claiming a misrepresentation of the strength of the building was made to him, the deal fell through. It is now said that J. A. Qualey has leased the same property for 99 years, at a rental of $21,000 per annum.

The highest price ever paid for State street frontage as far south as Harrison street, was paid two weeks ago, by Alexander J. Alexander, at the northeast corner of Harrison street. The ground has a frontage of 40 feet and a depth of 138 feet, and the consideration was $205,000, being a little more than $5,000 a front foot, and $37 a square foot. The fact that Mr. Alexander owns the 60 feet adjoining on the north and wanted this 40 feet piece to complete his 100 feet of frontage, should be considered in comparing values in that vicinity.

South from Harrison street, the sales on State street have been numerous, and have included some very interesting deals. On the east side of the street, between Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets, 60x150 feet with four story and basement brick building used as a railroad mission. was sold in October by Geo. F. Lyon, to John W. Conroy, for $65,000. The building was valued at $25,000, which made the ground $666 a front foot. Opposite Fifteenth street, 126x116 feet was sold by E. E. Crepin, to Alex A. McKay, for $76,164, or $600 a front foot, about eight months before.

One of the first deals of the year was by A. J. Cooper of an undivided third interest in the Alhambra theatre leasehold, to Perry H. Smith, Jr, for $125,000, and about three months later, he sold a half interest in the same leasehold to Mrs. Perry H. Smith for $200,000. The ground in question is a triangular piece at the intersection of State, Archer avenue and Twentieth street, having a measurement of 293 6-10 x177x151 feet. The theatre and hotel building upon it, is a very handsome structure. A week later the Johnston estate, of Galesburg, Ill., sold to Chancellor L. Jenks, for $65,000, 300 feet between Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth streets. The depth, on account of the strip of 25 feet that was taken off for the Alley Elevated Road right of way, is about 115 feet. The north 100 feet is covered by old brick buildings; the 50 feet next south is under lease till 1899, and the remaining 50 feet is leased till 1916, both being at 6 per cent on valuation decided on, every five years.

In November, the Columbian hotel and leasehold interest at the north-east corner of Thirty-first street, was sold by Henry C. Knill to Thomas Whitfield, for $50 000. The ground measures 66⅔x118 feet, and the lease runs for 99 years, at $4,100 a year, which, at 6 per cent, is a valuation of $1,042 a front foot. Continuing down State street, the next event of note, and one of the leading events of the year in real estate circles, occured at Thirty-fourth street in the latter part of May. The entire property fronting 264 feet south on Dearborn street, 236 feet east on State, and the same amount of west frontage on Dearborn street, was leased by a group of holders to the Mecca Building Company for 99 years, at an annual rental of $12,000, being 6 per cent on $200,000. Since then a great apartment block has been erected there.

At the northeast corner of Forty-second street, a partly completed three story brick flat building, and 91½x161 feet of ground were purchased in February by D. P. Morgan, for $88,500. Between Fifty-seventh and Fifty-eighth streets, at the southeast corner of Cloud court, 152x99 was leased in the latter part of July, by Theo. G. Dickinson, to J. F. Winter for 99 years at 6 per cent on a $100,000 valuation, or $6,000 a year. It will be remembered that this high rate of $650 a front foot for that property caused a great amount of comment, until it became known that Mr. Dickinson gave $20,000 toward the cost of the building. Another sale of first importance was made but recently by Mary H. M. Terry to John McWilliams. This property was jointly owned by grantor and grantee, the former conveying her half interest to Williams in the 48x150½ feet, 149 feet north of Madison street, for $200,000. This is $10,000 per front foot; and $66 per square foot. This transaction with many others, was fully written up in the JOURNAL of last week.

Undoubtedly the most notable transaction on Wabash avenue, was that by which the Chicago Auditorium Association received an extension of 100 years, in their leases of the property composing the site of that great building, and the abolishment of the revaluation clauses in them. The new arrangement makes the rent for the next five years, $42,210 a year, and for the remaining 194 years $47,532. All the property in the site came in under the new adjustment, with the exception of the small Studebaker site.

The purchase in February on Wabash avenue by

Mandel Bros., of the building and leasehold at number 111, owned and occupied by Spoor Mackey, for $102,500, attracted considerable attention from other dry-goods merchants. They own the property adjoining on the south, which they have used for sometime in connection with their State street store. It has been believed for some time that Mandel Bros. were endeavoring to secure adjoining property sufficient to accommodate the future growth of their business. Carson, Pirie Scott & Co., consolodated their Wabash retail house with their State street establishment, enlarging the latter to meet the extra demands. Marshall Field & Co., have for months been negotiating for additional area, and at one time it was reported that they had gotten control of the entire block bounded by State street, Wabash avenue, Washington and Randolph streets. That these large houses are in need of still more room, is conclusive evidence of the growth in the city's population.

The next important deal on Wabash avenue was the lease about a month later, of the property 126 feet south of Adams street, being numbers 211 and 213, by Judge Cyrus M. Hawley, to Z. S. Holbrook, for 99 years, the terms being $9,500 a year for the first five years, and $10,000 a year for the remaining time. The ground measures 34x171 feet, and is covered by a four story and basement brick building. On a 6 per cent basis, the property by this lease is valued at $165,000. Continuing southward, the next piece of property of large amount to change hands, was the 80x180 feet of west front between Congress street and Harmon court, adjoining on the north the building at 346 and 348, occupied by Frederick G. Walker, the carriage manufacturer. It was leased to Mr. Walker in June for 15 years at $6,000 a year rental, he having leased the building he occupied to George F. Kimball & Co., the glove manufacturer for ten years, at an annual rental of $12,000.

In October, E. Bergman sold to the estate of A. Cowles, 30x165½ feet east front, 120 feet north of Harmon court, for $50,000. About a week before, J. W. Paxton leased to a local syndicate his 50x170 feet of ground at numbers 499 and 501, for 99 years, at a rental of $4,500 a year in gold. This on a six per cent basis, gives the land a valuation of $75,000, or $1,500 a front foot. The 30 feet adjoining this property on the south, was sold at about the same time at $1,700 a front foot. Then too, the 40x165 feet, east front, at number 559, was sold at the beginning of the year by G. B. Shaw to Calvin F. Rice, for $60,000, or at the rate of $1,500 a front foot. This is believed to be the highest price ever paid for property so far south on that street.

In June, 50x180 feet at 1345 and 1347 was sold by Frederick T. Haseall to Thos. Dent, with building occupied by Munger's laundry for $60,000, and three months later, the five story store and hotel building having a frontage of 37½ feet, with leasehold at 1414, was transferred to Joseph D. Allen by Henry W. Snyder, in exchange for vacant property on Michigan avenue and Ada street. The ground is leased for 99 years, from Julia M. Watson, at a rental of $3,600 a year. The whole property is valued in this transaction at $75,000. At 1433 and 1435 the next deal occurred. In the latter part of May, E. W. Shirk bought the 50x170½ feet of ground at those numbers for $80,000, and leased it to Wm. A. Bayor for 99 years at $4,500 a year for the first five years, and $5,000 a year for the remaining years. October 5th, Mr. Shirk purchassed the 30 feet of ground adjoining the above property on the South from Gen. C. W. Drew, and leased the same to Mr. Bayor for 99 years, at $2,750 a year rental. The lessee will erect a fine block on the entire 80 feet of frontage.

In October, for $54,000, Jas. H. Walker & Co. sold to a manufacturing and wholesale firm at Elkhart, Indiana, the property at number 1519. It consists of 50x170 feet of ground, with two story brick building on rear portion of lot, used by Walker & Co. for stables. The Southern Hotel stables and leasehold at 2021 and 2023 were sold in July by Leroy Payne to H. F. Eames, for $50,000. The ground measures 50x180 feet, and was leased to Mr. Payne by the late John D. Jennings for 99 years, at a rental of $1,200 a year. At 2108 and 2110, the 50½x120 feet of ground and four story store front building, were sold October 5th to Toledo capitalists for $60,000, or $1,178 a front foot. A little over a month later, the highest price ever paid for Wabash avenue property any where as far south, was given by Thies J. Leffens, for the 75x119 feet at the northeast corner of Twenty-second street, the sellers being the heirs of John Mattox and Mason Brothers. The consideration was $130,000, and as the building there was considered of no particular value, the price per front foot was $1,733, or $14.50 a square foot. The corresponding corner on Michigan avenue, was sold something like two years ago for $1,600 a front foot. The Wabash and Twenty-second street corners are especially well located, particularly the one above spoken of, as the cable cars turn at that point from Wabash avenue east to Cottage Grove avenue.

The largest sale of the year on Wabash avenue was that of the seven story and basement Ozark apartment building, with leasehold interest, at the northeast corner of Thirty-fifth street, by J. B. Skinner to Leonard C. Riggs, for $350,000. The deal was closed early in April. The lease is a 99 year one, calling for a yearly rental of $3,500, the ground being owned by J. B. Waller. In September Mr. Waller sold this ground, which measures 75x165 feet, to Mrs. Louise H Waller, wife of Wm. Waller, for $60,000, he having purchased it two years before from George A. Seaverns for $27,000. The last sale of special note on Wabash avenue during this year, was the 130x187½ feet at the northeast corner of Eda street, between Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh streets, for $37,500, or about $300 a front foot. The $500 a front foot difference between this piece and the same corner at Thirty-fifth street sold by Mr. Waller only two blocks further south, is certainly a compliment to the desirability of property on that thoroughfare.

Commencing at the river, the first piece of property to be transferred on Michigan avenue, was number 24, 26, 28 and 30. It was sold in May by Frederick T. Hascall and Cordelia E. Barker, to Wm. Stewart, for $100,000. The building was valued at $30,000, leaving $70,000 as the price of the 80x124 feet of ground, or $875 a front fooot. South from this point the first deal of importance was at the northwest corner of Adams street. A. J. Cooper contracted in March, to sell to Spoor Mackey the Brunswick hotel, and leasehold interest in the 100x52 feet of ground at that corner, for $125,000. A month later, the 39½x175 feet of ground under Ritchies' box factory, at numbers 154 and 155, was sold by Mr. Ritchie to W. C. Comstock for $100,000, or $2,500 a front foot. The sale was made subject to a lease for 198 years, at $5,500 yearly rental, held by the seller.

The next piece of property on this avenue that changed hands this year, is the 38½x172 feet under the Argyle apartment building, at the northwest corner of Jackson street, which has since been remodled and beautified, leased to Malcolm McNeil and others, the Peek estate being the owner, and a re-appraisal in January placed a value of $116,960 upon it, which changed the rental from $3,480, to $7,017 a year for the next five years, being on a basis of 6 per cent.

The largest and most notable deal on Michigan avenue, is the one just being formally closed. It is the sale of the Art Institute property, at the northeast corner of Van Buren street, to the Chicago club for $425,000. The ground which measures 80x171 10-12 feet, was valued at $4,000 a front foot, or a little more than $23 a square foot. The building is a beautiful brown stone one, and will make the club a palatial home.

At numbers 226 and 227 was the next property to the south to be included in the operations of this year. C. J. and W. J. Blair sold the 41 feet there. to R. M. Hooley last month, for $103,750 Six months previous, the property at numbers 333 and 334 was sold by Dr. F. Clark to E. W. Shirk for $100,000, and then leased back to the doctor for 99 years, at an annual rental of 6 per cent on the selling price, or $6,000. The next jump was to 50x161 feet 125 feet south of Twenty-first street, west front, which was sold in November by Geo. H. Cameron to Honore Bros., for $55,000, or $1,000 a front foot. The property at the southeast corner of Twenty-second street was next transferred. It measures 125x161 feet. In early March, E. A. Bacheldor leased it from S. B. Howes, at 6 per cent on $160,000, or $9,600 a year, the lease containing an option to purchase at that valuation. Mr. Bacheldor took advantage of this option sometime later, and purchased the property for $160,000, and also 25 feet adjoining on the north from the Peck estate, for $30,000, or $190,000 in all. Gen. Milo S. Haseall then became interested in the property, but subsequently sold his half interest back to Mr. Bacheldor for a stated consideration of $200,000. The proposed hotel project was making but slow headway, when the property was sold to W. A. and A. E. Wells for $350,000. These gentlemen then leased the much tossed about equity to the Lexington Hotel Company for 99 years, at $22,500 a year rental, being 6 per cent on $375,000, and, as a final scene for this year, the fee once more changes hands, Thos. R. Lyon having purchased it last month at the valuation put upon it by the lease to the hotel company.

S. A. Brown sold 100x176 feet to T. J. Leffens, with residence, at number 2626 Michigan avenue in September, for $125,000. The southeast corner of Thirtieth street 75x119, feet, was sold in May to M. W. Rhodes, by E. A. Ware, for $84,000. Two weeks before that time, 47x119 feet and two story house, and flat building at 3027 and 3029, was sold by C. C. Collins to Clarence I. Peek for $50,000. Continuing down the avenue, the next sale of good size was at 3614, where 50x174⅝ feet of ground and a three story stone residence were sold by Jos. L. Woodward to F. G. Wheeler for $100,000.

At the southeast corner of Thirty-fifth street, 89½x 195½ feet of ground was leased in February by Wm Borden to Jas. B. Cozzens, for 99 years the term of the lease being, $3,740 for first two years, $5,000 for the next eight years, and $6,000 for the remaining 89 years, with an option to purchase any time inside of twenty years for $125,000, being $1,400 a front foot on Michigan avenue. At the northwest corner of Eda street, between Thirty-sixth and Thirty seventh streets, is the 130 6-10x187½ feet of property that Joseph D. Allen deeded to Henry W. Snyder in September, in exchange for the latter's property at 1414 Wabash avenue. The valuation put upon it by this deed was 78,600, or over $600 a front foot. It cost Mr. Allen a year before but $55,000. About a month after acquiring this property, Mr. Snyder sold it to George Hankins.

THE BUILDING RECORD OF 1891.

The year 1891 ends with an unparalled building record. The transfer lists as analyzed by the JOURNAL last week indicate a general activity exceeding that of any previous year with the exception of the single year 1890. The record of building permits however makes no such exception. The total of building permits issued during 1891 is as much in advance of the issue of 1890, as the total of transfers for 1890 exceeds the total of the year just ended. The building commisioner issued permits during 1891 authorizing the creetion of over 11,500 buildings at an estimated cost of $55,300,000. These buildings will cover a solid frontage of fifty-one miles. They would cover in other words one side of a street extending from Fort Sheridan to the south county line, or both sides of a street running from Chicago beyond the town of Harvey.

The building permit totals show to best advantage when comparison is made between Chicago and New York. Chicago's building operations as indicated by the building permits amounted in 1890 to $47,300,000, but in 1891 amounted to over $55,000,000. In New York plans were filed in 1890 for buildings to cost $74,676,000. During last year permits were issued for buildings representing an outlay of only $57,000,000.

Conservative business men do not base their opinions of the prosperity of a city by the great totals representing transfers or building operations as independent factors. It is the general equilibrium or due proportion which exists between the two lines of development which is watched with most interest, The remark is often heard that more property is being sold in Chicago than can be used; that acre tracts not ripe for subdivision are being pushed forward in the market; and that sales are in excess of the actual demand. The facts in the case do not warrant such criticisms of the real estate market. During the eleven years including 1881 and 1891 the average ratio between the amounts represented in building operations and in sales has been as 1 to 3.8. That is, during this term $3.80 has been expended in the purchase of property to every $1 which has gone into a building improvement. During this term of eleven years the showing in New York has been less satisfactory. The ratio between the amounts represented by building operations and realty sales has been as 1 to 4. The ratio between the two lines of real estate enterprise in Chicago has been as follows:

	REALTY TRANSFERS	BLDG. PERMITS.		REALTY TRANSFERS	BLDG. PERMITS.
1881	1	4.0	1887	1	4.8
1882	1	3.5	1888	1	4.5
1883	1	3	1889	1	4.3
1884	1	2.5	1890	1	4.9
1886	1	4

The greatest difference is seen in the year 1890. In that year of unprecedented real estate activity when all classes and conditions of property were in active demand, it was impossible for the building operations to keep pace with the sales. In 1891 however, with transfers of $180,000,000 worth of property, there was only 3.2 times as much money represented in sales as in building operations. The ratio between the two lines for New York is as follows:

	REALTY TRANSFERS.	BLDG. PERMITS.		REALTY TRANSFERS	BLDG. PERMITS.
1883	1	3.8	1889	1	3.9
1884	1	4.3	1890	1	3.7

The satisfactory proportion between the purchases, and improvement by buildings should be an answer to all who insist that too many sales are being made. If for every $4 expended for land $1 is expended in building improvement it need not be alarming if the entire county is sold out in town lots.

The feature of the year in building operations has been in the construction of great office buildings. The Unity building, Ashland block, Venetian building Chicago, Title & Trust building, the German Theater and Fair building are all structures of 1891. The work done on the Monadnock, Northern Hotel, Woman's Temple, Masonic Temple and Manhattan building almost place these buildings in the same class. The projected office buildings of the year are legion. There is the Hartford for the southwest corner of Madison and Dearborn streets, the Boyce building to replace the Stewart-Bentley block, the Security building for the southeast corner of Madison street and Fifth avenue, the Mallers warehouse and office building for the site of the old appraisers stores and the S. J. Lee building on Fifth avenue. There are other building projects which have only advanced as far as the work of securing building permits. In some cases these permits indicate that building operations are contemplated. However, most of these permits have been secured as a sort of precautionary measure to guard against any unfavorable turn of the agitation against high buildings. Permits have been secured for a number of tall office buildings. Authority has been secured for the construction of the Giles building on the corner of Fifth avenue and Jackson street, for a building to replace the Honore block, for a continuation of the Monadnock building, on the Bartlett corner on the opposite side of Dearborn street, for two buildings on the same street one to be built by J. W. Ellsworth and one to be built by S. J. Fisher, for a building to be erected on the corner of Michigan avenue and Washington street for a building on the property east of the Northern Hotel, and last of all for a structure to replace the Times building.

NEW DEPARTURE IN ARCHITECTURE.

From the time when the pointed arch came in the architectural history of our country and of France, and to a large extent that of other countries, is given a series of new departures of the most interesting and pleasing kind. What we are accustomed to call Early English Decorated and Perpendicular are phases through which Mediæval architecture passed, under a stimulus which lasted for more than three centuries after the introduction of the pointed arch. Of course many causes concurred to keep up the great building zeal of the Middle Ages, but that zeal in itself is not sufficient to account for the eagerness and skill with which new forms, new moldings, new enrichments and new vaults were elaborated, each one rising out of the one immediately preceding it, and taking its place, and for the rush after novelty kept up so long; and I think what may perhaps be called the artistic impulse came more from the sudden introduction into architecture of a new and unthought-of feature than from any other definite cause.

It is worth remark that, so far as one can form an impartial judgment, the pursuit of change did not by any means always mean the attainment of growth. Early English was, on the whole, a finer style than either of those that followed it, and I think most judges would also admit that Decorated was finer than perpendicular. What was second was vitality and change, not necessarily advance.

We come now to the remarkable influence out of which has grown the modern world, and to which we generally apply a French name, the Renaissance. Here, if anywhere, we have a new departure, wide-spreading, far-reaching, full of energy, affecting not only the arts, but literature, science, religion and politics. That side of it which presents itself to our notice consists of a return to the forms of Classic art in painting, sculpture and architecture, begun in Italy and spreading through all Europe. In the sister arts, as in literature, this return soon formed a fresh starting-point, and modern painting and not a little of modern sculpture, has followed original lines of development which have led to the establishment of European schools—schools which, on the whole, have reflected more or less faithfully the varying changes of modern thought and culture. Architecture has been less fortunate, and it is difficult to say why. The fact, however, remains that from the sixteenth century to the nineteenth, we have done nothing but revive past styles. From time to time brilliant results have been obtained by mixture of styles. What, in very different parlance is termed a "blend" has more than once not only produced good buildings, but appeared to be likely to originate a style of modern architecture, but it does not seem to take hold, and Europe has gone on erecting buildings for all sorts of modern purposes, and sometimes with the greatest originality in their adaptation to their purpose, but all clothed in the dress of some bygone style. I am, of course, speaking broadly, and I do not wish to detract from the many excellences of much modern work, but it is to be heartily wished that there was more of it which one could not so readily refer to some original. In our own country, for example, we have had a recent Queen Anne revival—that is to say, a revival of Dutch architecture as originally introduced by William of Orange. Previous to that we had a gothic revival, beginning with Tudor and working more or less steadily back. Before that, the revival of mature Italian had filled Pall Mall with the club-houses; a little further back was the Greek revival, and previous to that the Palladian, and so on.

And yet, while all this has been going on, events have occurred which have constituted a new departure, of which Great Britain has served as the starting-point. Steam by land and by sea, telegraphs, cheap literature, and all the circumstances of our new day, have caused a rapid accumulation of wealth, and occasioned numberless fresh needs which have stimulated building to a remarkable extent, but have left architecture but little affected. The modern mind has been more influenced by the vast strides which science has made than by anything else, and we perhaps, ought not to be too much astonished that our vast systems of railway constructions exhibit consummate skill and but meagre art, though it is none the less a matter for regret that it should be so.

After all, perhaps we are not without indications that something like a new departure in architecture is possible—That a twentieth-century style may exist. If you look at representations of the best buildings in America, you see works largely bearing the impress of one man's genius, but which are original as well as excellent, which all hang together by a certain resemblance to a type and yet possess individuality, character, and what the French call cachet. If a modern style of architecture is to arise at all, America is a country which seems to offer a very likely field for it to grow in. The country is a new one, the people are fresh, they aim at cultivation, but most at originality; they are able to dispose of great wealth, and their architects are men of high culture indeed.

A second example of something like a new style of architecture has been lately seen by many in Paris, where new materials have been employed under new conditions, and with very striking results by our artistic neighbors, the French, in their great exhibition buildings.

The conditions of an International Exhibition were met by us in 1851 by a temporary structure exhibiting great ingenuity, and in which the qualities of glass and cast-iron were turned to good account; but unfortunately, though the thing was a novelty, it was only a temporary structure of the cheapest sort after all, and did not advance architecture. The French, in their exhibitions, have always been more ambitious, and I think many of those who have seen the buildings erected for the 1890 exhibition and still standing, will feel that the architect, making the utmost use of the structural properties of iron, and of the decorative qualities of ceramic slabs and tiles, metals and other things which go with this construction, has gone far to establish a scheme of building quite entitled to be called architecture, and partaking of the dignity solidity and stability which we look for in architectural works.

THE REAL ESTATE BOARD.

Much interest is manifested by the members of the Chicago Real Estate Board in the next annual election of officers. The reports going about to the effect that there is a warm contest over the candidates for president are uncalled for. A majority of the members, and in fact all who have expressed themselves, endorse Mr. E. S. Dreyer for the double reason that he will make a good president and be a benefit to the Board among the financial institutions of the city. Mr. Dreyer has a large clientage and considerable influence among the heavy real estate owners of the city. His success is hoped for by the JOURNAL and all who wish success to the Real Estate Board.

Brewing and Malting in little favor with Chicago purchasers. Common stock sold at 38½, regular. The Britishers are said to have a monopoly of the buying. Just now, the brewery interests of this city are doubtlessly suffering more or less acutely from the cut in prices recently inauguraied.

THE REAL ESTATE MARKET.

A NUMBER OF INTERESTING TRANSACTIONS. BUILDING OPERATIONS KEEP PACE WITH REAL ESTATE ACTIVITY.—THE NINTY-NINE YEARS LEASES.

The monotony in real estate circles has been varied somewhat by a number of interesting transactions. There has been an important north shore acre sale, a sale of residence property of unusual size, and a number of important business leases. In addition a permit has been secured for the erection of a twelve story structure to replace the Times building, and the announcement has been made of a project involving the expenditure of over a half million dollars.

Frank Hawkins sold thirty acres on the lake shore between Glencoe and Highland Park, to Dr. Leslie E. Keeley for $60,000. The property has a frontage of a quarter of a mile on the Sheridan Drive and the lake shore. It was sold for J. B. Hobbs, who purchased it from Judge Blodgett. The location of the land is legally described as in sec 6, 42 12 The land is high and rolling and is to be used as a site for a Keeley sanitarium. Plans are now being prepared by W. W. Boyington for a group of buildings to cost over $400,000. A new depot on the Northwestern railway will be built in part by Dr. Keeley and J. B. Hobbs who own land between the Keeley tract and the railroad.

The Wirt Dexter estate has arranged for the sale of 600 feet on Fifty-first street, between Greenwood and Ellis avenues to a syndicate represented by Matson Hill for $175,000. The land is 207 feet deep and has a south frontage. It is in one of the most select residence sections on the south side. Another interesting transaction involves the exchange of a downtown building and leasehold for residence property.

Gorton W. Allen, World's Fair Commissioner from New York, has sold the building, Nos. 418 and 420 Dearborn street, with the leasehold of 40x70 feet running back to Custom House place to Richard Peek for $110,000. In part payment Mr. Allen takes four stone front houses on the southeast corner of Harvard and Seventy-fourth streets at a valuation of $48,000, and other small residence properties on the West Side. The Dearborn street property is owned in fee by S. W. Rawson.

The most important business lease of the week was made by the H. O. Stone estate. This Estate leased the DeSoto block No. 142 Madison street to Victor Lassange for a term of ten years. The building is a five story stone front block on 40x125 feet of land. The annual rental is $18,000. The building will be remodeled and occupied as a hotel and restaurant.

NEW BOHEMIAN METHODIST CHURCH.

Chicago is to have a Bohemian methodist church, said to be the first of its kind in America. The originators of the enterprise to build a church of the methodist denomination decided to locate it between Halsted street and Ashland avenue and Sixteenth and Twenty first streets, where there are 35,000 Bohemians. The building will cost $22,000, and will not only be used for church purposes, but will be kept open every evening during the week for the accommodation of young people who may seek a resort for entertainment, elocutionary exercises, concerts, etc., being provided.

The Rev. F. J. Hrejsa is the pastor of this congregation which has heretofore found a home in halls rented for services. He was the first Bohemian ordained as a minister of the methodist episcopal church. He began missionary work seven years ago and the methodists now have three missions in Chicago and one each in Cleveland, Ohio, Cedar Rapids, Iowa and Wisconsin. They hope for a large increase in the membership of the church as a result of this effort to erect an edifice for the Bohemian people.

In aid of the project a series of lectures will probably be given gratuitously and other congregations will contribute liberally to make the church flourish from the outset. The Rev. Dr. Edward B. M. Browne late of New York, who has accepted a call to the North Franklin street synagogue, will in the near future deliver his lecture on "The Talmud," in this interest.

TWO MORE TWELVE STORY BUILDINGS.—LEASE OF THE DESOTO.

The building now occupied by the Times is to be replaced by a new structure twelve stories in height. The owner of the property, D. A. Blodgett, of Michigan, has prepared plans for a modern office building of pressed brick and stone and a permit for its erection was issued the first of the week. The permit was issued to Whitney & Starret, the agents of the owner, and the cost of the new structure is placed at $700,000. Its dimensions are 100 by 180 feet. The building will be put up in sections like that of the Fair building and so enable the Times to retain its present quarters.

Victor Lassagne has leased the H. O. Stone estate, the DeSoto building, on Madison street. The property adjoins Farwell hall. The lease is for ten years at an annual rental of $18,000.

The contract has been let for the erection of a twelve story building on the site covered by the Stewart Bentley property at 112 and 114 Dearborn street. Oscar Cobb is the architect and the cost will be $200,000. The work will be begun May 1, 1892.

2500 WORLDS FAIR COTTAGES.

A syndicate of capitalists whose names are withheld, have purchased and platted a tract of land south of the Exposition site, where 2,500 cottages will be built and rented to families in the same manner as cottages are let at summer resorts. The ground is laid off in state sections so that families from California will have neighbors from their own state. Each cottage will be arranged for the comfortable housing of from five to eight persons, and restaurants in plenty will be available for the cottagers. Besides such plans as this all the lake steamer lines are to have their fleets in port, plying to and fro on excursions, and a careful judge of such things, estimates that at least 15,000 people will be able to find shelter and food on these steamers every day.

WORLDS FAIR VISITORS CAN SKATE ALL SUMMER.—

IMPORTANT SOUTH SIDE PROJECTS.

The Chicago Times is responsible for the following: Norman Totten of Totton & Wells has about completed negotiations for the leasing of a block of land adjoining Jackson Park and the World's Fair site for a term of years. Mr. Totton has a novel scheme for utilizing this property. A skating rink 200 feet square will be built. This rink is to be supplied with a sixteen-inch layer of ice summer and winter. To accomplish this purpose Mr. Totton proposes to manufacture artificial ice. Pipes only a few inches apart will be laid throughout the entire space and by the ammonia process ice will be formed. Mr. Totton can not give all the details of the lease, but he thinks he can do so in a few days.

Messrs. Howard & Berwin, Gwynne, Dennis & Co., and others have completed the lease of the southwest corner of Michigan avenue and Thirtieth street for ninety-nine years, at an annual rental of $6,000 a year. This property is owned by Judge Oliver H. Horton, and fronts 100 feet on Michigan avenue by 125 feet on Thirtieth street. The valuation established by the lease is $100,000 or $1,000 a front foot for the Michigan avenue frontage. A company will soon be organized by these gentlemen with a capital stock of $250,000 and an eight story apartment house will be erected on the site.

Perley Hale will erect a large four-stery building at southeast corner of Harvard and Seventy-first streets to cost about $100,000. The building will front 100 feet on Harvard street and 125 feet on Seventy-first street. The ground floor will be used for stores and the upper stories will be divided into five and six room apartments.

AGENTS' BUDGET.

Recent sales, however small, not yet recorded, will be reported in this column. All matter must apply to the real estate business and real estate men.

Mr. M. A. Farr retires from the well-known firm of Jas. B. Goodman & Co., and R. F. Goodman is admitted to partnership from and after the first of January. Mr. M. A. Farr succeeds to the local commission business heretofore transacted by them and will have an office at the same number, 107 Dearborn street. The business of the firm of Jas. B. Goodman & Co., will hereafter be more especially in property owned or controlled by the firm and in timber lands as heretofore.

Halsey & Lee have sold the southwest corner of N. Halsted street and Wellington avenue, 98x150 feet, to J. M. Rogers. Mr. Rogers is erecting on the premises a three-story store and flat building to contain five stores and ten flats at a cost of about $25,000. The same firm have sold for the Theological Seminary to Thomas Moulding, 50x150 feet on Fullerton avenue east of Sheffield avenue, for $6,250, and a house and lot on Clarkdale avenue in their subdivision of the "Woodlands" to J. Birk for $8,500.

The partnership existing between Edwin F. Getchell and Bruce B. Barney under the firm name of Getchell, Barney & Co., expired by limitation January 1st 1892. All outstanding accounts will be collected by Mr. Barney who will engage in business at room 5, Borden block, No. 99 Randolph street. He will continue in the real estate and renting business. Mr. Getchell will be located in the Adams Express Building, 185 Dearborn street, and will give exclusive attention to the purchase and sale of real estate and the negotiation of loans.

A sale of some importance has been made by J. J. Coburn of lots 1 to 43 in Long John's subdivision dated Nov. 20, for $4750. C. Piper and wife were the sellers and Jno. H. Banks the buyer. The deed was recorded Dec. 24.

W. A. Pridmore's sales for the past year in the aggregate amount to about $2,000,000. Principally of south side and central property.

The Harvey Steel Works report a very large and increasing trade in their car repair shops at Harvey.

ANALYSIS OF TRANSFERS FOR 1889-1890-1891.

SALES FOR TWENTY CONSECUTIVE YEARS.

Compiled from the Records as published in the REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL, COMPLETED to Jan 1, 1892.

The appearance of the following table in the JOURNAL of last week caused an agreeable surprise to thousands of Chicago's business men. From what had appeared in some of the dailies it was supposed that the year 1891 was almost wholly a season of disappointments and misgivings. It was believed that the year would fall far behind in the aggregate number of sales and the total consideration.

By adding the summary for the week ending Jan. 1, 1892, it is seen that the excess of the previous year's figures over 1891, is but 603 sales and $52,476,084. By an examination of the JOURNAL'S record columns it will be seen that there are entries for every result in the totals. Because other Journals do not publish an exhaustive report, and consequently fewer sales and a less total consideration, they all fall behind in their figures. After squeezing the wind and water out of the business of 1890, it will be found that the year just closed is equally as good and even more satisfactory. The JOURNAL enters upon the twenty-seventh year of its existence with the brightest of prospects, improved facilities and renewed confidence.

ANALYSIS.

The following table to which has been added the transfers for the week ending December 31, 1891, will be found reliable as the footings are substantiated by actual sales recorded since January 1, 1891.

The analysis of the transactions show city sales over $1,000, under $1,000, and the county or outside sales separately. Any report of a less number of sales and for a less aggregate amount does Chicago an injury which can not be easily repaired.

CHICAGO'S SUPPLY OF LOTS.

The following summary of new subdivisions recorded in the year 1891, is designed to show the number of lots placed on the market during the year. When completed it will set at rest the question whether subdividing is in excess of the demand for lots. If, for instance 40,000 lots or parcels of land were sold during the year, by subtracting this nnmber from the total number of lots made the excess will represent the over supply. Besides the following report will show the direction of greatest activity in this important industry. The land subdivided has been reduced approximately to lots 25x125 feet.

(To be continued next week.)

These subdivisions do not include hundreds of wild cat acres that have been subdivided during the year, nor the year before. When it is considered that the list is but little more than half completed and that thousands of lots laid out in previous years are still unsold, the conclusion is irresistible that there will never be a scarcity of lots.

GOOD GROVE LOTS

WINNETKA PARK BLUFFS

80 FEET ABOVE THE LAKE.

On winding, shady drives, interspersed and surrounded by the Elegant Houses of well-known Chicago Business Men.

NO LOT LESS THAN 50 FEET. - - - Building Restriction from $3,000 to $5,000.

The trees are taken out of the roadway and sidewalk space, leaving as many trees in parkway as possible. The streets are graded and Concrete Walks are being laid on all streets. Many of our purchasers are preparing to build beautiful homes. STORES—SCHOOLS—CHURCHES—CONGENIAL SOCIETY.

The Winnetka Council are providing Lake Water and underground sewers for the entire village.

40 MINUTES' RIDE—LOW FARE—40 DAILY TRAINS.

YOU DON'T HAVE TO WAIT FOR A TOWN TO GROW, FOR WINNETKA HAS LONG BEEN KNOWN AS ONE OF THE MOST DELIGHTFUL OF THE NORTH SHORE SUBURBS.

WE BUILD HOUSES TO ORDER, OR LOAN MONEY TO BUILD. WE GIVE EASY TERMS ON LOTS.

Send for circulars showing plat of lots and cut of houses now built and occupied. Our agent is at our WINNETKA office, near the Station.—Come to our office (down town) any day at 1:45 p. m. and we will take you out. We have a carriage in waiting at every train to show property without fatigue or loss of time.

The National Mining and Stock Exchange.

There never was a time when any industry was in a more prosperous condition than the Mining interests are at this time, with all the modern improvements and facilities for working mines, transportation and the treating of Ores.

The costs have been reduced more than one-half and the net profits to stock-holders have more than doubled. The mines are full of practical, skilled miners, and the business way in which all branches of mining is now handled makes it as safe an investment as any other line of business, and in many cases it is much more profitable. According to government statistics—census of 1890, it is fast becoming the leading producing industry of the country. The various branches of the Mining industry rank as follows in their order, viz.: coal 1st, iron 2d silver 3d, gold 4th. Lime, brick and tile petroleum, copper, building stone, lead and zinc, coke, salt, natural gas, cement, gypsum, grind stone, borax, and there are many other minerals, amounting in all to about $700,000,000 yearly produced in this country.

Chicago is fast becoming the HEAD CENTER of MINING INTERESTS. She has the largest Manufacturers of Mining Machinery in the World. Her Iron and Steel interests are second to none. Her Lead and White Lead interest are among the largest. As a Manufacturing Center, we can well be proud of her. Many of her citizens own valuable interests in Gold, Silver, Iron, Tin and other Mines, also Stone, Marble and Lithograpic Quarries. The Brick, Tile and other products of clay are numerous. There are millions of profits paid yearly to holders of stock. At the "World's Fair" there will be the grandest display that the Mineral Kingdom can furnish, and a Mining boom is immediately before us.

THE NATIONAL MINING AND STOCK EXCHANGE is incorporated under the laws of Illinois, has a Capital Stock of $100,000, divided into shares of $10 each. EIGHTY per cent. of the Capital Stock has been placed in the Treasury to be sold for the benefit and uses of the Company. This Company now offers a limited number of shares of its Treasury Stock at $3.50 per share. Believing you will fully appreciate the necessity of such an organization and the very profitable returns one would receive as a Stockholder, your aid is solicited and would be appreciated. In joining in this enterprise you help to build up a medium that can help other industries, while enriching yourselves. This is an opportunity to get into a growing money making business. This Company is to help develop mineral property, to deal in the products of the same and transact such business as appertains thereto.

It has a FREE DAILY CALL for the PURCHASE and SALE of all kinds of MISCELLANEOUS STOCKS, MANUFACTURER'S, BRICK, STONE and MINING STOCKS; also MINES and other property.

Information regarding Stocks offered for sale can be found at these Headquarters.

The profits will be paid to stockholders, at stated periods. A purchase of Stock in this Company can not fail to be a very profitable investment and may prove a rich Bonanza to you and the stock you buy can be sold again for cash. This stock is non-assessable and no further demands can be made upon you. This Company is owner of a valuable mining property (U. S. patent title,) in Park County, Colorado. The Directors and Stockholders are well-known business men as follows:

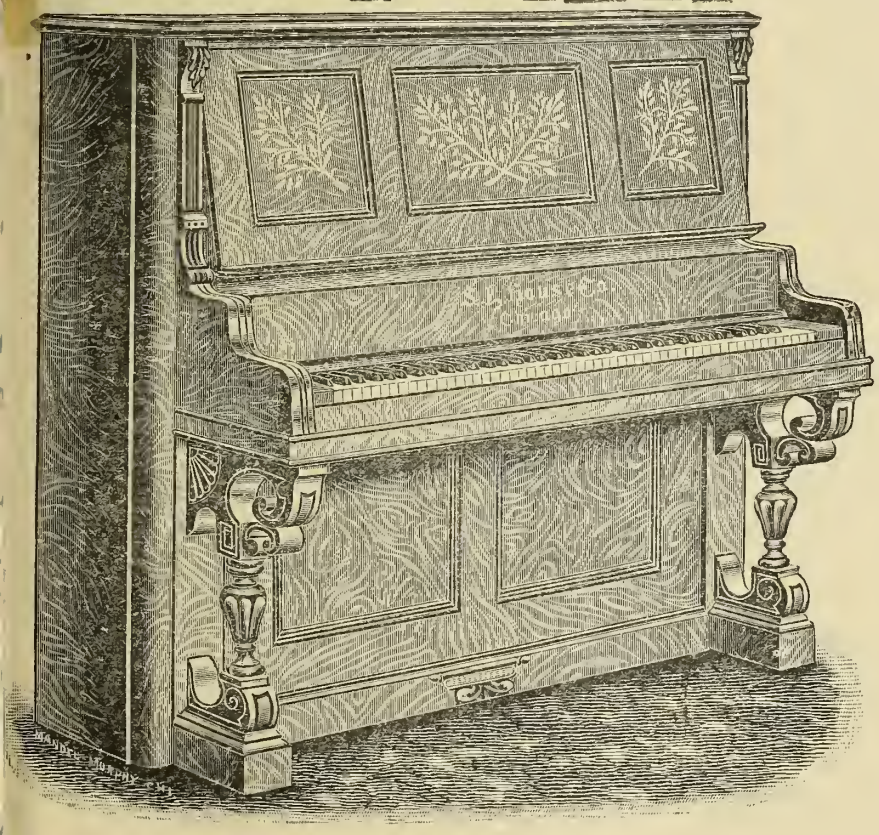
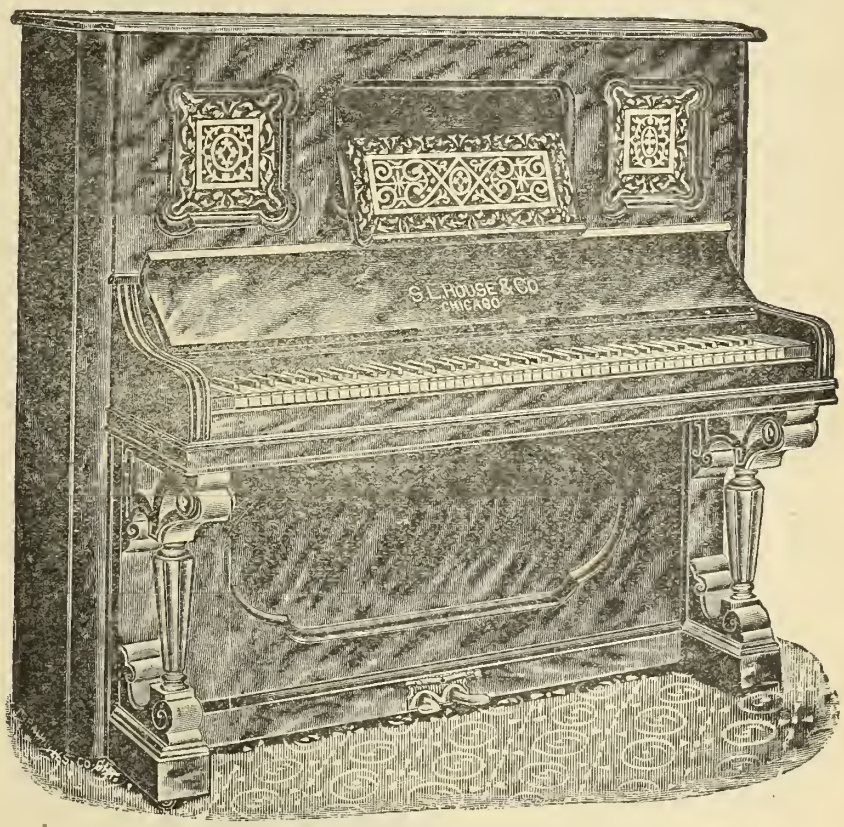
PIANOS AT MANUFACTURERS' PRICES.

STYLE "D"



The above piano is seven and one-third Octaves, has overstrung Scale, three Unisons, Elastic double repeating Action, full iron frame and No.1 Ivory Keys. We use the full swing front music desk with engraved panels and the upright folding fall board, which gives the instrument a very attractive appearance. Every piece is double veneered on both sides, making it impossible for it to warp or check. It has an exceptionally sweet and full tone; the scales are unusually well and evenly balanced, producing remarkable singing quality. Heighth, 57 inches. Length, 63 inches. Depth, 28½ inches. Finished in Ebony, Mahogany, Oak and French Walnut Veneers.

STYLE "E"



STYLE "E" has seven and one-third Octaves, over-strung Scale, three Unisons, Elastic double repeating Action, and full iron Frame. It has the full swing front music desk with handsomely engraved panels and the upright folding fall board, and also paneled ends. It has an exceptionally sweet and full tone; the scales are unusually well and evenly balanced, producing remarkable singing quality.

Heighth, 55 inches. Length, 62½ inches. Depth, 28 inches.

STYLE "C"

STYLE "A"

BLUE ISLAND RIDGE

REAL ESTATE.

As the time approaches for the completion of the new suburban line of the Chicago Central R. R. to Blue Island, which will afford greatly increased facilities and Rapid Transit between Chicago and Blue Island, along the most desirable locations on Blue Island Ridge, Home Seekers are looking for the most advantageous place in which to invest their savings and secure lots for their future homes; also for investments that promise large returns in the near future. To all such, I offer choice lots, on easy terms, within one, two or three blocks from the 123d St. Station of the Chicago Central R. R. at Blue Island on the Ridge.

REAL ESTATE LAW.

William H. Hardman et al. v. Samuel D. Cooper et al. Filed at Mt. Vernon, Nov. 4, 1891.

1. HOMESTEAD.—When a mortgagee of lots contains a proper release of the homestead estate therein, the failure of the mortgagor to redeem from a sale of the premises under a decree of foreclosure within twelve months will deprive him of his homestead rights.

2. REDEMPTION.—A redemption from a foreclosure sale by a judgment creditor of the mortgagor, and his purchase under his execution, will place the creditor so redeeming in the same position in respect to the property as the first purchaser, and he will take the property including the homestead rights of the mortgagee.

3. The redemption of property by a judgment creditor does not obliterate the prior sale so as to restore the debtor to his homestead rights, but simply substitutes the party redeeming and gives him all rights of the original purchaser. If the first purchaser takes five of the homestead rights of the debtor, so will the redeeming creditor.

4. The right of redemption from sale on judgment and decree of redemption from sale on judgment and decree of foreclosure, is purely statutory, and it can not exercised, except within the periods of time and in the manner substantially as pointed out in the statute.

5. Where more is bid at a sale under a redemption from a prior sale than the amount of the redemption money paid to redeem, and such last sale is perfected by the purchaser, a redemption from it by a judgment creditor can be had only by suing out his execution, placing it in the hands of the sheriff, and paying him the redemption money within sixty days after such sale.

6. If no more is bid than the amount paid in redeeming, and the sale is perfected by the purchaser, the sheriff is required to make him a deed at once, and no other redemption will be allowed.

7. When a creditor fails to obtain his judgment until after sixty days from the last sale on redemption, in which more than the redemption money is bid, it is not possible for him to redeem from such sale, as no levy and redemption can be made within the time required. Such a creditor cannot object that a sale in favor of a judgment creditor was not perfected, as such fact can not injure him.

8. If a judgment creditor fails to perfect his purchase, it is competent for the sheriff to offer the land levied upon by an execution for sale from time to time until it is sold.

McLanghlin's judgment was not for purchase money, and was no lien upon the homestead. No release or conveyance of the estate is valid unless the same is in writing, etc.: Moore and Wife v. Tilman, 33 Ill. 358; Kinman v. Higgins, 100 Ill. 319.

A husband can not defeat the homestead right of the wife: Allen v. Hawley, 66 Ill 164.

The husband holds the homestead as a trustee for the wife and children: Cassell v. Ross, 33 Ill. 244; Patterson v. King, 29 Ill. 514; Best & Snell v. Allen, 30 Ill. 30; Boyd v. Cudderback, 31 Ill. 113; White y. Clarke, 36 Ill. 285.

A release of the homested to one creditor does not operate in favor of any other criditor: Law, 1887, p. 142, Sec. 4; Baker v. Gund, 110 Ill. 581; Hume v. Gossett, 43 Ill. 297; Kingman v. Higgins, 100 Ill. 319.

It was the duty of the sheriff to have caused and appraisement, etc.: Hartwell v. McDonald, 69 Ill. 293; Newman v Willetts, 78 Ill. 397; Muller v. Inderreiden, 79 Ill. 382.

FRAUDULENT CONVEYANCE.

THE RHODES & RAMSEY V. PETER SMITH & SMITH.

Appeal from the Circuit Court of Cook County.

Moran J.: Appellants filed their creditors bill against James Riley and James McDowell and the appellees alleging the recovery of judgement in favor of appellants for something over four thousand dollars against said Riley and McDowell on an indebtedness owing from said Riley and McDowell to appellants, and the return of an execution nulla bona. The bill alleges among other things that after said indebtedness from Riley and McDowell to appellant and before commencement of the action in which judgment was rendered, said defendant, Riley, conveyed to one Peter Smith by warranty deed a certain lot in the bill described for the alleged consideration of twenty-five hundred dollars. That said Riley was at the time of said conveyance the owner of the said lot with the house thereon, and that the conveyance to said Smith was a colorable transaction and made for the purpose of hindering and delaying appellants in the collection of their said debt, that said consideration was not paid by said Smith or if paid was not paid in good faith, and that said Smith did not receive said conveyance for any debt justly due him from said Riley, but by arrangement with said Riley said property was transferred by said Riley in order to keep the same from his creditors, and that at the time of the conveyance by said Riley he was insolvent and indebted to appellants. That the said property so conveyed was worth about five thousand dollars. The bill prays that said conveyance should be set aside and declared fraudulent against appellant and said premises sold and the proceeds applied towards the payment of said judgment.

On the hearing it appeared by uncontradicted testimony that Riley, just before he executed the deed to Smith, stated that he wanted to make over his property to said Smith, so that he would get out of paying his debt to appellant. That at the time said deed was drawn and signed and acknowledged by said Riley, said Smith was not present. That Smith was at the time said deed was made the brother-in-law of said Riley. That Riley continued for more than a year after the making of the deed to rent the premises and collect the rent therefor in his own name and that he also continued to pay the taxes on the lot.

All these circumstances certainly made a case justifying the inference that the transfer was fraudulent and without consideration. It was clearly shown to be fraudulent on the part of Riley, and if Smith did not pay a consideration for the deed he could not hold the property against a creditor of Riley. When Smith was called to the stand he showed that he lived in a house which he had purchased for $1,700. He was asked if the house was paid for, but that question his counsel objected to and the court sustained the objection. The question was proper and should have been allowed. It was competent for appellants to inquire into Smith's financial condition and ability. There was no attempt to show by Smith that he in fact paid for the lot conveyed to him by Riley. His counsel contented himself with asking him if he had money to pay for the building when he bought it. On the close of complainants' evidence the court dismissed the bill as to Smith and wife for want of equity. This was error. The facts proved by complainant required a decree against Smith unless he showed that he actually paid for the property. If he did actually pay for the property he could not be deprived of it unless he took it with knowledge of Riley's fraudulent intent, or with knowledge of such facts and circumstances as would put him on notice that Riley was conveying the property for the purpose of hindering, delaying or defrauding his creditors.

The decree dismissing the bill must be reversed and the case remanded to the circuit court with directions to deny the appellee's motion to dismiss the bill as to them and to proceed with the case in a manner not inconsistent with this opinion.

This grand Literary Competition is open to everybody everywhere. The following are the conditions:

1. The words must be constructed only from letters in the words, "The Illustrated Agriculturist" and must be only such as are found in Webster's Unabridged Dictionary, in the body of the book, none of the supplement to be used.

2. The words must be written in rotation and numbered 1, 2, 3 and so on, for facilitating in deciding the winners.

3. Letters cannot be used oftener than they appear in the words "The Illustrated Agriculturist" for instance; the word "egg" cannot be used as there is but one "g" in the three words.

4. The list containing the largest number of words will be awarded first prize, and so on in order of merit. Each list as it is received will be numbered, and if two or more tie, the first received will be awarded first prize, and so on, therefore the benefit of sending in early will readily be seen.

5. Each list must be accompanied by $1 for six months subscription to THE AGRICULTURIST.

The following gentlemen have kindly consented to act as judges; J. G. MACDONALD, City Clerk, peterborough, Canada, and COMMODORE CALCUTT, Peterborough.

OUR LAST COMPETITION—"Got $1,000 prize all right."—M. M. Braudon, Vancouver, B.C "Thanks for $500 prize."—G. W. Cunningham, Donald, B. C. "Prize received O. K."—J. D. Baptie, West Superior, Wis. "$300 prize received Thanks."—G. V. Robertson, Toronto; and 300 others, in United States and Canada

This is NO LOTTERY—merit only will count The reputation for fairness gained by THE AGRICULTURIST in the past is ample guarantee that this Competition will be conducted in like manner. Send 2c stamp for full particulars to THE AGRICULTURIST, Peterborough, Canada.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

The JOURNAL in its last issue had something to say about the unwarrantably high rate of interest demanded by the Chicago banks. With money everywhere plentiful and with the prospect of becoming even more so, with call money ruling easy at all the important monetary centers, a six per cent rate is altogether too high for this city. It is a satisfaction to know that, during the present week the managers of the local banks have in a number of in tances loaned money quite freely at five per cent, to well known customers. A pretense is still made at some banks of maintaining the old six per cent rate, but the concession above mentioned is pretty general and responsible parties can obtain it if they are but firm. Merchants and manufacturers have for some time been obliged to content themselves with reduced profits. and there is no reason why banks, which trade with the monies of their depositors, should not accept the prevailing conditions of trade everywhere. A six per cent rate may be necessary for small banks dealing only in the hundreds or thousands, but large financial institutions handling millions, can get along very well with considerably lower terms of discount. This is the experience of all the leading trade centers. Competition between cities and between nations is every day growing keener, and the withholding of financial facilities may cripple vast interests. Now the maintenance of excessive rates of interest is tantamount to a withholding of financial facilities, inasmuch as it arrests all chance of effective competition. Every year, the rate of interest upon money is being reduced all over the world, and Chicago is entitled to claim its fair share in the general reduction. As a city, we enjoy our full share of prosperity, but that is no reason why we should remain indifferent to the obvious conditions and requirements of trade. Further, cheap money means a steady upward tendency in values. It improves the price of land, of houses, and of all kinds of securities. A moment's reflection will prove this to be the case. Thus, in a country where five per cent is the ruling rate, a certain class of property is said to be worth twenty years purchase. Remove the same property to a country where three per cent is the established rate, and it immediately becomes worth thirty-three and a third years' purchase. Chicago is entitled to cheap money, it should ask for it, and it will get it.

Money continues to flow to Chicago from interior points, and some large disbursements may be expected from the January interests and dividend. This money will soon be freed and may be expected to be finding a profitable outlet.

During the current month, it is estimated by a conservative authority that there will be distributed at New York for interest and dividends the enormous sum of $78,126,000, as against $68,937,000 distributed during the same month last year. Speculators look upon this freeing of money as favorable to a boom in prices, and have already gotten in some advance work on Wall street on the strength of it.

It is scarcely satisfactory to those who believe in higher prices for all railway securities to learn that, during the past year no less than twenty-one railway properties with an aggregate mileage of 3,223 miles and representing $186,000,000 were sold under foreclosure. This is an increase of $3,500,000 over similar property affected by foreclosure precedings in the preceding year, and largely in excess of the record for the years 1889 and 1888. It is but fair to the managers of most of the great lines to say that, while claiming the past year as highly satisfactory, as a whole, they recognize the responsibilities entailed by the increased business which must necessitate, at an early date, large expenditures for betterments and additional rolling stock, etc.

Wall street is buoyant, and several of the leading stocks have advanced materially. The influence exercised by London upon the general temper of our stock market is somewhat of an enigma. A little buying or a little selling from the other side seems to advance or depress prices out of all proportion to the amount of business executed. The explanation given by a leading Wall street operator was much as follows: "The Britisher is usually an investor and buys to hold, the American is invariably a speculator who buys only to sell again at a higher figure." Whatever the explanation, the fact remains as we have stated it. The general impression is that this is to be a bull year, and the tip to purchase on all breaks finds almost universal acceptance. The St. Paul gained $3,239,000 for the year.

The recent election on the Board of Trade is expected to have its influence upon the future of values, and in the direction of higher prices. Senator Washburne's proposed measure for restricting trading in grain future is not troubling operators much. The general opinion is that the senator, who is also a great miller, seeks to have the farmers bound hand and foot and handed over to the millers to be used as seems to them best.

The Chicago Elevator Association has finally decided to advance the rate of storage. The old winter storage rate is abolished, and the terms will hereafter be uniform for the entire year. The blockade on the Eastern lines is being fast removed, and all grains will soon be going rapidly forward to the shipping ports where freights have been already secured for passage abroad.

The Senate has once more commenced the discussion of the never ending silver question. A 75 cents dollar has a marvellous attraction for some minds. The surprising thing is that sane and honest men should care to consider it.

The bank clearings for the week at Chicago were as follows:

Friday	Holiday
Saturday	$20,815,972
Monday	22,106,039
Tuesday	18,387,946
Wednesday	17,467,541
Thursday	15,994,500

WHY STOCKS ARE ADVANCING.

THE STATUS OF TRADE.

The year 1891 is no longer looked upon as a period characterized by failures and liquidation. Its history presents a paradox seldom witnessed. Nearly twelve months of "dull times" and misgivings for all the tribes of boomers are now turned into victory. Facts that but a few weeks ago were used as thunder for the bears are now cited as harbingers of peace and prosperity. Recapitulating the trade conditions and crop reports an Eastern authority expresses itself thus:

Larger bank deposits were never recorded; the grain crop was never exceeded in quality quantity or value; merchandise exports have been more than $130,000,000 in excess of imports the past twelve months; 43 States report 249 railways built 4,168 miles of road, increasing their length to 171,000 miles. The floating indebtedness, under pressure of the large freight movement, has been rapidly decreased, allowing a return of many properties to the dividend list; 121 of these roads earned $29,165,202 more than in 1890. General expenses and the "Dead Head List" have been reduced. Railroad bonds appear cheaper proportionately than the stocks, Europe having returned many of them in place of gold in payment for edibles. Savings banks in San Francisco and New York report a decrease in deposits; drought on the Pacific Coast indicates a small wheat crop; the Government report gave the poorest showing for condition ever recorded. The advocates of Free Coinage are in a majority of the House Coinage Committee as eight to five. Our circulation per capita is nearly double that of thirty years ago and equalling $25.30; our debt but $28 per capita. or the least of any nation. England's taxation increased 24 per cent from 1870 to 1880. Ours decreased 10 per cent same time. The tide of speculation is in favor of a great improvement in 1892 and many are planning accordingly, believing the currency congestion means a great boom. Bank clearings in the Mississippi Valley show nearly 17 per cent gain over last year.

The visible supply of cotton generally reaches the maximum point about January 15th; the past year it occurred on February 26th; we believe that point this season has been passed, and that the visible will likely continue decreasing; that receips from the ten cotton States will mostly average less than last year; that the crop is not as large as Bradstreet's estimate of 8,490,000 bales, and that the movement was large and all conditions favored it, such as weather and an urgent demand for money; that European and American spinners are willing to stock up largely at about present prices, and that they are prepared to do so, as they generally do about the holidays.

The quantity is good and in favor with all manufacturers; the short interest is large and flushed with success; the low prices are attracting investors. East India supplies will likely be 300,000 bales less than last year. The world's consumption will likely exceed that of last year; cotton is now mixed with silk and wool goods. A convention of cotton planters was called to meet at Montgomery, Alabama, January 6th, at Atlanta early in January and at Memphis January 8th, to devise ways and means to reduce the acreage of cotton and to aid an advance. We believe prices discount a large crop and visible and the patient investor has less chance to lose and more chance to win than in most speculative futures, The words "too much cotton" are getting a little thread bare and would be easily forgotten if prices advanced half a a cent per pound.

Future conditions are likely to have as much to do in shaping values as present supplies; about half the world's crop is winter wheat. In most parts of Europe the condition and acreage is reported fairly good, or an average. The "Horse Shoe part of the United States," i. e., from Puget Sound down the coast via the Gulf and up to Portland, Maine—the stock of wheat is very small; the rainfall on the Pacific coast has been very light; many wheat farms have been turned into vineyards; ocean freights there are less than half those in former years; prices of wheat are from ten to twenty cents per bushel above Chicago against a general average of about the same prices in San Francisco and Chicago. The last Government report said, "Condition of winter wheat 85.3 per cent against 92.4 a year ago." This was the poorest report ever given out. The average visible supply for seven years reaches nearly 46,000,000 about January 1st. It is now fractionately less from a crop fifty per cent larger than grown last season. Exports to date are about 130,000,000 bushels, or more than half our surplus; for eleven years previous the average exports from July 1st to January were about seventy million bushels, while from January 1st to July they averaged about 55,000,000 bushels. All those years Great Britain and the Continent secured large supplies from their home fields of Au tralia, India and Russia. We believe the world's visible (now about 210,000,000 bushels against about 105,000,000 July 1st) has reached the maximum and likely to decrease quite rapidly, and when perceptibly noticed will change speculative sentiment and make higher prices; the continent needing one-third of our remaining surplus may again lead an advance. Germany certainly will buy liberally after the thirty per cent is taken off; short selling is now about as popular as the bull side was last August at 15 or 20 per cent higher prices. Europe's necessities must be supplied from Eastern America as all competitors have about finished exporting from the 891 harvest. Freight room is now plenty: the world's fleet is headed this way.

The corn crop is moving rapidly considering the freight room and inspection. The domestic and export demand has been and promises to be unusually good, prices are not high; the bears are in possession of the market; ¾ of a cent per pound does not sound dear to us while we anticipate the European demand to be large. Our average home consumption is near 18½ millions and may this season equal 19 million bushels, as consumption began so early.

The consumption of corn began nearly sixty days earlier than usual; no traces are visible that the crop was ¾ of a billion bushels, the export movement was never larger, the visible is small, the bears aggressive. We think the price 33 cents for May delivery should be tempting to conservative investors.

The eleven corn States produce more than half our hogs, forty per cent of the cattle, and one half the horses, and have less than one-third our population, yet produces ⅔ of our grain, potatoes and hay. The receipts at the Union Stock Yards in Chicago the past year equalled 3½ millions head of calves and cattle, near nine million hogs, 1¼ million sheep, besides about 100,000 horses. Receipts there the past sixty days of hogs will likely exceed any previous two consective months; the weight was fractionally greater than last year; packing at all points has been 4,370,000 hogs against 4,060,000 last season same time.

Provision stocks of all kinds are not large, save old pork, which recently commands about $7.50 per bbl.; exports since November 1st have been about 100,000,000 lbs., against 200,000,000 lbs., last year same time. The domestic domain has been fair, when we consider the price of cotton, and dull manufacturing business in New England and the pineries. Prices are not high; local traders are very bullish and look for an improvement in export demand, and falling off in receipts of hogs and lighter weights and higher prices for hogs and the product.

SUMMARY OF BANK FAILURES 1891.

The total number of business failures in the United States, for the year 1891 was 24,394, as against 10,673 during the year preceeding, an increase of 16.1 per cent. The following table shows how the failures were distributed, with the amount of assets and liabilities accurately given, respectively:

	Number	Assets	Liabilities
New England States	1,789	$16,359,000	$33,356,000
Middle "	3,002	26,607,000	58,945,000
Southern "	2,412	21,884,000	35,578,000
Western "	2,602	24,175,000	42,570,000
Northwestern "	1,264	7,889,000	12,713,000
Pacific coast "	1,182	5,255,000	8,973,000
Territories "	143	633,000	1,037,000
Total, 1891	12,394	$102,893,000	$193,178,000
" 1891	10,673	$92,751,000	$174,999,000
Canada, total 1891	1,846	$6,014,000	$14,884,000
" " 1890	1,626	$6,741,000	$12,481,000

The total of liabilities for the United States is the greatest on record since 1884, and exceeds that of last year by $18,179,000, or not quite 10.6 per cent. Per contra, the assets of 1891 exceed those of the preceding year's failures by $10,142,000, or over 10.9 per cent. The percentage of assets to liabilities was in 1891 slightly higher than that for 1890, being in the proportion of 53 2 to 53.

All the groupes show an increase in the number of failures over those of the preceding year. The most notable increase was in the Southern states, where the number of failures rose from 1,655 to 2,412, the liabilities advancing concurrently from $23,704,000 to $35,578,000, or upwarwds of 50 per cent. In the New England states, the number of failures increased 303, and the liabilities $6,249,000, or 20.8 per cent and 23.1 per cent respectively. On the other hand, while the number of failures in the Middle states increased 199, or rather over 7 per cent, the amount of liabilities decreased by the quite substantial sum of $10,909,000, or 15.6 per cent. For this good showing New York city is entitled to, and should receive, credit. For while the number of failures in the Empire city rose from 548 in 1890 to 663 in 1891 the amount of liabilties decreased during the same period from $36,708,000 to $21,894.000, or decrease of no less than $14,814,000, or nearly 40 per cent. This says much for the prudent methods at present in vogue at New York, and seems to justify the country in looking to the great metropolis of commerce for wise leadership during the more prosperous years that now seem to be assured.

Illinois, as a state, makes a creditable showing. While most states show an access of failures as also of liabilities, the number of failures fell from 533 in 1890 to 514 in 1891, the amount of liabilities concurrently sinking from $9,720,000 to $7,839,000 or nearly 9 per cent, while the assets advanced from $4,137,000 to $4,932,000, or 19.2 per cent.

THE LOCAL STOCK MARKET.

On Monday, the house reassembled for business after the holidays. A considerable number of spectators were behind the rail, and it was evident that the general feeling was in favor of higher priees. This sentiment soon found expression in the transactions of the day.

North Side Cable opened strong in expectation of an increase in the dividend, and other properties were credited with similar benefits to their shareholders. North Side Cable started off at 184½, advaneed to 185¼, but receded to 185, at which figure regular elosed. The amount of business was limited to 425 shares. On the first call Tuesday, only one small lot was disposed of at 185. Business confined to 360 shares. On Wednesday, the market in North Side Cable lost all its animation, and conecssions were in order and allowed. Regular opened at 185, and sold off to 184½. Number of shares changing hands, 275. The following day the same prices ruled on exceedingly light trading. The loss of snap was due to the fact that but a 9 per cent dividend was declared, whereas the room had anticipated 10 per cent. The dividend to be distributed upon the West Side system being still in doubt, operators had a greater latitude allowed them upon which to speculate in this property. The ascendancy was with the more sanguine, and the upward movement has, so far, suffered no arrest. Amount of business transacted, 440 shares. On the following morning there was a reaction to 132¼, made on the opening deal; but in the afternoon regular was steadied by the purchase of a brace of round lots, 200 each, for which 133 was paid, the day finishing up with one lot for the account (50 shares) going for 134. The market opened on Wednesday at 133½, but more stuff coming out the price cased off to 133, with a fractional advance to 133⅛ at the close. 1,185 shares changed owners. Further animation was developed on Thursday, and what slight advantage there was went to the sellers. The closing prices were: For regular, 133; for the account, 134. Shares sold, 950, varions.

City Railway, unchanged at 310. Only a few transactions were made in this property.

The lively stock during the past week has been Street's Stable Car Line. Other properties have gone through a considerably wider range. The opening after the holidays was at 34¼. The friends of the property at once took hold and hoisted it to 34⅞, the closing deal being made at 34½. Upwards of 1,100 shares passed. The following day the trading was ex-dividend, upon which terms regular closed at 34½, and for the account at 35. Number of shares traded in, 1,350. On Wednesday and Thursday Street's Stable Car Line continued to advance. Business for the two days, upward of 3,850 shares, hundred lots being quite numerous.

Calumet & Chicago Canal & Dock sold at 74 (regular) on Monday, with for the account at 74¼ to 74½. 250 shares in four lots were sold, 580 shares passing on Wednesday, mostly in the form of fifties. Regular opened at 75 and closed at 74⅞; for the account started off at 75¼ and closed at 75½. On Thursday trading was heavy. Regular opened at 75, advanced to 76½, and closed at 76¼. For the account led off at 77, advanced to 77½, and closed at 76⅞. 1,400 shares were disposed of.

Diamond Match in little request; sold at 129½. Western Stone, at 97; nothing doing. Arc Light and Power, neglected; offered last at 83, with 80 bid.

American Strawboard has made the sensational advance of the week, mounting up from 75, at which it sold on Monday, to 83½, the closing price for regular on Thursday. It is now said that a working arrangement has been agreed to which will guarantee the maintenanee of prices hereafter, and which will confer upon the parties to it almost all the advantage of a close monopoly. Time will show how far these roseate views are warranted. The average trading was about 400 shares daily.

Packing & Provision, eommon stock, selling at 48½. The preferred stock has advaneed from 46⅜ to 47.

Brewing & Malting finds little favor or support. Common stock of this property sold down from 39 to 38. The preferred stock steady at 45½.

Bond market fairly aetive. Gas Light & Coke 5's sold off from 87¼, which priee was paid last Monday, to 86⅜, the closing priee on Thursday. Ayerage daily sales, $40,000. Consumer's 5's sold up from 82 last Monday, to 82⅜, the closing price on Thursday. Average daily sales, about $20,000 in the room. There has been quite a good inquiry for other high-class bonds. Thus, on Thursday; $60,000 of North Chicago Street Railway 1st Mortgage 5's sold at 99½, and $36,000 of West Chicago Railway 1st Mortgage 5's sold at from 100¾ to 100⅝. With a plethora of money, more of the same kind of purchasing may be expected.

Among the transactions of the week, the following may be enumerated: Central Union Telephone, at 56¾ to 56½. Illinois Vault 6's, at 101, and Western Stone 5's, at 93½.

FOR PRESIDENT OF THE REAL ESTATE BOARD—E. S. DREYER.

In real estate board circles, the event of the week was the report of the nominating committee, made at the regular monthly meeting held Wednesday afternoon. Lyman Baird for the nominating committee, presented the following full ticket:

President, E. S. Dreyer; Vice President, F. A. Henshaw; Treasurer, Benjamin A. Fessenden; Secretary, C. L. Hammond.

Executive committee—J. H. Trumbull, two years; Bruce B. Barney, W. W. Baird, holding over.

Membership Committee—F. A. Barnes, two years; C. H. Mulliken, H. S. Dietrich, H. W. Christian, William A. Merigold, F. M. Elliot, R. D. Hill, Carter H. Harrison, Jr., D. M. Erskine, Jr., holding over.

Reference Committee—H. A. Haugan, two years; E. S. Hawley, A. B. Mead, holding over.

Valuation Committee—Wm. A. Bond and George Birkoff, Jr., Messrs. Willis G. Jackson, Joseph Donnersberger, and Eugene H. Fishburn holding over.

Call Board Committee—John L. Manning, two years; B. R. DeYoung, James B. Galloway, J. Robson Weddell, Nelson Thomasson, holding over.

Public Service Committee — West-side, George M. Bogue, two years; R. L. Martin, Paul O. Stensland; South-side, Walter H. Wilson, Frank Riedle; North-side, William L. Schrader, H. V. Seymour.

The report was received with favor by the members present, and it is quite probable that no opposition will be developed. It is considered that the selection of Mr. Dreyer to head the ticket, is a fortunate move at this time, when an effort is being made to interest business men in the work of the Board. According to the present rules, any opposition which may develop, will be required to post a ticket in the board rooms by 3 o'clock this afternoon. This regulation will doubtless prevent the confusion which marked the election of last January.

THE REAL ESTATE MARKET.

IMPROVEMENT IN THE DEMAND FOR INVESTMENT PROPERTIES NOTED. COMPARISONS FAVORABLE TO CHICAGO BUILDING OPERATIONS. ARE NOT SUBDIVIDERS TOO ACTIVE?

The first entire week of the year 1892 does not indicate by its record of completed transactions, the general revival of realty interests which is expected by real estate brokers. In the matter of sales, the line of demarkation between two years is naturally not strictly drawn. There is however, a noticeable improvement in the demand for investment properties and the inquiry for all kinds of realty has increased. The year in real estate begins under the most favorable auspices. Owners have the greatest confidence in their holdings. Improved property has been rented and vacant lands have been improved. The character of Chicago investments has been established all over the world. Investment capital is becoming more plentiful every day. A comparatively quiet year has given time for the perfection of projects for transportation service, and street and building improvements.

These are among the favorble features of the present real estate situation. The only unfortunate feature at present is indicated by the litigation which in some cases has followed transactions of the "boom" period of 1889 and 1890. Real estate transactions which, although irregular, were passed over in the general enthusiasm of the time, are now being scrutinized more rigidly. Suits brought against agents who it is alleged acted in the double capacity of buyer and agent, suits to remove clouds from titles caused by recording optional contracts, and suits to apportion equities in buildings and purchases of property, go to swell the calendars of the various courts. There are however but few records of trustees and sheriff's sales of mortgaged property. The purchases of 1890 and 1891 are in strong hands, and there is every evidence that obligations incurred by these purchasers are being promptly met.

BUILDING OPERATIONS ATTRACTING ATTENTION.

Chicago is one of the few cities which shows a marked increase in building operations during 1891, over those of the previous year. The following list shows the amounts involved in building operations at a number of important points during two years:

Omaha	$1,835,000	$4,093,000
Denver	5,257,000	12,835,000
St Paul	5,321,000	7,206,000
Cincinnati	5,079,000	5,125,000
Pittsburg	5,054,000	6,391,000
Baltimore	3,000,000	2,445,000
Washington, D. C.	7,804,000	7,752,000

Four of the seven cities cited show a decrease, while the Chicago records show an increase during one year of $6,628,000. This increase in itself exceeds the entire total of the years' building operations for any of the seven points, with the exception of the one last named. The most satisfactory feature of Chicago Building operations is not so much the great amount involved, but the just proportion which exists between the amounts involved in building, and in sales of realty. During the eleven years including 1881 and 1891, the ratio between the amounts represented by building permits to the amount represented by realty transfers, has been as 1 is to 3.8. That is, for every $3.80 expended for property, $1 has been invested in new buildings. During the eleven years, the ratio between the amounts represented in the two lines of Real estate enterprise has been as follows:

	BLDG. PERMITS.		REALTY TRANSFERS.		BLDG. PERMITS.		REALTY TRANS.
1881	1	:	4	1887	1	:	4.8
1882	1	:	3.5	1888	1	:	4.5
1883	1	:	3	1889	1	:	4.3
1884	1	:	2.5	1890	1	:	4.2
1886	1	:	4

In New York, the ratio between the two lines of real estate industry has been scarcely so satisfactory. During the eleven years cited, $4 has been expended in the purchase of land for every $1 invested in buildings. The ratio during the years including 1881 and 1891 in detail is as follows.

	BLDG. PERMITS.		REALTY TRANSFERS.		BLDG. PERMITS.		REALTY. TRANS.
1881	1	:	3.4	1887	1	:	3.8
1882	1	:	3.9	1888	1	:	4.6
1883	1	:	3.8	1889	1	:	3.9
1884	1	:	4.3	1890	1	:	3.7
1886	1	:	4.1

Ultra conservative investors have insisted that too much property has been sold in Chicago, and that sales have been out of all proportion to the actual demand. When it is seen that even in the boom period of 1890, $1 was invested in buildings to each $4.90 expended in the purchase of land, this objection has been answered at least in part. As long as the average ratio of building and improvement to realty purchases remains as 1 is to 4, there is no immediate cause for alarm at over activity in the real estate field.

A $275,000 SALE. THE FIRST WEDGE OF THE YEAR.

The sale of the property known as Nos. 109 and 111 Wabash avenue, having a frontage of 48 feet on Wabash avenue and 160 feet deep to alley, has just been consummated by Wm A. Merigold & Co. The purchaser being Wm. Stewart, an old and well known capitalist of Chicago. The seller is Andrew McNally, Vice President of the firm of Rand, McNally & Co. This property has not been transferred but a comparativly few times, having been bought by Abraham Gale, father of Mr. Gale, of the well known druggists, Gale & Blocki, during the fifties for the nominal sum of $3,000 and was afterwards sold for $60,000, netting Mr. Gale a neat profit of $57,000. It was afterwards purchased by Mrs. Margaret E. Dorman who sold it to Mr. McNally in 1888 for $175,000, consequently Mr. McNally realizes a profit of $100,000. This property compared with sales made in this vicinity on Wabash avenue within the past year shows a marked increase in valuation within the past six months.

The property 160 feet south of Adams street, s. f. 80x177 feet was one of the most noted transactions on Wabash avenue during the past year, which sold at the rate of $3,325 per front foot or $19 per square foot. This sale, compared with the above transaction shows a marked increase on this thoroughfare. The price per front foot of this sale is $5,725, or $34 50 per square foot. The present leases of this property expire in 1893. The present tenants are the Dennison Mfg. Co., the Belford Clark Co, and Wilson Bros. The income of the property will make 6 per cent on the price paid for it. The transaction was all cash; the property is improved with a five story stone building. This is the first large sale of the year, and makes a good beginning for the new year.

151½ ACRES SOLD FOR $53,000.

A contract was filed in the recorder's office of Lake County, Ind., this week from the Calumet Land & Improvement Company to the Grasselli Chemical Company, a corporation of the State of Ohio, for the sale of 151½ acres of land lying about two and a half miles east of the city of Hammond, 82.80 acres, being in section 33, and 68.70 acres being in section 34, township 37 north, range 9. The consideration named is $53,730 The land in section 33 being for $400 per acre and that in section 34 being for $300 per acre. This property lies on the north bank of the Grand Calumet river and is on the line of the proposed State Line & Eastern Railway. The grantor agrees to build a railroad to the western boundry of the tract.

The Grasselli Chemical Company is the largest of its kind in the United States. It has been in operation since 1827 and has plants at Cleveland and Cincinnati, O., Beaver Falls, Pa., Olean, N. Y. and Elizabethport, N. J. At Cleveland their plant occupies 45 acres and at Elizabethport over 200 acres. The company has a capital of $7,000,000, and will erect buildings during the present year on its new purchase, which will exceed $150,000 in cost and the next year the plant will be further improved by an expenditure $160,000 in buildings alone.

These works will give employment to a large number of men and a thrifty town will soon be built near the works.

There are two other large deals on hand in the Calumet region and the future of that locality bids fair to outstrip the predictions we made early last summer.—Real Estate Reporter.

110,000 LOTS MADE—40,000 SOLD—SUBDIVISIONS FOR 1891.

The following summary of new subdivisions recorded in 1891 is designed to indicate to a certain degree the number of lots which have been placed on the market during the year. It shows the subdivisions as they appear on the Cook County records, in alphabetical order, with the number of lots in each. The unit of measurement is assumed to be a lot 25x125 feet, or the ordinary lot where five acre blocks are subdivided into forty-eight lots. In a few cases no means are at hand for determining the exact number of lots in the subdivision offered for record. From the actual figures and estimates approximately 110,000 lots have been provided for. That is, 11,458 acres of Cook County lands have been subdivided, ready to furnish lots of all sizes, prices, classes and conditions, for all varieties of purchasers. This amount of land, in other words, is equivalent to eighteen square miles, or exactly one-half of an ordinary township. It would equal a tier of sections extending from the lower line of Lincoln Park to the most southerly boundary of Chicago. In other words, a tract of land equal in area to that bounded by Twelfth street on the north, Thirty-ninth street on the south, Crawford avenue on the west, and Lake Michigan on the east, has at the wave of the subdivider's wand been transformed from crop-producing acres to city lots. The subdividers of Cook County have subdivided a tract equal in area to the territory, including the business centre of Chicago, and extending from Chicago avenue to Twenty-second street and from the lake west to Crawford avenue.

These are the legitimate subdivisions. There are any number of tracts of land which have been subdivided on the plats of real estate agents, and which in many cases have been sold to lot buyers, which have not made their appearance on the books of the Recorder. These unrecorded subdivisions are most frequently met with in the territory to the northwest of the city, along the Desplaines river, and in the south part of the county. Whether this system of subdividing property without placing it on record can be defended from any standpoint, is a question. The practice savors somewhat of the "queer" operations in subdivisions which obtained during the earlier days of Chicago's history. The South Side has always been the field for remarkable industry in subdivision operations. As early as 1857 the subdivider of cheap acres made his appearance. In that year 160 acres in the Town of Lake, southwest of the present junction of the Grand Trunk and Belt railways, was cut up into small lots, and later was sold all over the country. For years after the subdivision was opened, letters were received from all parts of the country by real estate men, making inquiry in regard to the Price subdivision. Later hundreds of subdivisions of marsh land in the South Chicago district were placed on the market by various operators. Twenty-five years ago a proposed canal was a needed appurtenance to every cheap subdivision, just as a proposed electric line is considered a necessity by subdividers of cheap acres to-day. In 1872 all the subdivisions were laid out with boulevards as an inducement. Instead of the canals of a previous era, boulevards were projected in all conceivable locations on the South Side. In the boulevard period the George W. Scott subdivisions were placed on the market. A tract of 160 acres in section 19, of Worth, was subdivided into 2,688 lots. These lots had a frontage of but fifteen feet and were eighty feet in depth. Some choice residence subdivisions were opened about this time in Wolf Lake and the adjoining marshes. Such irregularities in subdivision operations of course are not possible at the present day, but there are unquestionably many subdivisions of out-lying acres offered to non-resident purchasers which are not fully up to the representations of their owners.

Just whether the subdividers in Cook county have been too active is a question which can be best answered from a study of the following lists of subdivisions. It is plain that at the present rate of activity the entire county will be one aggregation of lots within a few years. During the year fifteen subdivisions were opened, each of which contained between one thousand and six thousand lots.

The location of manufacturing interests of Chicago, the near approach of the World's Fair, the great increases which have been made in the city's population, and the general interest in Chicago which is taken by outside investors, may be sufficient warrant for the subdivision of much of this property. It is clear, however, that if 40,000 parcels of land were sold during the year, and over 110.000 were created, there must be some check to subdivision operations or Chicago lots will become a drug on the market.

The above list does not include any of the subdivisions at Waukegan, or in Lake County, Illinois, nor in Lake County, Indiana, at Hammond, Tolleston, Griffith and a dozen other places south of the Cook County line; nor all in the towns of Leyden, Proviso, Maine, along and on the Desplaines river. They are simply the subdivisions which are recorded in the County Building, at Chicago.

During the entire year but two deals of special importance were consumated on Clark street. The negotiation which culminated in the erection of the stately fourteen story building on the site of the old Ashlaud block, was watched with much interest. It has a frontage of 140 feet on Clark street and 80 feet on Randolph. It was leased early in the year to the Ashland Block Compauy, the stock of which is held principally by A. J. Alexander, the owner of the fee. and C. S. and R. A. Waller. The building the company has nearly completed there, will be one of the best in the city. The only other deal worthy of notice on this street, during the year, was the sale last February of 198x122 feet of ground, between Stowell and Twelfth streets, by the Haveu Estate to the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railroad. The consideration was $118,000, being a little less than $600 a front foot.

A large percentage of the entire central business frontage of LaSalle street is practically out of the market. State and Dearborn streets are both rapidly approaching a like condition, much frontage there being covered by long term leases. No property can rightly be said to be absolutely out of the market unless some legal complication makes its so, for money and enough of it, will overcome the reluctancy of any owner. But prices are, in many cases, placed so high that investors will not meet them. Excepting the sale of the Major block which was reveiwed in detail under the Madison street head of this article, but two other deals of particular note remain to be noticed. About the first of September Louis Olcese, an Italian fruit commission merchant on South Water street, purchased from Lucy C. Dana the choice bit of real estate between the Merchants National bank and LaFayette buildings, for $72,500. The property consists of 22½x80 feet of ground and a two story building occupied on the first floor by a saloon and on the second by the Democratic headquarters. The sale was made subject to a six years lease at an annual rental of $2,400. The price paid was $3200 a front foot and $43 a square foot. The other deal referred to above was the contract made by the Young Men's Christian Associatiou to buy the Andrews property, which adjoins the Major block on the south, having a west frontage on LaSalle street of 51 69-100 feet, and a depth on Arcade court of 65 8-100 feet. The consideration named is $265,000, being at the rate of $4071 a front foot and a little less than $79 a square foot. This property extends east to the Farwell Hall property, their present quarters. The Association is gradually perfecting the arrangements to erect a fine new home in which to carry on its noble work.

The opening of the Grand Central Station at the corner of Fifth avenue and Harrison, gave a decided lift to that entire district. It is the most commodious, elegantly finished railway depot in the West. The only large sale of property on this street, excepting that at the corner of Madison street, which is spoken of under Madison street, was the transfer of 34x80 feet at numbers 79 and 81 by Clara A. Holton to Samuel Nickerson for $58,366 or about $1,700 a front foot. Mr. Nickerson got title to this property in March and immediately leased it to Eugene S. Pike for 198 years at an annual rental of 6% on the purchase price of the property.

On Market street the greatest event of the year was the leasing of the old Government warehouse property in September by Jos. D. Oliver to J. B. Mallers, for ninety-nine years and the subsequent erection there by the lessee of the largest wholesale mercantile building in the West. The ground fronts 166 feet east on Market, about the same west on the river, 190 feet north on Quincy and 145½ feet south on Jackson. The terms of the lease call for an annual rental of $20,000 for first five years, $22,500 for second five years and $25,000 for the remainder of the term. This makes an average yearly rental of $24,621 which on a five per cent basis, give a valuation of $492,420 being $2,966 a front foot, and a little over $14 a square foot. A clause in the lease gives the lessee an option to purchase within five years for $550,000.

In July 40x90 feet west front, between Madison and Monroe streets, was purchased from Frank R. Baker by Mrs. J. P. Warren for $100,000. The building there was valued at $30,000 which left $70,000 on the price of the land, or a rate of $1,750 a front foot and a little less than $20 a square foot. Mrs Warren leased the property back to Mr. Baker for 99 years at an annual rental of $6,000. In March the 48x90 feet of ground and six stories and basement stone and brick building at 165 and 167 Market street, between Adams and Jackson streets, were sold for $133,000. The value of the building was put at $40,000 and the $93,000 remaining for the land, gave a value of a trifle over $1,937 a front foot and $21 a square foot.

Franklin street contributed one fairly good transaction. It is the sale last January of 53½x80 feet between Van Buren and Harrison streets, for $58,000 cash, being at the rate of a trifle over $1,094 a front foot and $14 a square foot.

The highest price ever paid for inside frontage on South Water street was given by the authorities of the Chicago Theological Seminary. They paid $225,000 in January for 80x150 feet of ground with building. The improvements were valued at $25,000 which left $200,000 for the ground, being $2,500 a front foot and $16,66 a square foot. The seller was Norman B. Ream, he having purchased the property in 1883 for $122,000. This was the only transactiou of any large amount on that street during the year.

East of the river on Lake street there is no transfer of frontage to note and west of the river there were only three. In March the Bethel Home property at the southwest corner of Desplaines was sold by Benj. Franklaud to R. H. Rice for $54,000. It consists of 60x115 feet of ground and three story and mansard roof brick building. At the northwest corner of Leavitt, two months later, P. O. Donnell sold to J. C. Clark 96x134½ feet, with building, for $55,000 and in August, 75x125 feet of grouud and three story and basement store and flat building at numbers 613 to 617, were sold for $50,000. The slow progress made with the elevated road on Lake street, has had a depressing effect upon property there. but once it is finished and in operation there will be a change for the better.

Randolph street has held it's own well this year and a considerable amount of its frontage changed hands. Henrici's hotel property between State and Dearborn streets, was given no little attention. The west half of this property, being 20x81¾ feet with four story and basement stone front building was sold in February by Julia M. V. Grunewaldt and others to August von Glahan, for $60,000. The building was valued at $15,000 which made the ground price $2,500 a front foot and $27.50 a square foot. The east half of this property was sold by Wm H. Taylor, of Boston, to Eunice H. Short for $65,000 and taxes of 1890. The buildings were counted at no particular value which made the ground price $3,250 a front foot and $35 a square foot. In March the lease of the 80x180 feet of ground south front on Randolph street, 80 feet west of Dearborn street, to the German Opera Company by Francis Bartlett, was formerly closed. The lease is for 99 years at an auuual rental of $17,500 in gold.

The ground measuring 3013-100x180 feet, north front, 100 feet west of LaSalle street, was sold in September by the Heath and Milligan Manufacturing Co., to Reid and Murdock, for $100,000, or a little over $3,333 a front foot. The property was leased back to the company for 99 years at $6,000 a year rental. At the northwest corner of Market street the Lind block, a seven story and basement structure, and leasehold interest in the 78x90 feet of ground, was sold to the West Michigan Lumber Co. The grouud lease is for 99 years at $9,000 a year rental.

The highest price ever paid for real estate in that vicinity was given by Herman Hermann to the Lewis estate, for the southwest corner of Randolph and Union streets. It was $120,000 for 120x152 feet, being $1,000 a front foot. This deal was closed in February and in the latter part of November Mr. Hermann sold to Johan Krause an undivided half interest in the grounds and the fine six story office building and warehouse he had built thereon, for $135,000.

The leading transaction in the Washington street frontage and one of the most notable deals in the down town district during the year, was the sale of the Orington Lunt and Horace F. Waite property by the Cook County Abstract Co., and the subsequent erection of the sixteen story sky sweeper that is now nearly completed. The ground fronts north on Washington street, 100 feet east of Clark street, and is 60x182 feet in area. The consideration agreed upon was $525,000, or a rate of $8,750 a front foot and little over $48 a square foot.

It was in April that the 50x110 feet of ground on Washington street opposite the south entrance to Marshall Field's and known as the Viena bakery property, was purchased by the Chicago Real estate trustees from the Hartford fire Insurance for $254,000, this being at the rate of $5,000 a front foot and $45 a square foot. The opening deal of the year was on this street, it being the sale by J. H. Dwight to Chancellor L. Jenks of 40x180 feet, south front, between Fifth avenue and Franklin street, being numbers 187 and 189, for $2,375 a front foot or $95,000.

Three items from Monroe street are worthy of special consideration. In October, Wallace & Gibson leased to W. J. Jefferson for 99 years, at $6,000 a year, 27½x199½ feet at 175 Monroe street. At the northwest corner of Franklin street is 140x185 feet now wholly owned by Henry Botsford. He purchased 50 feet on Monroe by 185 on Franklin street for $225,000, and later he bought 90 feet adjoining that property for $280,000. These sales fix a value then of $3,607 a front foot, and over $19 a square foot. The third deal was closed in March, and was the sale of the much talked of Kent property, south front, 46 feet east of La Salle, by Warren Springer to Granville M. Dodge, for $185,000, or $4,000 a front foot. It has a width of 45 32-100 feet, and is 80 feet deep.

Adams street furnishes nothing of importance to speak of. The leasing of the First Regiment Armory is the single event to call attention to Jackson street. In the latter part of August, Mrs. Benton Barnes leased that property for 99 years, the terms being $15,000 per annum for the first 20 years and $16,000 during the remainder of the term. It is located midway between Michigan and Wabash avenues, and the building is of stone, three stories high, but of course considered of no value in this transaction.

Van Buren street shows two quite interesting deals. On the east side of the river, the lone deal was the change again in the ownership of the Exchange building, at the southeast corner of Pacific avenue. John A. McShane, of Omaha, in October, sold the building and Leasehold to J. W. McFarlane, of Chicago, for $520,000, taking as part payment Mr. McShane's equity of $295,000 in an acre tract on Stony Island avenue and 87th street. The fee of this much transferred property, is owned by the Olivers, of South Bend, Indiana, and is under a 99 years lease, made in 1889, the rental being $15,000 a year for the first first five years—$17,500 a year thereafter. The last sale was made on the basis of the rental returns from the building. Crossing the river, the transaction of the year on West Van Buren street, was negotiated early in the year, being the sale of the Hoard homestead, for about $90,000, by O. W. Barrett, to the trustees of the estate of Allen C. Lewis, who died in 1877. Mr. Lewis left by will a fund to be invested in government, city, or county bonds, which was to be used as soon as it amounted to $800,000, for the founding of a Polytecnic Institute. The sum accumulated is understood to have been over a million dollars at the beginning of 1891, and to this was added in February, the $120,000 received from Herman Hermann, for the property at Randolph and Union streets which he purchased from the estate, special mention of which will be found under Randolph street. When the tunnel under the river at Van Buren street, now about two-thirds completed is finished, and the several cable lines are running to that point, there is sure to be an advance in Van Buren street values.

At number thirteen Congress street, between Michigan and Wabash avenues, 17x100 feet of ground was leased in November by Dr. Jas. L. Clapp to Wm. Fitzgerald, for 99 years at an annual rent of $3,000. This on a basis or five per cent, gives a valuation of about $3,523 a front foot. Third avenue, or Plymouth Place as it should now be called, partakes more or less of the life along Dearborn street. At number 17, Marx Wineman sold to Koester & Terhune, 28x93 feet, with three-story building, for $60,000, being about $1,900 a front foot. Wm. M. Patterson leased from Robert J. Gunning, for 99 years, 50x102 feet west front, 198 feet north of Harrison street, at a yearly rental of $4,000 for the first five years and $4,500 for the remaining 94 years, payments to be made in gold. This gives a valuation on a six per cent basis of about $75,000, being $1,500 a front foot and nearly $17 a square foot. At the northeast corner of Third avenue and Harrison street, an undivided half interest in 50x101 feet, was sold by M. A. Loring to F. C. Gibbs for $75,000 or $1,500 a front foot and nearly $15 a square foot.

PLANS FOR MORE NEW RESIDENCES, FLATS, APARTMENT HOUSES AND HOTELS.

Architect Jules de Horvath has prepared drawings for "The Williams" apartment building to be built on the corner of Twenty-third street and South Park avenue, 50x106 feet, seven stories and basement. This fine building will contain 36 suites of apartments of varying accommodation. The front will be of stone and brick above with cut stone trimmings. The hall will be handsomely finished in mosiac and marble, passenger elevators. On the top floor will be a cafe and restaurant. This arrangement for keeping the smell of cooking away from the house, by placing the culinary department nearest the roof, has been adapted. Cost $150,000.—Also for "The Giddings" apartment building which will improve the corner of Wabash avenue and Thirty-seventh street. The building will have a main frontage on Wabash avenue of 50 feet and a return frontage on Thirty-seventh street of 122 feet. The National Mining and Stock Exchange.

There never was a time when any industry was in a more prosperous condition than the Mining interests are at this time, with all the modern improvements and facilities for working mines, transportation and the treating of Ores.

The costs have been reduced more than one-half and the net profits to stock-holders have more than doubled. The mines are full of practical, skilled miners,and the business way in which all branches of mining is now handled makes it as safe an investment as any other line of business, and in many cases it is much more profitable. According to government statistics—censusof 1890, it is fast becoming the leading producing industry of the country. The various branches of the Mining industry rank as follows in their order, viz.: coal 1st, iron 2d silver 3d, gold 4th. Lime, brick and tile petroleum, copper, building stone, lead and zinc, coke,salt, natural gas, cement, gypsum, grind stone, borax, and there are many other minerals, amounting in all toabout $700,000,000 yearly produced in this country.

Chicago is fast becoming the HEAD CENTER of MINING INTERESTS. She has the largest Manufacturers of Mining Machinery in the World. Her Iron and Steel interests are second to none. Her Lead and White Lead interest are among the largest. As a Manufacturing Center, we can well be proud of her. Many of her citizens own valuable interests in Gold, Silver, Iron, Tin and other Mines, also Stone, Marble and Lithograpic Quarries. The Brick, Tile and other products of clay are numerous. There are millions of profits paid yearly to holders of stock. At the "World's Fair" there will be the grandest display that the Mineral Kingdom can furnish, and a Mining boom is immediately before us.

THE NATIONAL MINING AND STOCK EXCHANGE is incorporated under the laws of Illinois, has a Capital Stock of $100,000, divided into shares of $10 each. EIGHTY per cent. of the Capital Stock has been placed in the Treasury to be sold for the benefit and uses of the Company. This Company now offers a limited number of shares of its Treasury Stock at $3.50 per share. Believing you will fully appreciate the necessity of such an organization and the very profitable returns one would receive as a Stockholder, your aid is solicited and would be appreciated. In joining in this enterprise you help to build up a medium that can help other industries, while enriching yourselves. This is an opportunity to get into a growing money making business. This Company is to help develop mineral property, to deal in the products of the same and transact such business as appertains thereto.

It has a FREE DAILY CALL for the PURCHASE and SALE of all kinds of MISCELLANEOUS STOCKS, MANUFACTURER'S, BRICK, STONE and MINING STOCKS; also MINES and other property.

Information regarding Stocks offered for sale can be found at these Headquarters.

The profits will be paid to stockholders, at stated periods. A purchase of Stock in this Company can not fail to be a very profitable investment and may prove a rich Bonanza to you and the stock you buy can be sold again for cash. This stock is non-assessable and no further demands can be made upon you. This Company is owner of a valuable mining property (U. S. patent title.) in Park County, Colorado. The Directors and Stockholders are well-known business men as follows:

BUYERS AND DEALERS

SHOULD NOTE

The Character of Improvements Before Making Purchases.

For Instance:

Modern Houses costing from $5,000 to $25,000 enhance the value of surrounding property

Churches and Schools raise the standard of a neighborhood.

The finer the structures the higher the standard.

ADVANCE REPORTS OF NEW BUILDINGS AND

TIMELY POINTERS AS TO PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS,

Such as ordiances for Street Car Extensions, Side Walks, Water Mains, Sewers, Engine Houses, Lamp Posts, Paving, Grading, indicate progress; in fact anything that increases the comforts and convenience of the people, increases the value of property for the distance of a mile in every direction.

WORKINGMEN who Have Families should keep close watch of New Manufactories and New School Houses and try to get in on the ground floor by buying a lot or Home early. Many of our Real Estate Agents will sell a lot cheap and lend the money to build with

REAL ESTATE.

As the time approaches for the completion of the new suburban line of the Chicago Central R. R. to Blue Island, which will afford greatly increased facilities and Rapid Transit between Chicago and Blue Island, along the most desirable locations on Blue Island Ridge, Home Seekers are looking for the most advantageous place in which to invest their savings and secure lots for their future homes; also for investments that promise large returns in the near future. To all such, I offer choice lots, on easy terms, within one, two or three blocks from the 123d St. Station of the Chicago Central R. R. at Blue Island on the Ridge.

FRAUDULENT CONVEYANCE.

THE RHODES & RAMSEY V. PETER SMITH & SMITH.

Appeal from the Circuit Court of Cook County.

Moran J.: Appellants filed their creditors bill against James Riley and James McDowell and the appellees alleging the recovery of judgement in favor of appellants for something over four thousand dollars against said Riley and McDowell on an indebtedness owing from said Riley and McDowell to appellants, and the return of an execution nulla bona. The bill alleges among other things that after said indebtedness from Riley and McDowell to appellant and before commencement of the action in which judgment was rendered, said defendant, Riley, conveyed to one Peter Smith by warranty deed a certain lot in the bill described for the alleged consideration of twenty-five hundred dollars. That said Riley was at the time of said conveyance the owner of the said lot with the house thereon, and that the conveyance to said Smith was a colorable transaction and made for the purpose of hindering and delaying appellants in the collection of their said debt, that said consideration was not paid by said Smith or if paid was not paid in good faith, and that said Smith did not receive said conveyance for any debt justly due him from said Riley, but by arrangement with said Riley said property was transferred by said Riley in order to keep the same from his creditors, and that at the time of the conveyance by said Riley he was insolvent and indebted to appellants. That the said property so conveyed was worth about five thousand dollars. The bill prays that said conveyance should be set aside and declared fraudulent against appellant and said premises sold and the proceeds applied towards the payment of said judgment.

On the hearing it appeared by uncontradicted testimony that Riley, just before he executed the deed to Smith, stated that he wanted to make over his property to said Smith, so that he would get out of paying his debt to appellant. That at the time said deed was drawn and signed and acknowledged by said Riley, said Smith was not present. That Smith was at the time said deed was made the brother-in-law of said Riley. That Riley continued for more than a year after the making of the deed to rent the premises and collect the rent therefor in his own name and that he also continued to pay the taxes on the lot.

All these circumstances certainly made a case justifying the inference that the transfer was fraudulent and without consideration. It was clearly shown to be fraudulent on the part of Riley, and if Smith did not pay a consideration for the deed he could not hold the property against a creditor of Riley. When Smith was called to the stand he showed that he lived in a house which he had purchased for $1,700. He was asked if the house was paid for, but that question his counsel objected to and the court sustained the objection. The question was proper and should have been allowed. It was competent for appellants to inquire into Smith's financial condition and ability. There was no attempt to show by Smith that he in fact paid for the lot conveyed to him by Riley. His counsel contented himself with asking him if he had money to pay for the building when he bought it. On the close of complainants' evidence the court dismissed the bill as to Smith and wife for want of equity. This was error. The facts proved by complainant required a decree against Smith unless he showed that he actually paid for the property. If he did actually pay for the property he could not be deprived of it unless he took it with knowledge of Riley's fraudulent intent, or with knowledge of such facts and circumstances as would put him on notice that Riley was conveying the property for the purpose of hindering, delaying or defrauding his creditors.

The decree dismissing the bill must be reversed and the case remanded to the circuit court with directions to deny the appellee's motion to dismiss the bill as to them and to proceed with the case in a manner not inconsistent with this opinion.

Rewards For Bible Readers

Great Winter Competition of The Ladies Home Magazine.

QUESTIONS—Where does the following words first appear in the Old Testament: 'KNOWLEDGE" "WIFE" and "DOVE"? Where does the following words first appear in the New Testament: "EUREKA," "FAME," and 'KING"?

WEEKLY PRIZES—Every week throughout this great competition, prizes will be distributed as follows: The first correct answer received (the postmarked date on each letter to be taken as the date received) at the office of THE LADIES HOME MAGAZINE (each and every week during 1892,) will get $2 0; the second correct answer $10; the third $5; fourth, a beautiful silver service; fifth, five o'clock silver service, and the next 50 correct answers will get prizes ranging from $25 down to $2. Every fifth correct answer irrespective of whether a prize winner or not, will get a special prize. Competitors residing in the southern states, as well as other distant points, have an equal chance with those nearer home, as the postmark will be our authority in every case

RULE—Each list of answers must be accompanied by $1 to pay for six months subscription to one of the best HOME MAGAZINES in America.

REFERENCES—"THE LADIES HOME MAGAZINE is well able to carry out its promises"—Peterborough (Canada) Times, "A spendid paper, and financially strong"—Hastings (Canada) Star. "Every prize winner will be sure to receive just what he is entitled to."—Norwood (Canada) Register, Money should be sent by post office order or registered letter. Address, THE LADIES HOME MAGAZINE, Peterborough, Canada.

$3,500 IN REWARDS.

The Canadian Agriculturist's Great Winter Literary Competition.

The Fifth Half Yearly Literary Competition of The Canadian Agriculturist, America's old and reliable Illustrated Family Magazine, is now open. The following splendid prizes will be given free to persons sending in the greatest number of words made out of letters contained in the words "The Illustrated Agricul urist" ☞Everyone sending in a list of not less than 100 words will receive a valuable present of silverware.

1st Grand Reward		$500 in Gold
2nd	"	Grand Piano, valued at $300

Next 100 prizes—100 Silver Butter Dishes, etc., warranted heavy plate.

Next 500 prizes consists of Heavy Plated Silver Kettles, Butter Dishes, Fruit Baskets, Biscuit Jars, Sugar Shells, Butter Knives etc etc, all fully warranted, making a total of 689 splendid rewards, the value of which will aggregate $3,500.

This grand Literary Competition is open to everybody everywhere. The following are the conditions:

1. The words must be constructed only from letters in the words, "The Illustrated Agriculturist" and must be only such as are found in Webster's Unabridged Dictionary, in the body of the book, none of the supplement to be used.

2. The words must be written in rotation and nnmbered 1, 2, 3 and so on, for facilitating in deciding the winners.

3. Letters cannot be used oftener than they appear in the words "The Illustrated Agriculturist" for instance; the word "egg" cannot be used as there is but one "g" in the three words.

4. The list containing the largest number of words will be awarded first prize, and so on in order of merit. Each list as it is received will be numbered, and if two or more tie, the first received will be awarded first prize, and so on, therefore the benefit of sending in early will readily be seen.

5. Each list must be accompanied by $1 for six months subscription to THE AGRICULTURIST.

The following gentlemen have kindly consented to act as judges; J. G. MACDONALD, City Clerk, Peterborough, Canada, and COMMODORE CALOUTT, Peterborough.

PIANOS AT MANUFACTURERS' PRICES.

NO. 1.

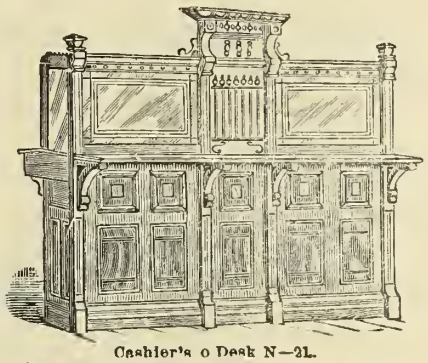
The STYLE "D" piano is seven and one-third Octaves, has overstrung Scale, three Unisons, Elastic double repeating Action, full iron frame and No. 1 Ivory Keys. We use the full swing front music desk with engraved panels and the upright folding fall board, which gives the instrument a very attractive appearance. Every piece is double veneered on both sides, making it impossible for it to warp or check. It has an exceptionally sweet and full tone; the scales are unusually well and evenly balanced, producing remarkable singing quality. Heighth 57 inches Length, 63 inches. Depth, 28½ inches. Finished in Ebony, Mahogany, Oak and French Walnut Veneers.

NO. 2.

STYLE "E" has seven and one-third Octaves, over-strung Scale, three Unisons, Elastic double repeating Action, and full iron Frame. It has the full swing front music desk with handsomely engraved panels and the upright folding fall board, and also paneled ends. It has an exceptionally sweet and full tone; the scales are unusually well and evenly balanced, producing remarkable singing quality. Heighth, 55 inches. Length, 62½ inches. Depth, 28 inches.

NO. 3.

STYLE "C" is the same as STYLE "E," except the ends, which are not paneled.



NO. 4.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

Though the year is still young, enough has transpired to enable the close observer to form some idea of the business outlook. In order to arrive at a just estimate, the lessons of the past must be remembered, and all the elements working for or against values must be considered.

So far as the United States are concerned, the promise of the new year is decidedly good, though the probability is, that the extravagant expectations of some will not be realized. The gain to this country from bountiful crops is great, and will be felt more and more as the year advances. On the other hand, the extremely low price at which cotton is selling is a source of much loss and anxiety, so much so, indeed, that the stability of several important Southern banks is being called in question. When the close relations subsisting between financial institutions in the different sections of the country is considered, it will be seen that any disaster from the above source would not be limited to a sinlge section, but would affect general credit.

The year started off with a lively upturn in prices, and, for a while, it looked as if the bulls would carry prudent men with them. Fortunately, in the interests of solid advancement, there was a timely check, not strong enough to dampen the hopes of the crowd, but still sufficient to check the too ardent and over sanguine. A rise, more or less pronounced, is due, and will doubtlessly come, but its premature arrival would only be hurtful as it would cause reaction.

The JOURNAL has already directed attention to the large sums of money which will be freed before the present month is out. This large amount will in a short time be re-enforced from the profits of the agriculturists and of the trader.

The prospects of an early reflex flow of gold from Europe to this country has undergone some eclipse The movements of trade during the next few months do not promise to be such as to require the remittance of gold from the other side in any considerable quantity. This fact should not be overlookod by operators acting in expectation of a great influx of the precious yellow metal. Still, Europe has not yet got through with the American farmer, and should take anywhere from 70,000,000 to 100,000,000 bushels more of wheat, to say nothing of the chance of the increased consumption of corn. The latest advices from the United Kingdom report Europe as suffering from an over supply of imported wheat, which will take Europe about two months to fully absorb, before greatly hungering for more. Instead of asking the American farmer to increase his deliveries, Europe is now advising him to hold back. In the end, the best course will be found for the farmer to market his products steadily, as heretofore. Present prices, though not phenomenally high, are remunerative. The month of May will find the wheat of India freely entering the ports of Europe, with that of the whole Southern hemisphere. This competition should, as the JOURNAL has already had occasion to state, be anticipated, as far as practicable with the maintenance of the price at a fair level. It is altogether too late in the season to talk about cornering wheat in the interest of the American farmer. A mere squeeze for a few days might serve the end of a score or more of grain speculalors at Chicago and New York, and at London, Paris and Berlin, but not the American farmer nor the best interests of this country. The more of the golden grain that is exchanged for the precious metal the better. In other words, the full benefits of our last year's splendid harvests will not be secured until their equivalent in cold cash is standing to the credit of the people's banking account.

Should 1892 pursue a normal course, the JOURNAL fully expects it to be a year of progressive prosperity, accompanied by a general marking up of prices. Nor do we look for any considerable financial or political complications abroad. The action of London for some time past has been remarkably healthy, which is an important matter when we remember the considerable part that that city plays as chief banker and financial controller of the world. Paris and Berlin have been tried by fire and have not come out wholly unscathed, but the ordeal has apparently been attended by some wholesome results. The present week has witnessed a disgraceful bank failure in Italy, the liabilities being given, somewhat indefinately, as amounting to millions of lires. Thus, the process of purging has been applied pretty well all around, leaving the body financial, the world over, somewhat chastened, but, at the same time, greatly benefitted. Should the European crops of 1892 be good, and advices point in that direction somewhat strongly, then Europe will readily co-operate with any forward movement made on this side. In fine, all things seem to be shaping themselves for not merely a season, but for a long term of prosperity.

The policy to be commended to this country in order to secure almost all good things may be briefly summarized as follows: (1) Avoid all avoidable foreign entanglements. (2) Do not let the presidential year be one of heated partisan controversy. (3) Convert the products of the farm into cold cash. (4) Do not make too great a plunge until the year has further matured. (5) Above all, do not upset the entire foundations of credit by toying with the 75 cents silver dollar.

A notable feature of the trading on Wall street during the last few days has been the action of pools or combinations formed with the express object of advancing prices. Outsiders should be careful how they touch securities thus manipulated, for they may at any moment fly either skyward or drop entirely out of sight. It is certain that, not a few properties have thus been unduly influenced, and, of course, with a single view to the benefit of those who work the mechanism. The public are simply not in it, and even among the big men themselves, it sometimes happens that one of them gives the rest away by selling out without troubling himself as to his partners. Thus in Distillers' and Cattle Feeders' stock, Nelson Morris has been credited with having anticipated his friends by selling 40,000 shares. He denies the story, but such things are done, and it behooves the public just now to safeguard themselves by dealing cautiously and upon the basis not of promises simply but the fulfillment of them.

At the late meeting of the American Sugar Refining company, the grosss assets were announced as $62,845,000, and the net earnings as $5,073,000. These figures indicate how big is the concern presided over by Mr. Havemeyer. A resoultion was passed to increase the capital of the company by $25,000,000 by issuing shares for that amount. The new issue, which is subject to the consent of two-thirds of the shareholders' will be half in common stock, the other half being preferred. The amount was not altogether favorably regarded on the street, and sugar closed nearly a couple of points below.

The earnings of the railroads continue satisfactory. The gross earnings last year for the lines in New York state were $169,012,000, as compared with $163,974,000 for the preceding year. The amount of dividends distributed was also larger by $940,000; though the operating expenses had during the same period increased from $107,959,000 to $113,528,000, leaving a smaller surplus to be carried forward. Intending purchasers of railway stock should not overlook the fact that operating charges, cost of betterments, etc., have a tendency to grow rapidly with every improvement in the earnings. Meanwhile, there is substantial progress being made. The carrying trade is the greatest ever known, and the reports it hand as far as they go, and they include over seventy roads all over the country, display an increase in earnings for last month, as compared with the closing month of the preceding year, of over 10 per cent.

The demand for bonds has somewhat abated, the inclination for the moment being rather in favor of trying the more speculative stocks. Money continues to rule easy the world over. At London good three months bills are being done on the outside market at from 1⅞ to 2 per cent. Call money at New York and Boston has been as low as 2½ per cent.

The trouble over fire insurance rates is by no means limited to Chicago, where it assumed the shape of a lively debate as to the security of lofty buildings. At New York, several important fire insurance companies have withdrawn from business, and those that remain insist upon reducing the sums carried on the policies issued by them. This is a source of considerable embarrassment to many large wholesalers, who find it almost impossible to insure their stocks at anything like their full value, and this quite apart from all questions as to the rates charged. Something like the same condition of affairs exists at Boston, while the Philadelphia Underwriters' Association has under consideration the necessity of raising the fire insurance rates in that city to the extent of 20 per cent. The fact is, existing rates are found not to pay, several large concerns having lost quite heavily by them. The aggregate insurance losses for 1892 were about 30 per cent heavier than for the preceding year.

Business, though healthy, is reported as still not fully recovered from the holiday slackness. Prices have not been advanced, and collections are scarcely satisfactory.

CORRECT BANK CLEARINGS FOR 1891.

The following are the corrected bank clearings of sixty-two leading cities for the year 1891, compared with those of the preceding year, with percentages of increase and decrease, including the actual figures for last two weeks in December, and taken from actual clearing house reports.

†Not included in totals.

Of the above cities of the United States, as many as fifty-six are available for purposes of comparison. Referring to these cities, we find that the total bank clearings for the past year as compared with those of the preceding year have declined $4,074,785,000, or nearly 6.7 per cent. Of this amount, the Empire City is responsible for $3,709,285,000; leaving a shrinkage for outside points of $365,500,000, or not quite 1.6 per cent upon their portion of the bank clearings.

The heaviest declines were made in the earlier months of the year, notably in February and March. There was a marked improvement in April, when the decrease as compared with the corresponding month of the preceding year was reduced to but nine-tenths of one per cent. This improvement did not however last, and was followed by four months of poor returns viz: May, June, July and August. Since then, there has been a gradual recuperative process going on, until we come to December when the decline is finally disposed of, giving way to a quite decided increase of over 12 per cent. Thus, the old year may be said to have gone out auspiciously and with the promise of much better things for 1892.

Coming to particular instances, the first thing that arrests attention is the quite remarkable shrinkage of the bank clearings at New York, which city represents something like 60 per cent, of the total bank clearings of the country. For this shrinkage there are several explanations. The falling off may be, in the main, traced to three sources. First: to the general absence of speculation brought about by the great Baring failure from which Wall street suffered severely in the shape of restricted trading and few commissions. Secondly: the gradual movement Westward of large manufacturing interests, at least to the extent of establishing branch houses. Thirdly: the contraction in the volume of the imports from Europe to this country. As these imported goods are mostly handled at New Yerk, this contraction must limit business to at least a like extent at the receiving port. Possibly, interior points may have gained by New York's loss, but this is doubtful, at least manufacturers in staple lines have up to the present given no indications of such being the case. Per contra: a contraction in the volume of bank clearings does not, as the JOURNAL has before had occasion to point out, wholly represent loss. The explanation may, in a measure, be in more conservative methods of trading. Thus concurrently with the decline of bank clearings at New York, there has been quite a remarkable falling off in the amount if not in the number of business failures at the great Eastern metropolis of trade and finance. The statement of the business failures for 1891 was succintly given in last week's JOURNAL and might with advantage be checked over with the list of the bank clearings as now furnished. By doing so, some useful lessons might be learned as also some inferences of value to the ordinary man of business.

Boston's decline on the year is 7.3 per cent. With Boston, as with New York city, this decline is in part due to the absence of speculation that characterized the greater portion of the year now brougt to a close. Something else the city also suffered from was the unsatisfactory conditions recently ruling in several lines of staple manufacture. This is confirmed by the shrinkage in bank clearings for the entire New England States, which shrinkage, as will be seen by consulting the table below, is equal to 6.2 per cent.

Among the great cities, Chicago makes an exceptionally good exhibition, with an increase of 8.9 per cent. It is the happy chance of Chicago to depend upon several important industrial lines, and in almost equal measure. Taking the annual trade of the city as $1.500,000,000, which is not far of the mark, it may be classified under three heads as follows: Manufacturing, $500,000,000: wholesale mercantile, $500,000,000; and produce, $500,000,000. This happy distribution of interests imparts stability to the business of the city. Further, Chicago has the great lakes spread out before her and the great West behind her. All these are elements and assurances of solid progress.

The trials experienced by the great iron industry during the past year are fairly reflected by the returns from Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, and which show declines of 11.2 per cent and of 13 7 per cent, respectively. The returns from the mining districts of the South and Southwest are indications in the same direction. Fortunately, the worst seems now to have passed.

St Louis and San Francisco established moderate gains. Baltimore and New Orleans fall away 2.3 per cent and 2.7 per cent respectively.

Significant of the magnificent harvest; Minneapolis gives the notable gains of 21.7 per cent, and Buffalo 11.1 per cent.

In the Far west, Denver declines over 11 per cent, and advices from this point are not re-assuring as to the prospect of an early revival of business; Portland (Oregon) advances steadily, the increase for the year being equal to 10.7 per cent, Portland is one of those sedate cities that believes in cold cash, but does not think that resort to the boomer's art the best way of getting it. Los Angeles has apparently entered upon a fresh stage of prosperity, more lasting it is to be hoped than originally conferred by the land boomers. As to those interesting rivals, Tacoma and Seattle, the former improves 6.6 per cent, the latter declines 15 4 per cent, Tacoma leading in the matter of bank clearings by almost 3 per cent; but this, considering all things, is not much as between such robust and rising young cities.

Canada establishes for the year a substantial advance, equal to 8.3 per cent.

The following is the totals by groups of States.

New Engl'd States.	$5,460.066,842	$ 5 819,748,475	Dec	6.2

Totals,.....	$56,929,726,495	$61,004,511,826

As will be seen from the above table the chief gains have been made in the Northwestern and Southern groups, while the notable declines have been in the New England and the Middle States. The remaining three groups show practically no change either way, which considering their youth, denotes some absence of elasticity.

THE LOCAL STOCK MARKET.

The week opened on the Stock Exchange with considerable activity, and a well-defined disposition to raise prices, the earlier purchasers showing some inclination to get out and secure profits. The result was to check new purchases from coming in, and to arrest the upward movement of prices. A shrinkage in the volume of trade, at one and the same time indicated the tendency and emphasized it.

The results of the business in North side and West side cables for the past year are now known, and must be deemed highly satisfactory. The net earnings on the North side system are equal to a dividend of over 12 per cent; while those of the West side system are equal to over 8½ per cent, though in neither case, does prudent management admit of the entire profits being distributed in the shape of dividends. The reaction in North side cable has been specially marked. On Saturday last, this property opened at 183¾ (cash) and sold off to 183 for the account (ex-dividend) concurrently selling down from 179½ to 179. Total business, 360 shares, various. The week opened with the offer of 500 shares regular, which were disposed of at 179½. The price sagged to 178¾, but recovered, at the close of the second call, to 178⅝. For the account advanced meanwhile from 179⅝ to 180⅝, the close being at the highest point. Number of shares passing, 1,250 Tuesday, regular started off at 179⅛ and advanced to 180. For the account, opened at 179¾ and closed at 181⅛. Shares marketed, 820. The following day, trade in this property was limited to two parcels, each a fifty, the first lot going at 180, the second at 179⅝, both being for the account. Thursday was another halting day, with holders apparently willing to get rid of their property. Only 175 shares were disposed of, and at substantial concessions; regular 177½ to 178; for the account, 50 shares at 178¼. In West side cable the feeling was somewhat stronger than in the sister property, and a net fractional gain for the week has to be recorded. Saturday last, regular opened at 132½ and sold up to 133, the close however being but 132⅝. Volume of trade, good; 1,100 share changed hands mostly in hundreds. For the account transactions steady at 133. The week opened firm with 132½ bid for regular, which subsequently advanced and closed at 133⅝. For the account similarly moved upward from 133¼ to 134¼, a gain of a full point, 2,120 shares placed, regular. The following day was the high mark for the week, regular opening at 134½, lifting to 135, but closing at 134⅝. For the account started off at 135¼, advanced to 135⅝, and closed firm at 135⅝. Demand brisk, with 2,150 shares (various) marketed. From this point, the price steadily sagged. Transactions were fewer, though still quite substantial, averaging several hundreds of shares per day. The closing prices on Thursday were: regular, at 132⅝; for the account, at 133¼.

City Railway continues in little request, but what little business has been done has been at advancing prices. During the greater portion of the week, the ruling price was 305. But, on Thursday, there was quite a little inquiry for small lots of twenties and twenty fives. Upon five such deals the price was advanced, gradually, from 307½ to 310.

Once more Street's Stable car line has aroused much attention, and has advanced in price, though the gain has not been wholly maintained. Some six weeks ago the JOURNAL pointed out this property as a purchase for a conservate but substantial rise. Since then, the advance has been fully ten per cent, nor does it look as if the end was by any means as yet. A property of this non-speculative character paying a steady 4 per cent dividend cannot be considered dear below 40, and that figure has not yet been reached. The property is admittedly difficult to control, in the sense that it requires close attention to details and expert management, but these assured the result should be highly satisfactory to the shareholders. Some of the insiders stoutly maintain that Street's will go to 60. Under such management as we have indicated this is neither impossible nor improbable, for the property has in it many of the elements of an economic necessity. Saturday last, Street's (regular) opened at 37, advanced and closed at 37⅜. Business effected, upward of 1,150 shares disposed of. Brisk trading (1,480 shares), on Monday, advanced the property to 38¾, with 39 for the account. On Tuesday, regular was further advanced to 39⅜ with 39½ for the account. Business, upwards of 2,600 shares (various.) From this point, the price weakened off to 37½, but recovered to 38, which was the close for regular on Thursday.

In Western Stone there is but little doing. On Thursday 20 shares were disposed of at 96. The management expect that, during the present and next year, the city authorities of Chicago will undertake considerable improvements in footways, etc. This would naturally add to the prosperity of the Western Stone company.

An improvement, from 76¾ to 78, has to be recorded in Calumet and Chicago Canal and Dock. Average daily sales, upward of 450 shares. With some parties, this property appears to be growing in favor.

The week has witnessed some recovery in Arc Light and Power, which now stands at 85. On Monday, quite a little demand for this propdrty was developed at 84.

Another industrial that has moved upward in Diamond Match, which rose on Tuesday to as high as 139½ subsequently selling, however at 139. Some exceptionally heavy orders are reported as received by the company, which fact is given in explanation of the advance. At times, trading in this property has been quite brisk; the sales for five days aggregating about 1,500 shares.

Some weakness has developed in American Strawboard which has carried the property down from 85½ (Monday) to 84 (Thursday). As the JOURNAL stated in its last issue, monopolies if possessed of some special elements of strength have also their own peculiar weaknesses. If prices are unduly advanced, competitors will start in and they have either to be fought or bought out. The process of buying out cannot be pursued indifinately.

Packing and Provision fairly active and in some request. Common stock: range for the week 50¼ to 49¼. Preferred stock advanced from 46⅞ to 47¼. Boston parties credited with much of the buying.

Brewing and Malting continues neglected and weak. Common stock sold off from 38⅝ to 38. Preferred stock advanced from 46 to 46¼. The cut in prices continues, but still earnings are reported satisfactory and dividends are kept up.

Bond Market exceptionally dull and volume of trade light. Gas Light and Coke 5's., has sold slowly down from 86¾ to 86¼. Consumers' Gas 5's., unchanged at 82. Amount of business little more than nominal.

Among the transactions of the week the following may be enumerated: Milwaukee & Chicago Brewing, pfd. at 41. National Railway of Illinois, at 106½, and $10,000 Chicago Packing & Provision 6's, at 100.

OUR SPECIAL ASSESSMENT SYSTEM.

The subjet of special assessments furnishes an ever present topic for general comment among real estate men. The adjustment of assessments for improvements in a manner which shall be satisfactory to all parties interested seems to be a lost art, or an art which never has been attained.

"The method of assessing benefits in the opening of streets is most unsatisfactory," said an operator in choice South Side property. "When streets are opened through vacant property, I think the damages or costs should be assessed directly to abutting property. At present the benefits are assessed against property which is not affected by the improvement. I have in mind an instance which will illustrate this point. Harvard street is to be opened from Seventy-fourth to Seventy-fifth street in Auburn Park. The benefits of this improvement are assessed against property on Harvard street as far north as Seventy-first street. These benefits should be assessed against the property on both sides of Harvard street between Seventy-fourth and Seventy-fifth streets only. What practical benefit is the street opening to any of the property owners between Seventy-fourth and Seventy-fifth streets? Only a single block is opened and the street is not made a through thoroughfare by the operation. All these owners have all the outlets they desire and all they need. Under the present arrangement they are expeeted to pay for improvements which actually do them no good; a condition directly opposed to the general principle of special assessments.

Another instance of the same kind of injustice may be found in the same locality. Seventy-second street from the Rock Island to the Western Indiana tracks is only partially opened. The property owners to the north of the projected street line dedicated one-half the street or thirty-three feet, and planned their sub-divisions from this half street. The property south has never been sub-divided and has been tied up in courts for years. Recently efforts have been made to force improvements through this tract, and the remaining half street is to be condemned. It would seem equitable and just that as one-half of the cost of the street was borne by the property north, the other half should be met by the property south. Not so. The benefits in the condemnation proceedings will be assessed against property on each side equally. The result will be that the property to the north of Seventy-second street will bear three-fourths of the expense of furnishing the street, while the property directly opposite, having equal benefits from the general improvement, will bear the remaining one-fourth.

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT OF THE JOURNAL.

RULES GOVERNING THE PAYMENT OF COMMISSIONS.

Non resident solicitors and advertising agencies will receive the regular commissions paid to employees, provided payments are made in money, quarterly in advance. No commissions will be paid on trade ad's unless previously agreed to. Local agents and solicitors will only receive commissions on orders secured by them for a given amount, and for a specified length of time, and not continuously as by implied contract, unless the same are renewed by the agent. Any agent or solicitor who claims commissions on orders taken by other agents, or by or through the office, will be discharged from the service of the JOURNAL. All contracts for standing advertisements, whether new orders or renewals, must be in writing, signed by the advertiser. All orders must be renewed within two weeks after they expire, to entitle the solicitor to commissions, for obvious reasons. The JOURNAL does not permit occasional solicitors to represent it for the purpose of securing a foothold in some other business, nor for the purpose of claiming renewals which are only paid to persons employed continuously and regularly in its service. In short, the JOURNAL'S rules are substantially the same as those of all established newspapers, and are well known to all regular employees, having been in force constantly for the last ten years.

THE REAL ESTATE MARKET.

SOME NEW DEVELOPMENTS, BUT THE SAME GENERAL CONDITIONS AS PREVAILED LAST WEEK.—THE REAL ESTATE BOARDS' SUCCESSFUL YEAR.

The real estate market of last week exhibited the feature which is most noticeable in Chicago operations. The previous week was one crowded with operations of unusual interest, and portended an immediate revival of activity, which would surpass anything in the history of Chicago. The past week has gone by with scarcely a completed transaction of vital importance. The weather may have had some influence in checking operations along some real estate lines, but the fact remains that it is the unexpected which happens in a present market, and that it does necessarily follow that the third week of the year will be active because the second week exhibited that condition. There is, however, being quietly laid the foundation for a satisfactory year's work in real estate. Large deals are being quietly handled, and before many weeks a number of transactions which will rank with the star operations of 1891, will be announced. One of these involves the lease of a Dearborn street frontage at a rental which establishes a valuation of over $80 a square foot. A rumor which is most persistently published by the daily papers, and for which there is absolutely no foundation in fact, alleges the sale of the Robbins tract. It was again announced that this tract lying to the southwest of the city, had been sold to the Stock Yards Company by the Robbins estate for $2,000,000. The rumor is absolutely denied by both the interested parties, and there is all the corroborative evidence necessary to show that such a sale is not even seriously contemplated.

The publication of a full list of all the sub-divisions of 1891 by the REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL, has opened a wide field for general comment on the sub-division question. Those sub-dividers who have failed to record their plats before offering their property for sale, have come in for their full share of criticism. Recently a sub-division was discovered which occupies the anamolous position of being an addition to nowhere. It is described as George H. Smith's addition to Wireton Park. There is no irregularity in the sub-division itself, nor in the method of opening it and placing it on record. The only missing link seems to be Wireton Park. This town exists in fact, and is a site of two or three manufacturing plants which are rapidly being completed. Legally the place has no standing; that is, it has never been placed on the Cook county records. It is probable that many of the sub-dividers, who have failed to place their plats on record, have a very hazy idea of what the law requires in the matter. Owners of property, according to the law, are compelled to file for record plats of their sub-division before offering any lots for sale, under a penalty of a $25 fine for every lot sold. It is probable that sub-dividers of property located in the extreme southern part of the county, who are selling lots for $40 apiece, paying half of this amount as commission to agents, do not realize the danger they are in of having the remaining margin of profit swept away by this regulation.

The election held by the Real Estate Board resulted in the ratification of the action of the Nominating Committee in its selection of officers and committee. The regular Real Estate Board ticket headed by E. S. Dryer, was elected, fifty-eight members of the board being present and voting. The election of a year ago was the feature of the regular annual meeting. The feature of the meeting this year was the satisfactory reports of retiring officers. President Lombard, in his address, gave a retrospective view of the year's work, and showed what the board had accomplished in matters of public interest. The work of the board in assisting the Drainage Board at Springfield in the agitation of the question of the Torrens system of land transfers, in organizing with other clubs and associations—the City Improvement Association, in the settlement of the lake front question, in securing an amendment to the alien land law, and the action in regard to limiting the height of buildings was reviewed in detail, and it was clearly shown that the board had just closed a year of exceptional activity and usefulness. The board at the beginning of the year just closed had 146 agent and twenty-three associate members. At present it has 154 agent and twenty-nine associate members.

The week has been marked by an incident which will be of interest to all who take sides with the question of limiting the height of buildings. The Underwriters' Association has retreated from its high ground in regard to a valuation of the Mallers building. The announcement some time ago of the association's action in deciding that high buildings should be rated at $3.15 per $100 was considered by conservative real estate and insurance men to be too radical to be effective; the prediction made by these parties was made good by the action of the association last week in determining a rate of $1.35. Some alterations in the building were required and have been agreed to by the owner of the building as an element of safety to all parties interested.

TO PROTECT LEGITIMATE SUBDIVIDERS.

SUBDIVISIONS FOR 1890.

The table of subdivisions for 1891 published in last week's issue of the JOURNAL elicited a great deal of criticism. The majority of all the real estate agents doing business in Chicago consider it a "good thing," and only a few regard it in any other light. Its benefits are understood and appreciated by all reputable dealers as far as heard from. Not a word was uttered on the subject until this paper took the matter up and published a complete list of all legitimate subdivisions. Now after the Chicago Tribune, Inter Ocean, Daily Globe, Chicago Daily Press and the Daily Real Estate Reporter quoted portions of the REAL ESTATE JOURNAL'S article (two of them quoted the entire article) giving full credit, the eyes of the entire real estate world are turned upon it. Nor is this all. The Evening Journal and every other sheet published in the city and vicinity are keeping up a running fire on the subject of Real Estate Frauds, Fraudulent Subdivisions, etc. After mature consideration every honest dealer regards it as beneficial to all legitimate dealers and of more than ordinary interest to lot buyers. Hundreds of letters have already been received, many of them containing orders with checks and post office orders for the JOURNAL. Suffice it to say "it was a great hit." The Evening Journal which was the last to fall in line, contained the following on Friday of this week:

"The filing of a plat assures the purchasers that at least the land is as described. It is easy for an imaginative dealer, if criminally inclined, and with dupes as his purchasers, to make a plat of property not on the map and to sell the same. I do not know that such practices are being indulged in other than what rumor would indicate. A number of such cases have occurred during previous years. Even in a case where the land is all right and the intentions of the dealer the very best, unless the plat is filed the purchaser is injured, because he is not secured in his purchase."

At the next meeting of the Chicago Realty Board this matter will be discussed, and in all probability an investigation will follow, in to the number of additions and plats, not properly filed. As the dealers engaged in this business have been careful to operate outside of Chicago, and as in ease of any fraud being proven, no arrests can follow unless on complaint of the parties victimized, it will be some time before the result of a searching inquiry will bear fruit. In the early history of Chicago a sensation was created by the discovery of great frauds in the sale of what was known as the "Boulevard Addition," located in what is now the Calumet region. The lots were sold as being 25x125, and thousands of dollars worth went at a good figure. Some purchasers, on looking up his lot, found that it was twenty-five inches frontage by 125 inches deep. This was followed by an expose of the great fraud Since that a number of similar frauds have been attempted, but as the purchasers were not able to prosecute, no convictions followed. Numerous complaints were made recently about the new addition to Harvey, and several cases will in all probability be brought to the attention of the Grand Jury. The dealer is invariably a mushroom realtyman and the purchaser ignorent of the purchase of property. It is the general opinion that those frauds are outside the pale of the law. That, however, is a mistake, as will be seen by the following. Stair and Curtis' Annotated Statutes, in Chapter 109, has the following provisions:

Paragraph 1, Section 1. Be it enacted by the people of the State of Illinois represented in the General Assembly: Whenever the owners of lands wish to subdivide the same into two or more parts for the purpose of laying out a town, or of re-subdividing any lots or blocks therein, they shall cause the same to be surveyed and a plat thereof to be made by the County Surveyor, or some other competent surveyor, which plat shall particularly describe and set forth all the streets, alleys, common or public grounds, and all the in and out lots or fractional lots or blocks within, adjoining or adjacent to the land so divided, giving the names, width, courses and extent, etc.
* * * also giving their precise length and width.

Paragraph 2 says in regard to the certificate of surveyor, acknowledgment and record: The plat having been completed shall be certified by the surveyor and acknowledged by the owner of the land, or his attorney duly authorized, in the same manner as deeds of land are required to be acknowledged. The certificate of the surveyor and acknowledgment, together with the plat, shall be recorded in the Recorder's office of the county in which the land is situated, and such acknowledgment and record shall have like effect, and certified copies thereof and of such plat or any plat heretofore acknowledged and certified according to law, may be used in evidence to the same extent and with like effect as in case of deeds.

Paragraph 5 defines the penalty for any violation of the above law as follows: Whoever shall sell or offer for sale or lease for any time exceeding five years any lot or block in any town, city or village, or any re-sub division of any lot or block thereon, before all the requisitions of this act have been complied with, shall be fined $25 for each lot or block or part thereof so disposed or offered for sale or leased.

In view of the faet that many small dealers are, with no guilty intent, selling lots without complying with the above law, its importanee is apparent. In the case of the Trustees etc, vs. Walsh, in the Fifty-seventh Illinois, page 363, the Supreme Court has held that a recorded plat not complying with the statute has no statutory effect. Furthermore, in the ease of Dale vs. Metzmaker in the Sixty-third Illinois, page 38, the same court has ruled that a plat not signed or acknowledged is not binding on the maker as conveyance. This will set a good many purchasers of small lots to investigating the methods of their dealers.

CURRENT COMMENT.

"It is not nearly so difficult a matter nor so long an undertaking to examine a bank which is under headway," said National Bank Examiner Sturgis, "as an outsider would suppose. The First National Bank of Chicago has about $8,000,000 in cash. I usually count it between two o'clock on a Saturday afternoon and midnight. Counting the cash of a bank is really the easiest of an examiner's duties. There is one little package in the First National Bank of Chicago not much larger than an ordinary sized novel, that contains $1,050,0 0. That package has been undisturbed for one year, has had my seal on it I think, for longer than that. It is made up of $10,000 gold certificates. The reserve cash of all the banks, and it is by far the largest share of their cash, is very rarely touched, is made up of very large bills or of bags of coin, and may rest in one place for years. I have no doubt there are packages of currency in some of the banks which have not been touched for five years. It is never necessary to undo these packages. They are all under seal, and the bank whose seal is attached guarantees them. They are called clearing house packages, and are used to pay balances. On some of these packages, besides my own certificate, are the seals of half a dozen other institutions. Each seal contains a guarantee to a certain date. As that date approaches, if the package has not been opened, the guarantee of correctness of count is renewed by an official from the bank first issuing it. It is the same way in regard to bags of coin, seals being on all of them, sometimes treasury, sometimes a bank, sometimes a bank examiner's seal. In reality, the examination of a bank's assets is the easier half of the work.

"When I enter an institution which is usually in the afternoon just at the close of business, I first count the counter cash, then verify the certificates of deposits, the cashier's checks, then check off the checks of other banks which have been deposited during the day. All this must be done quickly so as not to interfere with the business of the institution. After that I verify the cash in reserve, the great bulk of the cash which never leaves the vault. Then come the bills receivable. This is the nice part of the examiner's duty in proving assets. He must know the value of the paper which the bank is holding. My experience as cashier in the Northwestern National Bank made me familiar with Chicago paper, but my territory is over the whole of Northern Illinois and Wisconsin. When I first took hold several years ago, I was weak on country paper. Since then I have become so familiar with the notes of the country and town banks, that I believe no one could fool me on the matter of assetts. But the difficulties of an examiner lie on the other side. It is in ascertaining the liabilities of the bank an examiner can be deceived. This was the trouble with the Park National bank here. The president certified checks and did not enter them on the books. My opinion is, though, that a bank examiner, in his place long enough to become thoroughly familiar with the value of the commercial paper in his district, cannot be deceived to any appreciable extent by dishonest bank officials; not deceived to such an extent that depositors will not get the face value of their claims. In order however to make the system what it should be, the Comptroller of the Currency should not be a political appointee; that is, he should not be removed except for cause. He should also be a high priced man; should have a salary of not less than $15,000. Then the bank examiners in the different districts should be retained. With the Comptroller of the Currency, long enough in his position to become familiar with banking methods, and with the national examiners long enough in theirs to become thoroughly familiar with the commercial paper all over their districts, dishonest or careless bank officials would have very little chance."

The rise and fall of deposits in savings banks is regarded usually, as a sound evidence of the material condition of the small property holding and wage earning classes. It is undoubtedly true that when such deposits increase, a large part of the population is enjoying a corresponding advance in prosperity; and that when savings bank deposits decline, the cause is traceable to lessening revenues or dearer prices for articles of daily consumption. The latter proposition is undoubtedly, but not invariably, true. The influences which effect the savings of the people are far more complex than those which effect deposits in commercial banks. They are intimately bound up with the interests of families; they are but incidentally effected by business enterprise or the state of credit. In France recently, the fact that savings bank deposits were increasing very largely, evoked unfavorable criticism from the authorities at the head of the department under which these institutions operate. It was thought to denote that the people were shrinking from business enterprise, and timidly shutting their eyes to unquestioned advantages for the use of their small funds.

Savings bank deposits in our own country have manifested a constant tendency to increase. In New England and the South, this swelling of saving funds is particularly noticeable. The South will probably display the larger increase in proportion to population and number of banks. This is not due solely to the fact that the southern people have begun to save money, but that new institutions are penetrating sections which never possessed a savings bank, and that the people recognize the advantages of a public depository for the funds which they formerly hid away in their own houses. So that in this case the increase of savings bank deposits is not an infallible sign of the prosperity of the masses, though the fact does, of course, bear upon the matter weightily."

"We have been brought to considering this question after an examination of the statistics of deposits in savings banks situated in the cities of New York and Brooklyn. The banking department of the state, found that deposits had decreased in the cities mentioned very considerably for the first six months of 1891, and it is estimated that the record for the last six months of that year will not show any material improvement. So serious a depression in savings bank deposits has not been experienced in any other section of the United States, and the circumstances which have led to the decline may be studied with profit Has there been a marked fall in wages? No such decline has been observed, although on the other hand, the percentage of the unemployed is believed to have been unusually high. But these conditions affected New England as well as New York, and the savings banks of none of the New England states show any tendency to decrease, judging from the statistics which we have been able to consult. Several of the savings banks in New York City which show a heavy decline in deposits, are situated in those portions of the city whose population has grown denser in the last few years by accessions from foreign immigration. The conditions of life there have been, therefore, contracted to narrower margins. Small tradesmen find their profits decreasing, owing to intenser competitive operations. Wages and earnings have been distributed over a large area to feed and clothe a larger population, and the sources of income have not yielded so profitably as heretofore. In Brooklyn however, these conditions do not prevail; yet the decline in deposits is almost as great. One of the most remarkable features of the growth of New York and Brooklyn, is the rapid population of the suburbs. Investments of outlying vacant land have been made on a larger scale than ever before. The purchasers represent every class of the population, and by far the larger number of such investors are in the ranks of the small rent payers—that class which is the very raison d'etre of the savings banks. Here lies the cause to which several of the best informed of our saving bank officials assign the decrease of their deposits. It is generally recognized that people who put their savings in the banks are of a prudent disposition; they possess certain strong qualities, and are not easily induced to take a questionable step in employing their funds.

This is shown by the fact that the enormous sums which were swallowed up in doubtful enterprises like the bond investment companies, had no appreciable effect upon savings bank deposits in the New England States, where such schemes were most numerous and most successful. We may therefore conclude that the decrease of savings bank funds in New York and Brooklyn were not due to illegitimate investments, but that the desire for a higher profit for his funds, or the wish for a home of his own, has led the depositor to select prudently the surest channel in which to launch the fruits of his thrift.

James Quinlan, assistant treasurer of the Greenwich Savings bank of New York City, says:

"Our bank, like the others has been running behind in deposits for the last year or year and a half. Our total deposits on June 1, 1890, was $21,500,000. On the first day of the present month they aggregated about $21,863,000. We have therefore, made a slight gain, but it has been due more to the accumulated interest remaining on deposits than to new deposits. We have stopped loaning money on bond and mortgage for any large amount, because we have, in consequence of the falling off in deposits, not the money to loan. Besides that, the bank always keeps about $1,000,000 where it is accessible at any time, and as the fund is now reduced to about $900,000 we are adding to it in preference to loaning the money.

"The cause for the decrease in deposit, I think, undoubtedly arises from the fact that our depositors have been investing in suburban property and in building and loan associations. The statement of Bank Superintendent Preston shows that about $14,500,000 has been deposited in these institutions during the year 1890, and over $4,500,000 of this amount came from the cities of New York and Brooklyn. The sum total invested by these concerns in bonds and mortgages during the same year was $20,000,000, showing the enormous extent to which they have grown. It is apparent that the $4,500,000 deposited in these institutions last year in New York and Brooklyn was money which would otherwise have been placed in savings banks. The reason people put their money in the building and loan associations, I think, is that the interest they pay on deposits is larger than that paid by the savings banks but the security is not the same. There are no better laws in the country than those governing the savings banks of this State, but the same laws do not apply to the building and loan associations."

It is thus seen that the decline of savings bank deposits may be falsely attributed to the decreasing prosperity of the depositors.

The necessity for regulating the height of buildings to a reasonable height becomes more urgent every day. Since it has become apparent that the Council will take the matter in hand there has been a rush to secure permits for all sorts of airy structures. The most absurd application on file is one made to Building Commissioner O'Neil to erect a 15-story building on a lot 170 deep and 18 feet wide. The worst feature of these peculiar applications is that unless the Council takes action the building commissioner can be forced to grant them. There will thus be no check placed upon the irresposible architects and individuals who have no regard for the safety or convenience of the public. In behalf of his department, Chief Swenie presented an argument favoring a low standard. He declares that great difficulty would be experienced in reaching a fire in the loftiest building; that the fire-proofing in the steel and iron structures will fall off in case of a severe blaze; that the heat would expand the steel or iron columns to the point of causing the buildings to collapse, and that matters would be still worse if streams of water were thrown on the buildings, for the cold water would cause a sudden contraction of the metal.

The invention of so-called hollow bricks has produced a means by which houses may, with proper precaution, be rendered inpregnable to the devouring element. Of course if a building is to be quite fireproof, it must be constructed of materials that are not only incombustible, but also perfect in respect of tenacity and durability when subjected to excessive heat. For this purpose we must suppose the outer wall of our model house to be of brick, and while iron will, of course, remain essential for girders columns and beams, these must be incased in two or three inches of burnt clay material, so that every particle of iron work shall be covered. This brick work is thoroughly fireproof, but to insure still greater security the bricks must contain cavities in their centers, which will not only increase their lightness, but by furnishing air ducts, act as insulators that will stay the progress of heat.

The partitions of this ideal building must rest on fireproof floors and be made of burnt clay blocks. Furring blocks of the same material must be substituted for the usual wooden furring along the inside of the exterior walls, and the roof must be of thick porous terra cotta bricks. The floors are of course, a very important feature of the structure; but if they are made of rolled iron beams, properly spaced and thoroughly protected by hollow burnt clay arches, I warrant they will be absolutely invulnerable. Wood work, of course, may catch fire; so may the curtains, carpets, chairs, tables and what not that fill the room, but it will be impossible for the flame to spread.

But there is still another and equally valuable virtue in hollow bricks. It is the immunity from cold and dampness which a building thus constructed enjoys. The air cells in the center of every brick absolutely prevent rain or moisture from permeating the walls.

It may be of interest to note that the Vanderbilts now own the entire corner, taking in two large frontages on Nassau and Beekman streets N. Y., southeast corner comprising Nos. 126 to 136 on the former street and Nos. 11 to 17 on the latter. The total dimensions of this property is 104.6 feet on Nassau street and 116 feet on Beekman street. The corner is covered by a number of stores, among them Peck & Snyder's with seven floors of offices above, the structure being known as the "Vanderbilt Building." This property fell to the present owners by inheritance from the late W. H. Vanderbilt. The site for the proposed structure was purchased by Messrs. C. and W. K. Vanderbilt from Eliza M. Sloane, their sister, for $200,000, on October 7th, 1890. It comprises a six-story stone front store, on a lot 49.4x99.9x51.6x101.10 It is said that the building projected may not be commenced till May, owing to the tenancy of the present occupants, which does not expire till then. Another statement is to the effect that it is intended to connect the present Vanderbilt building with the new structure, and it is not without the range of possibility that the entire property may eventually be torn down and a fifteen story building erected to cover the whole site.

It is not generally known that Cornelius and William K. Vanderbilt recently filed plans through Dr. David L. Haight, their agent, for a fifteen story building to be erected at Nos. 15 and 17 Beekman street. It is to have a front of brick, iron, stone and terra cotta, and is to be thoroughly fire proof. The size is to be 49.4x95, and the cost is estimated by the architects, Messrs. McKim, Mead & White, at about $100,000.

CHARITY USED AS A CLOAK.

EXPOSING THE HYPOCRITES AND THE FRAUDS.

The Institution known as The Chicago Relief and Aid Society, so long located on La Salle street near the tunnel will be investigated Under the garb of charity they have imposed upon the business men of Chicago as well as the poor. There are thousands of Chicago people who have been cognizant of this fact, but as a rule, what is everybody's business is nobody's business The world's charity for the Chicago fire sufferers was partly used by this institution in the same manner as the funds provided by the good people of Chicago. The sympathy of these hypocrits for suffering humanity is only skin deep They are in it for a livelihood and their abuse of the poor as well as the trust reposed in them, was concealed by their very victims. Beggars we know are not choosers, and they acted on this fact They well knew that a pauper could be easily brow-beaten. The JOURNAL knows of a family who discovered the rottenness of the institution in question nearly twelve years ago.

This class of imposters has done Chicago more harm than the anarchists ever did. They quietly cover up their true character with the cloak of charity, or dodge around behind the corners of a church. There seems to be a disposition just now to expose the frauds, not only the class referred to above but the real estate shark and the shyster who fleece their clients The real estate agent is not alone in the "dead beat" business, when all has been told. It will be seen that the land owner has in some cases fleeced the real estate agent and the newspapers To skin everybody seems to be the motto of a large number of appparently respectable people, and now seems to be a good time to expose the hypocrites and the frauds. The JOURNAL never had an enemy who was not either an imposter or a dead beat. It lost about $3,000 last year by this class of frauds, and the best part of the whole business is, that it is able to stand it. He laughs best who laughs last.

VALUE OF RAILWAY PROPERTY.

NUMBER OF PASSENGERS CARRIED AND VALUE OF FREIGHT TRANSPORTED.

The 156,404.06 miles of line, which is made the basis of statistics in this report, is represented by railway capital to the amount of $9,437,353,372, which is equivalent to $60,340 per mile of line. Assuming that the remaining mileage is capitalized at the same rate, the total capitalization of railway property in the United States would be $9,871,378,389. The increase in railway capital for the year ending June 30, 1890, over railway capital for the previous year, is $538,079,233. Of this amount, $250,000,000 at least is due to the increase in capitalization on lines already in existence. The proportion of railway capital represented by stocks is 46.73 per cent of the total railway capital. The amount of stock per mile of line is $28,193, and the amount of outstanding obligations, including bonds, equipment trust obligations, etc, is $29,250. There are marked differences in the capitalization of railway property in various sections of the country. In the Middle States, group II, for example, railway capital is outstanding to the amount of $117,902 per mile of line. In California, Oregon, Washington and other states and territories constituting group X, railway capital is outstanding to the amount of $87,104. The roads which converge in Chicago, lying east of the Missouri river, that is, group VI, are capitalized at $47,645 per mile of line, which fairly represents the capitalization in the other sections of the country, exclusive of the Middle States and the Pacific Slope.

The capitalization of railway property is largely in excess of its market value. The interest on railway bonds and the final net earnings available for dividends, may be accepted as the amounts accruing to the owners of railways on their investment. The amount paid in interest was $229,614,470; the final net earnings were $101,758,587. If the sum of these amounts be capitalized at 5 per cent. it shows that the value of railway property, considered as an investment, estimated on the operations of railways for the year ending June 30, 1890, was $6,627,461,140, which is equivalent to $42,374 per mile of line.

PUBLIC SERVICE OF RAILWAYS.

The number of passengers carried by the railways of the United States during the year was 492,430,865. The number of passenger miles, that is to say, the aggregate number of miles traveled by all passengers, was 11,817,875,617. This shows an average journey of 24.06 miles per passenger. Passenger train mileage for the same period was 285,575,801, showing the average number of passengers carried in a train to be 41.

The number of tons of freight carried by the railways of the United States during the year covered by the report was 636,541,617; the number of tons carried one mile was 76,207,047,298. This shows the average haul per ton to have been 119.72 miles. Freight train mileage was 435,170 812, showing the average number of tons per train to have been 175.12.

The number of passengers carried one mile per mile of line for the railways of the entire country was 75,751. The number of tons of freight carried one mile per mile of line, was 487,245. These figures measure the density of traffic. If corresponding figures be given the various groups into which the territory of the country is divided, it shows that the number of passengers carried one mile per mile of line in the New England states, group I, was 233,530, and in the Middle states, group II, 183,121. This shows the great density of passenger traffic in the districts named. The number of tons of freight carried one mile per mile of line in the middle states, was 1,348,107, and in Indiana, Ohio, and the southern peninsula of Michigan, group III, it was 793,763; In the Gulf states, group 5, it was 304,936; and on the Pacific Slope, group X, it was 191,806. These figures show how diverse are the conditions, so far as density of traffic is concerned, under which the railways in the various sections are operated.

The revenue per passenger per mile of line for all the railways in the United States was 2.167 cents; the average cost of carrying one passenger one mile was 1.917 cents. The revenue for carrying a ton of freight one mile was 941 cents; the cost of carrying a ton of freight one mile was .604 cent. The revenue from a passenger train run one mile on all the railways in the United states, was $1.08.041; the cost of running a passenger train one mile was 80.984 cents. The revenue from a freight train running one mile was $1 65.434; the average cost of running a freight train one mile was $1.05.711. These figures show the margin from which railways must secure their profits in the business of transporting passengers and freight. The revenue per ton per mile and per passenger per mile differ greatly in the various sections of the country. The lowest receipt per ton per mile, are in the states of Indiana, Michigan and Ohio, group III, bein .695 cent. The highest rate of revenue is found on the Pacific slope, group X, it being 1.651 cents. The lowest receipts for carrying a passenger one mile are found in the New England states, group I, being 1 912 cents. The highest receipt for carrying a passenger one mile are found in Louisiana, Texas and New Mexico, group IX, being 2.583 cents. These figures represent the average of charges and not the rates on any particular commodity or for any particular trip.

AGENTS' BUDGET.

Recent sales, however small, not yet recorded, will be reported in this column. All matter must apply to the real estate business and real estate men.

A. J. Montague reports the sale of 50 feet on Wharton avenue, between 65th and 66th street, for $3,250 for Ed Wells. He also bought 53 feet corner of Hamlin avenue and 59th street for $1,100.

The two classes of real estate now most in demand are manufacturing sites and residence property.

A careful study of the lists of subdivisions for 1891 as published in last weeks issue of the JOURNAL will enable the reader to determine in a great measure the trend of the market and the direction of the greatest real estate activity.

Mr. Edwin F. Gitchell of the well and favorably known firm of Edwin F. Gitchell & Co., formerly located at 410 Tacoma Bldg., has removed to suite 209 and 210 Home Insurance Building.

Mr. Bruce B. Barney for many years the business partner of Mr. Gitchell in the above named firm is located at Room 5, Borden Block, corner Randolph and Dearborn streets.

The plan adopted by the REAL ESTATE & BUILDING JOURNAL in publishing in tabular form every thing of importance in the real estate, building and financial departments is attracting world wide attention. Its tables of subdivisions showing the number of lots and blocks placed on the market during the year 1891 were favorably noticed and commented upon by all of Chicago's leading newspapers and by a score or more valuable exchanges from Western cities. Many of them think the JOURNAL put it too mildly by leaving out adjacent territory and unrecorded subdivisions.

During the week a report was current that the property at 80 and 82 State street known as the Kranz property was about to be leased for ninety-nine years and a new building erected in the place of the present structure. This report was denied by Mr. Kranz to a JOURNAL reporter, who said that the property was not in the market and that he had received no recent offers for the sale or lease of the property in question. In this connection it may be well to state that there are several deals pending for the sale or lease of State street property and that the next two weeks will probably witness important developments on that thoroughfare.

Messrs. George and Wanner have sold lots in their Hyde Park subdivision at Eighty-seventh street for a consideration of $6,000. The firm also reports an increased inquiry for property around South Chicago and predicts that the present year will witness unusual activity in the southern end of Hyde Park.

Mead & Co., who have charge of the Chicago Tile & Trust Co's Building report that many offices have already been rented and that there is no doubt that the building will be ready for occupancy by May 1. Several large corporations have already secured or are negotiating for quarters in the building. Among them is the Berkshire Life Insurance Company who will occupy a large suite of rooms.

The location of the Des Moines Cotton Mill Company at Hammond, previously reported by the JOURNAL, is an assured fact. The representatives of the company are now in the city and some of them leave tomorrow for the East to purchase the necessary machinery for the plant which will be located on the Towle tract, which was sold last summer. Several other manufacturing concerns of prominence will be located on the same tract.

A tract of 151 acres at the south end of the town of Geneva has been purchased by the Chicago Parlor Frame Co. They will erect a large factory at once. The land is in the corporate limits of the town of Geneva, and is near Fox River. The company will erect a large factory, 320 by 70 feet, which will be constructed of brick and stone and will be two stories high. Employment will be given to 250 men. The factory is to be in operation by May 1. The sale was made by the Geneva Land, Light and Improvement Company, an association of Geneva business men formed for the purpose of promoting the interests of their town. This company is also about to establish an electric light plant to furnish power and light to the various factories of the town, as well as to the residence districts. Negotiations are also under way for the location of a stove factory and several other important industries.

Another company has been organized with a capital of $200,000 to erect a large hotel in the vicinity of Stony Island avenue and Sixty-seventh street, in the World's Fair district. The building is designed to contain 306 rooms, and will be arranged so that it can be converted into flats of six and seven rooms each when the fair is over. Plans are being prepared and the lease for the ground is practically closed. The building to be erected will be three stories high and will have a frontage of about three hundred feet. It will cost $180 000. It is the intention of the projectors of this enterprise to begin building operations at once, so as to have the structure completed by the first of May. As soon as finished it will be thrown open to the employes connected with the World's Fair, who will occupy it till March 1, 1893, when it will be thoroughly renovated and prepared for the World's Fair guests. A prominent transportation bureau has already engaged 150 rooms for the World's Fair season at a rental of $76,000, and a well known caterer will conduct the cafe to be located in the basement.

The South Side Rapid Transit Company has purchased of Harvey Green 100 by 125 feet on Thirty-seventh court, between State street and Wabash avenue, for $46,000. The land is improved with a three story brick block. By this purchase the "L" road company removes a serious stumbling block between itself and this state, having experienced considerable difficulty in securing a right of way through this property.

Doty Bros. & Co., and Doty Bros. & Gordon, with offices at 574 West Madison and 155 Washington streets, came to the front this week with a report of the following sales made by them: The premises sitituated at 475-477 West Madison street, for D. A. Titcomb to I. Wolf. Poor improvements. lot 41x125 feet, price $20,500. The premises situated at 338 West Madison street for John C. Kueale to Joseph Keene. Poor improvements. Lot 24x120 feet, price $18,000. The premises situated at 346 West Madison street, for Philip T. Hoyne to John C. Kueale. Poor improvements, lot, 24x120 feet, price $16,000. The premises situated at 340, West Madison street, for Horace H. Stoddard to Joseph Keene. Frame improvements, lot 24x120 feet, price $17,000. The premises situated at 2124 Michigan avenue for F. S. Osborn to C. C. Whiteacre. Frame improvements, lot 49¾x119 feet, price $43,000.

C. O. Woodruff & Co have closed contracts for the following in Riverside : Lot 87, block 12, 3rd division; Chas. J. Canda to Alice D. Hoppin, $10,000. Lot 856 block 11 3rd division; Edw. A. Driven to Robt. Summerville, $10,000.

WORLD'S FAIR RESOURCES.

In view of the showing made by the Department of publicity, a statement of the Exposition's resources will be found interesting:

RESOURCES.

Stock subscriptions	$ 5,721,230
City of Chicago bonds	5,000,000
Prospective gate receipts	10,000,000
Concessions and privileges	1,500,000
Salvage	1,500,000
Interest on deposits	33,452
Total	$23,754,682

To the resources will be added future interest on bank deposits and future subscriptions to stock. New subscriptions are coming in daily, and the amount which will thus be realized is certain to be large, though how much it will be can now only be surmised. An increase of $200 000 from these sources is a safe estimate. On the other hand, some deduction must be made for delinquency in the payment of subscriptions to stock. Thus far, 60 per cent of the subscribed amounts has been called for, and $3,433,800, or more than 60 per cent has been actually paid in, quite a number of subscribers having voluntarily paid up in full without waiting for the successive calls. The subscribers number about 30,000. Among subscribers, there have been nearly 500 deaths, and this, together with impoverishment, etc., has caused thus far a delinquency in collections of between 7 and 8 per cent of the amount due. This is less than was anticipated. Making a very liberal allowance for delinquencies, the net resources, as estimated, stand, in round numbers, at $23,350,000, or about $4,825,000 in excess of the total estimated necessary expenditure.

PLANS JUST REPORTED FOR NEW STRUCTURES.

Architects Faber and Fagels have completed drawings for a residence to be erected on Fulton street near Garfield Park, for Mr. W. H. Diamond, The house, which is designed in the Romanesque style of architecture, will have a frontage of 25 feet and a depth of 65 feet and have two stories and basement. The front will be of rock faced buff Bedford stone with bays of same, and mansard slate roof, At the corner will rise a circular tower with projections, ending in fancy terminals. Plate, stained and ornamental glass, electric bells and modern sanitary improvements. The interior will be handsomely finished in cherry and oak. The approach will be by a flight of stone steps, leading to a recessed and tile paved vestibule. The house will be heated by steam throughout. Cost $10.000. Also stables at 3656 Lake avenue for Mr. John T. Shayne, 23x45 feet, two story erection. The exterior will be of pressed brick with cut stone trimmings and gravel roof. The front will be of St Louis pressed brick with cut stone trimmings, galvanized iron cornice and gravel roof. The interior will be partly finished in hardwood, and be furnished with the modern improvements. Plate and ornamental glass, electric bells, sanitary plumbing, etc. The house will be heated by furnace. Cost $6,500.

Architects Jaffray & Ohrenstein have completed designs for a pair of detached flat buildings to be erected at Ravenswood for Mr. John Taggart. The houses will each have a ground area of 45x67 feet, and consist of three stories and basement. The basement will be of brown Presque Isle stone, the superstructure of Indiana pressed brick with guaged arches of selected brick, copper cornices and bays with tower projections and gravel roof. The approach will be by a broad flight of stone steps leading to a tile recessed entrance under a segmental arch of extra wide span. On either side of entrance will be a tower of octagonal bays. Plate and ornamental glass, and all modern improvements. Each flat will be heated by its own special furnace. Cost, the pair, $25,000. Also alterations to the premises known as "The Vestibule" located at 85 South Clark street. New iron staircase will be placed in the basement, and entirely new system of plumbing provided. The front will at the same time be improved with ornamental iron rail, etc.

Architect W. D. Cowles has completed designs for spacious factory premises to go up on West Harrison street, for Mr. A. E. Kent. The building will have a ground area of 48x100 feet and be six stories in height. The front will be of pressed brick and stone dressings, galvanized iron cornice and composition roof. Iron columns and girders, freight elevator, etc. Cost $35,000. Also store and flat building to be put up on Seventy-sixth street near Cottage Grove avenue, for Mr. Marks Nathan, 50x66 feet, three story and basement erection. The front will be of St. Louis pressed brick with Bedford stone dressings, galvanized iron cornice and gravel roof. The interior will be finished in hardwood. The store will be fitted with a modern front, with iron columns and bressummers. Plate and ornamental glass, etc. Cost $12,500. Also block of stores and flats to be erected on South Chicago avenue, near Cottage Grove avenue, for Mr. E. Murray. Size 60x56 feet, four story with basement. The front will be of St. Louis pressed brick with Bedford stone dressings. Plate, ornamental and stained glass, electric bells, sanitary arrangements, etc. On the first floor, there will be three stores with modern fronts, etc. The interiors will be partly finished in hardwood. Cost $15,000, the block.

Architects Blitz and Marshall have completed arrangements for a block of flats to be erected at the corner of Eighteenth and Rockwell streets for Mr. J. Vide, 62x40 feet, two story and basement. The fronts will be of pressed brick with cut Bedford stone trimmings, galvanized iron cornice and bays and gravel roofs. The interiors will be conveniently arranged and partly finished in hardwood. Cost $20,000. Also for spacious apartment building on Washington boulevard, near Wood street, for Mr Jas. Wisshack, 75x80 feet, five stories with basement. The first story will be of Georgia marble, the superstructue being of seleeted brick with cut stone trimmings and terra cotta ornamentations. The hall will be laid with mosiacs and have a marble wainscoting. The interior will be handsomely finished in oak and replete with every comfort. Plate, ornamental and art glass, electric lights, elevator, etc. Steam heat. Cost $60,000.

The National Mining and Stock Exchange.

There never was a time when any industry was in a more prosperous condition than the Mining interests are at this time, with all the modern improvements and facilities for working mines, transportation and the treating of Ores.

The costs have been reduced more than one-half and the net profits to stock-holders have more than doubled. The mines are full of practical, skilled miners,and the business way in which all branches of mining is now handled makes it as safe an investment as any other line of business, and in many cases it is much more profitable. According to government statistics—censusof 1890, it is fast becoming the leading producing industry of the country. The various branches of the Mining industry rank as follows in their order, viz.: coal 1st, iron 2d silver 3d, gold 4th. Lime, brick and tile petroleum, copper, building stone, lead and zinc, coke,salt, natural gas, cement, gypsum, grind stone, borax, and there are many other minerals, amounting in all toabout $700,000,000 yearly produced in this country.

Chicago is fast becoming the HEAD CENTER of MINING INTERESTS. She has the largest Manufacturers of Mining Machinery in the World. Her Iron and Steel interests are second to none. Her Lead and White Lead interest are among the largest. As a Manufacturing Center, we can well be proud of her. Many of her citizens own valuable interests in Gold, Silver, Iron, Tin and other Mines, also Stone, Marble and Lithograpic Quarries. The Brick, Tile and other products of clay are numerous. There are millions of profits paid yearly to holders of stock. At the "World's Fair" there will be the grandest display that the Mineral Kingdom can furnish, and a Mining boom is immediately before us.

THE NATIONAL MINING AND STOCK EXCHANGE is incorporated under the laws of Illinois, has a Capital Stock of $100,000, divided into shares of $10 each. EIGHTY per cent. of the Capital Stock has been placed in the Treasury to be sold for the benefit and uses of the Company. This Company now offers a limited number of shares of its Treasury Stock at $3.50 per share. Believing you will fully appreciate the necessity of such an organization and the very profitable returns one would receive as a Stockholder, your aid is solicited and would be appreciated. In joining in this enterprise you help to build up a medium that can help other industries, while enriching yourselves. This is an opportunity to get into a growing money making business. This Company is to help develop mineral property, to deal in the products of the same and transact such business as appertains thereto.

It has a FREE DAILY CALL for the PURCHASE and SALE of all kinds of MISCELLANEOUS STOCKS, MANUFACTURER'S, BRICK, STONE and MINING STOCKS; also MINES and other property.

Information regarding Stocks offered for sale can be found at these Headquarters.

The profits will be paid to stockholders, at stated periods. A purchase of Stock in this Company can not fail to be a very profitable investment and may prove a rich Bonanza to you and the stock you buy can be sold again for cash. This stock is non-assessable and no further demands can be made upon you. This Company is owner of a valuable mining property (U. S. patent title,) in Park County, Colorado. The Directors and Stockholders are well-known business men as follows:

Western Springs

The Queen Suburb of Chicago

26 MINUTES FROM UNION DEPOT!

ON THE CHICAGO, BURLINGTON & QUINCY R. R.

56 TRAINS DAILY.

WATER, from the CELEBRATED MINERAL SPRINGS will be conveyed to all portions of the village.

A system of Drainage has also been adopted by the Village Board of Trustees, both water and sewer systems have been developed by Engineer Benezette Williams, and will be completed as speedily as possible.

These improvments make this suburb in all particulars, the most desirable about Chicago, as a place for Homes with schools and churches.

The train service is complete.

Rapid transit is a fact.

This location is 96 feet above level of Lake Michigan. The ground high and rolling. The streets are shaded by trees of more than 20 years growth, In fact the entire village is a beautiful Park. Lots can now be secured at prices that insures purchasers large returns for their money in the Near Future. All desiring Homes for their families, should look this property over before purchasing elsewhere.

Call and go out with us any day, and we promise to surprise you with the advantages and beauty of this place.

C. C. COLLINS,

Rooms 60-61, 175 Dearborn Street.

BLUE ISLAND RIDGE

REAL ESTATE.

As the time approaches for the completion of the new suburban line of the Chicago Central R. R. to Blue Island, which will afford greatly increased facilities and Rapid Transit between Chicago and Blue Island, along the most desirable locations on Blue Island Ridge, Home Seekers are looking for the most advantageous place in which to invest their savings and secure lots for their future homes; also for investments that promise large returns in the near future. To all such, I offer choice lots, on easy terms, within one, two or three blocks from the 123d St. Station of the Chicago Central R. R. at Blue Island on the Ridge.

C. C. COLLINS, 175 DEARBORN ST.

The Character of Improvements Before Making Purchases.

For Instance:

Modern Houses costing from $5,000 to $25,000 enhance the value of surrounding property

Churches and Schools raise the standard of a neighborhood.

The finer the structures the higher the standard.

TIMELY POINTERS AS TO PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS,

Such as ordiances for Street Car Extensions, Side Walks, Water Mains, Sewers, Engine Houses, Lamp Posts, Paving, Grading, indicate progress; in fact anything that increases the comforts and convenience of the people, increases the value of property for the distance of a mile in every direction.

WORKINGMEN who Have Families should keep close watch of New Manufactories and New School Houses and try to get in on the ground floor by buying a lot or Home early. Many of our Real Estate Agents will sell a lot cheap and lend the money to build with

Great Winter Competition of The Ladies Home Magazine.

QUESTIONS—Where does the following words first appear in the Old Testament, "KNOWLEDGE" "WIFE" and "DOVE"? Where does the following words first appear in the New Testament: "JUDEA," "FAME," and "KING"?

WEEKLY PRIZES—Every week throughout this great competition, prizes will be distributed as follows: The first correct answer received (the postmarked date on each letter to be taken as the date received) at the office of THE LADIES HOME MAGAZINE (each and every week during 1892,) will get $2 00; the second correct answer $1 00; the third $5; fourth, a beautiful silver service; fifth, five o'clock silver service, and the next 50 correct answers will get prizes ranging from $25 down to $2. Every fifth correct answer irrespective of whether a prize winner or not, will get a special prize. Competitors residing in the southern states, as well as other distant points, have an equal chance with those nearer home, as the post mark will be our authority in every case.

RULES—Each list of answers must be accompanied by $1 to pay for six months subscription to one of the best HOME MAGAZINES in America.

REFERENCES—"THE LADIES HOME MAGAZINE is well able to carry out its promises"—Peterborough (Canada) Times, "A splendid paper, and financially strong"—Hasting (Canada) Star. "Every prize winner will be sure to receive just what he is entitled to."—Norwood (Canada) Register, Money should be sent by post office order or registered letter. Address, THE LADIES HOME MAGAZINE, Peterborough, Canada.

Next 500 prizes consists of Heavy Plated Silver Kettles, Butter Dishes, Fruit Baskets, Biscuit Jars, Sugar Shells, Butter Knives, etc etc, all fully warranted, making a total of 689 splendid rewards, the value of which will aggregate $3,500.

This grand Literary Competition is open to everybody everywhere. The following are the conditions:

1. The words must be constructed only from letters in the words, "The Illustrated Agriculturist" and must be only such as are found in Webster's Unabridged Dictionary, In the body of the book, none of the supplement to be used.

2. The words must be written in rotation and numbered 1, 2, 3 and so on, for facilitating in deciding the winners.

3. Letters cannot be used oftener than they appear in the words "The Illustrated Agriculturist" for instance; the word "egg" cannot be used as there is but one "g" in the three words.

4. The list containing the largest number of words will be awarded first prize, and so on in order of merit. Each list as it is received will be numbered, and if two or more tie, the first received will be awarded first prize, and so on, therefore the benefit of sending in early will readily be seen.

5. Each list must be accompanied by $1 for six months subscription to THE AGRICULTURIST.

The following gentlemen have kindly consented to act as judges; J. G. MACDONALD, City Clerk, peterborough, Canada, and COMMODORE CALCUTT, Peterborough.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

ANALYSIS OF BANK CLEARINGS.

The week has been marked by some tremors in the speculative barometer, owing to something in the nature of a war scare with respect to Chile. Prices, as reflected by Wall street, broke sharply, on the free circulation of war rumors but have since recovered, the general feeling being that there was to be no appeal to the arbitrament of the sword. Concurrently with the break on Wall street, there was a lively upturn in wheat on the Chicago Board of Trade. In the last case, there were some contributory circumstances to assist the bulls. A large short line was known to to be out, and this is always a factor to be considered in a market which is specially sensitive to speculative considerations. At this writing, Europe has so far declined to be stirred by the Chilean scare with the result that prices are substantially back to their old places.

Until this awkward affair with the South American republic is over, operators—whether bulling stocks at New York, or bearing grain at Chicago—should keep close to shore. The latter, in particular, is a dangerous game. Sentiment, if not facts, seems now to favor the purchasing of wheat.

The business of the country, though not displaying any fresh developments, is distinctly healthy. No new ventures are being launched, and the everyday trade is being run on conservative lines. The bank clearings, as published in this day's issue, are distinctly gratifying, and the reader should refer to our commentary if he would learn more as to the real significance of these returns.

Money continues to pile up, and is easy. The banks at Chicago continue to ask 6 per cent, but it is now well understood that money can be had on easier terms. Deposits continue to show a steady increase, and these funds should be out earning interest. Unfortunately for the banks, manufacturers and wholesalers are not just now in need of accommodation. The exports of the country, though indicating some tendency to shrink, are phenomenally heavy. Our increase of exports is, however, deprived of some of its significance owing to the fact that the gain is, in the main, due to the large shipment of grain from this side. During the past six months, the United States have exported about 136,000,000 bushels of wheat; this is considerably more than the average for years. In the nature of things, this is an exceptional movement and cannot be soon repeated. Though there has been an increase of 48,000,000 pounds in cotton, the value shows a decline owing to the low prices prevailing.

Railway stocks have been adversely affected by reports as to a misunderstanding in the Western Traffic Association, which it is feared may result in the disruption of the combination. Jay Gould complains that there has been discriminations made by some of the lines to the detriment of the properties with which he is more particularly connected. The trouble seems to be in a fair way of settlement, though where Mr. Gould is concerned it is useless to attempt any forecast.

The movement of gold to this side of the Atlantic is of small account. Sterling exchange does not favor importations of the yellow metal. It is said the Britishers are again showing some desire to invest their surplus funds in American industrials. The JOURNAL however cannot trace the statement to any responsible source, and is not disposed to regard it with any confidence. That some new issues of stock and bonds have been placed in London is quite true. But what people with money at the other side are looking after are high-class investments, and not industrials "which have in them the element of trade and speculation." Thus, the Baltimore and Ohio road has placed $5,000,000 of its stock with a syndicate operating at London and New York.

Silver is extremely weak, somewhat unaccountably so. True, India is rather surfeited with the white metal, but the silverites have been having a recent inning at Washington. Meanwhile, the stock of silver in sight is but 3,182,000 ounces. But then, there are endless more ounces in the mines, and this is perhaps against the price.

According to the last weekly statement issued, bullion at the Bank of England has increased £615,000 ($2,976,000); and the proportion of reserve to liability, which last week stood at 37.52 per cent, is now 39.97 per cent. The rate of interest was reduced by the directors of the Bank of England to 3 per cent. This reduction induces the prevailing ease.

The bank clearings at Chicago for the week ending Thursday, Jan. 21, were as follows:

Friday	$14,450,230
Saturday	15,574,885
Monday	19,318,170
Tuesday	14,057,000
Wednesday	14,730,000
Thursday	14,295,464
Total	$ 92,425,749

*Preceding week's returns. †Not included in totals

Last November, when the bank clearings were shrinking and making an exceedingly poor showing, week after week, the JOURNAL raised a hopeful note and gave as its opinion that the indications were that the year 1891 would not expire without yielding substantial promise of a better condition of affairs. Events have justified its forecast, to the letter. Since then, there has been a gradual, recuperative process going on, until the decline has been finally disposed of, followed by an increase of over 12 per cent.

The returns before us are eloquent evidence of the country's prosperity. The total bank clearings for the United States were $1,411,184,000 as compared with $1,198,210,000 for the corresponding week of last year. A gain of $212,974,000, or over 17.8 per cent. Of this large aggregate, New York City must be credited with $178,074,000, or an improvement, upon its own figures of corresponding date, of 24.6 per cent. This leaves an aggregate gain for all outside points of $34,900,000, or nearly 7.3 per cent.

The returns before us are also instructive and suggestive, and will repay considerable attention.

The first nine cities all show gains, and these gains are all more or less significant. The greatest per centage of gain is at New York city. A moments reflection will enable us to draw this deduction with comparative confidence: The heavy gain is in large measure traceable to speculative activity. This indicates the existence of a widespread feeling of buoyancy and hopefulness throughout the country.

This condition is further improved by the evidence of solid progress made at many important centers of manufacture and trade, such as Boston, Chicago and St. Louis and Baltimore. Still this broad fact remains, roughly speaking, the gain traceable to the speculative activity is 24.6 per cent, to trade and manufacture and general business but 7.3 per cent.

The improved outlook for the great iron industry is reflected in measure by the returns from Philadelphia, Pittsburg and Cleveland, which cities show gains of 4.3 per cent, 17.9 per cent and 15.7 per cent respectively. This improvement has not, however, apparently extended to the iron districts of the south, though these may be expected in due course of time to share the benefit.

Baltimore continues its career of prosperity, recording, in the present instance, an advance over the corresponding week of last year of 18.5 per cent. It is the good fortune of Baltimore to cover, as Chicago does, a wide and varied field of demand.

At New Orleans, cotton is king. The returns from this important and typical city are significant. As compared with the corresponding week of last year, the bank clearings at New Orleans decline as much as 34.3 per cent. No comment is necessary. During the past month, the JOURNAL more than once pointed to cotton as the weak link in the nation's prosperity.

Concurrently with quite large gains at most of the leading cities, the returns indicate substantial declines as also not a few of the secondary points. This shows some lack of proportion in the nation's prosperity.

Canada advances $2,709,000, or equal to something over 26.3 per cent.

Continuing the analysis for the same weeks, but by groups of states, we have:

	WEEK ENDING JAN. 16, 1892.	WEEK ENDING JAN. 17, 1991.	PERCENT AGE.
New Engl'd States.	$ 122,307,457	$ 117,330,188	Inc 4.2
Middle "	998,630,831	815,241,146	" 22.5
Southern "	45.289,511	52,913.345	Dec 14.4
Western "	43,796,450	39,050,018	Inc 12.1
Northwestern "	129,879,363	105 848,267	" 22.6
Southwestern "	42.393.987	39,736,019	" 6.1
Far Western "	28,886,502	28,091,325	" 2.8
Totals,	$ 1,411,184,101	$ 1,098,210,308

We have here, gains in six and a loss in but one of the seven groups. The heaviest gains are in the Middle states and Northwestern states, respectively. That is to say, at New York, representing speculation; and at Chicago, representing grain and provisions. The gain in the Western states (which are young and should be looked to for vitality,) is less remarkable, and in the Fourteen states (which are still younger and presumably still more buoyant,) but moderate. This tapering process is instructive, especially when taken in conjunction with the small increase in the old manufacturing states of New England.

The Southern states show a substantial decline, equal to 14.4 per cent.

THE LOCAL STOCK MARKET.

Trading during the past week at the room on Dearborn street has been devoid of special features. Street cables have been dragging upon light trading, with some concessions. Industrials have been in no great request, though there has been a fair average business done in American Strawboard and Calunet and Chicago Canal and Dock. The most lively property of the entire list continues to be Streets Stable car line.

The reports of the various street railroad systems have not been favorably received by tradere, though why it is so would be difficult to say, seeing that the reports ehow increased earnings and a large addition to the number of passengers carried. The explanation is perhaps this: There is a feeling abroad that the systems are already operating to their full capacity, and that under existing arrangements cars are overloaded and passengers put to coneiderable personal inconvenience. This is taken as evidence of the necessity of introducing new traneit fecilities, euch as elevated roads. In the ordinary nature of things, the resulting competition would be against the profitable monopoly of the existing properties.

North side cable has fallen away a full point. Saturday last, this property (regular) sold at 178; for the account opening at 179 and selling off to 178½. The trade for the day was small, being restricted to 300 shares. The week opened weak, and business on Monday was limited to 110 shares, viz: 10 shares, regular, at 178; and 100 shares, for the account, at 178¼. This lack of animation naturally enough compelled concessions on the following day, when regular sold at 177, trading for the account being mostly at 178, with a closing deal on the second call at 177½. On Wednesday, the same prices practically ruled, though some demand for account lifted that decription of property to 177⅝, at the close.

Upward of 600 ehares, various, passed hands, on Thursday, trades displayed but a languid interest in North side cable, and 250 shares (regular) were marketed at 177. West side cable was, if anything, a trifle more firm and in greater request than the sister property, though by no means an object of enthusiasm. Sales limited to 400 shares, various. With the first day of the current week, West side cable suffered from the drooping tendency of the market, Regular, started at 133 and closed at 133½. For the account moved fractionally upward, from 133½ to 133⅝, the last price being made upon a single deal at the close. The remainder of the week experienced no marked variation from the prices just given. On Thursday, regular started out at 133, and closed at 133½; the close for the account was at 133½. On thie day, a fair volume of business was done, the total number of shares being nearly 2,000, including one 300 parcel and several hundreds. The trading was almost entirely for the account.

Little inquiry for City railway, which sold off from 308 to 310.

Diamond Match the subject for a single deal for 10 shares. These sold (Monday) at 136. Western Stone and Arc Light and Power entirely neglected. For the latter property, 84 was bid with offers at 85.

American Strawboard has advanced substantially, though the entire gain has not been maintained, and the volume of trading has not been sustained. The price of Strawboard has for the present been fixed at $40.00 per ton, and the idle mills of the combination will be allowed a rental for $5.00 per ton upon their capacity. This is quite a satisfactory arrangement upon paper, and the outside mills are said to have made terms which admit of the rate mentioned being retained. Last Saturday, American Strawboard sold up from 86 to 89, regular: on Thursday, it was back to 86½. Average daily sales, about 300 shares.

Packing and Provision, common stock firmly held at 50. Preferred stock steady at 47½. Brewing and Malting displays weakness. Common stock sold down, from 36 to 35, preferred stock 45½.

Bond market narrow with downward tendency. Gas Light and Coke 5s., which sold last Saturday as high as 86⅞, was off, Thursday, to 85½. Amount of business, little more than nominal.

Among the transactions of the week, the following may be referred to: Chicago Telephone, at 225; Traders' Insurance, at 157½; American Trust & Savings Bank, at 137, and Atlas National Bank, at 116.

During the week there has been added to the list, the stock of the New York Biscuit Company, which has an authorized capital of $10,000,000, of which amount $9,000,000 has been issued. On Thursday, at the first call, three parcels (150 shares in all) of this property were disposed of, the first two lots going at 73¾, and the closing deal being made at 73⅞. The Governing Committee of the Chicago Stock Exchange have also added to the list, $2,000,000 stock of the Chicago Auditorium Association.

BANK EXAMINATIONS.

The subject of Bank Examinations is attracting more attention as the work of the comptroller progresses in this direction. The bill now being prepared for Congress to consider and act upon, will provide for the appointment of not more than three supervising examiners, who shall receive an annual salary, and to empower the comptroller to appoint as many assistant examiners, as may in his judgment be necessary. Concerning bank examiners, Comptroller Lacey makes the following statement:

The great service performed through the agency of bank examiners, consiste largely in meeting dangerous and unlawful practices at the threehold. The number of cases of this kind which have been arrested by the prompt and timely action of bank examiners ie very great, although necessarily unknown to the general public, and hence unappreciated by those whose interests have been protected. It has become a habit on the part of the general public, whenever the failure of a national bank occurs, at once to challenge the integrity and skill of the examiner charged with its supervision, oblivious of the fact that his energy, his experience and hie devotion to duty, may have prevented the failure of a score of more or less embarrassed institutions, as to whose mismanagement they are of necessity entirely uninformed. The bank examiner as a rule, faithfully discharges his duty. Every disobedience of law and everything indicating impairment of capital, insolvency or criminality, are in most instances, faithfully reported to the comptroller. In every such case the comptroller applies the remedy named in the law. If the report indicates a minor disobedience of the law or of the rules of sound banking, caution or reproof is administered. If impairment of capital is indicated, he immediately issues a notification that it be made good by assessment upon the ehareholders. In case insolvency is shown to his satisfaction, a receiver is appointed.

"The relations existing between the comptroller and his examiners are of such a character that they must necessarily possess his entire confidence. Any information which might lead him to entertain a reasonable doubt as to the ekill or integrity of an examiner would make it his duty to suspend him immediately, even though the information might be of such a character as could not be substantiated by competent proof, or of such a confidential nature as would make it necessary for the comptroller to withhold the character of the charge from the examiner himeelf. These examiners have always been regarded as the confidential agents of the comptroller, and the various communicatione and reporte transmitted by them to him, have always been considered as confidential and privileged. Much is left to the discretion and intelligence of the examiner himself. No cast-iron rules, covering minute details can be issued to examiners ae a class, for the reason that what would be practicable, proper and necessary in the case of a emall bank located in some obscure hamlet, would not be applicable in the case of a large association in a central reserve city. As a rule, examiners find the greatest difficulty in so directing their efforts as to ascertain whether or not impairment or insolvency exists. They are directed to verify every credit and debt balance, pereonally to count the cash and to list and verify the loans and discounts and other aseets of the banking aesociation. This verification cannot be exhausted, for the reaeon that the compensation awarded examiners by law would not cover the time necessarily employed to thie end. Nor would national banks as a class, be willing to eurrender their books and suffer interference with their business for a sufficient length of time to permit the examiner to make a complete audit of their affaire.

"The examinations and reports based thereon have undergone a gradual process of evolution during more than quarter of a century that the national banking sye tem has been in existence. Under the exigencies of the eervice, the scope and details of examinations have undergone gradual transformation and enlargement, which make them more and more effective and valuable as the age of the eyetem and experience in the wiles of dishonest bank officials increase. The duties of the examiners are largely negative. That the visits of an examiner should be always welcome to those in charge of a bank, we do not expect. Thoee who are conscious of having discharged their dutiee with fidelity and ability, gladly welcome the inspection of an expert who can properly appreciate the results of their faithfulnese. Unfortunately, dereleotion of duty on the part of the directors is the chief cause of failure upon the part of corporations generally, and of national banks particularly. It is this inattention to duty upon the part of those chosen to represent the shareholders in the management of national banks, which has made the visits of the national bank examiners an absolute necessity. As banks under honest management are usually conducted in obedience to law, it is clear that the value of governmental supervision is determined by the success it may achieve in ascertaining facts hidden from view by bank managers, whose purpose is to keep from the knowledge of the comptroller, conditions which might involve impairment of capital, insolvency, or criminality."

THE REAL ESTATE MARKET.

Another week has passed without developing anything startling in the shape of important transactions, but it has furnished strong corroborative evidence to the effect that the general market of the year is to be more than satisfactory. The sales are being made to actual investors, and down-town transactions do not at present necessarily involve some problematical high building project. The leases which are being made are being taken by parties who will actually occupy the property so leased, or who have plans for improvements which will materially increase the income. One of the important transactions of the week was the sale of twenty-five feet, improved with a five story brick building at No. 203 Fifth avenue, for Caroline E. Haskell to a non-resident purchaser, for $60.000. After making an allowance of from $10,000 to $15,000 for the building, the land valuation determined by the sale was $1,800 a front foot. A ninety-nine year lease of fifty feet on Fourth avenue, south of Van Buren street, made by the Stearns estate to Marsh Bros., determines the valuation of $1,400 a front foot. The lessees in this instance will improve the present old building, and occupy it in their line of business.

Two transactions which are only important on account of the high valuation which they determine, and the tendency in building operations which they indicate, were completed early in the week. A ninety-nine year lease of the northeast corner of Thirty-first street and Indiana avenue, determines the capitalized valuation of $2,000 a foot on twenty-four feet of Indiana avenue frontage. John Spry purchased twenty-eight feet on the southwest corner of Wabash avenue and Forty-third street, for $464 a front foot. These valuations in each instance are much higher than have ever been reached before in these locations. Investors in Chicago property are beginning to realize a fact which is understood by New York operators, that much can be done with a small frontage, especially if it is located on a corner. Frontages in the business portion of New York have been purchased and improved with high buildings, which Chicago builders would consider far too small for economical improvement.

The question of the revaluation of two of the Peck properties, has again aroused discussion in regard to down-town values. It is interesting to note the wide differences of opinion on this question. Men with experience in the management of office buildings will by the most logical course of reasoning, argue that office building will not prove successful if built on land purchased or leased at the high valuations recently reached. On the other hand, conservative capitalists seem to be ready to make plans for buildings, and negotiatiate for purchases and leases even when the property is considered worth in the neighborhood of $100 a square foot. The brokers who argue that prices are almost too high for successful improvement, have an advantage in the fact that the buildings which are already up or which are well under way, have been built, not on land valued at the high figures lately determined, but at more moderate valuations of a year or two ago. The Woman's Temple, Unity building, Title and Trust building, Tacoma building, Home Insurance building, the Rookery and the buildings now in operation or in course of construction, are all on land which was secured on a basis of less than $50 a square foot. The building to be erected on land valued at nearly double this amount are all "proposed." The negotiations for a building on the Stewart-Bently property, on a valuation of $60 per square foot, went forward without much hindrance. Some difficulty however, is experienced in carrying on the negotiations for a building on the same property when the valuation is advanced 30 per cent. Just what success the projectors of the New Hartord building to be erected at the corner of Madison and Dearborn streets, on property valued at something like $130 a square foot, or of the prospective lessee of the Stewart-Clark property at 91 Dearborn street will meet with, is still to some extent a question to be determined by future developments.

The movement inaugurated by the Chicago Fire Underwriters Association, though not strong enough to entirely dictate the policy of down-town building, or to arrange the distribution of business on the leading streets, promises to result in two important changes in the existing state of affairs It is probable that new ordinances will be drafted in relation to the construction of buildings and protection from fire, securing more rigid building regulations and more thorough enforcement of the same. Frederick Baumann introduced a series of resolutions at the Architect's Association, which contemplates the reorganization of the present city building department, or the substitution of one having enlarged powers and a responsible executive head. A committee of five is asked for, to hear evidence and to determine on the proper ordinances, and to insist on the enactment of the same. One member is to be selected by the Council, one by the Fire Underwriter's Association, one from the Citizen's Association, and the fifth to be Superintendant of Buildings. One of the projectors of this movement, suggests that the city be divided into three districts. Over these districts are to be appointed a sufficient number of inspectors, who will be responsible to a chief inspector. This chief inspector is to be appointed by the Mayor with the approval of the associations above named. One of the probable effects of the agitation in favor of higher insurance rates, promises to be the removal of manufacturers to points outside of the city limits. The tendency of manufacturers to locate just outside the limits on the various belt lines is constantly growing. Manufacturers claim that the city ordinances, taxes and insurance rates are becoming so oppressive as to be almost prohibitive. The movement of manufacturers to Chicago and the districts surrounding the city still continues to be one of the promising features in the real estate situation. During the week, the Adams Manufacturing Company, doing business at present in three western cities, announced its intention of consolidating its business and locating at Harvey. The Wheelock Engine Company, with a capital stock of $1,000,000, has also fallen into line and will commence operations as soon as possible, in a Chicago plant.

Some idea of the general magnitude of the real estate business may be gathered from the report of the Title Guarantee & Trust Co, at the meeting held Jan. 20. The abstract business during the year has amounted to $333,000, against $274,000 the previous year. The business in guaranteeing titles, is represented by $135,000 for the year just ended, as compared with $89,000, for 1890. The company's net earnings amounted to 13 per cent on a capital stock of $1,600,000. The regular dividend of 7 per cent was paind, and the neat sum of $100,000 was added to the company's service.

SALE OF A STATE STREET CORNER.

The sale of the northwest corner of State and 75th streets was closed on Monday, the purchaser being Mr. Joseph Keene and the price $125 per foot, the total consideration being $16,617,50. The sale was effected for the owner by Mr. Minor H. Williamson, manager of the real estate department of the well known firm of Eggleston, Mallette & Brownell. It is the highest price yet paid for State street frontage south of 69th street and, with the 75th street cross town line, which is a well nigh assured fact, is regarded by competent judges as a fair one. It illustrates the steady advance of State street values.

Said a gentleman who was present when the sale was consummated: "the seller is making a mistake in parting with this corner. Everybody has faith in State street values and future. It is the great businegs street of Chicago and within a comparatively few years it will be built up solidly clear down into the Calumet Manufacturing district.

"There are men living who will see State street corners that can now be bought for considerably less than $100 per foot, selling at $1000 per foot and more. Nobody has any adequate conception of the wonderful growth and future Chicago will have.

Who, looking back over the past, can venture to say he is not right. There are plenty of "old residents" in Chicago who are not yet on the shady side of fifty who are metaphorically "kicking themselves" because they did not buy this or that or the other corner or lot when it was offered them not many years ago at a comparatively trifling price, and yet these same people have not the foresight to see that just such opportunities are before them today. It is simply a question of judgment and a little cash. The men who deliberate "to buy or not to buy" and then decide not, are the men who are still poor when they might have been rich. More fortunes have been made in Chicago by judicious investments in Chicago real estate than in any other way.

IMPORTANT ACRE SALE AT WESTERN SPRINGS.

An acre sale, which on account of its size and the parties purchasing is of special interest, was made last week. The Chicago & Western Real Estate, Limited, an English corporation, has purchased seventy-six acres at Western Springs, for $152,900. The sale was made for Howard Butcher of Philadelphia. The purchasing company will improve the property and place it on the market during the coming year. This is one of the first important acre sales made to London syndicates, and it indicates that capitalists abroad, as well as in all parts of the United States, are attracted by the prospects promised in Chicago real estate investments.

CHICAGO REAL ESTATE BOARD

NINTH ANNUAL BANQUET.

This has been a busy week for the members of the Banquet committee of the Chicago Real Estate Board. All the preliminaries, at least, have been arranged. The invitations have been sent out and tickets of admission given out and distributed by the members. The occasion has become an event which hundreds of Chicago's leading business men look forward to with pleasure and interest. The gentlemen composing the Banquet committee are as follows: Dunlap Smith, chairman; H. A. Knott and Walter H. Wilson. The reception committee consists of Josiah L. Lombard, William A. Merigold, W. L. Pierce, W. D. Kerfoot, Edwin F. Getchell, Ed. A. Cummings, Herbert V. Seymour, Edgar M. Snow, James L. Houghteling, Lyman Baird, Wm. A. Bond, Bryan Lathrop, Albert L. Coe, George M. Bogue, Thomas B. Bryan, F. A. Henshaw, Nelson Thomasson, F. R. Chandler, Willis G. Jackson, William Coffeen. Henry P. Isham, Eugene H. Fishburn, William R Kerr and Robert P. Walker.

The following is a copy of the invitation:

The Chicago Real Estate Board requests the honore of your presence at its Ninth Annual Banquet,
at
The Auditorium Hotel, on Tuesday evening, January twenty-sixth, eighteen hundred and ninety two,
at six o'clock.

The Banquet Committee requests the favor of early reply.

The arrangements for the banquet are practically completed. Henry L. Turner will be toastmaster and E. S. Dreyer will deliver the president's address. Among the speakers engaged are Luther Laflin Mills, who will speak on "Commerce in Its Relation to Progress and Philanthropy," and Benjamin Butterworth, whose subject is "The Permanent Effect of the World's Columbian Exposition on the Prosperity of Chicago." The other speakers are Rev. Frank Bristol, Judge Moran, Col. James A. McKenzie and others.

ANOTHER APARTMENT BUILDING TO COST $250,000.

A magnificent apartment building is to be erected on the northwest corner of Indiana avenue and Twenty-fourth street. The building will be six stories high and will have a frontage of 121 feet on Twenty-fourth street and 127 feet on Indiana avenue. It is to be known as the Ricardi. The ground is held under a 99-year lease by J. G. Cozzens and J. M. Stebbins, and the company which has been organized is headed by C. E. Simmons, the land commisioner of the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad. Most of the stock in the new company has already been subscribed and the success of the enterprise seems assured. The building will contain eighty-three apartments of five and six rooms each, and will be one of the largest apartment houses in the city. It will cost $259,000. The plans which have been prepared by H. B. Wheelock, show two very pleasing fronts of stone and pressed brick. The floors of the main hallway will be laid in mosaic and the wainscoting will be of marble. The building may be used as a hotel during the World's Fair season, as this can be done without effecting the interior arrangement to any perceptible extent. One of the advantages of this project is that the ground is held on a very low valuation. J. G. Cozzens pays a rental of only $3,600 a year, which is six per cent on a valuation of $60,000, or less than $500 per foot of Indiana avenue frontage. It was at first intended to erect a building costing only $75,000 on the ground, but that project was abandoned and the company that now has the matter in hand will erect the six-story building mentioned. Work on the structure is to begin early this Spring. —Evening Post.

DEATH OF A PIONEER REAL ESTATE MAN.

Peter Van Vlissingen, Sr., well known in real estate circles, died Wednesday evening at his residence in Roseland, after a brief illness. His advanced age, 67 years, rendered him incapable of withstanding the disease, which was capillary bronchitis. The funeral took place on Friday afternoon.

Mr. Van Vlissingen had been one of the prominent dealers in Chicago and suburban real estate for several years and built up a large business. He began operations on the South-side, and there his principal deals were made. He founded Roseland, just west of Pullman, and made that place his residence. Mr. Van Vlissingen's down town office was at 95 Washington street.

SUBDIVISIONS FOR 1890.

Deductions are now in order in the all absorbing question of subdivisions. It has been shown that the crop of lots in the year 1891, amounted to over 11,458 acres, equal to 111,000 lots. The list of subdivisions for 1890 published in this issue, shows that there were about 70,000 lots thrown on the market, making a total of 181,000 lots for the two years ending January 1, 1892. As stated in the issue of Jan. 9, these figures do not include unrecorded subdivisions, nor wild cat acre tracts that have been cut up into small lots and small acre tracts The large number of blanks shown in the list in this issue, is occasioned by the bungling condition of the plats, or the incompleteness of the reports. It will thus be seen that the year 1891, though universally complained of as being dull, was in respect to subdividing, very active, perhaps the most so since the great boom period which ended in 1873. It is believed that the timely publication of this list will be a benefit to legitimate subdividers and a protection to the lots already on the market. The two great forces engaged in developing unoccupied territory, and in stimulating the work of subdividing, are the railroads and the newspapers; the former through extensions of their lines and improved suburban service, and the latter by "boom" articles on the real estate market. All of the merits of the active portions of Cook county territory have been brought out and emphasized by the JOURNAL'S system of mapping and illustrating the various districts possessing merit. In the forthcoming atlas now being published by the JOURNAL, all of the fictitious railway and street car lines, together with all other false features, will be expunged. It is not right to anticipate the possible improvements to be made for the next 25 years, in selling lots to investors, much less to home seekers. Property should sell on its merits, and this will be brought about by the JOURNAL'S plan of showing all legitimate subdivisions in its forthcoming atlas. The index map is now being completed, and will be ready for publication next week.

The following is a list of the subdivisions recorded in the year 1890.

RE-ACTION IN ARCHITECTURE.

A reaction has lately taken place in favor of low ceilings. Not very long ago architects, sanitary engineers, and physicians were almost unanimous in favor of high ceilings for rooms in dwellings. The arguments in support of lofty ceilings were numerous, some of them based upon the superior healthfulness of such rooms, and others upon the superior architectural effects obtained. With the introduction of the cottage style of architecture, ceilings have gradually become lower, and, the fashion having been set, reasons, scientific and hygienic, have not been lacking in support of low-ceiled rooms. Low walls to rooms, it is said, are being advocated in England as really affording better ventilation throughout, in preventing the formation of upper strata of all but immovable foul air, and tending to prevent draught. This idea is very gladly taken up by some of the art journals, who rejoice that we have probably gone to the extreme in height of apartments, which has the disadvantage of dwarfing the furniture which is placed in them, which also fail to secure the most pleasing proportions to rooms not having any larger area. There is a cosiness in a low-ceiled room which in a high-ceiled room is sacrificed to emptiness. In discussing this point reference is often made to the time of Queen Elizabeth and the low wainscoted rooms that prevailed at that period. Low ceilings were the rule, and comfortable interiors rather than imposing exteriors were studied. Where elevators are not used there are fewer steps to climb.—Architectural Era.

FUTURE OF THE NORTH LAKE SHORE.

THREE CASH TRANSACTIONS INDICATE THE EXTENT AND NATURE OF THE DEMAND FOR THIS CLASS OF PROPERTY.

Three sales of important acre tracts along the North Shore which have been made in quick succession, have attracted more than ordinary attention to a rapidly developing real estate field. The twenty-five acre tract in South Highland Park, running from the Sheridan Road to the Lake Shore, just south of the property owned by the Ledgemere Club, was sold for Hugh T. Birch to Emmons Blaine and Cyrus H. McCormick for $56,000. Following this was the sale of thirty-two and three-fourth acres on the Lake Shore south of the Lake County line, for James B. Hobbs to Leslie E. Keeley, for $65,000, which has just gone to record. The last of this series of sales was made by Frank Hawkins and Rice & Creighton. It involves lots 1 and 2 of H. T. Birch's re-division of Highland Park, known as the Fargo tract. This tract including twenty acres, has just been purchased by C.W. Fullerton for $50,000. In the sale allowance is made for $10,000 worth of improvements, in the way of grading and drainage, made by Mr. Fargo.

All these sales are cash transactions and indicate a peculiar kind of development. North Shore property is subject, apparently, to none of the rules which govern ordinary real estate transactions. It is almost the only class of property which is absolutely limited. The term North Shore property, in its strict sense, refers especially to the property fronting on the Lake Shore. The great mass of property back from the shore line is being sub-divided into cheap lots, much the same as ordinary property on the South and West sides. The property immediately skirting the shore from Fort Sheridan south, is being sold to a different class of buyers than the ordinary run of property. It is sold in ir-regular acre-tracts, unlike properties South and West, on different terms and for different purposes. For these reasons, the demand for this line of property is therefore not wholly dependent on the condition of the market. The class of buyers who are purchasing along the North Shore are able financially to take care of their properties, and as they are buying largely for their own use, they are not deterred from making purchases by a dull market. During the past year, when much of the property to the South and Southwest, has been to all intents and purposes out of the market, there has been a growing demand for North Shore frontage ranging in size from lots large enough for ordinary building purposes up to tracts of the size described above.

It is generally considered that there are only two classes of property on the market which are limited in extent. Of manufacturing property, there is no limit. The entire Calumet basin and all the land adjoining the three belt lines running around the city, offer a field large enough to provide for a phenomenal exodus of manufacturers from the East to Chicago. The table of sub-divisions recently published by the REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL, showing that 110,000 lots were sub-divided and prepared for the market, is suitable evidence that there is abundance of cheap sub-division property. The second rate business property on such streets as South State street, Milwaukee avenue, Twelfth street, Blue Island avenue and similar streets, has already exceeded the demand in the abundance of its supply. Hundreds of miles of boulevards and park frontage furnish an almost unlimited amount of property, suitable for high class residence purposes. The two classes of property which may be considered as limited, are down-town business property and frontage on the North Shore. The tendency in Chicago has always been towards a concentration of business and the practical limits of the down-town district can scarcely be extended beyond the river on the north and west of Harrison street, on the south. Within this charmed circle, property can reach almost any price per front foot, without exciting much comment, while outside of it, advances have been slow and viewed critically by conservative real estate men. The natural appearance of the shore line certainly changes about the mouth of the Chicago river. The portion north is high and outlined by a bluff. The shore south is generally low and tends to swampy. Enthusiasts on the subject of North Side property have insisted for thirty years that the territory adjacent to the North Shore was destined to become the fashionable residence portion of Chicago. The realization of these predictions have been slow and somewhat discouraging, but the operations of the last three years have indicated that these enthusiasts were even more than justified in their opinion. The revival of interest along the North Shore dates from the beginning of work on the Sheridan Road and has become more intense as the work progressed. Now, as the last link of this improvement is being completed by the building of the road through the Hubbard tract, nearly the entire acre frontage has been taken care of.

While this connecting link in the north portion of the drive is being made an agreement has been reached between the park commissioners on one hand, and property owners along the lake shore, between Indiana street and Bellevue Place, which solves the question of building the most important part of the drive. This agreement, which was reached last Wednesday night, besides insuring one of the finest boulevard improvements ever made in any city in the world, will add something like $12,000,000 worth of property to the North Chicago assessment rolls. Negotiations have been under way for over six years and the greatest difficulty was experienced in bringing property owners to a proper sense of the advantages to be gained by the project. The question has been finally settled by mutual concessions, on the part of the property owners and the park commissioners. The Lake Shore Drive is to be extended from Bellevue Place east 1000 feet into the lake and from that point southeast to Indiana street at an average distance from the present shore line of 1000 feet. The property owners along the present shore line have agreed to pay all expenses of filling in the submerged land between the present lake shore and the line of this drive-way. In addition, they have given fifty feet along the east side of Pine street, between Oak and Pearson streets, to be used in the widening of Pine street to 116 feet. They also have agreed to pay $100 a running foot for the construction of the drive itself. In short, they have agreed to pay something like $2,000,000 in addition to the surrender of their riparian rights, and their rights in the strip of land 200 feet wide actually occupied by the drive. The consideration for this outlay is a handsome one. The property owners are given fee to all the submerged lands between the shore line at present, and the west line of the proposed drive. This land is estimated to be worth $12,000,000. The improvement in addition, will make almost as much land, which is now partially under water and in danger of being washed away, available for building purposes.

The boulevard itself has been planned by Captain W. L. Marshall and will be one of the finest in the world. A building line of twenty feet will be established along the line of property on the drive. The first twenty feet will be in a park, next will be a twelve foot sidewalk and next will be a lawn fifteen feet in width. A drive-way fifty feet in width will occupy the center of the boulevard. East of this will be a lawn fifteen feet in width, with a bridle path twenty feet in width separating it from another fifteen foot lawn. Outside of this will be a twenty foot sidewalk, with a fifty foot beach paved with granite down to the water's edge. The proper break-water protection will be built outside of this. It is estimated that the improvement will add 21,000 feet of frontage available for building purposes, besides two parks. The property east of the water works and the wedge-shaped block between the proposed drive and Oak street, are to be improved as part of the city park system. The entire improvement will be accepted, when completed, by the Lincoln Park commissioners, as part of the North Side park system. Contracts have already been let for the filling and it is thought the entire improvement will be completed by the spring of 1893.

The personnel of the purchasers of Shore frontage is interesting. Take the Shore line above the village line of Highland Park and Ravina, for example. 1000 feet of frontage running back to the Sheridan Road and including eleven acres was purchased by Messrs. Orr and Bartlett last year for $16,000. The frontage adjoining this on the north, is now owned by Messrs. Blaine and McCormick. The next frontage including eight acres is owned by the Ledgemere Club. The property adjoining this is the Fargo tract, just sold to Mr. Fullerton. Next to this is the improved property of J. McGregor Adams. Adjoining this is the John G. Shortall tract of fifty-one acres, which was purchased last summer by a syndicate headed by Frank Hawkins. Further north are the improvements of James H. Shields, Mrs. Chas. E. Culver and Messrs. Stockton and Gardner. Four and one-third acres adjoining the Stockton property on the north has just been sold to George R. Thorne by Rice & Creighton for $13,000. North of this is a four acre tract which is owned by Messrs. DeWolf, Whittacre and Thorne and which has been sold the last two years at the advancing prices of $4,000, $6,000 and $10,000.

Still north of this property are the homes of John A. Roche and Milton Lightner. The entire North Shore property is going into strong hands and much of it is being secured by what may be termed the rich young men of Chicago. The city is just reaching such a condition as to bring the select grades of residence property to the front. The second and third generations of rich families are looking for homes, or property suitable for homes and the difference of a few hundred dollars a foot is no drawback in making a purchase in case the property suits the fancy of the intending purchaser. There have been some peculiar phases in the history of Chicago residence property. Away back in the sixties when the best down town corner could be bought for $2000 to $2500 a front foot, a few nabobs of the city as they were then considered, made selections of the property on Michigan avenue, between Madison and Monroe streets, at $1000 a foot. While business property has gone up in an incredible degree, there is very little residence property, which on an income basis, can be considered to be worth a $1000 a foot. There is a piece of North side property on the market today which is so highly improved that it cannot be sold on any basis which will warrant an income to the purchaser. The only reason which will carry this North Shore property above a fairly high figure will be not an unusual demand, but the fact that the supply is so limited that the property can never become common and because it suits the fancy of a class of buyers who are able and willing to purchase because their fancy is suited and not because the property promises to bring in a satisfactory income.

PLANS FOR THE NEW LIBRARY.

Twelve competitive designs are on exhibition in the gallery of the public library from which will be selected by the grounds and building committee, the one having the most merits.

It is probable that the exterior walls of the building will be of blue Bedford stone, and this material will show to great advantage in a structure that is built from any of the submitted designs. Thirteen sets of plans were sent in, but one set was promptly returned, for it did not comply with the requirements formulated by the committee. This left twelve designs from which to make the selection. The Daily News in commenting on the designs in the hands of the committee says:

"Among those who have seen the designs are many Chicago architects, and several of the same profession from New York, Boston and St. Paul. They inspected, criticised, admired, disapproved, compared, guessed and did some heavy betting, and design No. 1 came in for a strong first choice. Nos. 9, 5, 4, and 11 were second, third, fourth and fifth choices, and each of the five designs received commendation more or less enthusiastic."

"Design No. 1 represents a building almost purely classic with Romanesque feeling, and the composite idea is further carried out in the form and design of the Washington and Randolph street entrances. The entrance on Washington street is the Roman arch, but the Randolph street doorway is pure Greek, with severe Doric columns and massive lintel, and is said to be a copy of the doorway to the ancient temple of Diana in Ephesus, although the idea is probably borrowed from the beautiful Walhalla at Ratisbone, Bavaria. It is grand in its simplicity and massive strength. The same can be said of the building, for the design shows an edifice in which massive simplicity and beautiful proportions are harmoniously blended. The frieze which zones the building serves as a continuous memorial tablet on which are inscribed the names of the world's writers and wise men from Moses down to the present age.

All the designs are more or less alike in the general shape of the mass, for the competing architects were required to furnish exteriors to conform with the interior plans adopted by the grounds and building committee. The difference is shown in the treatment of the sky-line selection of architectural style and the embelishments.

Design No. 5 is more ornate than either No. 1 or No. 9, and is more emphatically Roman. Its Washington street entrance has the arch, and the Randolph street entrance, which is double, copies the Greek form. The strong feature of design No. 11 is the noble screen of Corinthian columns which give added grandeur to the Michigan avenue facade, and the building is almost pure classic in character.

It will be some time in the early part of next month before the committee takes decisive action toward selecting the design, and breaking of the ground will follow soon after. When the building is complete it will possess about the proportions of Boston's new library building, but will not come up to it architecturally. Boston started to build a library that would cost $1,250,000, but it is estimated about $3,000,000, will have been spent when the building is finished. Chicago's library will cost about $1,750,000. It is a matter of fact that the preliminary cost of all public buildings of the magnitude of the proposed library up to the point where plans are finally accepted has been anywhere between $40,000 to $60,000. Boston spent $60,000 to bring her library to the point now reached by the Chicago library, and the local grounds and building committee has expended but $5,000.

The new Boston library was started as a circulating and reference library, but though the building is beautiful and magnificent it is entirely inadequate to the requirements of a circulating library, and it was decided to use the new building simply for reference purposes an keep the circulating department in the old building down town, thus adding to the tax payers burden $100,000 and having the main departments of the library two miles apart.

Even a cursory examination of the interior plans for the Chicago library is enough to convince the examiner that the arrangements, divisions and subdivlsions have been admirably made and that the building will be a model of its kind. There will be 350,000 books to house in it when it is ready for occupancy.

National Real Estate Congress.

Prominent citizens and business men of Nashville, Tennessee, have undertaken to organize a National Real Estate Congress, to be held at Nashville on the following dates: February 17, 18, 19, and which shall have for its purpose the following objects.

1st. The securing of homes for the working people and how they may best be procured.

2nd. To secure a uniform system of transfers in the different states.

3d. To ascertain what is the best form of investment for the young men of our country. To consider the moral effects of safe investment as contrasted with the demoralizing effects of speculation.

4th. To secure the most comfortable and least expensive homes for people of moderate means.

5th. To learn the true mission of the real estate agent.

6th. To consider Building and Saving Associations: their stability and solvency: Legislation affecting them.

7th. The organization of Real Estate Exchanges: Their object to elevate and give dignity to the business of the real estate agent.

The following communications have been received from the secretary of the above named organization, and from the Governor of Tennessee.

NASHVILLE, TENN., Jan. 14, 1892.

Editor REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL; Dear Sir: We enclose you herewith papers relating to the meeting of the National Real Estate Congress which convenes in this city on February 17, 1892. We feel confident you will give us the assistance of your valuable Journal in furthering the interests of this meeting and shall take occasion to send you matter for publication as fast as proper.

We enclose you herewith a list of papers to be read at the meeting. It is the desire of the committee to have these subjects handled by able men from the different sections of the country, and we should like you to suggest one or more from Chicago.

The kindly feeling existing in Nashville for Chicago and all its interests, prompts us to ask you for a very liberal support in this enterprise. It is the intention of this committee to do everything possible to have the next meeting of the Association in Chicago, and if your real estate men will send us a good delegation, and manifest your usual interest in such enterprises, we can arrange for the meeting, and have the first President of the Association from your city.

The chairman of our Executive Committee will be in Chicago in a few days, and would like to meet all the real estate men possible and talk the matter over with them. Could you arrange with the Secretary of the Real Estate Exchange to have a meeting during his presence in the city?

Of course we shall expect your presence during the meeting, and will use every effort to make your visit pleasant and profitable. Will you please send us copies of your issues containing notices of this meeting. Yours truly,

M. M. KLINE, Se'cy.

Executive office, State of Tennessee. } NASHVILLE, TENN, Jan 9, '92.

The National Real Estate Congress will convene in annual session at Nashville, Tennessee, on the 17th day of February, 1892.

The objects of this meeting in part are: To suggest a uniform mode of real estate transfers for all the states; to formulate a plan for enabling the industrial classes to secure homes for themselves: the gathering and discussion of the statistics relating to real estate in the United States, including its mineral and timber wealth, and how this wealth can be utilized and developed for the good of the whole country; farm lands and their betterment.

Tennessee will welcome to this Congress the real estate agents, dealers, and land owners of the United States.

JOHN P. BUCHANAN, Governor.

DEATH OF W. M. BRYANT.

W. M. Bryant, of the firm of W. M. Bryant & Co., real estate and loan brokers, room 415, 167 Dearborn street, died at the home of his father, Dr. W. W. Bryant, of Sycamore, Ill., at 3:30 Friday morning, of typhoid fever. Mr. Bryant has been in the real estate business a little over a year, but was highly esteemed by every one who knew or did business with him.

The funeral will take place Sunday at 2 P. M., at Sycamore, Ill.

AGENTS' BUDGET.

Recent sales, however small, not yet recorded, will be reported in this column. All matter must apply to the real estate business and real estate men.

The beautiful snow has brought respite to the real estate agent, because his goods are hidden beneath its mantle. Enforced idleness should bring him repose and not worriment. Chicago real estate improves with age, as is evidenced by current prices.

Ogden avenue is not to be cabled by the West Chicago Street Railway Company, until the completion of the proposed 12th street electric road. This road will be begun in the spring, and if the underground electric conduit proves successful, the system will be put in on Ogden avenue, and all the other lines in that section controlled by the West-side company.

The council committee on high buildings held a meeeting this week, for the purpose of formulating their report. A prominent member informed Chairman Biegler, that if he did not call a meeting, the matter would be called up at the next meeting of the council. It is reported that a majority of the committee are in favor of restricting the height of office buildings to ten stories. Hotels and apartment houses will be limited to 100 feet.

C. W. Fullerton bought of E. T. Kiggins 23x130 feet on Michigan avenue, west front, between 13th and 14th streets, for $30,000, or about $1,100 per front foot. The premises are improved by a building valued at $5,000.

George Birkhoff, Jr., will build a three-story store and flat building at the southeast corner of State and 38th streets, to cost $30,000. The structure will have a frontage of 49 feet and a depth of 122 feet. Pressed brick and stone will be used in the construction.

The owner of the 160 acres lying between Chicago avenue and Division street, and Western avenue and Robey streets, has been paying taxes into the general fund for 40 years and never got sewers. Now he wants sewers and will have to pay for them under the special-assessment plan. Mr. Cheney said there were other sections in the same predicament. Talking of the figures printed as to the cost of sewers, the superintendent said they were estimates, and the real cost would be much less. The cost of inspection, he said, included clerical work and map-making.

J. D. Wirt & Co., formerly located at 3425 State street, have removed their offices to Room 614 Chambers of Commerce Building, where they will do a general real estate business, making a specialty of Northwest division property in Jefferson. They report the sale of thirty-seven lots corner Belmont and Jefferson avenuss, at Belmont Park for $12,000.

Reed Bros., Chamber of Commerce, report the sale of six lots in E. E. Reed's sub division on Grand ave.

B. F. Head, 167 Dearborn streeet, reports that calls for good city property are on the increase and that the market is in a very encouraging condition. He also states that the enquiries for phosphate and timber lands and orange groves in Florida are more numerous than they were.

Edward J. Quinlan, 115 Dearborn street, has sold 50 feet on 47th street, near Stewart avenue, to the Keeley Brewing Co., for $2,600. He is negotiating the sale of eleven lots at South Chicago, for about $15,000 and he has a deal in Wabash avenue property well under way.

RULES FOR THE INSPECTION AND GRADING OF LUMBER.

Inspectors of lumber are not manufacturers and must measure and inspect lumber as they find it, of full length and width (except as to wane, which must be measured out and inspected in a lower grade), making no allowance for the purpose of raising grade.

Inspectors must use their best judgment, based upon these rules for their guidance.

The standard knot shall not exceed 1¼ inches in diameter, and must be of a sound character.

Splits are always more or less damage to a piece of lumber. An allowance must be made, either in determining the quality or quantity, according to the nature of the split. A split extending to exceed one foot will reduce it to one grade lower.

Lumber should be sawed plump thickness, otherwise it is not considered marketable, and must be reduced to the next standard thickness or at least one grade lower, on account of thinness.

A cull below the standard thickness is a mill cull.

A cull which will not work one half of its size free from all defects, is a mill cull and no recognized value and no account is necessary to be made of it.

When lumber or timber does not come up to the grade or contract, it must be placed in the next lower grade named.

Lumber sawed for specific purposes, such as axles, bolsters, tongues, reaches, newels, balusters, squares, etc., must be inspected with a view to the adaptability of the piece for the intended use, as in many cases, it cannot be used for other purposes.

Wagon stock must be clear, cut from good, live, sound, tough, straight-grained timber.

Timbers must be free from unsound knots. Sound hearts not showing on the outside will be allowed.

In the grade of firsts and seconds, the purchaser is entitled to the full average of firsts, which must not be less than 33⅓ per cent.

Standard lengths are always recognized as being 12, 14, and 16 feet. Shorter than 12 and longer than 16 feet does not come within the range of standard. In black walnut and cherry an exception is made, and ten feet is a standard length. Shorter or longer than standard lengths, in all varieties of hardwood lumber, except in counter tops, are reduced one grade lower.

Common and cull lumber must be 8 feet and over long, except cherry and walnut, which must be 6 feet and over long.

Mixed lots, containing boards, planks, flooring, bolsters, reaches, etc., shall be measured and inspected according to the rules governing the measurement and inspection of boards and planks.

Flooring strips should be 4 and 6 inches in width; 1 and 1¼ inches in thickness. Other widths and thicknesses shall be designated as special sizes. It must have one face and two edges clear.

Common flooring strips shall be of the same size and general character as clear, but may have two small sound knots not exceeding three-fourths of one inch in diameter, or a small amount of wane on one edge which will not injure it for working to its full size.

Hickory should never be cut while the sap is rising, as it is then liable to powder-post, and indications of deterioration of this character should be carefully scrutinized.

Newels from all kinds of timber must be clear and free from heart, to square 5, 6, 7, 8, 9 and 10 inches plump. The length must be 4 feet full or multiples thereof.

Balusters and table legs shall be clear and square, 2x2, 2½x2½, 3x3 and 4x4, 32 inches long.

Newels, balusters and table legs not coming up to the grade of clear, shall be classed as cull.

Counter tops shall be 12 feet and over long. 1, 1¼ and 1½ inches thick, and must be strictly clear, not less than 20 inches wide.

Firsts are always classed as clear.

Clear lumber must be 6 inches and over wide, excepting cypress and poplar, which must be 8 inches and over wide, free from all defects of every kind and nature.

Bolsters must be 4 feet, 4 feet 6 inches or multiples thereof in length, and the size must be 3x4, 3½x4½, 3½x5, or 4x5 inches.

Reaches must be 2x4, or 2½x4½ inches, and the lengths 8, 10, 12 and 16 feet.

Harrow timber must be 2½x2½ inches, and the lengths 5, 10 and 14 feet.

Hickory axles must be clear, and in lengths of 6 or 12 feet, for sizes 3½x4½, 4x5, 4x6, 4½x6 and 7 or 14 feet, for 5x6 and 5x7 on special order, cut from sound, tough, butt logs.

Wagon tongues must be clear and straight, 3x4 at small end and 4x4 at the butt end, or 2½x4½ at small end and 4½x4½ at butt end, 12 feet long, from tough, straight-grained timber.

Bolsters, reaches, harrow timber, hickory axles and wagon tongues not up to grade of clear, will be classed as cull.

Standard thickness shall be 1, 1¼, 1½, 2, 2½, 3 and 4 inches, except poplar, which will allow 5-8 inch.

When lumber is sold on this market to be measured merchantable, the inspector must measure full, except in culls, which are to be measured at one half.

It is important that all lumber should be parallel in width, square edged, and with square ends. Tapering lumber is measured at the small end. Ordinary season checks are not defects, Squares must be clear, 4x4, 6x6, 7x7 and 8x8 inches.

Stains, specks, hearts, shakes, rot, worm-holes, holes, etc., are considered serious defects, reducing lumber to grades lower than firsts and seconds.

Log-run is the entire cut of the log, mill culls out.

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company's 6,150 miles of road traverses a vast territory, rich in all the resources that insure industrial success.

The Industrial Department is conversant with the Iron, Coal, Lumber and Tanbark, the Water-Power (both river and artesian) for factory and electric power purposes, the markets, the transportation and financial facilities, and other interests on the line pertaining to industrial development, and disseminates information concerning same.

A number of new factories have been induced to locate—largely through the instrumentality of this Company—at enterprising towns on its lines.

As the interest of the Comany is to secure the location of industries at places where the surroundings will insure their permanent success, the information furnished a particular industry is pertinent and reliable.

In the Eastern States and in other parts of the world factories are so congested and distant from the actual markets as to result in fierce and destructive competition. That the West is taking a place as one of the great manufacturing territories of the world is forcibly impressing itself upon discerning and enterprising manufacturers. Steps should be taken by such while the field is as yet not fully covered, and while inducements are still being offered, to locate in the West.

Individuals or companies wishing to embark capital in Western industry can find a profitable field.

Luis Jackson,
Industrial Commissioner,
C., M. & St. Paul R'y, 160 Adams St., Chicago, Ill.

The National Mining and Stock Exchange.

There never was a time when any industry was in a more prosperous condition than the Mining interests are at this time, with all the modern improvements and facilities for working mines, transportation and the treating of Ores.

The costs have been reduced more than one-half and the net profits to stock-holders have more than doubled. The mines are full of practical, skilled miners, and the business way in which all branches of mining is now handled makes it as safe an investment as any other line of business, and in many cases it is much more profitable. According to government statistics—censusof 1890, it is fast becoming the leading producing industry of the country. The various branches of the Mining industry rank as follows in their order, viz.: coal 1st, iron 2d silver 3d, gold 4th. Lime, brick and tile petrolcum, copper, building stone, lead and zinc, coke, salt, natural gas, cement, gypsum, grind stone, borax, and there are many other minerals, amounting in all toabout $700,000,000 yearly produced in this country.

Chicago is fast becoming the HEAD CENTER of MINING INTERESTS. She has the largest Manufacturers of Mining Machinery in the World. Her Iron and Steel interests are second to none. Her Lead and White Lead interest are among the largest. As a Manufacturing Center, we can well be proud of her. Many of her citizens own valuable interests in Gold, Silver, Iron, Tin and other Mines, also Stone, Marble and Lithograpic Quarries. The Brick, Tile and other products of clay are numerous. There are millions of profits paid yearly to holders of stock. At the "World's Fair" there will be the grandest display that the Mineral Kingdom can furnish, and a Mining boom is immediately before us.

THE NATIONAL MINING AND STOCK EXCHANGE is incorporated under the laws of Illinois, has a Capital Stock of $100,000, divided into shares of $10 each. EIGHTY per cent. of the Capital Stock has been placed in the Treasury to be sold for the benefit and uses of the Company. This Company now offers a limited number of shares of its Treasury Stock at $3.50 per share. Believing you will fully appreciate the necessity of such an organization and the very profitable returns one would receive as a Stockholder, your aid is solicited and would be appreciated. In joining in this enterprise you help to build up a medium that can help other industries, while enriching yourselves. This is an opportunity to get into a growing money making business. This Company is to help develop mineral property, to deal in the products of the same and transact such business as appertains thereto.

It has a FREE DAILY CALL for the PURCHASE and SALE of all kinds of MISCELLANEOUS STOCKS, MANUFACTURER'S, BRICK, STONE and MINING STOCKS; also MINES and other property.

Information regarding Stocks offered for sale can be found at these Headquarters.

The profits will be paid to stockholders, at stated periods. A purchase of Stock in this Company can not fail to be a very profitable investment and may prove a rich Bonanza to you and the stock you buy can be sold again for cash. This stock is non-assessable and no further demands can be made upon you. This Company is owner of a valuable mining property (U. S. patent title,) in Park County, Colorado. The Directors and Stockholders are well-known business men as follows:

Next 20 prizes—20 Silver Tea Sets, quadruple plate, warranted.

Next 50 prizes—50 Silver Dessert Sets, warranted heavy plate.

Next 100 prizes—100 Silver Butter Dishes, etc., warranted heavy plate.

Next 500 prizes consists of Heavy Plated Silver Kettles, Butter Dishes, Fruit Baskets, Biscuit Jars, Sugar Shells, Butter Knives etc. etc., all fully warranted, making a total of 689 splendid rewards, the value of which will aggregate $3,500.

This grand Literary Competition is open to everybody everywhere. The following are the conditions:

1. The words must be constructed only from letters in the words, "The Illustrated Agriculturist" and must be only such as are found in Webster's Unabridged Dictionary, in the body of the book, none of the supplement to be used.

2. The words must be written in rotation and numbered 1, 2, 3 and so on, for facilitating in deciding the winners.

3. Letters cannot be used oftener than they appear in the words "The Illustrated Agriculturist" for instance; the word "egg" cannot be used as there is but one "g" in the three words.

4. The list containing the largest number of words will be awarded first prize, and so on in order of merit. Each list as it is received will be numbered, and if two or more tie, the first received will be awarded first prize, and so on, therefore the benefit of sending in early will readily be seen.

5. Each list must be accompanied by $1 for six months subscription to THE AGRICULTURIST.

OUR LAST COMPETITION—"Got $1,000 prize all right."—M. M. Brandon, Vancouver, B.C. "Thanks for $500 prize."—G. W. Cunningham, Donald, B. C. "Prize received O. K."—J. D. Baptie, West Superior, Wis. "$300 prize received Thanks."—G. V. Robertson, Toronto; and 300 others, in United States and Canada.

This is NO LOTTERY—merit only will count. The reputation for fairness gained by THE AGRICULTURIST in the past is ample guarantee that this Competition will be conducted in like manner. Send 3c stamp for full particulars to THE AGRICULTURIST, Peterborough, Canada.

PIANOS AT MANUFACTURERS' PRICES.

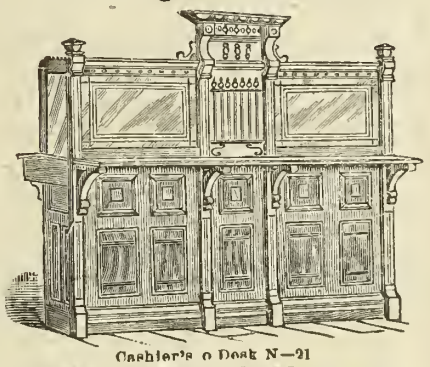
NO. 1.

The STYLE "D" piano is seven and one-third Octaves, has overstrung Scale, three Unisons, Elastic double repeating Action, full iron frame and No. 1 Ivory Keys. We use the full swing front music desk with engraved panels and the upright folding fall board, which gives the instrument a very attractive appearance. Every piece is double veneered on both sides, making it impossible for it to warp or check. It has an exceptionally sweet and full tone; the scales are unusually well and evenly balanced, producing remarkable singing quality. Heighth 57 inches. Length, 63 inches. Depth, 28½ inches. Finished in Ebony, Mahogany, Oak and French Walnut Veneers.

NO. 2.

STYLE "E" has seven and one-third Octaves, over-strung Scale, three Unisons, Elastic double repeating Action, and full iron Frame. It has the full swing front music desk with handsomely engraved panels and the upright folding fall board, and also paneled ends. It has an exceptionally sweet and full tone; the scales are unusually well and evenly balanced, producing remarkable singing quality. Heighth, 55 inches. Length, 62½ inches. Depth, 28 inches.

NO. 3.



STYLE "C" is the same as STYLE "E," except the ends, which are not paneled.

NO. 4.

STYLE "A" is seven and one-third Octaves, overstrung Scale, three strings improved sounding board and sliding music desk. Buy from the Factory at Wholesale Prices for Cash.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

The abundance of money is exciting renewed attention among bankers and financiers. Money keeps piling up, and conservative traders, such as banks like to deal with, continue to avoid borrowing. The bank of England, has as we saw last week, reduced its official rate to 3 per cent, and call money at New York and other leading Eastern points has been on offer at from 2 to 4 per cent. Chicago banks still continue to quote 6 per cent, but probably the bulk of business effected is at lower figures. The grain dealers and packers are the freest borrowers, and help materially to sustain the current local rate. But, wholesalers can get their paper discounted somewhere around 5 per cent, and we have heard instances of call money being out as low as 4 per cent. There can be no doubt about the existing ease. Thus, at New York city, according to the last statement of its banks, deposits increased by the unprecedented sum of $11,080,000 and the reserves by $8,426,800, while the increase in the amount put out on loans was but $1,369,400. Much the same monetary conditions exist at all the great centers.

This abundance of money proves that traders are operating carefully, and, as it is fair to suppose that these parties understand what they are about, the inference being that business is halting. But this is only a temporary phase. With peace assured and confidence in the stability of "100 cents in the dollar curreney" maintained, there is every reason to believe that matters will improve rapidly. Meanwhile, the money with which to start new enterprises is ready for employment. This is the story and hopeful feature of the situation. The country is like a private individual with his money up at the bank and waiting only for a suitable opening for his capital, in order to embark in business.

The tendency of prices for the next few weeks remains uncertain. A financial authority says: "There is nothing to warrant extreme advances, and, attempts to force prices laryely beyond intrinsic values are not likely to pay those who participate in them, but may easily have the effect of bringing about collapse and disappointment, which would set the market back to the condition of stagnation." All the indications point to an era of considerable prosperity as immediately ahead. The country has not been consuming greatly during the past few seasons. Most of the business done has been of the hand to mouth order. Improvements and repairs have been defered, and new enterprises almost universally avoided. But the country's power of consumption is not declining but growing; and that which has been deferred will go to swell the general activity once the forward movement commences.

Halting confidence in business and financial circles will be favorably influenced by the latest advices from Chile. It looks as if the painful controversery with our belligerant sister republic of the South was to be amicably settled. Some hopeful people seem to think that a war with Chile could be but a small affair. General Miles opinion is that "such a war would cost millions of treasure, thousands of lives and be not necessarily brief." The action of the New York Chamber of Commerce in the premises but reflected the anxiety of the vast majority of financiers and thoughtful business men. That peace has been honorably assured is of special importance to the city of Chicago, in connection with the forthcoming World's Columbian Exposition. In the nature of things, war cannot favor the display of the triumphs of industry, and least of all a display of an international character. The peaceful settlement of the matter is fully as good as $50,000,000 to the city of Chicago, and this having regard to the World's Fair, alone.

Sterling exchanges are hardening and this makes the chance of an early return of gold to this side more remote than at any time during the last few weeks Fears as to silver legislation have, undoubtedly, something to do with this unsatisfactory feature of the situation. But there are contributary causes at work. London does not care to part with more of the yellow metal than she can help so long as Russia's financial intentions are in doubt. Large amounts of gold are held by Russia on deposits at London, Paris and Berlin and are subject to be called. Some such action on the part of Russia percipitated, even if it did not bring about, the Barings disaster. Again, Austria is gradually discarding silver and trying to get nearer to a gold basis. These may be temporary causes, but they tend to check the return flow of gold to this country, despite the highly favorable balance of trade. In the meanwhile, silver has fallen as low as 91‡ cents, which certainly does not look as if insiders believed much in any impending legislation specially favoring the white metal.

The bond market has been broad and active, trading being universally well distributed. The tendency has been to advance prices.

Business circles at Chicago have been interested in two local scandals. A bank of some pretensions has been formally charged with palming off its own worthless securities upon credulous customers, and then making these securities the means by which to exact usurious rates of interest, in some instances as much as forty per cent being asked. The matter is sub judice, but has been long known to insiders. The JOURNAL has, however, avoided earlier reference to the matter, for mere innuendo results in setting people, in but too many instances, on the wrong track, and excites suspicion of entirely solid concerns. Depositors cannot be too careful in making inquiries before putting up their money. The other scandal is the charge formally brought against a leading house having offices at the Chicago Board of Trade, of bucket-shopping its customers. The thing exists far more extensively than many suspect, and pretty high up too. The sooner continuous quotations are revived the better. They serve to check this sort of thing by enabling customers to keep close tab on their deals. It does not invite outside confidence to hear one broker charging another with altering his cards, and then for the inerimanated party to avoid inquiry and seek by legal means to recover the documents which it is claimed would convict him.

Reports from country points announce trade as improving. Manufacturers are well employed and in some instances working overtime. Preparations are in several lines under way with view to the spring trade which is confidently expected to be excellent. Wheat continues to be exported in large quantities, and the price is well maintained. Farmers are clearly not forcing their produce on the markets, but deliveries are on a fair level with demand. This action holds prices well up, without at the same time allowing stocks to become congested in first hands. No better policy could be pursued, alike in the interests of the country and of the farmer. The cotton situation has slightly improved. Collections are generally better.

The condition of 3,692 banks in the United States has been brought down to December 2, 1891, and Comptroller Lacey is enthusiastic. He says, it is the best since he has been in office. The deposits aggregate over $1,620,486,000, and the reserve 28.8 per cent. When it is remembered that the law requires the reserve of National banks in the cities to be 25 per cent, and in the country distriets only 15 per cent, the strength of the situation is apparent.

The bank clearings at Chicago for the week ending Thursday, Jan. 21, were as follows:

Saturday	12,601,958
Monday	14,701,829
Tuesday	13,514,000
Wednesday	14,410,343

*Preceding week's returns. †Not included in totals

We have here a total gain as compared with the corresponding week of last year, of $147,554,000, equal to 12 8 per cent. Of this gain, the Empire city must be credited with $118,153,000, or equal to 17.2 per cent of its separate returns. This leaves for all outside points, a gain of $28,600,000, equal to 6.2 per cent.

The advance is not so sharp as the JOURNAL had occasion to announce last week, but it is eminently satisfactory. The falling off has been principally at the great centers, where speculation largely influences the volume of the returns, the solid business of the counting being comparatively unaffected by the decline.

Of the fifty-eight cities of the United States, available for purposes of comparison, thirty-seven establish gains while twenty-one show a decline.

There are twenty-three cities with bank clearings of $4,000,000, and upward, Of these twenty-three cities, no less then twenty record an advance, declines being limited to three cities only.

The most important gains are at New York city, Chicago and Baltimore. Several of the minor cities, however, make an admirable display. This will be seen by the following per-centage of gains:

Kansas City, 43.4 per cent; Louisville, 6.5 per cent; Detroit, Minneapolis and Denver, over 24 per cent each. The last gain is particularly notable, and quite out of line with what we have been accustomed to receive from that point. Buffalo, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Indianapolis, also make a bold forward stride.

The iron centers are evidently progressing toward better conditions. Thus, the gain at Pittsburg is equal to 12.5 per cent and at Cleveland, to 3.4 per cent. Philadelphia sends, however, declining figures, the loss in the present instance being equal to 3 1 per cent. This is not much, and, contrasted with some recent returns from that city, may be regarded as comparatively satisfactory.

St. Louis and San Francisco are two far distant and important points, and typical of widely scattered districts. The former city declines 3.1 per cent, the latter advances but one-tenth of one per cent. The conditions at these two points may, apparently, be thus summarized: "Steady, but not booming."

New Orleans continues to show a heavy shrinkage in the volume of its bank clearings; in the present instance equal to 33.9 per cent. If there is a financial depression or financial storm center gathering anywhere, it is over the cotton region. There is no immediate cause of alarm, but wise provisions might be made with advantage in view of possible contingencies. New Orleans is undoubtedly the center of a grave depression that might readily develop into something worse. Elsewhere, the outlook is hopeful.

Canada gains $893,000, or equal to slightly over 9.1 per cent.

Continuing the analysis for the same comparative weeks, by groups of states, we find.

Once more we meet with a gain in six out of the seven groups. The Southern group furnishes the only exception to the story of improvement. The decline in the Southern states, taken as a rule, is not formidable being but 3 8 per cent.

THE LOCAL STOCK MARKET.

Business during the week at the room on Dearborn street has been of a very conservative character. Street Cables display a slight tendency to advance, the gain being however, of a nature not requiring special attention. North-side cable on Saturday last found little inquiry; 25 shares (regular) selling at 177¼; and 100 shares (for the account) going off at 177¾. The week opened with regular at the same figure on a small lot of 10 shares; the bulk of the trading (600 shares) was for the account, the price being uniform at 177. Tuesday presented a firmer market but no great animation. Traders confined themselves almost exclusively in dealing for the account, which advanced from 177¼ to 177¾, the highest price being at the close. The monotony was broken by a single trade for 100 shares regular at 177¾ on the afternoon call, in addition to which sundry parcels for the second account went off at 178⅛ to 179. On Wednesday there was a slight degree of animation infused into the property, and 1050 shares were exchanged at an advance. For the second account, closed at 180. There was but light trading on the following day, with prices further advanced. Regular after opening 178⅝, wound up at 178¼, and for the second account was advanced to 180½. Transactions limited to 300 shares. West-side Cable has received only a moderate share of attention, but recorded a moderate advance. Saturday last this property stood stationary at 133¼ (for the account), only 150 shares passing. On Monday there was some fairly active trading, which put up the price of regular to 133½. Altogether, 1,270 shares changed hands. A further improvement was registered the following day, the volume of trade swelling to upwards of 2,200 shares. Regular closed at 134½, for the account at 134¾. The top price for this property for the week was made on Wednesday, when several fifties were worked at 135. The price eased off towards the close, when 134½ was taken for regular. Business effected, 985 shares, various. A fractional concession, amounting to ⅛ only, was made on the following day. This was not deemed sufficient by intending purchasers, and trade was limited to 475 shares, various.

City Railway is firmly held, and advanced to 311, which was the price paid (Thursday) for a small parcel. As customary in this property, trade was extremely narrow.

At the meeting recently held by the stockholders of Street's Stable Car line, the earnings on the common stock were announced as equal to 8 3 per cent. The report furnishes ample evidence of the efficiency of the management. The car service has been greatly improved, and matters systematized so as to meet the exigencies of a somewhat peculiar business. The year opened inauspiciously, owing to the large falling off in the shipments of corn-fed cattle, from Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri, mainly due to this cause, the earnings during the first four months of the year declined as much as $75,000. During the last year the company added largely to the number of its cars, which are in considerable demand, as shown by the fact that the total mileage travelled has increased from 84,326,341 in 1890, to 93,821,188 in 1891, a gain of over 9,484,000 miles, or 11.2 per cent.

Western Stone and Arc Light and Power entirely neglected. Diamond Match in moderate request, at from 137½ to 137, the latter price having been paid Thursday for a small lot of 40 shares.

The property that has attracted most attention during the past week has undoubtedly been Calumet and Chicago Canal and Dock, and it has advanced 3 points. The explanation of this advance is hard to get at. Some say the shorts are to be squeezed; while others hint that the company itself is a heavy buyer of its stock on the quiet. This property which sold Saturday last at 77⅛, has kept moving steadily upward, closing Thursday at 80½, regular, on which day upwards of 2,700 shares (various) were dealt in.

American Strawboard has sold down, and the volume of trading has not been remarkable, two days passing without a deal. Saturday last, the range was 87⅛ to 87 (regular), with 86⅝ paid for the account. On Thursday, for the account, sold off from 84 to 83¾.

Packing and Provision, steady. Common stock unchanged at 50; prefered stock at 47¼.

There has been some activity in Brewing and Malting, called forward by the drop in price. Brewers may indulge in a war of prices, but as a body, they have an eye to the main chance. On Saturday last, 600 shares of the common stock sold off from 31⅜ to 31. The opening day of the current week witnessed a drop to 30. Since then there has been a gradual recovery until the close Thursday, when the property was 32, or two points up. There is some hint at manipulation by insiders to shake out weak holders.

The bond market presents no novel or special feature. Gas Light and Coke 5s has improved from 86½ to 87⅝, the close. Consumer's Gas 5s, which has monopolized most of the heavy trading, has concurrently moved upward from 82 to 83. Average sales for the two properties, about $30,000. A fair amount of the cable bonds were also traded in, and $10,000 of Central Safe Deposit 5s, were disposed of on Wednesday in two lots, the price advancing from 99¼ to 99⅝.

Among the transactions of the week may be specified: First National Bank at 350. Central Union Telephone, at 54½. Metropolitan National Bank, at 215. South Park 6s, at 102. Chamber of Commerce 5s, at 101. Chicago Auditorium 5s at 101, and a few lots of New York Biscuit at 73½ to 73¼.

Harvesting is now general in southern India, Australia, Chili, parts of New Zealand and the Argentine Republic. Burmah cut her wheat last month. Indian shipments to date have been 47,340,000 bushels. Her exports for the colender year 1891 were 51,000,000 bushels. The stock of wheat December 31st at Odessa, was $4,000,000 bushels as against an average of about 11,000,000 the past few years. The Danube is closed with ice. Antwerp and French ports have received unusually large imports of wheat, and are well stocked for the time being. Great Britain reports her stocks at about 48,000,000 bushels, against 32,000,000, last year. The Mark Lane Express says this has made a dull market there since early December, and prices have declined there since December 1st, four shillings on California wheat and two shillings on red winter grades. Estimates are out, making exports of wheat to Europe from all countries since August 1, 1891, equal $207,040,000 bushels against estimated requirements of 168,000,000 bushels. The amount on passage last week gained 2,528,000 bushels. The United Kingdom's visible decreased 810,000 bushels. Our visible decreased 1,500,000 bushels. The amount on passage is now about the same as November 3, 1891, 33,000,000 bushels. Our exports to date equal nearly 142,000,000 bushels. Admitting the exports will continue in a pro rata ratio until July 1st. (as in previous large export years), the amount will likely equal of wheat and flour more than 250,000,000 bushels for the year ending June 30, 1892.

The firmness and strength of the financial situation are again illustrated by the events of the past week. Notwithstanding a multitude of active rumors, the sensitive condition of the currency, and the sinister predictions of speculative cliques, there has been no pertubation, but the loan market continues its easy and tranquil movements as before. Several changes of a practical character are, however, commanding special attention. It is generally observed that there is more close and responsive sympathy now between our money market and those of Europe than before the Baring panic of November, 1890. Our position has improved in the great syndicate of international finance. From this and other causes, our banks are wisely meeting the new duties and responsibilities of our National finance by increasing their reserves. Since 1857, and the lessons of the panic of that year, it has been always the custom of our banks to strengthen their cash reserves at all periods of anxiety from whatever cause. This conservative policy has been the talisman, which gave success to our war finance. It has been our safeguard against panics. It will be in the future as in the past, the source of confidence and stability to public and private credit. It is at this moment the great general characteristic of our whole banking system, non-National and National throughout the country.—American Banker.

THE REAL ESTATE MARKET.

PROSPECTS FOR A SATISFACTORY INVESTMENT MARKET—AN IMPROVING TONE IN REALTY INTERESTS THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY.

The question ever before the real estate broker of "What is the market going to be?" is still hard to answer satisfactorily. From present appearances the year does not promise to develop any strictly speculative features. Transactions involving speculative movements of large extent are being avoided by capitalists, or are being carried through with much difficulty and after serious delay. The prospects for an investment period are excellent, and the statement has been ventured by reliable brokers that the business of the current year in this class of transactions will approximate that of the speculative year of 1890. Money is easy and investors ready and willing to interest themselves in conservative purchases are quite readily found. A striking instance of the rapidity with which transactions of this sort are being carried through is given in a North side sale. The northwest corner of Rush and Indiana streets, 100x100 feet was sold by Gen. W. F. Singleton to William L, Bradley for $100,000 and a lease back to Gen. Singleton at a rental of 6 per cent on the valuation determined by the sale was arranged for. This property was first offered to the purchaser early in the day. By the afternoon of the same day the entire arrangements for the sale, the lease back and the improvements to be put upon the property were agreed upon. The corner is now occupied by five three-story brick buildings. These are to be torn down and a store and flat building, to cost something like $150,000 is to be built in their place. The new building is to be completed early in 1893. This is the class of transactions looked to by real estate men to swell the total of the year's business. The market for houses in all parts of the city is exceptionally good and is a natural effect of the approach of the World's Fair.

There is no question that there are a number of important deals in negotiation, but many of these have been under way for some time and there is no prospect of there being closed at an early date. Negotions for leases of two Randolph street frontages and at least three pieces of property on Michigan avenue are well under way. The fact that negotiations which promise to result in a change of ownership in the leasehold of the Leroy Payne property, and the fee and leasehold of the Leland Hotel has long been publicly known. Under the most favorable circumstances the details in transactions of so great magnitude require an infinite amount of work and a corresponding period of time. A sale typical of the best class of investment movements was made last week. William C. Seipp purchased forty feet on State street just south of Harmon court, from the Kilmer Manufacturing company for $50,000. The purchase was made purely as an investment and the buildings now on the property were leased back for a three year term, at an annual rental of 6 per cent on the purchase price.

The fact that a number of such deals are being quietly negotiated has been the excuse for making public a number of schemes which have very little foundation. Some of these involve the erection of theatres; a few the construction of office buildings: but by far the greater number involve the erection or sale of hotels. One authority has announced two important hotel projects, for which only one site was provided, and in addition made provision for another hotel diagonally across the corner from the joint site of the first two. It is probable that the enterprise of the party making public these plans will not be equalled by that of the projectors of the different hotels. Another journal announced with much pomp and circumstance what would appear to any one not acquainted with the facts, as an acre sale of the greatest importance. However, the transaction which was exploited as a sale of same 7000 acres in the Calumet region, resolves itself into an arrangement between joint owners, by which one of the interested parties is allowed to withdraw. The sensationalism which was connived at in the boom period of 1890, by even some of the conservative class of real estate brokers, is now almost universally discouraged and frowned upon.

The realty situation in the various cities throughout the United States is practically uniform. In Cincinnati the movement in real estate is said to be increasing each week as the season advances, and there is more demand for business property than at any other time during the season. A Cincinnati purchase which is just being completed is of some interest, as giving a comparison of values in central business property. A down town corner which is considered eligible for a high office building has just been contracted for on the basis of $28 a square foot. The property adjoining it on the side street was secured under an option for the purpose of combining it with the corner on the basis of $10 a square foot. This price, however, was considered exorbitant, and the owner of the corner, rather than pay that sum will improve the corner alone. In Detroit a material advance is noted, both in the number and magnitude of sales. In St. Louis the outlook for the coming season is considered bright. A number of important building enterprises promise to be the feature of the year It is said that all the unsubdivided land within the boundaries of St. Louis will not amount in all to over five thousand acres. The same general feeling that the market will show improvement is noticed in Indianapolis, Louisville, Omaha, and most of the large cities of the western and central states.

Real estate men are generally interested in the movement for securing better construction of buildings. According to the ordinance now before the Council a committee to consist of the President of the Chicago Fire Underwriter's Association, the President of the Chicago Real Estate Board, the President of the Illinois Chapter of the National Institution of Architects and the Commissioners of Buildings, each have the selection of one member of a committee of five to revise the old building ordinances for the guidance of the Building Commissioner. The fifth member of the committee will act as chairman and will be appointed by the Board of Aldermen. This committee is intended to provide for some means of avoiding the difficulties and abuses which obtain under the present system. The aim will be to make the city almost fireproof. The Illinois Chapter of Architects favors the adoption of a building limitation based on the sixty degree angle from the opposite side of the street. On a street a hundred feet wide this would permit of a building 174 feet high. On a sixty-six foot street a building 115 feet high could be constructed.

The sub-committee of the Council committee adopted a resolution fixing the maximum height of buildings at the street line at 150 feet. This resolution also provided a limit of 100 feet for streets forty feet or less in width; of 125 feet for streets between forty and eighty feet wide and of 150 feet for streets of greater width.

NEW MANUFACTURING CENTRE.
NEW RAILWAY LINES.

The newly projected town called Chicago Ridge, located at the junction of the Wabash R. R. and the C. & C. Terminal or Belt Line, south of the Stickney tract. The canal feeder runs near the property and will supply an abundance of water. This land to be improved consists of about 1000 acres with 3½ miles of frontage of the C. & C. Terminal Ry. and two miles frontage on the Wabash R. R. The promoters of this new enterprise claim great advantages for its location. It remains to be seen whether it has sufficient advantages to warrant the undertaking.

The Evening Journal is responsible for the following: "Property owners in the vicinity of Maywood are very much interested in a report that the new railroad recently incorporated by A. B. Stickney, which is practically a consolidation of the Calumet Terminal and the Chicago, St. Paul & Kansas City Road, is about to establish freight yards at Maywood. A statement to that effect has been made by a prominent railroad official to a party interested in Maywood property, and while the statement is not official it is believed that such a plan is in contemplation. The Calumet Terminal will cross the right of way of the St. Paul and Kansas City Road at this point, which is also on the line of the Northwestern and but a short distance from the Northern Pacific.

"The incorporation of the Chicago Central Construction company with a capital stock of $500,000," said Robert Hill this morning, "means the building of an intra mural road, about eight miles long, to connect with a certain street railway now in operation." This was all the gentleman would say as to the aims and purposes of the above company."

REMOVAL AND LEASE.

The leasing by E. A. Cummings & Co. of the northeast corner of Clark and Washington streets, now occupied by the Chicago Trust and Savings Bank and the Midland Company, is of considerable importance. The office has a floor space of about 30 by 65 feet and the rental to be paid will be $8,000 a year. The lease runs for one year, with the privilege of renewal for another year at the same rental. Aside from the importance of the lease itself, as it involves the removal of the largest real estate office in the city, the lease is also of general interest, as it decides the fate of the Reaper Block for the present, at least, It has been reported from time to time that this building was to be torn down and a sixteen-story building erected in its place, but the closing of this lease with E. A. Cummings & Co. will render such a change impossible. There is now no prospect that the building will be torn down or even altered until after the World's Fair is over. Another interesting feature of this lease is the tendency which it shows of the real estate business to center on Washington street. Most of the large real estate offices are located on this street or in its immediate vicinity, and it is known that other firms in addition to E. A. Cummings & Co., are looking for quarters on the same thoroughfare.

The Chicago Trust and Savings bank has not yet secured new quarters, but is negotiating at present for several sites. It is stated that the bank will probably take the quarters now occupied by the Chicago Title and Trust Company at 126 Washington street, but nothing definite has been determined upon at this writing. The bank has a very favorable lease on its present quarters, paying a rental of only $4,000 a year or about $2 per square foot.

CLUB HOUSE ON ASHLAND BOULEVARD.

The LaSalle club of the West Side is contemplating the erection of a new home on Ashland boulevard. The proposed site is bounded by Ashland and Ogden avenues and Monroe street. This land fronts on Ashland avenue 100 feet, on Ogden avenue 126 feet and on Monroe street 93 feet, a little three sided piece of property designed especially for a club house, or at least well adapted for such a purpose. The morning news of Friday contained the following on the subject of a club house at the above corner:

It is the same triangle upon which it was proposed some years back to erect a Young Men's Christian Association building and it is still held by Cyrus H. McCormick and J.V. Farwell, Jr., who secured it for that purpose. For some reason the plans were not realized, and now certain friends of the LaSalle club have secured an option on it from the owners and will give that option to the club should it decide to take the property. The option was secured in an informal way because it was learned that others were looking at the triangle with a view to erecting an apartment house thereon, and the gentlemen who did this kindly turn for the club were obliged to act at once or else all chance of the LaSalle club having that location would be lost.

As a site for a club house the property is more than suitable. Upon it could be erected an edifice having three fronts, aggregating 319 feet, which would give exceptional advantages in the matter of air and light. The form of the building would afford an architect opportunities for the exercise of his genius and something beautiful in the way of a design might be expected. The environments constitute the fashionable part of the West side and thus add to the attractions of the site. Those who favor the purchase of this land are the more anxious that the club house should stand on Ashland boulevard and surpass the Illinois club, and now that an option on the coveted property can be secured by the directors for the mere asking, it is highly probable that the purchase will be made.

THE DOUGLAS CLUB.

The Lombard Hall Association of Chicago with a capital stock of $5,000 was granted a charter recently by the secretary of state. The incorporators are L. M. Ennis, R. H. Cowdrey, Pleasant Amick and others. The purpose of the new organization is to build and furnish a new home for the Douglas club.

THE FEAST OF THE REAL ESTATE BOARD.

The feast of Chicago's solid real estate men at the Auditorium on Tuesday evening was a brilliant affair. To say that it was an improvement on previous banquets given by the Real Estate Board is praise enough. Fully three hundred guests sat down at the tables. The occasion was marked by splendor, festivity and oratory. The daily papers have pictured the banquet in such glowing terms that there is practically nothing left for the REAL ESTATE JOURNAL to do but to indorse all that has been printed by the Chicago Tribune, Inter Ocean, Herald, Daily News and other contemporaries. The addresses by Luther Laflin Mills, President E. S. Dreyer, the Hon. Benjamin Butterworth and the Rev. Frank M. Bristol were among the most eloquent and interesting speeches of the evening. The President's address was brim full of good common hard sense and happy hits at the profession. The following extract from his speech will be found remembering:

One of the most important committees of your Board has been that on valuations, affording and giving to the courts, railroads, people interested, and the public at large, an unbiased valuation of properties in Chicago and Cook county. Its services are held in high esteem and valuations given by this committee during the last four years have been made on property, amounting to a total value of nearly twelve million dollars.

Your Board during the last year has deemed proper to call the attention of the people to the ever-growing tendency of erecting office buildings of sixteen (16) and twenty-two (22) stories in height, and have called the attention of the city council to the necessity of passing a building ordinance, restricting the height of buildings. This is a highly important matter. Health, safety, symmetry, beauty, each and all demand some restrictions, some limits, lest the sky be invaded and the clouds cover the crown of some aspiring architect's genius. The city council has the matter in charge, and they should secure the weight of your counsels, that the question may be fairly adjudicated, in the best interests of our vast metropolis.

But there is another subject, if possible, more serious in the evils of its presence and the evils of its sequence, than the one I have mentioned. I refer to the dangerous and disgraceful uncleanliness of our streets and alleys. From every decent home; from every cultured heart, comes a cry that will not down for immediate and heroic action. Is there not moral and money power sufficient in this great city to eradicate this curse? Other cities have succeeded; shall we be laggard? What will Paris, whose every street and path is like a polished parlor floor, say to us in '93? Let us to work, gentlemen, and calling to our aid every agency within the circle of our influence; urge this matter before our city fathers, until, in the name of health and decency, as well as for the fair fame of Chicago, we shall be able to breathe pure air and open the back door as well as the front, to the critical and admiring gaze of the millions, who may come here to compare notes and learn lessons of pure government; pure in material as in matters of health.

The present year is one of the greatest importance in the history of our city, and the empire of the northwest, as it precedes the year of the "World's Columbian Exposition," when we shall be proud to welcome the millions of all nationalities, and from all climes, to this green city of the inland's seas, it behooves us to do all in our power to make their stay as safe, attractive and healthful and inspiring as possible.

Owing to the financial disturbances that arose in England in December, 1890, and which culminated in the failure of Baring Bros., a financial depression made itself felt also in the United States, which made the last year less prosperous than the one preceeding it, and real estate transfers less numerous.

Chicago is making gigantic strides to be the largest city of the United States, and capitalists from all over the nation are turning their attention to Chicago real estate investments.

No other city in our glorious country can show a growth equal to ours, and no other city can show conditions as favorable to a continuous increase in population, wealth and increase of real estate values as the City of Chicago, the cynosure of the world's gaze, the city of the World's Columbian Exposition; the home of coming millions, and if I were not afraid of the poverbial modesty of Chicago real estate men, I would say at the close of this year you can all measure your profits not as heretofore by the front foot, but by the square foot.

Among many brilliant effusions, Luther Laflin Mills said:

We glorify the dreamer, the student, the philosopher, the thinker who originates and generalizes and inspires by his ideas—leaders of opinion and teachers of morals; these earn their glory; they fill their places. But to the activities of the world, from the days of the Phoenician merchant and the Mediterranean enterprise, through the centuries till now, no stronger, more persistent, more effective contribution has been made than that which has come from commerce, and the men who conduct it in all lands. Historically these men have been the world's discoverers, pioneers, colonists, founders of new states; have sent their prows through all seas, and reached the heart of every continent.

Behold, this day, the man of business in America and the part he plays in its social life and duty. The history of the country is made glorious by his record. The Yankee boy of sixty years ago, just graduated from the college of a New England country store or its farm on the hill; or a youth from elsewhere, restive under old conditions, begins his long journey to the West. He shall be our type—young exemplar of American enterprise. With no hereditary help of gold, or name, he has for his sole capital his brains, his character, his resolution. Wisely he selects for his field of toil the center of what he pictures in his dream and hope will be the home of millions shortly, and the food giving granary of the continent. Here he makes for himself a local habitation, and begins his life of trade; wise youth, and brave as wise. For a half a century he stays and toils, faithful as the stars, tireless as the tide, persistent as the sun. For him there is no privation that can deter, nor sacrifice too great for him to bear, nor peril to daunt his courage. His faith inspires a multitude of men; he proclaims the glorious prospect to the eager thousands of the east; he sees a city grow; at last he sees a mighty city grown, the creation of brain and bravery—the focus of a thousand tributaries—the triumph of enterprise and his own great victory. The old man, still young, in spite of time, himself marvels not at what he beholds, for his never doubting faith simply recognizes its fulfillment. Fortune has favored his bravery, and wealth is at his command. He looks abroad and around and contemplates the social needs. He has earned the means of philanthropy and becomes an almoner for charity.

Does his city call for a great library, he answers the demand; he helps to build academies of art and sience; he lends a glad hand to the worthy poor and gives them food and homes; to him the sacred man of God makes request, and answering he maintains missions of religion for the masses, and churches for worship. Thus his strong ship of successful endeavor is followed by a beautiful fleet of social amelioration and amenities and charities and good will to men.

He is proud of his city, and rejoices in its more than Roman triumph; and from the brain of his enterprise springs the idea of celebrating the city's victory and his country's greatness by an honoring exposition here of the world's work of civilization. The nation makes his wish a realty and decorates Chicago with its distinguished preference.

And to it, soon, will come the world to witness. Here will be gathered the results of human activities everywhere the products of all lands, fabrics of human handwork, creations of art, revelations of science—a cosmopolitan university of knowledge and culture. But there will be a greater study here pursued than that of the material and tangible creations of the hand of man. The world shall know the atmosphere of America—the air of this great West, electric with enthusiasm; it shall behold our life and know our men; in Chicago read the story of a great human endeavor, and in it recognize the creation and product of a grand enterprise, most marvelous of the centuries.

Thus, in Chicago's glory, trade and commerce will, in the magnificent procession of the world's achievements, be decorated with distinction and bear an honorable and worthy palm.

PRICES OF REAL ESTATE, JAN 1, 1873, JUST BEFORE THE PANIC.

AS SHOWN BY THE REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL, JAN. 4, OF THAT MEMORABLE YEAR.

We do not wish to infer that there are no sales being effected, or that real estate is unsalable, for such is far from being the true facts in the case. Within the past six weeks, one firm sold nearly $350,000 worth of property, and that certainly tells anything but a mournful tale. We refer to the firm of W. D. Kerfoot & Co, who made the following sales within the period above named.

Corner Madison and Clark, 4,400 sq. ft	$110,000

PRICES OF ACRES

Sales reported by W. W. Watson during six weeks ending March 24.

Feb. 11, 160 acres.....	$100,000
Feb. 11, 60 acres.....	36,000
Feb. 17, 60 acres.....	42,000
March 10, 60 acres	48,000
March 20, 60 acres.....	15,000
March 21, 4 acres.....	4,000
March 22, 16 acres	80,000
March 24, 1 acre.....	1,400

The above tracts were scattered throughout the city and suburbs, and were all made at boom prices and before the Jay Cooke failure.

The above lists clearly shows the relative value of real estate located in the different portions of the city. Take them as a body, they are a fine lot of sales and should be appreciated as the work of one firm only. In looking over the sales, it will be seen that many of them are for figures far in excess of what was ever before realized, or even expected. For instance, the lot at the corner of Madison and Clark streets, was at the rate of $25 per square foot. This is about double the price recently paid by the government for the lot on which the postoffice is to stand, and it is very near the highest figures ever paid for land in Chicago. The sale of an inside lot on Clark street at $23 per square foot in these times, will also be accepted as an emphatic proof of the firmness of Chicago real estate, and its capacity to resist the severest financial pressure.

We have also a few other sales to report, which perhaps will be of interest to many of our readers; not because of the fact of the actual transfer. But for the reason that they show the amount obtained at the last sale of the certain land, which, of course, establishes a price which governs the market value of property situated adjacent to or near it.

Messrs. Maynard & Durham recently sold lots 1 to 9 inclusive, and 11 and 12 to 29, in block 12, and lots 69 to 73 inclusive, and 1 and 2 in block 13, in Canal Trustees' subdivision of the east half of section 31 39 14, for $48,000.

The undivided half of the northeast corner of State and Randolph streets, being 24x114 feet (lot 25 b 9), was sold by eastern owners to Arthur W. Windett for $20,000.

Twelve lots in block 1. of Wright & Windett's subdivision of the southeast quarter of the southwest quarter of section 9 38 14, (corner of Fifty-third and Wallace streets), for $7,500.

A few other transactions and offers will serve to indicate the status of prices in the localities concerned.

For the Trinity church property on Jackson street, east of Wabash avenue, $1,000 a foot was lately offered and refused.

For property on Adams street west of La Salle, $700 was refused—a price fully 100 per cent above antifire rates.

A business lot 50x100 feet, east front, on Fourth avenue, between Harrison and Van Buren streets, lately sold by E. C. Cole & Co., brought $13,000, which is rather above the prices of two years ago.

A residence lot 70x200 feet on Ashland avenue, east front, was sold by the same brokers for $250 a foot, nearly all cash.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Chicago buildings thoroughly express their purpose and intention in their architectural form. The office building is an office building, covering every inch of ground, having as much window space as possible and being in every way a business structure for business purposes. The conditions presented for solution by this problem are by no means easy, and it is to the additional credit of Chicago architects that they have met the question in the frankest manner, designed their structures to be what they should be, and ignored all attempts at ornamentation when the opportunity presented itself. Their facades have no marked features, the basements are low and kept well in control, the vertical lines are often wanting, being expressed only in the windows piled over each other almost endlessly, and the horizontal bands are very slight and few in number, or, like the vertical lines, entirely absent. Nothing is left but the windows wherewith to form a front, and nothing more is needed. I am speaking of the typical facade, not of special ones; but the elements which form it are sufficiently common to make the description not inaccurate as a generality. It might be supposed from one unfamiliar with these structures, that the absence of architectural features on the facades—architectural features as we understand them in the east—would result in most monotinous and uninteresting fronts. Quite the contrary is true. There have been long buildings and high buildings of all kinds, of all shapes and sizes and styles and forms. There have likewise been a similar assortment of high structures, of varying stages of slimness and altitude. In Chicago, both these elements have been combined in a degree unparalleled in the history of architecture, and for the first time since the high building became the fashion, as it has now become necessary, architects have been enabled to give them their proper form, a form that adds to their value as structures and gives them a dignity that high structures in the east do not possess.

A controversy has arisen in the town of Thornton, in the county of Cook, that raises the question whether two municipal corporations can occupy the same space in the same time. In Chicago, where city government, county government, township government, "sanitary district" government and divers other taxing powers are superimposed, one on top of another like a plate of flapjacks, this problem seems to the judicial mind easy. But in Thornton, two municipal corporations have undertaken to occupy the same place in the same time under the same law—the law for the incorporation of cities, towns and villages. Thornton was organized under that act as a "town," and Harvey (contained in Thornton) has organized under the same act as a "village." The only statutory difference between the two municipalities is in the name; but the result of this attempt of two like governments to dominate the same territory in the same time is a conflict of authority that a court of chancery is asked to compose by decreeing a dissolution of the corporation that styles itself a village.

If the court only had power enough, we should say that the best way to settle this dispute would be to expunge the word "town" from the statute. We confess inability to discern any sense in a statute to allow townships to burden themselves with the village organization, unless the motive of the legislature was to promote the office holding industry in the rural districts.—Legal Adviser.

"The Bi-Chloride of Gold Club of Chicago, has picked off the streets and sent to Dwight for treatment sixty-one worthy men, and let me tell you, amazing though it may appear, that not a single one of this number has relapsed into his old habit, although many of them were men who were looked upon as being hopeless cases by their friends and by reformatory institutions long before Dr. Keeley took them in hand. These men are to day bread-winners, good citizens; some of them are ornaments to society. They are paying back to the Bi-Cloride Club as rapidly as they can, the amounts which it has guaranteed for their treatment. But this process is necessarily slow, and though Dr. Keeley has generously remitted $3,000 of the indebtedness, the club is heavily involved and must depend upon individual subscriptions for the prosecution of its labor of love. Over forty inebriates are at this hour knocking at its door. We believe that every one of these forty can be saved. We insist that every one of them shall be saved. Will you help to save them? You can do it if you will. As christian men and women you ought to do it.

The daily press throughout the country continue to fill their columns with alleged news of the doings of our cabinet officers relative to the difficulty with Chili. The fact of the whole matter is, that without doubt it would be hard to find one intelligent citizen who even thinks we will have a war with Chili. Yet this does not deter the alarmists from shouting that gore must be spilt, or keep men who are seeking notoriety from forming regiments and offering their services to the Government.

The "soldier epidemic" has at last reached New York, and last week at a meeting of an association in that city, a resolution was adopted to form a regiment for the purpose of wiping the Chilians from the face of the earth.

The men who were elected as officers of this regiment are supposed to be men of good sense, but it is safe to say that they are now seeking notoriety, and have no more idea that they would be called on to go to Chili, than that they would be asked at a certain date to fly.

In course of time, it is probable that James Berwick Forgan will be called upon to discharge the duties of the position now occupied by one of Chicago's foremost citizens, Lyman J. Gage, president of the First National Bank.

That he possesses qualifications of the highest as a financier, is implied by the fact that he has been called from another city and steps at once into the office of second vice-president of the greatest banking institution in America, a position made vacant by the death of the late Henry M. Kingman.

Mr. Gage has reached that period in life where he looks forward to a time when he can lay aside the great responsibilities of his position and follow Mr. Nickerson in retirement. Mr. Symonds, the first vice-president has more than once expressed a preference for country life and a rest from business, so that it may be reasonably presumed, that before many years the stalwart young Scotchman may be ordered to the helm of the banking institution which has been Chicago's pride for so many years.

A "Columbian Catholic Congress" will be held at Chicago at the time of the Exposition, beginning as now planned on September 5th, and continuing five days. It is expected that fully 5,000 delegates from dioceses in the United States alone will be present, and that the number from European countries will be very large and will include many noted dignitaries of the church. It is hoped that Pope Leo XIII himself, will accept an invitation to be present, and to open the Congress. It is believed that the gathering will be the greatest and most representative in the history of the church. The progress and standing of the Catholic church in America and throughout the world, and the social and economic questions embraced in the Pope's recent encyclical will be presented and discussed.

The ceremonies attending the dedication of the Exposition buildings, October 11, 12 and 13, 1892, are to be very elaborate and impressive. The committee having the matter in hand will devote $300,000 to that purpose. It is expected that the President of the United States and his cabinet, many of the senators and congressmen and governors of the states, numerous representatives of foreign governments, and 10,000 militia and several thousand regulars will be present. A dedication ode and marches, written for the occasion will be rendered with full choral and orchestra accompaniment. Patriotic and other music, a dedicatory oration, a pageant of symbolical floats representing the "Procession of the Centuries," and magnificent displays of fireworks will be among the chief features of the programme.

Illinois has more miles of railway than any other State in the Union, and its 10,235 miles of road has all been built within the memory of persons now living. Pennsylvania comes next with 8,978 miles and Kansas, Texas, Iowa and Ohio all lead New York which has only 7,920 miles. Georgia ranks first in mileage in the south, and California in the west. The United States has nearly half the railway mileage upon the globe, and in ten years more at the present rate of comparative increase, will have fully half the railway mileage, while at present it has the most luxuriously equipped cars, the finest engines and the best road-beds.

PROPERTY BACK FROM NORTH SHORE LINE.

Editor, REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL:

Dear Sir:—In your interesting article, entitled "Future of the North Lake Shore," which appears in your last issue of the JOURNAL, the statement is made that "the great mass of property back from the Shore line is being subdivided into cheap lots, much the same as ordinary property on the South and West sides"

This statemeat does not appear to be strictly in accordance with the facts, the most notable exception being in the attractive North Shore suburb at Kenilworth.

At Kenilworth the lots back from the Shore line are of the same high character as the Shore lots, the superior class of improvements being the same throughout the town.

All lots in Kenilworth are 100 feet front by 175 feet deep and larger, and the class of residences already built and building on the property "back from the Shore line" are of the same attractive character as those on the Shore lots. Many other creditable subdivisions on the North Shore, such as those at South Evanston, Birchwood Beach, Sheridan Drive subdivisions and others, do not, it would seem, belong to the category of "cheap and ordinary lots"

Yours Truly,
C. S. SMITH, Sec'y Kenilworth Co.

INVESTIGATING CHARITY.

It is rather singular that many persons credited with intelligence and sound judgment, should manage to conceive a wrong impression from statements found in the daily papers and never once get them down right. No newspaper, for instance, ever tried to convey the idea that the gentlemen who compose the directory of the Chicago Relief and Aid Society ever profited by a misappropriation of the funds. The complaints recently made originated in many cases with the employees of the society. Prominent business men are frequently compelled through courtesy and patriotism to accept positions of trust and honor where there are no emoluments. Any reasonable person knows that it is impossible for a business man to devote the same close attention to such matters as he is required to give to his own private business. It is a popular notion among the people at large that the pay of those who dispense charity should be small, but among wealthy men who are engaged in a lucrative business, even $5,000 is regarded but ordinary remuneration. It is perhaps true that the society in question might be run on a more economical basis and with greater advantage to the poor, but it is absurd to say that the gentlemen who composed the directory were cognizant, much less implicated, in the misappropriation of the charitable funds.

AGENTS' BUDGET.

Recent sales, however small, not yet recorded, will be reported in this column. All matter must apply to the real estate business and real estate men.

Dunlap Smith & Co., in connection with W. C. Kinney & Co., have sold for Gen. W. F. Singleton to W. L. Bradley the northwest corner of Rush and Indiana streets, 100x100 feet to alley, for $100,000. Gen. Singleton takes back a 198 year lease at an annual rental of $6,000 per year, payable quarterly in gold. The ground is improved at present with five three story residences which will be removed. Mr. Singleton will erect an eight story flat with basement to be used as an apartment building to cost $150,000. The building is to be completed on or before the first of May, 1893. This is one of the best locations for an apartment house in the city, as it is within walking distance of the business center of the city. There are already established in this locality some of the finest and most expensive apartment houses in the city.

C. F. Ziegler reports the sale of a three story flat building on Loomis street for $7,400 all cash. Also a residence in Auburn Park for $5,000, a two story flat building in Englewood for $5,000, and a lot on Oakley avenue, near Twelfth street for $1,900.

The Iowa alien land law has been declared unconstitutional in a decision by Judge Waterman in the District court in the case of the state against the heirs of Ralph Heath. The county attorney filed a petitition asking that the estate be forfeited to the state in accordance with the alien law. The devisees, who mostly live in Ireland, demurred, and the demurrer was sustained, the judge ruling that the rights of aliens are fully secured in the existing treaties and that the law is invalid.

Everett J. Pilgrim, formerly of H. C. Morey & Co., 87 Washington street, entering into the real estate business for himself last October at room 504 Chamber of Commerce Building. Mr. Pilgrim will do a general real estate and loaning business, and will make a speciality of West side property. Mr. Pilgrim has charge of the Morey estate, which is situated in all parts of Cook county. He has had a fair success so far, having made several good sales, and has under way several good contracts which he expects to close within the next few days. Mr. Pilgrim expects to open a large suite of offices in some prominent building. When the spring trade opens up he expects a large number of applicants for loans and considerable outside inquiry.

Peter VanVlissingen, 95 Washington street, reports the following sales: 1301 to 1309 Milwaukee avenue, s w front near Wabansia avenue, 122x101, with five three story and basement brick store and flat buildings for John T. Bunting to Leo Ernst, price $64,000. Also, No. 4146 Cottage Grove avenue, 26x125 with three-story and cellar brick, stone front, store and flat building, $14,000, for Richard World to W. Cohn. Mr. Van Vlissingen reports the market healthy for investment property and money in fair demand.

The meeting of the stockholders of the Harvey Steel Car Co., was held today. The report of the President showed that the sales of land during the year amounted to $870,000, also the capital stock of $1,000,000 to be fully paid and a surplus of $342,780,17. The following Board of Directors were elected: T. W. Harvey, N. K Fairbank, John P. Wilson, D. B. Lyman, F. H. Revell, Morris Sellers, A. G. Spalding, A. C. Badger and W. D. Preston. And at the meeting of the Directors subsequently held the following officers were elected: T. W. Harvey, President; F. H, Revell, Vice President; A. C. Badger, Treasurer; G. P. Benton, Secretary; Morris Sellers, John P. Wilson and A. G. Spalding Executive Committee. In addition to the eight factories now completed, there are three new factories in course of construction. The sale of lots at this time are reported to be fully up to the average since the beginning, total sales being about $2,000,000.

REVISED PLANS OF THE GOLUMBUS BUILDING.

H. J. Furber who recently returned from Italy is preparing to begin the construction of the new Columbus building. It will be at the southeast corner of State and Washington streets, and will be built by Judge Higgins and Mr. Furber, the joint owners of the property.

The plans as first announced have been changed somewhat by the architect, W. W. Boyington, and contemplate a structure of fourteen stories, of which two stories will be above the cornice. The lot has a frontage of 100 feet on State street and 90 feet on Washington. The five lower stories will be occupied by stores and the rest of the building will be given up to offices. The material used in the construction will be stone, terra cotta and steel, with a four foot fire wall on the south side. The feature of the building will be the two stores on the ground floor, on either side of the main entrance. They will be forty feet wide and finished in bronze and onyx. It is estimated that the cost of the decorations and fixtures of the two stores will amount to $175,000. At the rear of each store will be a picture in glass mosiac, one representing the presentation of Columbus at the court of Isabella and the other the landing of Columbus in America. The contracts for the making of these mosiacs, which are to be ten feet in width and eighteen feet long, has been placed at Venice. The ceiling beams of the stores will be of bronze, with Mexican onyx ceilings. Over the entrance to the building a ten-foot bronze statue of Columbus will be placed, and it is now being made by Ezeikel, the famous American sculptor at Rome. The floors throughout the building are to be of mosiac and some rare old Venetian designs will be used.

The height of the tower from the sidewalk to the top of the glass globe will be 240 feet. The globe on top is to be of opalescent glass and the continents marked in color, with a cut jewel locating Chicago, to be lighted with a 3,000 candle power electric lamp. The cost of the building will be about $800,000. The style of architecture in detail is Spanish renaissance. The various coats of arms of Spanish royality will be introduced in the cornice and elsewhere. Work will be begun May 1, and the structure will be completed by May 1, 1893.

RULES FOR THE INSPECTION AND GRADING OF LUMBER.

Inspectors of lumber are not manufacturers and must measure and inspect lumber as they find it, of full length and width (except as to wane, which must be measured out and inspected in a lower grade), making no allowance for the purpose of raising grade.

Inspectors must use their best judgment, based upon these rules for their guidance.

The standard knot shall not exceed 1¼ inches in diameter, and must be of a sound character.

Splits are always more or less damage to a piece of lumber. An allowance must be made, either in determining the quality or quantity, according to the nature of the split. A split extending to exceed one foot will reduce it to one grade lower.

Lumber should be sawed plump thickness, otherwise it is not considered marketable, and must be reduced to the next standard thickness or at least one grade lower, on account of thinness.

A cull below the standard thickness is a mill cull.

A cull which will not work one half of its size free from all defects, is a mill cull and no recognized value and no account is neccessary to be made of it.

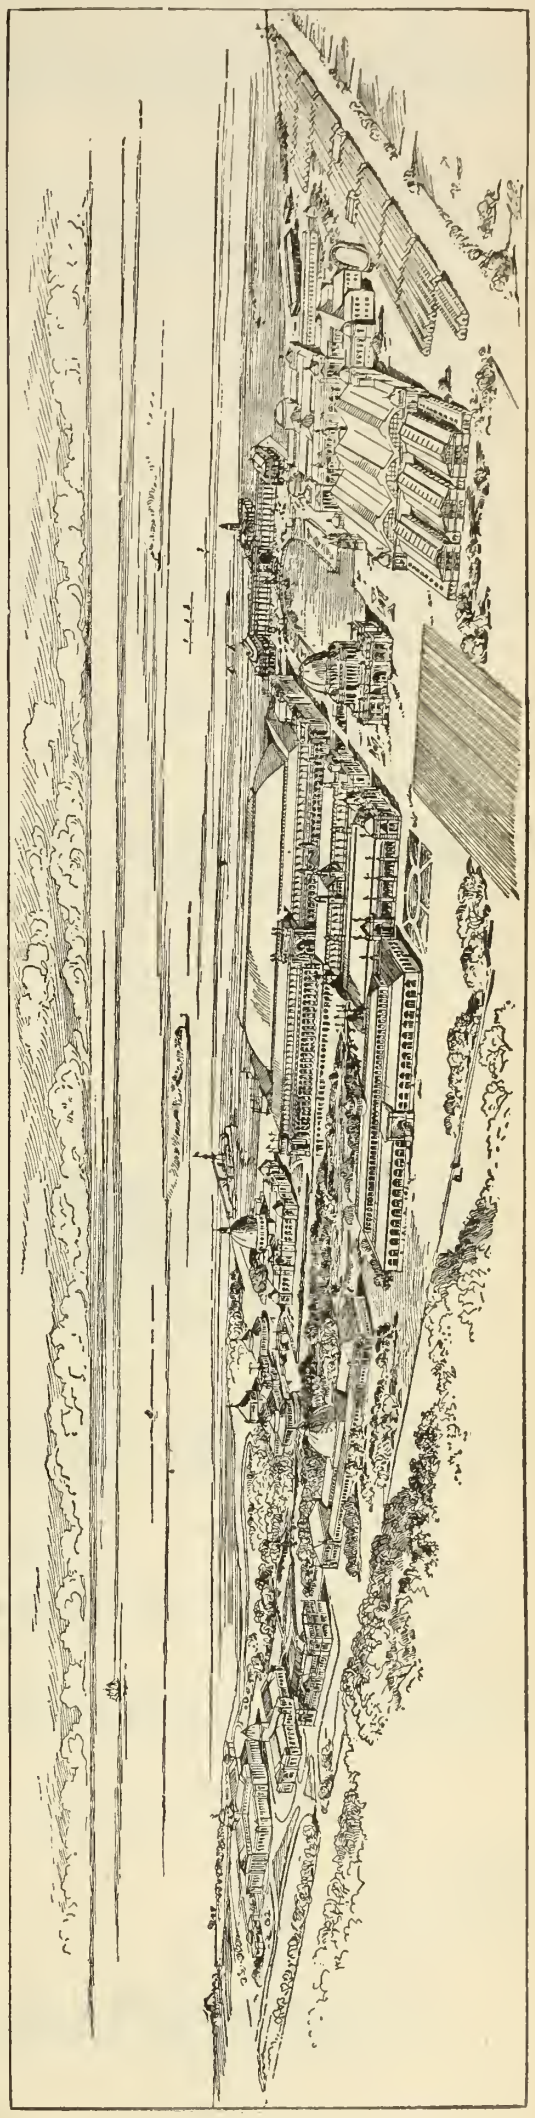
When lumber or timber does not come up to the grade or contract, it must be placed in the next lower grade named.

Lumber sawed for specific purposes, such as axles, bolsters, tongues, reaches, newels, balusters, squares, etc., must be inspected with a view to the adaptability of the piece for the intended use, as in many cases, it cannot be used for other purposes.

Wagon stock must be clear, cut from good, live, sound, tough, straight-grained timber.

Timbers must be free from unsound knots. Sound hearts not showing on the ontside will be allowed.

In the grade of firsts and seconds, the purchaser is entitled to the full average of firsts, which must not be less than 33⅓ per cent.



Standard lengths are always recognized as being 12, 14, and 16 feet. Shorter than 12 and longer than 16 feet does not come within the range of standard. In black walnut and cherry an exception is made, and ten feet is a standard length. Shorter or longer than standard lengths, in all varieties of hardwood lumber, except in counter tops, are reduced one grade lower.

Common and cull lumber must be 8 feet and over long, except cherry and walnut, which must be 6 feet and over long.

Mixed lots, containing boards, planks, flooring, bolsters, reaches, etc., shall be measured and inspected according to the rules governing the measurement and inspection of boards and planks.

Flooring strips should be 4 and 6 inches in width; 1 and 1¼ inches in thickness. Other widths and thicknesses shall be designated as special sizes. It must have one face and two edges clear.

THE SUBSCRIPTION BOOKS —OF THE—
Highland Lassie Mining Co.
NOW OPEN AT THE
Main Floor, 120 Chamber of Commerce Building

There are three mines on one continuous Lode 4,500 feet long. Two of the mines are working right and left from a deep canon into the side of the mountain, by several tunnels running in on the vein of mineral, thusthe mines are drained of water and have plenty of space below to dump rock down, and bins to put the rich ore in. At the Exchange room can be seen reports of the mines, assays and mill runs of value of ore, maps and several hundred pounds of silver and lead ore taken from the mines. This property is located in the midst of the very best and largest producing Mineral district in South Western Colorado
These mines are working day and night. There is plenty of good timber.
The first 10,000 shares are now offered at the low figure of 20 per cent, or $2,00 per share.
Call and examine into this enterprise.

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company's 6,150 miles of road traverses a vast territory, rich in all the resources that insure industrial success.

The Industrial Department is conversant with the Iron, Coal, Lumber and Tanbark, the Water-Power (both river and artesian) for factory and electric power purposes, the markets, the transportation and financial facilities, and other interests on the line pertaining to industrial development, and disseminates information concerning same.

A number of new factories have been induced to locate--largely through the instrumentality of this Company—at enterprising towns on its lines.

As the interest of the Company is to secure the location of industries at places where the surroundings will insure their permanent success, the information furnished a particular industry is pertinent and reliable.

In the Eastern States and in other parts of the world factories are so congested and distant from the actual markets as to result in fierce and destructive competition. That the West is taking a place as one of the great manufacturing territories of the world is forcibly impressing itself upon discerning and enterprising manufacturers. Steps should be taken by such while the field is as yet not fully covered, and while inducements are still being offered, to locate in the West.

Individuals or companies wishing to embark capital in Western industry can find a profitable field.

26 MINUTES FROM UNION DEPOT!

ON THE CHICAGO, BURLINGTON & QUINCY R. R.

56 TRAINS DAILY.

WATER, from the CELEBRATED MINERAL SPRINGS will be conveyed to all portions of the village.

A system of Drainage has also been adopted by the Village Board of Trustees, both water and sewer systems have been developed by Engineer Benezette Williams, and will be completed as speedily as possible.

These improvments make this suburb in all particulars, the most desirable about Chicago, as a place for Homes with schools and churches.

The train service is complete.

Rapid transit is a fact.

This location is 96 feet above level of Lake Michigan. The ground high and rolling. The streets are shaded by trees of more than 20 years growth, In fact the entire village is a beautiful Park. Lots can now be secured at prices that insures purchasers large returns for their money in the Near Future. All desiring Homes for their families, should look this property over before purchasing elsewhere.

Call and go out with us any day, and we promise to surprise you with the advantages and beauty of this place.

C. C. COLLINS,

Rooms 60-61, 175 Dearborn Street.

Next 100 prizes—100 Silver Butter Dishes, etc., warranted heavy plate.

Next 500 prizes consists of Heavy Plated Silver Kettles, Butter Dishes, Fruit Baskets, Biscuit Jars, Sugar Shells, Butter Knives, etc. etc., all fully warranted, making a total of 689 splendid rewards, the value of which will aggregate $3,500.

This grand Literary Competition is open to everybody everywhere. The following are the conditions:

1. The words must be constructed only from letters in the words, "The Illustrated Agriculturist" and must be only such as are found in Webster's Unabridged Dictionary, in the body of the book, none of the supplement to be used.

2. The words must be written in rotation and numbered 1, 2, 3 and so on, for facilitating in deciding the winners.

3. Letters cannot be used oftener than they appear in the words "The Illustrated Agriculturist" for instance; the word "egg" cannot be used as there is but one "g" in the three words.

4. The list containing the largest number of words will be awarded first prize, and so on in order of merit. Each list as it is received will be numbered, and if two or more tie, the first received will be awarded first prize, and so on, therefore the benefit of sending in early will readily be seen.

5. Each list must be accompanied by $1 for six months subscription to THE AGRICULTURIST.

PIANOS AT MANUFACTURERS' PRICES.

NO. 1.

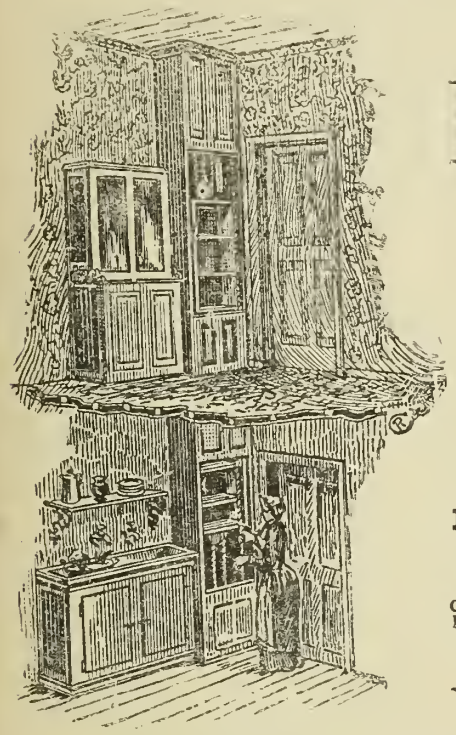
The STYLE "D" piano is seven and one-third Octaves, has overstrung Scale, three Unisons, Elastic double repeating Action, full iron frame and No. 1 Ivory Keys. We use the full swing front music desk with engraved panels and the upright folding fall board, which gives the instrument a very attractive appearance. Every piece is double veneered on both sides, making it impossible for it to warp or check. It has an exceptionally sweet and full tone; the scales are unusually well and evenly balanced, producing remarkable singing quality. Heighth 57 inches. Length, 63 inches. Depth, 28½ inches. Finished in Ebony, Mahogany, Oak and French Walnut Veneers.

NO. 2.

STYLE "E" has seven and one-third Octaves, over-strung Scale, three Unisons, Elastic double repeating Action, and full iron Frame. It has the full swing front music desk with handsomely engraved panels and the upright folding fall board, and also paneled ends. It has an exceptionally sweet and full tone; the scales are unusually well and evenly balanced, producing remarkable singing quality. Heighth, 55 inches. Length, 62½ inches. Depth, 28 inches.

NO. 3.

STYLE "C" is the same as STYLE "E," except the ends, which are not paneled.



NO. 4.

STYLE "A" is seven and one-third Octaves, overstrung Scale, three strings improved sounding board and sliding music desk. Buy from the Factory at Wholesale Prices for Cash.

Highland Lassie Mining Co.

NOW OPEN AT THE

Main Floor, 120 Chamber of Commerce Building

There are three mines on one continuous Lode 4,500 feet long. Two of the mines are working right and left from a deep canon into the side of the mountain, by several tunnels running in on the vein of mineral, thus the mines are drained of water and have plenty of space below to dump rock down, and bins to put the rich ore in. At the Exchange room can be seen reports of the mines, assays and mill runs of value of ore, maps and several hundred pounds of silver and lead ore taken from the mines. This property is located in the midst of the very best and largest producing Mineral district in South Western Colorado.

These mines are working day and night. There is plenty of good timber.

The first 10,000 shares are now offered at the low figure of 20 per cent, or $2,00 per share.

Call and examine into this enterprise.

A Special Meeting of the Stock-holders of the National Mining and Stock Exchange Co, will be held Feb. 18th, 1892, for the purpose of increasing the Board of Directors from 7 to 11 and may elect to fill places and transect any other business necessary, at the Exchange room 120 Chamber Commerce Building. By order of majority of the Directors. A. P. W. Skinner, Sec'ty.

1,000 shares of the Treasury stock is offered for sale at $3.50 per share.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

Business is good in quality, but not in quantity. Everyone has faith in the situation. Money continues to accumulate, but securities do not advance correspondingly. The bond market is stiff and healthy, though the advance has been nothing like as great as some anticipated.

The world has but recently passed through a great financial crisis, which, though repressed by prompt arrangements, was none the less real. Then came the after effects—followed, in turn, by the prudence of convalescence, and the confidence of returning hopes. The established currents of trade were disturbed by Congressional action, and as a result fresh channels and drift have been created. Trade is still searching for and sounding these channels, and until they have been found and buoyed commerce must necessarily proceed cautiously. Our foreign trade is good; the exports for the last year having exceeded those of the preceding year by about $113,000,000. But this satisfactory condition of affairs has been brought about by the good fortune of the farmers of the United States in conjunction with the crop failures of Europe. In the ordinary nature of things, such a combination is not likely to occur again for years. Hence it ceases to be a permanent factor in the economics of the trade of this country. It has tided us over what might have been an exceedingly bad spot, but it does not assure the future. When a man is poor, he has to strive harder for himself. It is the same way with nations. The comparative poverty of Europe, brought about by recent losses, will compel it to further economize. The prospects are that it will, for a season at least, raise more for itself and take less from this side. This fact is frequently lost sight of, or slurred over. The leaders of trade and finance are informed as to these matters, and are shaping accordingly.

For a long time, the United States has been the favorite of fortune. Its resources are so great that it has not only been able to bountifully provide for itself, but to fill the voids of the older countries where population is denser and the resources relatively less. In return, Europe has poured out from its hoarded treasures. The time has about come when the United States must rely mainly, if not wholly, upon itself.

There is here a lesson to be studied and taken to heart. It has long been wearisome to hear this and that one uttering such bland announcements as: "Europe must soon be shipping to us gold; Europe must shortly take more of our produce; Europe will come to the support of Wall street, and so maintain values; Europe will of necessity shoulder our silver muddle, etc." The probabilities are that Europe will do none of these things. Certainly not in the off-handed way in which its intentions are confidently announced. There is a "give and take" in these matters, and just now Europe prefers taking.

If trade is to revive and grow, the inspiration must come from within. There is no reason why a start should not be made almost at once. According to the last statement of the New York banks, the deposits reached the enormous total of $509,514,000, the gain for the week under this head exceeding $12,000,000. Never has the half billion mark been reached before. The same condition obtains pretty generally at all the financial centers.

Business on Wall street has been mostly of a professional character. Boston and Philadelphia have supported their favorites, and London has sold quite heavily. The general tendency has been downward. Western Union has been well maintained, and has hardened. The talk of manipulation in Whisky Trust has again revived, and the property has a drooping appearance. There also seems to be some truth of rumors as to competition soon to be met. The earnings of railways continue to be mostly satisfactory. During the past month the earnings of St. Paul increased $474,000; but those of Northern Pacific declined $311,000. Announcement has been made by the Burlington of the issue of bonds, $7,639,000. Stockholders have the privilege of subscribing at par to the extent of 10 per cent of their holdings. These bonds carry 5 per cent interest, and are convertible into stock at par.

On the Chicago Board of Trade, the tendency of wheat has been downward. The May option has sold as low as 88 cents, but has recovered somewhat. Foreigners are selling, regarding the resources as ample. Prospect of next year's crop in the United States is apparently improving. There are still some bulls in the market. The bull in the wheat pit can toss the price pretty high when things are going his way, but, unlike the bear, he does not know how to climb down.

The bill now before Congress to restrain trading in options excites considerable attention in some circles, though traders, as a rule, are disposed to regard it as impracticable. President Hamill of the Chicago Board of Trade has proceeded to New York, in order to discuss the matter, from the professional side, with President Thomas of the Produce Exchange and President Ide of the Cotton Exchange. The affair naturally interests the members of the various boards throughout the country.

Cotton continues, with some fluctuations, to be extremely weak. Speculators who bought to hold are being gradually shaken off, and factors in the South are lending money upon next year's crop with great caution. This last course, which is perhaps only natural, has a tendency to increase the gloom of the small planters. Another thing against the South is the delay of the government in paying the bounties upon sugar The shoe and leather trades are more active. In dry goods an improved inquiry is noted, and preparations for the spring trade are being pushed with good prospects. Manufacturers of iron are, as a rule, fully employed, but prices are still a source of much complaining.

The bank clearings for the week at Chicago were as follows:

Saturday	12,918,763
Monday	17,000,000
Tuesday	16,747,000
Wednesday	16,818,997

Of the fifty-eight cities of the United States, available for purposes of comparison, forty show an increase, the remaining eighteen declining returns.

The total gain in the returns for the United States, compared with those of the corresponding week of last year, is $215,228,000, or better than 21.6 per cent. Thus, the promise of the year is well maintained. Of the above total gain, we must credit the Empire city with $173,814,000, or not quite 30.2 per cent of its separate returns, leaving the gain for outside points as $41,414,000, or nearly 9.9 per cent. These gains reflect the actual situation, which may be summed up as follows: There is a satisfactory general advance (21.6 per cent); considerable speculative activity; progress in trade and manufacture, though real, is not so pronounced. Of course as before explained, the returns for New York city do not, by any means, entirely reflect speculation, nor those for outside points wholly trade and manufacture. But aggregating them, we get (approximately) the general condition of trade for the entire country. And separating them, we get (again approximately) an idea of the parts, which united, make the whole.

Prosperity at the great centre is as reflected by the bank clearings, again the striking feature. San Francisco and New Orleans form exceptions which give but emphasis to the rule. The gains are indeed remarkable, alike by reason of their uniformity and strength. New York fittingly leads with 30.2 per cent. Then come Boston, 8 per cent; Chicago 14.4 per cent; Philadelphia, 12.7 per cent; St. Louis, 7.8 per cent; Baltimore, 20.8 per cent; and Pittsburg, 15 per cent. The list might be extended. Thus, Milwaukee, Cleveland and Denver are three typical cities. For some time the returns from these points have been unsatisfactory, the list berore us gives us for them gains of 14.7 per cent, 15 3 per cent, and 22.2 per cent, respectively. The transition is somewhat startling, and we should, for our part, have preferred a change less abrupt. Still such transitions are emphatic evidence of a vitality which, if only properly directed, might accomplish considerable things.

The principle declines are: San Francisco, 5.2 per cent; New Orleans, 17.2 per cent; and Galveston, 8.2

per cent. We have already explained what is amiss at New Orleans. The shrinkages at San Francisco and Galveston, outlying points far separated, might easily be misconstrued. Still, back of circulation at the extremities is a phenomenon deserving attention.

Canada gets back once more to the right side, yielding an advance of $2,311,000, or rather better than 27 per cent.

Continuing the analysis for the same weeks but by groups of states, we have:

	WEEK ENDING JAN. 29, 1892.	WEEK ENDING JAN. 30, 1991.	PERCENT AGE.
New Engl'd States.	$ 102,280,673	$ 94,902,424	Inc 7.6
Middle "	845,750,602	662,133,442	" 27.7
Southern "	47,683,083	47,651,710	" Non
Western "	42,142,048	34,488,033	" 22.2
Northwestern "	113,067,427	97,236,363	" 16.1
Southwestern "	36,568,145	34,737,278	" 5.2
Far Western "	25,686,551	26,458,271	Dec 2.9
Totals,.....	$ 1,213,178,529	$ 997,950,053

This summary shows some change. There are six out of the seven groups yielding advances, but the solitary instance of shrinkage moves from the southern to the Far Western states. The Southern group makes a nominal advance, being but a small fraction of one per cent. The shrinkage at the Far Western states is not great, limited as it is to 2.9 per cent.

THE LOCAL STOCK MARKET.

The week has not been one of activity, though it has presented some interesting features. The cable lines seem to have lost some of their attractions, though the West side cable has received a fair amount of attention. In this class of property, the movements in prices have been narrow. Among the industrials, Diamond Match has displayed considerable vitality, brought about it is believed, in measure, by the manipulation of insiders.

North side cable has varied but little. Last Saturday the price was 179½, regular. On Thursday, the ruling price was 180. The average daily sales do not reach 150 shares. West side cable has attracted more trading, and the variations have been wider, though comparatively narrow. Saturday last, this property (regular) opened at 135¼ and closed at 135⅝. For the account ranged from 136 to 136½; 535 shares sold the opening day. On Monday 2,800 shares were sold. On the following day, the opening was at 136. A vigorous effort was made to advance the property, and this carried the price to 137. The offerings, however, proved more than the purchasers cared to shoulder, and the close was at 136, same as opening. The market, however, acted heavily, as indicated in the fact that, for the account closed at 136⅝, a decline of ⅝ from close of preceding day. Upward of 1,700 shares changed hands. On the following days, the volume of business tapered off. The lowest price for the week was 135¼.

City Railway ranged for the week from 310 to 312. Diamond Match has been the principal feature of the week, and has advanced sharply. But the decline has been almost as rapid. This property started out, Saturday last, at 139 and lifted to 140, the trading being active with over 400 shares passing. The culminating price was recorded on Tuesday, the top being 149¾. There was a liberal amount of trading (760 shares)and the close was easier, at 148. Free offerings on Wednesday, further broke the price. Range for day, 147½ to 146, the close being at the latter figure.

On Thursday, sellers continued to press the market with the result that, after opening at 144¼, the close was at 141, with but 330 shares disposed of. The business of this company is growing, and it is proposed to increase the capital to the extent of $1,500,000 Some anxiety is displayed by the management as to the early exhaustion of its pine forests. During the past year the company cut 14,170,000 feet of lumber, and bought 9,410,000 feet. It is thought that at the present rate of consumption the pine lands of the company will be exhausted within seven or eight years.

Street's Stable Car line has exhibited a drooping tendency during the past week, but the range has been comparatively narrow. Ruling price (for regular); Saturday 38, Tuesday, 38⅜. Closing price for Thursday, 37¾.

There was nothing done in the Western Stone and Arc Light.

Calumet and Chicago Canal and Dock continues to attract attention. Manipulation by insiders is freely imputed, but the managers say the property is conducted on conservative lines, and that there is nothing speculative about it. Some vigorous buying lifted the property to 81 at the close; 1,400 shares passed.

American Strawboard received no attention during the earlier days of the week. On Thursday, the market was shaped for booming. The demand was sharp and the close for regular was 86¼. The range of for the account was 86 to 88, the close being at top price.

Packing and Provision steady. Range for week 50½ to 50, Thursday's close being at the lower figure. Closing price for preferred stock 47, with little antecedent fluctuations.

Brewing and Malting registers a moderate advance. Range for the week 32 to 32⅞, the closing (Thursday) being 32¼ Last week 30 was touched, the lowest on record. The war of prices explains the decline. But the syndicate is the strongest interest in the brewing trade and enjoys several advantages not possessed by its rivals. The war promises to be somewhat protracted but in the end it looks as if the competing concerns would have to knock under.

The bond market is dull and weak. Trade little more than nominal. Range for Gas Light and Coke 5's. 87⅝ to 86¾, the ruling price on Thursday being 86⅞.

Among the transactions of the week the following may be enumerated:

American Trust & Savings Bank at 137½, First National Bank, at 350, Continental National Bank, at 160, Linseed oil at 30, Chicago Opera House 6's. at 100. North Chicago City Railway 4½'s.; on Wednesday $33,000 changed hands in small lots at 94¾. Western Stone 5's. at 94. New York Biscuit Co, range from 73½ to 72¾.

RENTS AND TAXES.

Persons who do not own a business employing capital are the ones who should own a home. If they possess, or can save, enough to pay for a home, they can find no other investment so surely profitable. The questions of taxes, insurance and repairs figures entirely in favor of the home.

The fundamental mistake usually made in this problem is in assuming that those who own no property pay no taxes. This is a most delusive error. The truth is, that they who most sorely feel the weight of taxation are the ones who own nothing taxable. All that they consume has been taxed before it reached them. The tax paid by previous owners upon the articles they consume has been added to the price of the articles. Taxes are not subtracted from profits, but they are added to the original cost; and both taxes and costs are elements in the final cost of necessaries and comforts to consumers. The latter do not directly pay taxes, but they indemnify taxpayers for having paid them.

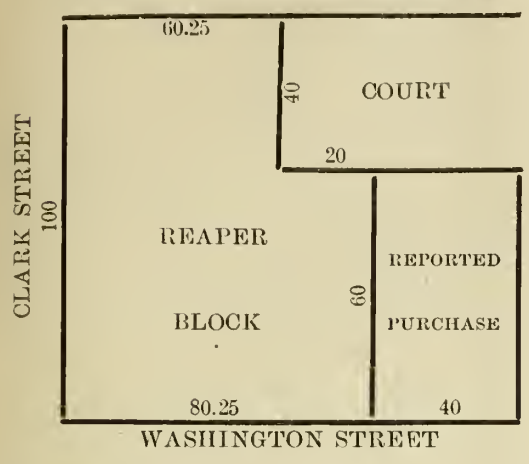
Well then, does the renter avoid taxes? Here is his position in relation to the property problem: He indemnifies the property owner for repairs, insurance and taxes, and what remains of the rent money is the property owner's profit.

Say the market value of the money is six per cent interest; the landlord knows what his taxes and insurance will be, and estimates probable cost of repairs. The sum of these items he adds to six per cent interest on the cost of his property, and then fixes his rent at figures which will produce the aggregate in nine or ten months of occupancy.

He leaves himself this margin as an allowance against defaulting tenants and times when the property is untenanted, and he also makes allowance for some trouble and expense in collecting rents. Taking one year with another, when there is an approximate equality between supply and demand in the market this is about the way rent prices are arrived at.

Now take the honest renter who has always paid for every day's use of the house he has occupied. He has directly paid the owner the profits of his investment, and has indirectly paid taxes, insurance, repairs, and the loading or margin which is allowed against the average defaults, etc. The aggregate of honest renters makes good the defalcations of the dead-beats This element is always included in the market estimates made in the house-renting business.

But let a tenant become a house-owner and live in his own house. He has a decided advantage over the other landlord. He collects rent as he goes along for every hour after he enters his house. He collects it without any expense. He is in a position to take the "stich in time," and does it at odd moments in a way so that his repairs do not cost him what they do the other landlord. Moreover he continually sees ways of utilizing spare time to improve his house and increase its value. It is very safe to say that wherever the average landlord will realize a seven per cent profit on his investment, the one who lives in his own house will clear twelve per cent.



We care not how the question is approached, its fair and logical consideration will always bring a verdict in favor of house owning and against renting. —Investment reporter.

REPORTED SALE OF THE SEARS PROPERTY

HISTORY OF THE REAPER BLOCK—THE CUMMINGS LEASE—DIAGRAM OF THE GROUND AREA.

A story was put on foot Thursday to the effect that the McCormick estate, owner of the Reaper Block, at the corner of Clark and Washington streets, had purchased the property east of that building on Washington street, having a frontage of 40 feet and now occupied by a five-story building. The price paid was said to have been $220,000. The owners, the Sears Estate of Boston, were holding the property at $225,000. On the property now known as the Reaper Block, together with the land thus acquired, it was said that a sixteen-story building would be erected to replace the present structure.

This is merely a re-hash with variations of an article which appeared in the JOURNAL nearly a year ago. Our readers will remember that in the issue of the JOURNAL of April 25, 1891, we stated that architects Burnham & Root were making plans for a sixteen-story structure to rival the Chicago Opera House. The new building was to occupy the entire ground space now covered by the Reaper Block, with a frontage of one hundred feet on Clark by eighty and one-fourth feet on Washington street. The main floor was to be divided into stores of convenient size, and the remaining fifteen stories were to be arranged for offices. The plans contemplated a building of very imposing appearance with interior arrangements superior to those of any similar structure in the city. The new building would be known by its old name, the Reaper Block. The fact that the leases of present tenants expire on May 1st, 1892, was stated as indicating the date at which building operations would be commenced.

The Reaper Block will doubtless remain in the hands of the McCormick Estate for many years to come. For some time it has been the subject of envy and numerous negotiations on the part of many would-be purchasers, but the attachment naturally felt toward it by members of the McCormick family, together with its great and increasing value, has combined to keep the property practically out of the market. Similar considerations stand in the way of a lease. It is said that Mrs. McCormick would insist on lessees naming any new building erected on the premises the Reaper Block; that she would not permit the sale or use of liquor on the premises, and would exact other stipulations that would hardly be acceptable to a large body of men such as usually comprise syndicates and corporations.

Despite these hindrances, numerous capitalists have made favorable offers for the property. Nearly a year ago a syndicate offered $1,000,000 for the corner, but their offer was refused. This was $125 per square foot, the highest price at that time yet proposed for real estate in the city. The Title Guarantee & Trust Co. offered to take a ninety-nine year lease of the property at an annual rental of $60,000, or six per cent net on a cash valuation of $1,000,000, but its proposition was also refused. The following paragraph is quoted from the JOURNAL of April 25, 1891:

The demolition of the Reaper Block will cause a sigh of regret to escape the lips of many old-time residents of Chicago, as it was for many years the finest office building that the city afforded. The property has been in the hands of the McCormick family for over thirty years and was known as the Reaper Block even before the fire. The old Reaper Block that was destroyed in the big fire, was bought by Mr. McCormick in the early part of the sixties from the Lyman estate of Kentucky. It was built in 1851 and was then known as the Lyman Building. Mr. McCormick changed its name to the "Reaper Block" as soon as he acquired possession of it, and made a great many improvements on it. The Reaper was one of the first buildings to be rebuilt after the great fire, having been begun in the spring of '72 and was completed one year later. It was planned by Mr. Van Arsdale and A. M. Coulter supervised its construction. It cost in the neighborhood of $150,000, and was the most expensive office building in the city at that time. It was for many years the home of a great many of Chicago's most prominent lawyers, and a great many tenants that moved in at its completion are still to be found there. To them the destruction of the present building will be like the loss of an old friend.

THE REAL ESTATE MARKET.

The situation has not been sufficiently developed as yet to guarantee a satisfactory real estate market for the year. Dealers are still awaiting the revival of activity which was expected to follow in the wake of a number of important movements made during the first weeks of January. They are still impatiently waiting for the revival in general lines of business; of which those early sales were supposed to give premonition. The great majority however, anticipate a good spring trade. They bring forward a number of logical arguments as grounds for their expectations. The most common of these is the condition of general prosperity throughout the country and especially in Chicago. The fact that money is becoming quite plentiful in the city and that local bankers are becoming somewhat uneasy on account of the surplus money, for which there is no active demand, is cited as another reason why investment in real estate lines may be expected. Another stock argument like that of the prosperity of the city is the well defined and well understood tendency on the part of manufacturers to secure locations in Chicago. In theory, at least, there is sufficient ground for expecting an improvement in the real estate market as regards tangible results. In achievement, the last week has been an uninteresting one. In fact, the early activity of the year which resulted in a series of surprising transactions has been lost in a monotony of small sales and protracted negotiations in larger transactions. Judged by the standard of the transfer list, the month of January fell below the corresponding month of last year. The decline amounts to almost $4,000,000. The transfer list, however, is far from being a satisfactory index of the market, and each year it becomes more unreliable. There were certain conditions connected with the transfers made during January of 1891, which carried the total for that month far above what the relative standing of the month warranted. The difference between the business of January 1891 and the month just ended is by no means so great as indicated by the difference in transfer totals. One reason among others, for the unreliability of the transfer list as an index of the market, is the amount of exchanges of property which it represents, at prices in many cases fictitious. When it is impossible to sell for reasonable cash figures, parties professionally interested in the market, satisfy their impatience by exchanging their property for some other, possibly even more heavily mortgaged This exchanging requires very little money, and as both properties are, as a rule, recorded at high figures, a re-sale, at a good price, is more easily made in consequence.

There is no question that inquiry, which is the broker's best substitute for activity, is good. It is claimed by dealers, whose specialty is heavy investments, that the inquiries at the present time are backed by ample resources. One feature of the market is the desire of financial, social and commercial organizations to identify themselves with the construction of buildings. During the week, the announcement was made of the intention on the part of an eastern publishing company to erect a $300,000 building which should act as an advertisement, as well as be an income producing property. The Chicago Press Club has secured an option on forty-eight feet of land on Michigan avenue, south of the Athletic Club building, with the intention of improving it with a Press Club building. The option is for the purchase of the ground from the A. N. Kellogg estate for $125,000. The Press Club will make efforts to secure a purchaser for the fee and take a lease back for a term of ninety-nine years.

The question of the relation of the insurance men of the city on the high building problem has been raised by the action of the Underwriters' Association in rating three typical high office buildings. This Association has never adopted any schedule for the rating of fire proof office buildings. Such ratings as have been made were considered temporary or provisional. An application was made for a new rate on the Rookery building, which has been carried for some time on a provisional rate of 50 cents on a $100. In making the new rate, the High Building Committee on the Underwriters Association, adopted a basis rate of 40 cents for the first 100 feet of structure. An addition of 10 cents was made for the extra hight. An equal addition was made for the exposure on the south to a non-fire-proof building. Another addition of 10 cents was made because the building was not equipped with stand-pipes and fire-escapes. The action of the Underwriters' in promulgating this rating, is considered an indication of what may be expected when application is made for other office buildings. It has therefore created no little comment among real estate men, insurance men and architects. There is a division of opinion among them. Some believe that there is no call for an increased rate on account of buildings not being provided with stand-pipes and ladders. They claim that fire-proof buildings such as the Rookery or the Woman's Temple, do not need such appliances. It is still a question whether the Underwriters' Association will fully endorse the rates made by its High Building Committee. Until some definite action is taken, it will be difficult to decide just what effect it will have on the limitation of buildings.

NORTH SHORE ACRES SOLD.

The JOURNAL's North Shore article of two weeks ago pointed in the right direction. It awakened inquiry and created an interest among owners. This week a deed was placed on record in Waukegan, the county seat of Lake county, from R. R. Johnson to James G. Cozzens for 81¾ acres of land in sections 4 and 9, just one mile north of the city limits on State street. Consideration $16,000. This land is the highest point on the Bluffs north of Waukegan and is finely located right on the line of improvements, and is distined to be the choice residence district on the North Shore. Sales have been made within a week of 54 acres, one mile this side, at about $800 per acre.

The JOURNAL's new atlas will show the location of this land.

SIX STORY BUILDING FOR NORTH SIDE.

Property in the vicinity of Michigan and Cass streets is to be improved quite extensively this season. Plans are being prepared for a six story building to be erected on Michigan street, adjoining the northwest corner of Cass street. The building will be 50 by 100 feet in size, and will be arranged for wholesale trade. The lot is owned by Mr. Parliament, of the firm of Parliament & Espert. The lot adjoining the opposite corner which was sold yesterday by J. L. McKeever for $50,000, is also to be improved. The purchaser, Mr. Espert, will erect a six story and basement building occupying the entire lot this spring. This lot was sold less than a year ago for $35,000, or less than $400 a foot. The recent sale established a value of $550 a foot for it.

THE OLD STORY RESIDENCE.

World's Fair schemers are now after the old Story residence. Whether they have succeeded in getting a proposition from Mr. Geo. M. Bogue, the sole and exclusive agent of the property, the JOURNAL does not essay to tell. It is rumored that the old Story residence will be sold before long. Several people are negotiating for the property, and offers of $550,000 have been submitted by two different parties. George M. Bogue is credited with saying that three different parties have been negotiating, or have made attempts at negotiating for the property, but up to date nothing has been done, on account of a disinclination on the part of some of the heirs to sell. It will be remembered that the property was practically sold about a year ago at $225,000, but owing to the tightness of the money market and various other reasons, the sale fell through. The property has a frontage of 300 feet on Grand boulevard, extending back to Vincennes avenue, and has a frontage of 600 feet on 43d street. The once magnificent building on the lot is not considered of much value, the price of $250,000 representing the value of the ground only.

LELAND HOTEL NOT YET SOLD.

A sensational report appeared in a last night's paper to the effect that the Leland hotel property had been sold to Boston capitalists for $925,000. The ground was said to have been sold for $625,000 and the building and good will for $300,000. Some details of the transaction, together with figures comparing the value to that of surrounding property, were given to lend plausibility to the statement, but the JOURNAL is informed by the very best of authority that the property has not been sold.

Mr. Warren Leland was seen last night by a JOURNAL reporter. He stated that the property had not been sold. He claimed to be not over anxious to sell at all. Negotiations were in progress, he said, but no definite conclusion had been arrived at, and any facts or figures published were necessarily wide of the mark. Mr. Leland further said it was quite possible that no sale would be made. He was not ready to give any definite information relative to the matter, and claimed that no positive conclusion either way had been arrived at.

RAEL ESTATC BOARD.

At the regular meeting of the Real Estate Board held Wednesday, the report was received from ex-Treasurer S. E. Gross showing a balance of $732 52 Jan. 1, besides $15,700 in securities owned by the board. These were turned over to the new treasurer. Dunlap Smith, chairman of the banquet committee, reported a balance of $836, after paying all expenses. A vote of thanks was tendered to the committee. William W. Weare and H. B. F. Odell were admitted to membership. The next monthly dinner will be given on the 25th inst. A committee of twelve, to be named by President Dreyer, will be sent to the real estate congress, which is to be held at Nashville on the 17th, 18th and 19th inst.

REAL ESTATE EXCHANGE.

Members of the Exchange desirious of attending the Congress at Nashville, February 17, will be provided with credentials by the president. At the meeting of the Exchange held Wednesday the following committees were appointed by President Salo W. Roth:

Membership—L. W. Cass, A. J. Burbank, W. P. Butler, T. C. Rivers, B. F. Huber, F. A. Cummings, Thomas Kelly, John A. I. Lee and George A. Waddell.

Arbitration—R. M. Conger, W. G. Garvey, E. H. Warner, C. H. Chamberlain and H. S. Brackett.

Finance—Edwin Drury, Frank Riedle and H. N. Elliott.

No action was taken in regard to the securing of permanent quarters. The Exchange now has over one hundred members, and sufficient applications are in, ready to be acted upon by the board of directors, to swell the number to nearly two hundred. The revision of the by-laws was adopted, and they will be ready for signature of the members at the next meetiag, which will be held next Wednesday.

PROMOTING NEW TOWNS.

The reference in last weeks JOURNAL to a new manufacturing enterprise on the Wabash Railroad, south of the Stickney tract, caused no little comment in newspaper and real estate circles. This item of news referred to, was brought in at a late hour and did not receive the attention it deserved. There was no intention on the part of the editor to disparage the enterprise. The fact of the matter is that the people are growing tired of this promoting business, because thousands of well-meaning people have been led into making purchases or have joined syndicates for the alleged purpose of developing so called new manufacturing towns. By the list and tables of new sub-divisions published recently in the REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL, it was shown that within the city limits and territory closely bordering on the city, there is now about 100,000 lots left on the market unsold. And this excess appears among the recorded subdivisions or the so-called legitimate subdivisions. The press all over the land took up the subject and some of them arrived at the conclusion that the total number of lots now on the market in Cook county or in the immediate vicinity of Chicago, would exceed 500,000 and that in many cases the purchasers had paid more for these lots than they can hope to realize on them within the next fifty years. Something ought to be done to protect purchasers of cheap lots from being imposed upon by hypocrites and swindlers who are guilty of false pretences every time they make a sale. There ought also to be something done to protect legitimate property against the same class of sharks. Complaints are coming in daily about some swindle or other. It was the same class of swindlers who ruined the mining business. So many people were swindled that no body would touch mining stock with a ten foot pole. So it is today, and so it will continue as long as every Tom, Dick and Harry can sell mining stock without let or hindrance. The real estate business is fast losing its interest because of the mean crooked practices now in vogue among some agents and owners.

WHY SINGLE OUT REAL ESTATE AGENTS.

SHYSTERS FLEECE THEIR CLIENTS.

The wholesale prosecution of real estate men for alleged misrepresentation and fraud is attracting the attention of outsiders, including many who contemplate coming to Chicago to do business. The reaction that set in one year ago afforded an opportunity for dissatisfied purchasers and others who had grievances to get back at those who deceived them. It is not necessary in this connection to refer to the cases now pending and already disposed of to show the feeling that exists, because they are familiar to the public. But why single out the real estate fellows to make examples of and exonerate other wrong doers in the city? Why prosecute the unconscionable broker and grant immunity to the incompetent and unscruplous lawyers who fleece their clients and betray their friends? Certainly not because there is no neglect of duty and no violation of professional ethics among them.

Innumerable complaints have been made against so-called shysters in the profession of the law, who, although admitted to the bar, are wholly unfit and incapable of conducting a case. Unlike the brokers they are permitted to charge a fee in advance as a retainer, and then when once in the upper court they have their client as it were in chancery. The process adopted and carried through is not like the real estate agents' methods. They get their client where they can squeeze him, where they can call him down for fees and costs and what not, for two reasons to-wit: Because it is allowable and because they need the money. Not a few busisness men as well as scores of laboring men have been discussing the advisability of organizing a club or society for the purpose of mutual protection against the unscrupulous shysters and lawyers who rob and skin their clients. Complaints are now in order.

A VOICE FROM THE SUBURBS.

To the Editor: The investigations of the State Board of Health ought to extend to the outlying suburbs, where typhoid fever, grippe and other epidemic and endemic diseases rage. It is about time that the public began to learn the difference between an epidemic and an endemic disease. The one prevailing through many localities and different countries, and the other only in one locality, or in those localities where the same disease breeding cause exists simultaneously.

There ought to be a law against the upbuilding of a town or village where there are no sewers and no hopes of getting any. The narrow, stingy, miserly plan in vogue among many land owners and subdividers, will not do when the public health is looked after. Their plan is to stave off these needed improvements, until the new comers and home seekers get possession of their lots. The purchasers are thus compelled to pay a high price for the lots, and then pay for all of the improvements. Lot buyers should make a note of this. A lot where no improvements have been paid for is a poor bargain, because it is unfit to live on, and because the improvements needed sometimes cost more than the lot. Bad roads and stagnant water in the northwest section of the new city, to say nothing of the lack of sewers, are a terror to new comers and a menace to the health of the people. Give us sewers and roads and fire protection, if we are to be a part of the great metropolis.

PEDAGOGUE.

UNIQUE PLAN FOR COMBINING RAILROAD TRACKS ON THE SOUTH SIDE.

On page 181 of this issue is a cut showing C. D. Mosher's plan of elevating the railroad tracks and combining them under one system.

HISTORY OF AUCTION SALES OF CHICAGO REALTY.

Can the custom of buying and selling Chicago real estate at auction be popularized in Chicago? This question is suggested by the preliminary action recently taken by the Real Estate Board. Real estate is regularly sold by real estate boards in New York, New Orleans, Boston and Baltimore. In the year 1890, the New York auction sales of realty amounted to more than $47,000,000. The call board committee in recognition of these facts, expresses the opinion that public auction sales can be made a success in Chicago, and urges that the Chicago Real Estate Board secure quarters suitable for use as an auction room. They are backed up in this opinion by the offer of ten real estate firms to rent stands in an auction room to be in charge of the Board. These firms are not new in the business, but are old and established houses, some of which have been conversant with the real estate history of the city for years.

The new Real Estate Exchange has as one of its objects the establishment of regular auction sales of Chicago realty, and in fact brings this intention forward as one of the reasons for its existence. The peculiar corporation laws of the state of Illinois will prevent the sale of property by exchanges here, as in New York and other places. Such arrangements could be made that the Board would have general supervision over the auction rooms, while the individual firms would make the sales. Whatever general system is adopted, the aim in view is to make real estate a quick asset. Owners of land in need of funds will then have a market on which to offer their holdings without delay. The adoption of the Torrens system of transfer, and the success of the auction idea, would place the land owner in position to realize on his holdings as readily as the owner of stocks and bonds.

Notwithstanding the favorable views of those who advocate the establishment of auction sales, the majority of real estate men predict that the custom will not be received with favor. They are not able to give any specific reasons why the custom which prevails in a half dozen other cities cannot be established here. In most cases they favor the auction idea in the abstract. They judge from past attempts to introduce the selling of real estate at public auction however, and shake their heads when the subject is mentioned. There are men who have sold Chicago property since the days when $1,000 a front foot was considered a phenomenal price for business property, who say that Chicago buyers never can be educated up to the idea of buying land at auction. There are others who say that only bargains can be sold in that manner, and that the demand for these "rara aves" is much greater than the supply even at present.

Auction sales of property have never been popular in Chicago because the better class have not been attracted. The Canal Trustees sales of about forty years ago, were among the few exceptions to this rule. The sales were bona fide, and were made on popular terms. The Alexander White sale in 1866, held in the Metropolitan Hall, was another great success. In three and one-half hours $263,000 worth of property was sold. In June, 1868, the Egandale sale of the land included in the Dr. Egan estate was held. Three hundred lots located east of Washington Park were sold at an average price of $25.71 a foot. The entire amount involved in this sale was about $450,000. In the period of activity from 1866 to 1870, were made the David Davis sale, the Wicker Park sale and the Seymour estate sale. The Wicker Park sale of the Lee tract of 500 lots, three miles northwest of the court house, amounted to $211,000, and the Seymour estate of May 17, 1869, aggregated $303,000.

In 1881, the Chicago Real Estate Exchange was organized by W. K. Nixon and Chandler & Co. They built a one-story building on the lot where the University Club building now stands, and arranged for the listing of all kinds of property for sale at public auction. This was the first attempt made to establish a system of sales by auction similar to that existing in New York. W. A. Butters was appointed manager, and for some months the operations of the Exchange were satisfactory. According to the lists and catalogues, almost every class of property was listed. For a time these sales proved successful. The exchange was able to offer the customers bargains. The sales were well attended, and were apparently satisfactory to all interested. When the market became more active, property could not be listed at even a fair valuation. The previous favorable conditions being removed, the Exchange ceased to exist. A great amount of the property handled by the Exchange was residence lots, of which many were thrown on the market some years later.

The Real Estate Board which is now trying to establish a system of auction sales, registered a failure a few years ago. The Central Music Hall was rented for that occasion, and owners and brokers were asked to list property. The plans were made and partially executed, but the buyers failed to materialize.

National Building and Loan Societies.

SOME ACCOUNT OF THE RISE AND PROGRESS OF THESE PHENOMENALLY SUCCESSFUL INSTITUTIONS — 300 SOCIETIES WITH 300,000 MEMBERS.

Eight years ago (1884), there was organized in this city by Mr. E A. Summers, the first national building association in this country. The name of this new departure was the International. One year previous (in 1883), the American Protective Union was organized at Minneapolis. This, however, was rather an insurance society than a distinctive building and loan association, its most attractive feature being the insurance of the lives of its stockholders.

The success of the International and the Protective Union was so great, that they were closely followed by the American, the Security, the Railway and the Inter-State of Minneapolis, and the United States of St. Paul. In seven years after the organization of the first national building and loan association in this country, there were 180 associations in the field. To-day, this movement, which is barely eight years old, has a following of over 300 national associations in the United States alone, and is fast becoming one of the most prominent and interesting features of the financial world.

The National Building and Loan Herald is responsible for the statement that there are in these 300 national associations, 300,000 members; that these members have subscribed for 3,000,000 shares of $100 each, on which they pay annual dues, etc., to the amount of 30,000,000, representing a contributing capital of $300,000,000: furthermore, that of this contributing capital, $50,000,000 has been paid up. The statement is also made that of the 300 national associations in operation, only two failed last year, the cause of failure in both cases being embezzlement.

It is evident from the figures given above, that here is being tried a financial experiment on a gigantic scale. What the result will be cannot be clearly ascertained from an experience of only eight years, but judging from the history of local building associations, which have been in operation in this country for over fifty years, we should say that the national associations cannot fail to be in the main successful, so long as they are conducted honestly and on business principles. A glance at two important instances in Great Britain simply serves to strengthen this view. The Birkbeck Building Society of Birmingham, the leading national association of Great Britain, has recently issued its fortieth annual report, in which it is shown that its receipts in 1891 were nearly $45,000,000, and its profits during that year about $912,000. The report of the "Leed's Permanent," which was established in 1848, shows a similar degree of prosperity. These institutions are very similar in plan to the national associations of our own country: so that their prosperity may be taken as an index of the possible success of their modern American competitors.

In general business details, the national associations do not differ materially from local associations of the same class. In each, the same monthly dues on stock are charged, save that in the national, a slight increase is made to provide for expenses. The national also charges a greater membership fee, which covers agents' commissions. Aside from these minor differences, the local and national are substantially the same, except that the former confines its work to a circumscribed locality, while the latter is, as its name implies, national. In both, the officers are required to give bonds, ample to provide against any possible loss from defalcation. In the case of both local and national associations, stringent laws have been provided by a majority of the states, with a view to making serious loss by mismanagement or dishonesty impossible. Twenty of the states have special statutes governing building associations, and many other states have requirements similar to those governing insurance companies, calling for the deposit of ample securities, etc., before outside associations are allowed to transact business within the state.

The danger to national building associations, does not lie chiefly in possible dishonesty on the part of their officers. This is provided against by bonds. But there appears to be a serious danger in the tendency to attempt to do too many things at the same time, and to offer greater inducements to stockholders than legimate business will warrant. Already, under the spur of competition, associations are offering to insure members, and in case of death, to pay their heirs the full face value of their stock; other associations have invented as a tempting bait for the wary investor, four distinct varieties of stock, which they denominate, "installment," "full-paid," and "prepaid," and which they guarantee to re-purchase at any time with liberal interest. Still another variety of stock is denominated "guaranteed," i e., the association binds itself to pay its investors the full par value of such stock on the payment of not to exceed 84 installments. The purpose for which all these schemes are formulated, viz., to catch investors, may be legitimate, but it will need an optimistic mind indeed, to pin a very great measure of faith to these generous but flimsy promises. We repeat that in our judgment, the danger to the national building associations, lies not so much in dishonest management, as in financial mismanagement.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The expose of operations in Indian Ridge lots has called attention to a score or more of similar wildcat enterprises in which property lying all the way from fifteen to fifty miles from the court house has been "subdivided" and sold with astonishing ease and gratifying profit to the subdivider. If lots having no existence at all can be disposed of at fair prices, certainly there should be no difficulty in selling real lots, say these enterprising dealers, and so they proceed to secure an option on Deacon Blank's back pasture, which is forthwith platted and recorded and represented on maps of brilliant hue as only a few miles from Chicago (meaning the city limits, of course), lots high and dry, location very healthful, transportation facilities unsurpassed, etc., etc. These plats, the product of the printers' and engravers' skill, are the only creditable thing in the enterprise. By their aid and the smooth tongue of a plausible salesman, (who usually takes his victim into his confidence by offering him some special bargain in a corner lot or other lot more desirable than any other in the subdivision), these paper lots are disposed of at an enormous profit. One firm in this city has within a little over a year put on the market and actually sold more than 300 of these so-called lots. The property cost them between $200 and $300 an acre and was sold for from $100 to $200 per lot of 25 feet. Their salesmen were paid in some cases a commission of $40 per lot. The sales, it is needless to say, were made chiefly to buyers who never saw the property. The lots are located on a country road over a mile from the depot of a straggling village, which is an hour's ride from the city. As lots they are worth almost nothing. Taken altogether they might be worth something for agricultural purposes, but whatever value they may have had in the past these enterprising subdividers have ruined by throwing up a few mud streets and laying sidwalks where no walks of any kind are needed.

Mr. Pfeffer's statement that "nobody ever failed because of an abundance of money," is not borne out by the facts of the financial history of this country, which show that the finding of immense quantities of gold in California and Australia shortly prior to 1857 together with abundant issues of currency by state banks, contributed very potently to the panic of that year by reason of the speculation it stimulated, and that the panic of 1873 came at a time when the country was abundantly supplied both with greenbacks and National bank notes, as the result of speculation, extravagant living, and other attendant ills. Unless it can be demonstrated that human nature has undergone a complete change since these things happened, or that farmers are not like other men, it is not only reasonable, but certain, that similar effects will result from similar causes. The old adage, "Light come, light go," is as true today as ever it was, and always will be, for it is a trite statement of the infallible working of a fixed and immutable law of the universe. While the "condition that confronts" us in the suffering and poverty of the masses of our people as depicted by Mr. Pfeffer may to a large extent be admitted, his "theory" for its amelioration does not appear to present the true remedy.

Few things go astray so readily as the small surplusages of the wage-earner. Smart financiers have designed numberless schemes to attract these small sums. The latest is that of organizing companies with high-sounding names, inviting the people to make weekly or monthly payments up to the time of the World's Fair, in return for which the company promises to furnish transportation to and from Chicago, including meals, board for a certain number of days, and admission to the Fair. The scheme is conveyed in language the most seductive. The cost to each subscriber will be about $155, which does not include the loss of interest were this money deposited in a savings bank. But this is not all, for calculations have been made which show that any one can have all the advantages offered by these designing financiers at a cost not exceeding $121, while this includes excellent accommodations at a hotel. In the other case, who will guarantee that the company will fulfill its contract with subscribers, and whether the latter, once on the route, will not be subjected to all kinds of pernicious exactions?

On a twenty five foot lot fronting a well known avenue on the north side are to be seen the real estate signs of no less than eight brokers. To a passer-by, it would seem that the owner of that lot was very desirous of disposing of it, and had visited nearly every real estate office in the neighborhood with that end in view. The query naturally presents itself, does an owner gain anything by putting his property into the hands of a dozen agents, who at once plaster it all over with signs?

Less than 16,000 sparrows have been killed in Cook county under the bounty law; $320 has been paid in bounties. It is not stated how many eyes have been put out, but the number is known to be large. Fortunately for those who have still good eyes, the small boy has tired of his gun, and the work of killing the birds is now being done by professional trappers. Our readers will be glad to know that the gun craze bids fair to die out.

A recent decision in the case of the City of Chicago v. The Illinois Central Railway Company. was rendered in favor of the city. The point in question was the right of the city to open streets at will across the tracks of a railroad company, and also compel the railroads to make such crossings safe. Mayor Washburne holds that if the public necessity requires it, a railroad may be compelled to raise its tracks to make a crossing safe, and that if it is a public necessity, to abolish grade crossings in this city, the courts will hold that the railroads must elevate their tracks.

City Treasurer Kiolbassa reports total receipts during the year ending, January 1, 1892, $29,550,560,-29. This with the balance on hand January 1, 1891, of 567,555.32, makes a total of $30,118,115.61. The total disbursements were $28,149,393.42; and the balance in the treasury, January 1, 1892, was $1,968,722.-19. Mr. Kiolbassa remains silent as to the interest on this immense sum. Assuming that there is an average balance of only half the amount, or $1,000,000, and that it draws interest at the rate of only 4 per cent, the income must be close on to $40,000 per annum. This source of income is understood to be relied on by the treasurer to provide for the running expenses of the office It is expected that any surplus remaining at the close of the year will be reported and added to the treasury.

At last a definite movement in the direction of rapid transit for the north side has been put on foot. An ordinance for the Chicago & Evanston Electric railway having been introduced into the Council last Monday evening. It is expected that this ordinance will pass without serious delay, and with no very great modifications. If this expectation is realized, the company hopes to secure eventually a right of way extending from the corner of Lake and State streets to Evanston. This will provide increased transportation facilities for a section of the city which is now served most inadequately. The territory lying west of Halsted street and north of Clybourn avenue, has suffered for years from poor street-car facilities. Especially is this noticeable of the Lincoln avenue cable line during the rush hours morning and evening. The Gross Park horse cars are crowded to suffocation, and these pour their occupants into the cable cars at Wrightwood avenue until there is not even standing room. It seems to be the policy of the north side company to allow no trains to leave the cable barn in the morning until loaded to the steps. The result is, that not more than half the passengers can obtain seats. while many more are seriously delayed in reaching their places of business, by being unable to get even a foot-hold on the car. These disgraceful scenes are of daily occurrence, and the people of the north side will hail with delight the coming of any new enterprise which promises relief in the matter of transportation.

The fight against the Louisiana State Lottery Company is practically off on account of the withdrawal of the company itself. A recent open letter from one of the leading owners of the company, states that in view of the decision of the United States Supreme Court upholding the constitutionality of the Anti-Lottery Postal law it is the purpose of the company to respect the law and abstain from violating it in any manner. If this is true, the Louisana State Lottery Company will soon be a thing of the past, as its present charter expires in 1891. There is no doubt that the "octopus" has for many years absorbed millions of the capital of persons in moderate circumstances which ought to have found its way into legitimate channels of trade or real estate investment. It will be gratifying to know that this waste is soon to cease.

ALIEN LAND LAWS.

The abuses which have arisen from the holding of large tracts of agricultural lands in this country by aliens, have occasioned the enactment of alien land laws in a majority of the states. In no state have complaints arisen more frequently than in Illinois. This has resulted from the famous rack rents imposed by landlord Scully, who lives in London and owns thousands of acres of land in Illinois. It is said that Scully refuses to sell his lands, yet imposes such grievous rents that his tenants are constantly in debt; and that they do not dare to make much needed improvements on the premises, owing to their uncertain tenure.

To prevent any further acquisition of lands in such quantities by foreigners, the legislature passed in 1887 an act which provides that aliens shall not be capable of acquiring, taking title to or holding any real estate in the state of Illinois, by descent, devise, purchase or otherwise, except heirs of aliens who have heretofore acquired lands or who may hereafter do so under exceptions noted. Aliens thus inheriting lands may hold the same for three years, or if minors for five years, but if not sold at the expiration of these terms, the lands shall escheat to the state. Minor aliens may acquire lands by purchase and hold them for six years after they might have signified their intention of becoming citizens. Any alien declaring his intention to become a citizen, can purchase land and hold it for six years, after which it shall escheat to the state if the alien does not become a citizen.

A similar law has been in force in Texas. The laws of the other states, however, are not so harsh as those of Illinois and Texas. In both of the latter states, the courts have recently held the law unconstitutional and void. The following particulars of the Schultze case which was fully reported in the JOURNAL some months ago, will be of further interest in this connection.

George L. Schultze, a citizen of the United States, died July 5, 1891, leaving real estate on the West-side valued at $2,000. His heirs-at-law are Mrs. Louise Schultze, the widow, residing at Hanseatic, Germany: Albert Schultze, a brother residing in Chicago and a citizen of the United States, and Mrs. Anna Schomberg, a resident of Bremen, Germany. Shortly after her husband's death, the widow filed a bill in the circuit court for a division of the estate, and the sister and brother were made party defendants. The suit raised the question of the validity of the alien law. The act provides that non-resident aliens should not be capable of acquiring title to or taking or holding any lands or real estate in this state by descent, devise, purchase or otherwise. If this was good law, the brother would get one-fourth of the property, and the residue would revert back to the state. Attorney Vocke made the point that there was a treaty between the United States and Germany to the effect that non-residents in either country could hold property for three years. Judge Collins held that the state act was in conflict with the treaty.

The fact that the treaty with Germany was in force when the act was passed, raises a constitutional point which can only be settled by the supreme court of the United States. Alien land laws have always been a source of considerable discussion, some holding that they were unconstitutional, while others held that the state legislatures had a perfect right to pass them. Both sides quote the constitution of the United States to prove their contention. The constitution gives the first place to treaties made with foreign countries. It says expressly that these take precedence over the state laws and shall be everywhere enforced Laws contravening treaties are declared unconstitutional by implication.

On the other hand, the constitution is equally plain on the question of land laws. It says that the states shall have full power to make their own land laws, and shall make such enactments as may seem good in the matter of alienating lands. These two points seem to conflict, and it will be a matter of much difficulty to reach the law in the case.

An effort will be made in the present congress to adjust the matter of alien land ownership by special legislation. Representative Oates has already introduced a bill of this purport, in regard to which he says:

"The general idea of the bill is to prevent aliens and alien corporations or associations from coming into the United States and buying up and owning large bodies of land. However, the bill does not prevent aliens or alien corporations, authorized by their charter so to do, from loaning money on real estate security, or from holding, assigning, foreclosing and selling under any mortgage or deed of trust, given to secure the payment of money within the United States and its jurisdiction. The bill, therefore, cannot be said to drive foreign capital out of the country; but in cases of default above referred to, the alien or alien corporation can buy in the land on foreclosure and hold it for the period of seven years. If, during this period, the alien or alien corporation fails to dispose of the land, it shall, according to the bill, be subject to forfeiture. The bill provides further that any aliens who now own land in this country, may have ten years within which to perfect their citizenship, or dispose of their property. I know of the Scully case out in Illinois. There was in that case some dispute about the certificate of citizenship attached to a deed This is avoided by the bill I have drawn, which declares that when any alien executes a deed of conveyance of any lands, and his or her title fails to show the grantor to have been an alien, it shall be presumed to have been made by a citizen of the United States, but such presumption shall not be conclusive.

A CHICAGO ARCHITECT WINS.

Architect Henry Ives Cobb, won a signal victory at Milwaukee this week in the competition in plans for the new city hall. There were about a dozen competitors for the prize, but after the voting began, the contest soon narrowed down to architects Cobb of Chicago, and Koch of Milwaukee, and the former won. The site is a triangular tract of land, which made the work of preserving an imposing exterior, and at the same time arranging a convenient interior, one unusually difficult. The new building is to be eight stories high and will cost about $600,000.

A RAILROAD DOES A SENSIBLE ACT.

The Chicago & Northwestern Railroad company have concluded to adopt the block signal system, which is in operation on some twenty-three roads in the East and elsewhere. By its use collisions will be averted.

The first sections of road which the Northwestern are to equip will be on the Galena division from W. 40th street, Chicago to Turner, twenty-five miles; on the Milwaukee division, from Clybourn Junction to Waukegan, thirty-three miles, and on the Wisconsin division, from Clybourn Junction to Barrington, twenty-eight miles. There will be over 200 signals employed, and as soon as this work is completed it is their intention to continue the system throughout the greater part of their main lines.

In the day time the signal indicating safety shows a white disk about twenty inches in diameter in the center of the surrounding case. On the train passing the signal this white disk is changed to red, and at night a lantern is placed behind the case which shows the corresponding red light for danger, while for safety a green light is shown.

The use of a green light instead of white for safety at night is an innovation of Mr. Carter of the Northwestern road, and is for the purpose of distinguishing lights particularly in large cities. The road is to be divided into what are known as "block sections," varying from one-half mile in the suburbs to a mile and a quarter on the open road.

The signal is purely automatic, and is operated entirely by electricity, each signal being provided with a special battery, which is placed in a well underground. The signal stands normally at "safety," and is set to "danger" automatically when the train passes it by the depression of a lever, which is placed at right angles to the rails, by the wheels of the locomotive; this breaks the circuit carrying the electric current to the signals. The train is now protected in its rear, and the signal remains at danger until the train shall have set a second signal at danger, and the first signal is again returned to 'safety" by a similar track lever placed about 1,500 feet beyond the second signal. The system is so constructed that the signal will always go to "danger" by its own gravity, should the battery become weakened or any of the connections broken, so that it is absolutely impossible for a signal to indicate safety where danger exists. All of the switches in the block section are connected with the signal, so that the opening of any switch on the main line sets the signal a suitable distance in advance, which will do away with the many accidents which are constantly occurring from misplaced switches. It is, therefore, evident that when the signal stands at "clear" it is an indication not only that there is no train ahead within the block, but that all the switches are properly set for through traffic, and also that the apparatus is is perfect working order.

Wires for conveying the electric current from signal to signal are to be placed under ground, in boxing, between the tracks, so that no delays can be occasioned by the most severe storm or the crossing of the lines by electric light and electric railway wires.

AGENTS' BUDGET.

Recent sales, however small, not yet recorded, will be reported in this column. All matter must apply to the real estate business and real estate men.

RULES FOR THE INSPECTION AND GRADING OF LUMBER.

Inspectors of lumber are not manufacturers and must measure and inspect lumber as they find it, of full length and width (except as to wane, which must be measured out and inspected in a lower grade), making no allowance for the purpose of raising grade.

Inspectors must use their best judgment, based upon these rules for their guidance.

The standard knot shall not exceed 1¼ inches in diameter, and must be of a sound character.

Splits are always more or less damage to a piece of lumber. An allowance must be made, either in determining the quality or quantity, according to the nature of the split. A split extending to exceed one foot will reduce it to one grade lower.

Lumber should be sawed plump thickness, otherwise it is not considered marketable, and must be reduced to the next standard thickness or at least one grade lower, on account of thinness.

A cull below the standard thickness is a mill cull.

A cull which will not work one half of its size free from all defects, is a mill cull and no recognized value and no account is necessary to be made of it.

When lumber or timber does not come up to the grade or contract, it must be placed in the next lower grade named.

Lumber sawed for specific purposes, such as axles, bolsters, tongues, reaches, newels, balusters, squares, etc., must be inspected with a view to the adaptability of the piece for the intended use, as in many cases, it cannot be used for other purposes.

Wagon stock must be clear, cut from good, live, sound, tough, straight-grained timber.

Timbers must be free from unsound knots. Sound hearts not showing on the outside will be allowed.

In the grade of firsts and seconds, the purchaser is entitled to the full average of firsts, which must not be less than 33⅓ per cent.

Standard lengths are always recognized as being 12, 14, and 16 feet. Shorter than 12 and longer than 16 feet does not come within the range of standard. In black walnut and cherry an exception is made, and ten feet is a standard length. Shorter or longer than standard lengths, in all varieties of hardwood lumber, except in counter tops, are reduced one grade lower.

Common and cull lumber must be 8 feet and over long, except cherry and walnut, which must be 6 feet and over long.

Mixed lots, containing boards, planks, flooring, bolsters, reaches, etc., shall be measured and inspected according to the rules governing the measurement and inspection of boards and planks.

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company's 6,150 miles of road traverses a vast territory, rich in all the resources that insure industrial success.

The Industrial Department is conversant with the Iron, Coal, Lumber and Tanbark, the Water-Power (both river and artesian) for factory and electric power purposes, the markets, the transportation and financial facilities, and other interests on the line pertaining to industrial development, and disseminates information concerning same.

A number of new factories have been induced to locate—largely through the instrumentality of this Company—at enterprising towns on its lines.

As the interest of the Company is to secure the location of industries at places where the surroundings will insure their permanent success, the information furnished a particular industry is pertinent and reliable.

In the Eastern States and in other parts of the world factories are so congested and distant from the actual markets as to result in fierce and destructive competition. That the West is taking a place as one of the great manufacturing territories of the world is forcibly impressing itself upon discerning and enterprising manufacturers. Steps should be taken by such while the field is as yet not fully covered, and while inducements are still being offered, to locate in the West.

Individuals or companies wishing to embark capital in Western industry can find a profitable field.

Luis Jackson,
C., M. & St. Paul R'y, 160 Adams St., Chicago, Ill.

Western Springs

The Queen Suburb of Chicago

26 MINUTES FROM UNION DEPOT!

ON THE CHICAGO, BURLINGTON & QUINCY R. R.

56 TRAINS DAILY.

WATER, from the CELEBRATED MINERAL SPRINGS will be conveyed to all portions of the village.

A system of Drainage has also been adopted by the Village Board of Trustees, both water and sewer systems have been developed by Engineer Benezette Williams, and will be completed as speedily as possible.

These improvments make this suburb in all particulars, the most desirable about Chicago, as a place for Homes with schools and churches.

The train service is complete.

Rapid transit is a fact.

This location is 96 feet above level of Lake Michigan. The ground high and rolling. The streets are shaded by trees of more than 20 years growth, In fact the entire village is a beautiful Park. Lots can now be secured at prices that insures purchasers large returns for their money in the Near Future. All desiring Homes for their families, should look this property over before purchasing elsewhere.

Call and go out with us any day, and we promise to surprise you with the advantages and beauty of this place.

C. C. COLLINS,

Unique Plan for Combining and Elevating the Railroad Tracks on the South Side.

The above sketch illustrates or is supposed to illustrate C. D. Mosher's system of Elevated R. R. Tracks and Elevated Passenger, Freight and Suburban Depots. The Illinois Central is the east outside railroad in this combination represented to run their suburban trains from the city limits over their old roadbeds north to Twenty-ninth street, thence west on Twenty-ninth street to the elevated through passenger and through freight train tracks, that are supposed to be located on the west side of the alley of Clark street, thence north by the side of these tracks to the Illinois Central combination suburban depot to be located at Van Buren street. The Michigan Central, Baltimore & Ohio, Santa Fe, Wabash and other railroads would be the next east outside roads in this combination. By this system, the Michigan Central would stop her suburban elevated track at Thirtieth street; Baltimore & Ohio at Thirty-second; Santa Fe at Thirty-third; the Wabash at Thirty-fourth, and the other companies' roads on the east side of this combination, would cross over to the main line elevated tracks on other streets further south in the same manner as suggested for the Illinois Central.

By this combination system of elevated railroading there would not be a through passenger or through freight train track that would cross any other inside the city limits on the West, North or South sides of Chicago. Neither would there be a street or sidewalk disturbed, as all streets and sidewalks would pass under the Combination Elevated Railroad Tracks and through archways constructed through the first stories of the Combination Elevated Depots. From these archways all the passengers and freight would be delivered along wide roadways, built lengthwise through the first stories of these depots. For further particulars apply to C. D. Mosher, 125 State street, Chicago.

Rewards For Bible Readers

Great Winter Competition of The Ladies Home Magazine.

QUESTIONS—Where does the following words first appear in the Old Testament: 'KNOWLEDGE" "WISE" and "DOVE"? Where does the following words first appear in the New Testament: "JUDEA," "FAME," and 'KING"?

WEEKLY PRIZES—Every week throughout this great competition, prizes will be distributed as follows: The first correct answer received (the postmarked date on each letter to be taken as the date received) at the office of THE LADIES HOME MAGAZINE (each and every week during 1892,) will get $2 00; the second correct answer $1 00; the third $50; fourth, a beautiful silver service; if h, five o'clock silver service, and the next 50 correct answers will get prizes ranging from $25 down to $2. Every fifth correct answer irrespective of whether a prize winner or not, will get a special prize. Competitors residing in the southern states, as well as other distant points, have an equal chance with those nearer home, as the postmark will be our authority in every case.

RULES—Each list of answers must be accompanied by $1 to pay for six months subscription to one of the best HOME MAGAZINES in America.

REFERENCES—"THE LADIES HOME MAGAZINE is well able to carry out its promises"—Peterborough (Canada) Times, "A splendid paper, and financially strong"—Hasting (Canada) Star. "Every prize winner will be sure to receive just what he is entitled to."—Norwood (Canada) Register, Money should be sent by post office order or registered letter. Address, THE LADIES HOME MAGAZINE, Peterborough, Canada.

$3,500 IN REWARDS.

The Canadian Agriculturist's Great Winter Literary Competition.

The Fifth Half Yearly Literary Competition of The Canadian Agriculturist, America's old and reliable Illustrated Family Magazine, is now open. The following splendid prizes will be given free to persons sending in the greatest number of words made out of letters contained in the words "The Illustrated Agriculturist" ☞Everyone sending in a list of not less than 100 words will receive a valuable present of silverware.

1st Grand Reward.....$500 in Gold
2nd " .....Grand Piano, valued at $500
3rd " ..... $250 in Gold
4th " .....Organ, valued at $300
5th " .....$100 in Gold

Next 100 prizes—100 Silver Butter Dishes, etc., warranted heavy plate.

Next 500 prizes consists of Heavy Plated Silver Kettles, Butter Dishes, Fruit Baskets, Biscuit Jars, Sugar Sheils, Butter Knives etc etc, all fully warranted, making a total of 689 plendid rewards, the value of which will aggregate $3,500.

This grand Literary Competition is open to everybody everywhere. The following are the conditions:

1. The words must be constructed only from letters in the words, "The Illustrated Agriculturist" and must be only such as are found in webster's Unabridged Dictionary, in the body of the book, none of the supplement to be used.

2. The words must be written in rotation and numbered 1, 2, 3 and so on, for facilitating in deciding the winners.

3. Letters cannot be used oftener than they appear in the words "The Illustrated Agriculturist" for instance; the word 'egg" cannot be used as there is but one "g" in the three words.

4. The list containing the largest number of words will be awarded first prize, and so on in order of merit. Each list as it is received will be numbered, and if two or more tie, the first received will be awarded first prize, and so on, therefore the benefit of sending in early will readily be seen.

5. Each list must be accompanied by $1 for six months subscription to THE AGRICULTURIST.

OUR LAST COMPETITION—"Got $1,000 prize all right."—M. M. Brandon, Vancouver, B.C. "Thanks for $500 prize."—G. W. Cunningham, Donald, B. C. "Prize received O. K."—J. D. Baptie, West Superior, Wis. "$300 prize received Thanks."—G. V. Robertson, Toronto; and 300 others, in United States and Canada.

This is NO LOTTERY—merit only will count The reputation for fairness gained by THE AGRICULTURIST in the past is ample guarantee that this Competition will be conducted in like manner. Send 3c stamp for full particulars to THE AGRICULTURIST, Peterborough, Canada.

—THE—

Highland Lassie Mining Co.

MINES

Near Ouray Colorado.

There are three mines on one continuous Lode 4,500 feet long. Two of the mines are working right and left from a deep canon into the side of the mountain, by several tunnels running in on the vein. Thus the mines are drained of water and have plenty of space below to dump rock down, and bins to put the rich ore in. At the Exchange room can be seen reports of the mines, assays and mill runs of ore, maps and several hundred pounds of silver and lead ore taken from these mines. This property is located in the midst of the very best and largest producing Mineral district in South Western Colorado.

There is plenty of timber at hand. This property is working night, and day

The first 10,000 shares are now offered at the low price of 20 per cent. or $2 per share. No loss of money here.

Call and examine into this enterprise.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

Congressional action is forever hanging like the sword of Damocles, ready to drop. The latest folly of the faddists is the anti-option bill of Mr. Hatch, a measure subtly framed in the interests of men who would control all the produce of the farms. So far as this bill putting an end to privileges known to the trade as "puts and calls," little need be said. This is but the fringe of the real issue, viz.; the right of merchants to deal in "futures."

The committee on coinage, weights and measures has, by eight votes to five, decided to report favorably on the Bland bill for the free coinage of gold and silver, and for the issue of coin notes. An amendment introduced by Mr. Tracy, to increase the silver in the dollar to 533½ grains of pure silver, was defeated. A further amendment by Mr. Stone of Pennsylvania, to hold gold and silver at parity, by enabling the mints to cease coining either metal should it not exchange freely at its face value, met the same adverse fate. The bill as reported is a curious document, and contains sapient reference to the contingency of France re-opening her mints to the free and unrestricted coinage of silver, in which case it seems that the American dollar will be reduced to 400 grains of standard silver, instead of 412½ grains, as at present.

Gold is not arriving in any quantities in the country, and, indeed, the sterling rates of exchange are, if anything, nearer to the exporting than to the importing basis for the precious yellow metal. This would be an enigma were it not for the action of such gentlemen as Mr. Bland and the majority of his committee. Meanwhile, the Europeans are throwing their American securities, and some wealthy capitalists on this side are thought to have followed them so far as to have made heavy investments on a gold basis across the ocean. Hence, perhaps, no gold return.

The week has been one of considerable activity on Wall street, brought about mainly by fresh developments in the "Coalers." The presidents of Reading, Jersey Central and Lehigh Valley, have met and discussed matters. It is now said that a practical control has been obtained over the above lines, as also over Delaware, Lackawana and Western, and Hudson. Drexel, Morgan & Co., and the Vanderbilts are mentioned as favoring the arrangement. The new combination is credited with being the second sized corporation in the United States, with an aggregate capital of $250,000.000, and employing 100,000 men. Meanwhile, Reading has shot up like a rocket. Last Friday week, the property closed at 43. On Thursday, of the present week it touched 65; an advance of over 50 per cent in less than a week. The other coalers were similarly affected, though not to the same extent. Some idea of the extraordinary activity ruling on Wall street, may be gathered from the fact that up to noon on Thursday, as many as 894,159 shares changed hands.

The directors of the New York Stock Exchange, have added $17,283,000 of fresh securities to the official list. Bond market active and advancing.

Speculation has lifted cotton materially, and there seems to be some indication that the worst is now over. The latest official estimate places the late cotton crop as 500,000 bales less than the phenominal yield of the preceding year. The quality and color are reported as exceedingly high, and very little dirt. Many experts maintain, as to the yield, that it is little if anything short of its predecessor. The prevailing opinion is that if cotton is to sell higher, less of it must be sown. A reduction of 25 per cent in the acreage, finds pretty general favor.

Money is exceedingly plentiful everywhere. According to last statement of the New York banks, the deposits stood at $515,376,600, a gain on the week of over $5,862,000. At the same time, the amount of loans increased over $7,070,000, showing a little more inquiry for accommodation. Call money has been as low as 1½ per cent at eastern centres. Bullion (gold) in the Bank of England has increased £802,000 ($3,890,000), despite a constant drain to eastern Europe. Concurrently the proportion of reserves to liabilities at the Bank of England has advanced from 42.01 per cent to 44.85 per cent. Greece in financial throes.

Volume of exports continues satisfactory Eastern centers complain somewhat of part of their wholesale trade being diverted to western points. Boston sends better reports as to woolens. Philadelphia is filling some large orders for manufactured iron; and Cleveland is similarly favored. Crop prospects generally maintained, and outlook considered promising.

Friday	$16,197,746
Saturday	15,272,561
Monday	14,867,377
Tuesday	13,839,925

*Not included in totals.

We have here a total increase as compared with the corresponding week of last year, of $243,457,000, or 22 5 per cent. Of this amount the Empire City is entitled to be credited with $182,639,000, equal to 28.6 per cent of its separate returns. This leaves for outside points the sum of $60,818,000, equal to 13.7 per cent.

Of the fifty-seven cities available for purposes of comparison in the United States, thirty-nine show gains and but eighteen exhibit declines.

The leading cities display gains almost uniformly, among the first twenty on the list, New Orleans being the solitary exception, with a decline of 6.7 per cent, which is considerably less than for some preceding weeks.

The list of gains is once more headed by New York city, the advance in this instance being over 28 per cent; then follow Cincinnati. 24.2 per cent; Philadelphia, 24 per cent; Chicago, 22.4 per cent; and St. Louis, 16.3 per cent. The gain at Philadelphia is remarkable and bears witness to the justness of the remark recently made in the JOURNAL, viz; that that city was in the midst of a great revival effort. If this inference be correct, we may expect the bank clearings at Philadelphia to fluctuate somewhat violently during the next few weeks, the general tendency being, however, to better things. The returns from the smaller cities yield declines, in somewhat marked contrast with the favorable figures sent in from the great centres. The fact has a special significance of its own that should not be entirely overlooked.

The improved situation as to the iron industry is reflected in measure by the following gains: Philadelphia, 24 per cent; Pittsburg, 11.4 per cent; Cleveland, 4 8 per cent, and Milwaukee, 18 2 per cent. Galveston records but a moderate advance, equal to 2.7 per cent, which is in accordance with recent advice of slackness in business at that point. The gain at Denver (29 1 per cent) is somewhat of an enigma, but is in line with recent returns.

The principal losses are at New Orleans, 6.7 per cent, which, all things considered, is better than what might have been expected. Providence, 12 per cent, and Nashville, 11 per cent. Tacoma and Seattle decline sharply, viz.; 15.3 per cent, and 27.4 per cent respectively. By way of contrast, we have a gain at Portland, (Oregon) of 31.8 per cent, and at Los Angeles of 26 6 per cent. Canada records a moderate gain.

Aanalysis for the same weeks by groups of states:

	WEEK ENDING FEB. 5, 1892.	WEEK ENDING FEB. 6, 1991.	PERCENTAGE.
New Engl'd States.	$ 116,163,715	$107,350,030	Inc 8.2

Totals,	$ 1,324,453,111	$1,080,996,169

The above table displays a gain in each of the seven groups. Even the southern group exhibits the substantial advance of 4.7, and the far western, 7.9 per cent.

The complete returns for the month of January by groups of states are available, and are here produced as furnishing a forerunner of the prospects of the year just commenced.

	JAN. 1892.	JAN. 1891.	PERCENTAGE.

responding month of last year, $681,335,000, or 13.8 per cent of the seven groups. The declines are limited to two. Southern States, 8.2 per cent, and Far Western, States 1.7 per cent. At the head of the gains come the Middle States, 18.2 per cent; and then the Northwestern States, 15.3 per cent. The list of gains being brought up by the Southwestern States, with a disappointing advance equal to but four-tenths of one per cent.

To get at the real significance of the bank clearings for the past month, something more, however, is needed. The year 1891 was in many ways exceptional, and the prudent statistican must go back to 1890 for a correct standard of reference. A comparison of nine representative cities is shown in the following table.

These figures are suggestive. The bank clearings at New York city for January 1892, break all preceding records, which is in large measure referable to the undoubted speculative activity of recent weeks. Chicago is an exceptional city, and can, for the present purpose be put aside with the simple observation that it has a buoyancy peculiarly its own, and is apparently above the vicissitudes known to less favored competitors. Boston and Philadelphia improve upon 1891, but not upon 1890. This indicates some impairment at what may be called the old manufacturing centre. St. Louis makes steady gain though an old city, but she supplies a comparatively new and growing region. Something of the same criticism applies to Baltimore. San Francisco barely holds her own. New Orleans declines heavily. As to Pittsburg, though gaining as compared with the preceding year, it does not show favorably with the returns for 1890. It need scarcely be added that each set of these figures should be considered separately, and with special regard to the trade interests represented at the several points. Something like a general idea of particular trades can thus be arrived at.

THE LOCAL STOCK MARKET.

Business on the Stock Exchange during the week has been tolerably well diffused throughout the list, but as compared with some preceding weeks, comparatively light. The cable properties have received but a moderate amount of attention, and the range in price has been small. To this general observation city railway forms somewhat of an exception, for though trading in this property remains, as heretofore, extremely light the price has been advanced materially, the close on the second call, Wednesday, being at 325, a gain of 9 points on the week. The late favorite industrials have been almost entirely neglected, and what trading there has been in this line has been mainly concentrated in Brewing and Malting and in Packing and Provisions.

North side cable sold last Saturday at 179 (regular), with 179¼ for the account. On Thursday, the price was moved another notch upward, and regular, after selling as high as 181¼, closed at 181. The action in West side cable was very similar to that of the sister property, but the volume of trade was, on the whole, somewhat larger. The low point was touched on Monday, when 133½ was accepted.

The advance of the week has been in city railway, of which there is apparently but little for sale, the property being for the most part solidly held as an investment. On Monday, 3 shares sold at 316, Tuesday, three deals, amounting in all to 60 shares, lifted the price from 318 to 318½. Wednesday, there was quite a little animation in this property, and parcels of 25 and 50 shares were dealt in, to the aggregate of 227 shares. The opening was at 322½, the close at 325. This price could not, however, be maintained on the following day, and no deal was consequently effected.

Street's Stable Car Line, recently so animated, has displayed no movement, and has ruled during the week steady around 38.

Calumet and Chicago Canal and Dock practically neglected. On Saturday last, 100 shares (regular) sold at 81: and the same price was paid for a few parcels for the account. Since then, the tendency has been downward, and on Wednesday this property sold at 80 (regular), with 80¼ for the account.

Western Stone little doing. On Tuesday, a small parcel of 25 shares changed hands at 93.

American Strawboard was in considerable request last Saturday, 685 shares being disposed of. Meanwhile, the price for the account climbed from 91½ to 92. Monday was another active day in this, 433 shares passing. The tendency was downward, and regular, after opening at 92, declined and closed at 91. There was no further trading in this property until Thursday, when a parcel of 50 shares went over at 89 for the account.

Arc Light and Power little doing. Business limited to 100 shares, at 88.

Diamond Match has sold down upon light trading. The low point was made on Tuesday, when 143 was accepted. Since then there has been some recovery which has advanced the price to 143½.

Brewing and Malting improves upon its gain of last week. Last Saturday, this property sold at 33½. Since then, 35 has been paid. The entire advance has not, however, been maintained, and the last price was 34¼. The price for the preferred stock has been around 43, but on Thursday, at the second call, a round lot of 500 shares was allowed to go at 42½. The beer war still continues.

Packing and Provision has received much attention during the week, and has ranged, for the common stock, from 50½ to 51½, the last sale being at 51. Range for the preferred stock 47⅞ to 48½, the close being at 48.

Bond Market without special features, and trade light. Gas Light and Coke 5's has advanced from 87⅛ to 88. Consumers' Gas 5's advanced from 85½ to 86. Some fair sized parcels of street railway bonds were disposed of at about late prices, but nothing remarkable or as indicating any special demand.

Among the transactions of the week the following may be enumerated: Chicago Telephone, at 230, Central Union Telephone, 55½ to 56½, Central Safe Deposit 5's at 101, Chicago Opera House 6's at 100, Chicago Auditorium, at 42, Board of Trade 5's at 101.

A COMPARISON IN POINT.

To the Editor of the Real Estate & Building Journal:

In your last week's issue you close a very able editorial on "National Building and Loan Societies," with this sentence: "We repeat that in our judgment the danger to the national building associations lies not so much in dishonest management as in financial mismanagement."

You pay a very high as well as deserved tribute to the honesty of the building and loan managers, but cast reflection upon their ability. Let us test them by comparison. The national banking act is the most perfect piece of financial legislation that has ever been placed upon a statute book in this or any other nation. It is an embodiment of the financial wisdom of the great financiers of this country from Hamilton to the present time. Its most stringent provisions were enacted not only to prevent dishonesty of bank officials, but likewise to circumscribe the possibilities of mismanagement. Nor is this all. The bank officials of this country are universally recognized as among our most able financiers, and none more so than those of Pennsylvania. And yet, despite their honesty and ability, here comes the report of the Committee of the House on Banking and Currency, from which we learn that during the year 1891, the people of that state lost in the aggregate more than $6,000,000 through financial mismanagement of national and other banking institutions.

Contrast this with the building and loan associations of Pennsylvania, which not only exceed the national banks in number, but whose assetts are also larger than the paid up capital of the banks, and yet so far from the stockholders of the building and loan associations losing money by the million during the last year, they did not lose a dollar so far as the public has yet been informed.

"But," says the objector; "do you pretend to say that the managers of building and loan associations have greater financial ability than national bank officials?" By no means. On the contrary, the reverse of this proposition is true with a few brilliant exceptions. But building and loan managers have one great advantage over bankers that more than counterbalances their lack of ability. The law compels them to keep their money all loaned out, not to pile it up by the millions in dingy vaults as it does in the case of banks. There is no big bank account to tempt him to be dishonest if he had the inclination, and his only hope of getting anything ahead, is in honestly conducting his association. On the other hand, I am thoroughly persuaded in my own mind, that but few of the numerous bank defaulters or wreckers started in with that object in view. They were honest in the beginning, they intended to continue so; but the temptation was ever before them and in an unguarded moment they fell. They had a chance to become suddenly rich, either by taking the money outright, or by speculating with intentions of returning it after their fortunes were made. In either case the bank was wrecked and the stockholders called upon to make up the deficit.

No such opportunity ever comes to building and loan managers, where the law relating to keeping the money loaned out is complied with. The advantages nationals have over locals are that of a much wider field in which to make loans. With them, the demand always exceeds the supply, whereas the reverse of this is not infrequently true with locals.

THE REAL ESTATE MARKET.

AN EASY MONEY MARKET, A DEMAND FOR PROPERTY FOR ACTUAL USE AND PROMISE OF RAPID TRANSIT DEVELOPMENTS—BULL POINTS IN THE PRESENT SITUATION.

The hope of the present year is the abundance of investment capital, in the local field. This has so far been directed to taking care of almost all of the available bonds and commercial paper which have been offered. It is now thought that this investment surplus which is troubling bankers and financial agents to dispose of, will be directed into real estate channels. There is any amount of inquiry for choice down town property and for investments in renting property. Prospective purchasers, however, demand that they be insured a fair income. They do not look for their gains in the speculative possibilities of the holdings offered them, but ask that they be guaranteed 5 or 6 per cent on their investments. The peculiar situation has developed that brokers have difficulty in furnishing this class of investments. In the first place, owners have a lively appreciation of the value of Chicago property. Local owners demand such prices as cut into the net income feature quite seriously. Outside holders quite generally refuse to sell at any figure, but are willing to make long term leases. Even they are desirious to quite liberally discount the future of their holdings. The agents, on the other hand, when able to find property which is on the market, generally find serious difficulty in making a satisfactory showing as to income. This peculiarly strong situation in the holding of down town property has caused something resembling inactivity in the market. There are any number of negotiations in various stages of development but they are slow in being carried out.

That there is no speculation in the market is admitted on all sides. That the market is dull and inactive is by no means so generally admitted. There is a great demand for houses, flats, and lots for improvement. One of the best known abstract firms in the city is authority for the statement that the abstract business is increasing rather than decreasing. The real estate business of today is being divided among probably five times as many agents as were in the field prior to 1889. The present general business if gauged by any other standards than those of the phenomenal years of 1889 and 1890, would be considered large. As it is the business done is divided among so many that from the standpoint naturally taken by individuals the market is dull.

There is great promise of development in the line of rapid transit improvement. The Calumet Electric Railroad secured an ordinance some time ago granting it valuable franchises over South Side streets. An ordinance has been granted providing for a road on Twenty-second street from Grove street west to Crawford avenue, and from Crawford avenue south to Lawndale. The Jefferson Park and Chicago Electric Railway Company has just secured valuable franchises on streets in the northwestern part of the city. It is claimed that the affairs of the Chicago & Evanston Electric Railway will soon be in tangible shape. These operations are merely indications of the temper of the public in regard to street railway extension. The management of all three street railway systems has announced the intention of submitting electricity or some similar motive power in place of horses on branches and cross town feeders. The alley "L" road has been placed on a most satisfactory working basis and probably within a month some change will be made in the management and prospects of the Lake St eet road.

Rents are steadily increasing on business portions of the city destined to be revolutionized in the near future. Possibly no other street has shown so marked a tendency to a radical advance based on a change in business centers as Van Buren street. A number of important leases of retail property on this street have recently been made. One of these indicates in a general way the great appreciation of property values which has taken place with a year. A block which has just been leased, was leased a year ago. At that time the rental agreed upon was considered outrageous and conservative brokers freely predicted that such rentals could never be sustained. The lease which has just been made is at a rental exactly double that which was paid a year ago.

FINEST CLUB HOUSE IN THE WORLD.

The new club house of the Chicago Athletic club, now rapidly approaching completion on Michigan avenue, just south of Madison street, will be the finest structure of the kind in the world. For the purpose of arranging the details of the new building, a committee for the association recently made a two-weeks' tour of the east and examined club houses in New York, Boston and Philadelphia. The committee was everywhere shown much attention. Its mission was to secure all the points possible that could be used in the finishing up of the club house, in order that additions or changes in the plans for furnishing the building might be made.

"We found," said Mr Spalding, "that the Manhattan Athletic club had the largest and most expensively fitted up house in the country at present, and some idea of what our establishment will be may be gained when I tell you that our floor space will be twice as large as that of the Manhattan club and the entire building will be fitted up with the greatest elegance. We will have two racquet courts, one tennis court and two 'five' courts, a feature which very few clubs posesses. We will have twenty-eight billiard tables, six or eight bowling alleys, four shuffle-boards and so on. Our gymnasium will be a mammoth affair, 80 by 170 feet, with a ring track and gallery all around it, oval in shape. This big room will serve not only as a gymnasium but as our auditorium or public hall, where gymnastic or other exhibitions can be given and balls be held. There will be a dining-room capable of seating the 2,000 members on one of the upper floors and a cafe on the second floor. Another feature which our club will have that is not common is sixty-four sleeping-rooms in the bachelor department for the accommodation either of members or visitors."

ACTIVITY IN CLARK AND SEATON'S SUBDIVISION

Cassius C. Clark and Elroyan D. Seaton have sold since the first of this month, through their agent, J. H. Bruce, 30 lots at Mont Clare The prospective shops of the C. M. & St. P. Ry., the promised erection of a large factory between Cragin and Mont Clare, and the favorable report of the special committee on streets, etc., recommending the passage of an ordinance now pending before the City Council, granting privilege to the Jefferson & Urban Transit Company to build an Electric road along Grand avenue, have done very much toward giving an impetus to prices of lots in suburbs adjacent to this railroad, which is very gratifying to the owners.

PECULIARITIES OF NINETY-NINE YEAR LEASES.

The recent sale of the fee of the Citizen's Bank building, illustrates in a striking manner one of the peculiar features of a ninety-nine year lease. This property, with a frontage of 79 feet on La Salle street was sold by the Bartlett estate to W. M. Le Moyne for $110,000. This valuation of the fee was arbitrarily determined by a lease made three years ago to Mr. Le Moyne. The property without consideration as to the lease, is now worth something like $200,000. That is, the land would have been worth double as much in fee simple as when transferred subject to a lease. The fact that Mr. Le Moyne held the leasehold of the property gave him the key to the situation and the amount that he paid is not considered by any of the parties interested as an equivalent for the worth of the ground. The leasehold interest in this piece of property was worth, in round numbers, as much as the fee. The land without the lease, would have been worth twice as much as the land leased.

Exactly the opposite situation was developed in the transactions involving the lease and sale of the site of the Lexington Hotel. This corner with a frontage of 125 feet on Michigan avenue, and 161 feet on Twenty-second street is considered to be worth between $1,500 and $1,800 a front foot. It was sold, however, to Thomas R. Lyon for $375,000, or at the rate of $3,000 a front foot. It was sold as a fee and the value was given to the corner by the terms of the lease to which the sale was made subject In this case, the land is worth double as much as a fee, than it would be were the lease to the Lexington Hotel Co. not in force. Any number of illustrations of this condition of affairs may be found among recent transactions for ninety-nine year leases. Very few of fees recently sold have been transferred at considerations warranted by the actual value of the ground. In almost every case, the future of the property has been liberally discounted and the security to the holder of the fee is partially in the buildings constructed, or in the reliability of his lessees.

Two notable illustrations of the first conditions of affairs are given in the transfer of the Exchange Building and in the negotiations for a sale of the Leroy Payne property. In the sale of the Exchange Building, the leasehold interest was considered more valuable than the fee. The Leroy Payne property, however, is one of the most striking examples of the rapid rise in values in Chicago. This property fronting 105 feet on Michigan avenue was leased by Leroy Payne from the Jennings' estate on a valuation of $400 a front foot. The value of the land, as a fee, is practically limited by the terms of this lease to the valuation originally determined. In negotiations for the sale of this property to a hotel company, Mr. Payne offered his leasehold interest for $3,000 a front foot. In this case, the land as a fee is worth $400 a foot. In fee simple it is worth nearer $4,000 a foot.

There is nothing irregular in any of these transactions but they certainly show that there is some ground for the claim made by more conservative real estate men, that ninety-nine year leases and transactions connected with such leases should not be considered with ordinary real estate operations. As a usual thing, the negotiation of ninety-nine year leases and the sale of fees is designated as one of the more conservative lines of work while speculation in lands is deprecated. It is easy to see from recent developments that there is as much of a field for speculation in ninety-nine year leases as in any other form of investments. There are just as many elements to be considered in the negotiation of a lease, both from the standpoint of the lessor and the lessee, as could possibly enter into a sale of any nature. The lessor must decide on a valuation based partly on the prospects of the improvement in the property, and on the possibilities of the leasehold becoming valuable. It is considered by conservative brokers that in most of the recent leases, the future of the properties leased, has been liberally discounted. The fact that ninety-nine year leases are, with few exceptions, without the old time re-valuation clause, is a reason for part of this discount at least. The lessor, in most cases, has a sale valuation and a lease valuation.

It is no doubt true that the general practice during the last few years of leasing property for straight ninety-nine year terms, has had an effect in raising down-town values. Property owners do not discriminate between valuations which represent, not present values, but the estimates made of possible values, ten, twenty or thirty years in the future, from actual prices determined by bona-fide sales. The two classes of valuations are considered together and valuations determined by long-term leases are freely quoted. As a matter of fact, the negotiation of a ninety-nine year lease is a transaction, almost out of the line of real estate operations. In many cases, it has no significance beyond indicating an outline of an extensive project for loaning money. Where a piece of property is sold and the lease is taken back by the seller at a rental based on the selling price, the transaction is virtually the loan of the value of the ground by the purchaser of the fee. The fee valuation may not be based on a market price, but may be such an amount as the purchaser considers he will have sufficient security for, by the terms of his lease.

The lessee has to consider such elements as the change in business centers and the prospects of the earning capacity of the land being sustained. The omission of the re-valuation clause, which has been fatal in many building projects, frees him from the embarassing possibility of having the rental of ground increased, so as to wipe out his improvements. The constant movement in business centers, which is noted in every large city, and especially in Chicago, has to be considered to some extent. When the corner of Fifth avenue and Lake street was considered the finest business location in the city, corners which are now worth double the present price of the Lake street corner was considered entirely out of the question, as business sites. Properties which twenty years ago were considered third or fourth class are now coming to the front, while a few locations may be pointed out which have been at a standstill for years and which have possibly gone back rather than advanced.

PRICES AND MONEY.

Concerning prices and money the New York Com. Bulletin has the following:

The lowest prices ever known for many products appear to some people evidence that business is bad. So to others the extraordinary accumulation of money in New York banks, and the unprecedented deposits, appear to be proof that money is in small demand for legitimate business, and therefore the volume of trade must be small. But the coin has another face The accumulation of money at this season proves that settlements to a very large amount have been made and a vast body of indebtedness has been cancelled. The low prices of many products are the direct result of the fact that the production of them is greater than ever.

A few illustrations will serve to show how either set of facts taken alone may be misleading. Pig iron has only once been lower than now, and then only for a few months in 1878. Then low prices did mean great depression. The production was then not quite a quarter of what it was in 1890, or in the last half of 1891. It 1878 it was only 2,577,361 net tons, and had been nearly 300,000,000 tons larger five years before But it is now at the rate of 11,000,000 tons yearly, and prices are low because the production is so great. They are held down to the lowest point consistent with continued production by an enormous output, and yet the output continues more than four times as great as it was thirteen years ago, because the consumption has correspondingly increased. At the prevailing low prices more iron is used in many industries and the manufacture has made such progress that it can now turn out 5,500,000 tons in a half a year, whereas with substantially the same range of prices it was able to turn out only 2,577,000 tons in the year 1878.

Cotton goods are also at about the lowest point and some of them are quoted at the lowest prices ever known in the trade. The same is true of some kinds of woolen goods, though not of all. But the actual consumption of cotton in manufacture is greater than it ever has been at any other time, and figures have recently been published tending to show that in some branches that the same is true in regard to consumption of wool in the woolen manufacture as a whole, although it is well known that in some branches the production is at present curtailed. Here again the enormous production of woolen and cotton goods is the obvious and direct cause of the low prices prevailing, and yet that continuing production indicates that the manufacturers are no longer compelled to stop their works by prices as low or lower than those which in former times forced them to a general suspension. Progress in the manufacture, and expanding consumption with the advantage of cheaper goods, have each done much to render low prices no longer a proof or a cause of disaster. At a quarter of a cent's profit per ton per mile some railroads are prospering wonderfully today which would have gone into bankruptcy with a half a cent profit per ton per mile a year ago, because they now can get, and in part by lower rates are enabled to get, five or ten times as much freight as they could get in former years. The same principle applies to production, and with especial force in those branches of manufacture where the greatest economies can be obtained only by production on a large scale

The accumulation of money at this and other centers is partly due to the fact that there is more money in the country to accumulate. The circulation is much greater than it had ever been before, has considerably increased in the month of January and largely in the closing month of 1891, and while the enormous supplies appeared to be necessary during the fall, when unprecedented crops were to be moved, and even later when bad weather and bad country roads throughout the West made marketing of crops slow and collections hard, the situation has now entirely changed. The Northwest has had a season of good weather and good roads, during which crops have gone forward very freely, collections have improved with great rapidity at almost every center of trade, and indebtedness amounting to many hundred millions has been paid off. The money for part of this indebtedness being due to Eastern lenders directly or indirectly, has been coming back to Eastern monetary centers, and now awaits other use or investment. The very magnitude of this accumulation is therefore an indication of the enormous amount which was employed in moving products and in paying debts.

Whether the volume of currency is on the whole greater than it ought to be for the amount of business that has to be transacted in this country need not here be considered. For the present purpose it is enough to say that the amount employed for a time during the fall when there are large crops is of necessity of much larger than the amount required in legitimate business a few months later, after marketing, collection and settlement have done most of their work. It is at this season that money tends naturally toward investments, new enterprises and works, so that a foundation is laid for larger production in the future. The danger is that at such time too much money is absorbed in purely speculation ventures, thereby embarrassing legitimate trade, or in enterprises and works which are beyond the present needs of the country, and which will not prove profitable for some time to come.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The consensus of opinion seems to be against high buildings. They are opposed by the city council, the fire department and the insurance companies; and even now a measure is being seriously considered in the council to limit the height of buildings by an ordinance, which has been favorably reported by the High Building Committee. This ordinance received the vote of eleven of the thirteen members of the committee. It provides that no buildings shall be erected to exceed 150 feet in height. On narrow streets the limit may be made 100 to 125 feet. The ordinance has been made a special order for next Monday evening.

The limited experience the fire department has had in fighting fires in high buildings, has not served to impress the officers favorably in regard to them. A recent blaze in the new Ashland block, tried the temper and tact of the firemen to their utmost. The experience proves that there is great difficulty in forcing water over a 150 foot building, and that the hook-and-ladder apparatus is practically useless in the case of a sixteen story structure. The engineer says that it took nearly fifteen minutes, working his engine at its highest capacity, to force the water to the fire. It is doubtful whether the present fire apparatus would be equal to a serious blaze in the top story of a sky-scraper.

Of late the Rate Committee of the Underwriters' Association has had a hand in the high building controversy. This committee recently raised the rate on the Marshall Field building from 65 to 85 cents, and on the contents from $1.15 to $1.35. The committee also named a rate of 70 cents a hundred on the Rookery and the Woman's Temple. The Association has no schedule rates for high fire-proof office buildings. These rates are fixed by the committee. Before the buildings are finished, they are carried under a construction rate of from 60 cents to $1.00 a hundred. When completed, the rate is specially established. A rate of 70 to 85 cents, as in the cases of the Rookery and the Marshall Field building is considered high, and may be regarded as a direct blow at the policy of building sky-scrapers.

From the number of fire-insurance companies going out of business in this and other states, it would appear that the lot of the underwriter is not all a bed of roses. The state auditor reports that of the companies which were authorized to do business in Illinois last year, thirty-nine have failed to renew their licenses, and have decided to discontinue business in Illinois. This would indicate that for some special reason, Illinois business is undesirable. But on closer examination, we find that a majority of the companies who have retired from the Illinois field, have gone out of business entirely, or are engaged in winding up their affairs. This, together with the report from Iowa, that the losses in that state last year were the heaviest since the Chicago fire, amounting to $140,000,000, and the further news of rate wars in other localities, would lead us to believe that fire insurance is not so prosperous as it might be under different auspices.

ALIEN LAND LAWS.

In the next issue of the REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL, February 20th, the subject of Alien Land ownership or the rights of aliens to acquire and hold real estate in the United States, will be presented in a paper that will occupy about three and one half colums.

The following is a synopsis of the subject to be treated:

RAISON D'ETRE OF THE ALIEN LAND LAW.
THEORY OF THE LAW.
PRACTICE OF THE LAW.
STATUTORY PROVISIONS IN STATES.
NATIONAL LEGISLATION.
PRESENT AND FUTURE POLICY.

Systems of Land Transfer.

PRACTICAL APPLICATION OF THE TORRRENS SYSTEM IN THE TRANSFER OF PROPERTY IN THE UNITED STATES — ARGUMENTS PRO AND CON.

There are four modes of land transfer, the English, Continental, United States, and the Australian or Torrens system.

In England, the person who conveys land must produce his original title deeds, there being no recording of deeds except in Yorkshire and Middlesex.

In continental Europe, land as a rule is transferred on a register under official supervision, and not guaranteed.

In the United States, transfers are made after the inspection of recorded deeds. Under this method the title passes immediately on the delivery of the deed, and the recording of the same gives notice to subsequent dealers. Abstract and title guarantee companies are the necessary adjuncts of this system as it now exists.

In Australia, the Torrens system is in vogue, the author of which is Sir Robert Torrens, who was first an officer in the customs department of South Australia, and subsequently Colonial treasurer. Sir Robert introduced his system in 1858. It has since been adopted by other countries. It consists in conveying by registration, and its peculiar feature is the guarantee of titles by the government, supported by an assurance fund, derived from fees paid by applicants for registration.

Under this system, the certificate of title issued by the registrar, is the sole evidence of ownership, and after being once registered, no subsequent transfer can be made except on presentation of the certificate to the registrar, the rule being that no transfer is valid unless made upon the books, a rule very similar to that governing the transfer of stock.

The practical question to be considered is whether the Torrens system presents an easy solution of the perplexing problem of real estate transfers in this country. It is undeniably true that the present system is exceedingly cumbersome, and that if the Torrens system presents a ready way out of the maze of difficulty with which real titles and transfers are now surrounded, it ought to be adopted. On this point there seems to be a great diversity of opinion. We can, perhaps, do no better than to give the views of a few prominent men on the practical application of the Torrens system to property in Illinois, and especially in Cook county.

Mr. Alfred Orendorf, in a recent speech before the Illiinois State Bar Association, violently opposed the Torrens system, and said that after careful consideration, he was convinced that the system is fundamentally wrong and repugnant to the constitution. He characterized it as exceedingly burdensome, and thought it would foist upon the people an obnoxious paternalism; deprive the citizen of his property without due process of law; establish innumerable officers to feed upon the public treasury, clothing them with judicial functions, and providing no appeal from their decisions. It would foster secret trusts and encourage secret mortgages. It contemplates registered and unregistered titles, necessitating two offices and officers, a registrar and recorder, and in many instances compelling a search in both offices.

Continuing, Mr. Orendorf says: "It is a delusion and a snare, as it would take years to establish indefeasible title in a city like Chicago, with 200,000 different land owners. It has in substance been repeatedly rejected by the English House of Lords, and though it has been under discussion in the United States for at least ten years, it has not found a foothold in any state of the Union."

In a similar strain is the objection of Mr. Jerome Danforth, of the Cook County Abstract & Trust Company. The fatal error in the application of the Torrens system here, he claims, is the subject of vested rights as affecting transfers of title. Suppose the commissioners pass on the title to a given piece of property, and declare it forever free from cloud. In case minor heirs or others having vested rights should turn up after the commissioners had made their decision, how could those with vested rights get reparation? In that case the complainants would have recourse in the last event to the supreme court, making the declaration of the commissioners not final. In case the declaration of the commissioners was considered final, then the commissioners would virtually be a court higher than the supreme court, which is an impossibility. The Torrens system would cause the property holder all the expense he is now put to. In order to substantiate his title before the commissioners, to get his certificate, the holder would undertake the equivalent of proceedings in chancery, or under the Burnt Record act. Two hundred thousand conveyances were made here last year. Imagine such an array of business coming before commissioners. They could not begin to manage the claims to be contested before certificates of title could be granted legally.

Such are some of the typical objections to the Torrens system, but the most complete defense we have yet seen is by Hon. Harvey B. Hurd, who has long made a study of the subject. Mr. Hurd says: "The constitution of this state says: 'No person shall be deprived of his property without due process of law.' I think every state has the same constitutional provision, so the legislature is powerless to divest him of his title and vest it in another. This does not, in my estimation interpose any serious obstacle in the way of registration of titles tending to reach the same end. This end must be reached through the statute of limitations, and this will also be the least troublesome and least expensive way of getting the desired result. The way to do it, is to provide for the making and filing in the registrar's office of a certificate, and let the limitation run on this: 'No person shall commence any action in law or equity for the recovery of land or any right therein, or the enforcement of any lien thereon, unless within five years after the filing of such certificate of title in the office of the recorder of the county in which the land is situated.'

To all persons dealing in property whose rights arise after registration of title, the effect of the registration will be conclusive, and there will be no necessity of bringing down an abstract to cover that time. The dealings would of course, be in the light of the existing law as dealings in negotiable paper are. This cuts off all rights of third persons. As to the rights existing before that time, abstracts and examinations of title would be still required as now, until the time limited has expired. After the expiration of five years, all abstracts could be laid away as ponderous memento's of a troublesome and costly superstition, an inheritance of an old feudal policy of restriction or alienation. From calculations based on the prospectus of one of the Chicago abstract firms, the cost of abstracts and lawyers' fees for examination in Cook county for the year 1891, was $2,864,848. On this basis the total cost in the state for abstracts and lawyers' fees is estimated at $10,000,000. In my estimation, the adoption of the Torrens system of registration of titles in this state will lead to other important reforms, owing to the freedom with which land may be transferred. This system is the most important of all modern land reforms, and it deals a death blow to the old doctrine depending on the theory that land was not to be dealt with freely. There is no doubt but what much opposition will arise to this reform, simply because it is new. The principal opposition will come from the abstract and law firms pecuniarily interested in what is a most expensive and ponderous system of transferring titles."

TORRENCE ELEVATED RAILWAY.

General Torrence called at the city hall several days ago prepared to leave his check for $100,000 with City Treasurer Kiolbassa in compliance with the terms of the Chicago Elevated Terminal Railway ordinance, which requires the deposit of $100,000 in cash within ninety days after its passage to secure the completion of two miles of the road within three years.

The general outline of the plan of this company is stated by them as follows:

It is proposed that the elevated tracks of the Chicago Elevated Terminal Railway Company shall be carried upon an iron or steel structure through the more thickly populated part of the city, and upon brick or stone arches at points where that construction can be used to better advantage, as practiced in Philadelphia, Jersey City and in London and other European cities.

It is proposed to construct the line with one hundred pound steel rails and so that the heaviest engines running at the highest rate of speed can enter the city at from forty to fifty miles an hour if desired, without creating the slightest inconvenience or interruption to the traffic and business upon other railroads not using the elevated entrance, or upon the city streets.

It is also proposed to construct in connection with this elevated railway and terminal system, enclosed freight yards at street grade (but in no case crossing a street with any track at grade), using hydraulic lifts, as now so extensively practiced in England and upon the Continent, for the transfer of freight cars from the elevated tracks to the enclosed yards on the street level, thus preventing the laying of any more railroad tracks across or upon streets at grade.

These enclosed yards will take the place of and entirely do away with the use of what are commonly known as team tracks. Experience and railway practice abroad, show that the greatest economy and best results are secured by arranging these enclosed yards with transfer and turn-tables connecting with the tracks, which are placed in pairs, with a drive-way between, so that teams may freely pass between each pair of tracks. These short tracks are arranged to hold not more than three cars each, so that as soon as a car is loaded it can, by using the hydraulic capstans, be run upon the transfer table, transferred to the hydraulic lift and elevated and made up into a train, without interfering with the loading and unloading of other cars. By this means much time is saved, both of the the teams and drivers delivering and receiving goods from the yards and of the switch gangs, as frequently under the present practice, a great number of cars have to be moved to get in and out a single car.

NATIONAL REAL ESTATE CONGRESS.

Special Correspondence:

Everything is ready, and the National Real Estate Congress, to be held February 17-19, is an assured success. The attendance will be unusually heavy, considering the fact that this is the initial meeting of such an important convention of business men.

From every quarter of the United States comes hearty assurance of aid and encouragement. J. C. Bartholf, Secretary of the Milwaukee Real Estate Exchange, writes: "We are coming in special cars. Expect from sixty to one hundred real estate men of this city." Chicago will be represented heavily. From Buffalo, N. Y, comes this: "You may expect fifty delegates from us."

And from all the large cities these promises come. St. Louis is trying to bring us two hundred; Kansas City, a goodly number; Louisville and Cincinnati, a splendid delegation. The cities of the South will show up in good style.

Inability to secure reduced rates in that section will lose us representation from the North-west. In the other territory, however, we have secured rates for the Congress.

A committee of four has been appointed to draft a constitution and by-laws, one from each of the cities of Nashville, Atlanta, Buffalo, and Milwaukee.

The Congress will meet in the hall of the House of Representatives, at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, February 17, with President M B Pilcher in the chair.

Gov. Buchanan will deliver an address of welcome, followed by similar addresses from Mayor Guild and George H. Armistead of the Commercial Club. The response will be made by J. C. Bartholf, Secretary of the Milwaukee Real Estate Exchange.

Wednesday afternoon our visiting guests will be taken in charge and driven to Belle Meade. Returning, a night session will be held. During all the sessions papers, addresses on important issues will be variously discussed.

Business sessions will be held Thursday morning and in the afternoon. In the early part of the evening the visitors will be entertained by a speech from the famous Col. McClure at the Vendome. After this they will be entertained at the Commercial Club, where an informal reception is to be given.

Friday morning the usual session will be held, in which officers for the coming year will be elected and a place fixed on for the next meeting. Friday afternoon will witness adjournment and good-byes. A dozen or more splendid papers will be read during our meeting.

Committees on reception, entertainment, and arrangements have already been appointed, and are arranging everything. A committee of the press will be appointed to-morrow. All in all, the Congress promises to be a splendid success.

The head-quarters of the Congress will be in one of the parlors of the Maxwell House, where Secretary Kline and Chairman Williams will preside.

THEORY AND PRACTICE OF IRRIGATION.

The vast arid plains of our western states, which a few years ago were thought to be unfit for cultivation, are very rapidly transformed into fertile fields by the magic of irrigation. The land of the sage brush and the prairie dog, where the foot of the weary traveller left only the imprint of his haste to escape a fearful death, is now putting on the garments of hospitality, and will soon be adorned with all the beauty of the lily and the rose. Thoughtful men who looked upon this desert land asked themselves why it was thus given over to sand and the support of a few savory but serawny bushes. The elements of fertility seemed to be present in the soil. Carefully examined, it was found not to differ materially from other ground which produced abundantly. The secret of its arid character lay in the absence of moisture. The fertilizing element was there, but without water to thoroughly mix and knead it with the soil, as the yeast is kneaded with the dough, the rising of vegetable life was retarded or wholly prevented.

Yet there is no lack of rain-fall in some of our western states where these very conditions obtain. In the mountains are dense forests which preserve from the sun's rays the accumulating rain, and discharge it into the creek and river beds, through which immense volumes of water are poured over these same arid plains during the spring freshets, only to flow off into lower reservoirs or swamps, there to stagnate during the summer in malaria producing pools. The plains being destitute of trees and other veadure, offer no resistance to the sun's rays, and the moisture is dried up and dissipated almost immediately.

The problem then is to so regulate the flow and distribution of mountain streams as to give to the high and low lands alike an even supply of moisture when and where needed. In other words, irrigation turns the desert into a garden, and the swamp into arable ground. It is evident that to accomplish a work of such magnitude requires the highest engineering skill. It is our purpose merely to hint at a few features of practical irrigation.

The reader must bear in mind that the lands to be irrigated are frequently found to be considerably higher than the adjoinig rivers from which their supply must be obtained. Thus frequently it becomes necessary to tap the stream at a point many miles nearer its source, and to conduct the water to the irrigated territory by a canal. From this canal, laterals are run through the sections to be irrigated, and from these laterals, still other and smaller laterals are extended; always, however, bearing in mind that the main laterals must be run in the direction of the general fall of the land, and only the last or smallest branches should be at right angles to this fall. This is for the obvious reason that the water in the main laterals must have a positive flow, while that in the smallest branches is intended to overflow and run down the surface of the gently sloping ground to the next small lateral below. This, in fact, is the final process of irrigation. The western farmer runs his smallest laterals in shallow ditches at short intervals through the field to be irrigated. A few shovelfuls of earth serve to close the entrances to these ditches until irrigation is needed. At the proper time this earth is removed and the water allowed to flow into the shallow ditches and thence to overflow on the tributary ground. As soon as the soil appears to have been sufficiently moistened, the earth is replaced at the mouth of the ditch and the flow of water is stopped. Other more elaborate methods are in use, requiring sluices, dams, and even artificial lifting of water, but the simple method described will be a sufficient illustration of the principle.

The English method of irrigation differs from our own only in the more complete working out of its details. With them, the ground to be irrigated is divided into small portions, thrown up like the gable roof of a house. Along the ridge of this roof runs the last lateral. The water overflowing runs lown in both directions, and is collected in other laterals which convey it to main water-courses running at right angles to the laterels, and from these main courses it is distributed into still other laterals, which irrigate lower portions of the same field.

The results of irrigation can best be seen by a visit to territory where for a few years the system has been in operation. In regions which a few years since were but arid wastes, we now see agricultural prosperity of the highest order, with the usual accompaniment of a prosperous and happy community. Moreover, we are told that irrigation gradually changes the entire floral aspect of the irrigated region, so that plants and flowers and even fowls and reptiles which were supposed to be strangers to the locality, become acclimated, and take up a permanent abode.

AN ANCIENT ELDORADO.

RICH LANDS NEAR SOLOMON'S TEMPLE.

On the identical spot where King Solomon procured "gold dust, peacocks and monkeys," a syndicate with $5,000,000 capital stock issued, and a ten stamp mill erected, has just pounded out $55,000. Mount Ophir, of scriptural renown is close by. The old rocks which were too low grade for King Solomon's reduction processes are being ground up, and they average half an ounce to the ton. This gold field of Solomon's which has been idle all of the centuries till now, is in the Malay peninsula. The people who have gone in to develop it, have had to cut seven miles of road through the jungle, and clear sixty miles of river. They are just beginning to realize on their investment. The company with the big capital has a concession on twenty square miles of this gold field. The formation is black slate. A shaft sunk one hundred feet on the lode has uncovered enough ore to keep the mill going a year. The ore will yield two ounces to the ton. In one place on the concession there is a hill two hundred and fifty feet high and half a mile long. The company has tunneled into this hill about half way from the bottom, and found ore ranging from seven pennyweights to seven ounces of gold. The reef varies in width from two to nine feet. Even the loose rocks scattered about on the hillside yield half an ounce of gold to the ton. The superintendent said to the American Consul recently: "I did not think there was anything of this kind so extensive in the world. Wherever you try you find gold." Raub is the modern name of this ancient El Dorado.

AGENTS' BUDGET.

Recent sales, however small, not yet recorded, will be reported in this column. All matter must apply to the real estate business and real estate men.

Mr. W. A. Merigold and wife leave Tampa, Fla., for Havana this afternoon.

Fred I. Fee & Co. report brisk inquiry and some sales in property adjoining the World's Fair site. This firm has been making a specialty of handling property in the vicinity of Jackson Park ever since the location of the World's Fair was decided upon. They have a large list of flats and business property on the South side and also some acre tracts in and near Hyde Park that could be handled profitably. They find inquiry stronger every day with prospects for very brisk business during the coming spring.

It is said that the 2-story building now being constructed at the southeast corner of Wabash avenue and Congress street by the McCormick estate will be replaced by a high office building, the present structure being intended for use only during the World's Fair period.

The following improvements will be made on property purchased of Bass, Kessler & Ennes, opposite depot at Austin Park: A building 100x25, 2 stories, brick—pressed brick front, to be occupied by the Standard Button Mfg. Co., removing from Norwich, Conn. They will manufacture covered buttons of all kinds for wholesale clothing, merchant tailoring, wholesale dry goods and cloak trade. The company will employ about 40 hands, the investment in plant is about $20,000. No other factory is supplying the trade in the West. The machinery is of latest patterns and all run by steam power. Will use electric power as soon as it can be had. The works will be lighted by electricity. They will manufacture only fine goods. They expect to be ready for occupancy in about four to six weeks.

Andrews & Piper report continued activity and sales of lots at Berwyn. Their volume entitled "Souvenir of Berwyn" is a very attractive and creditable little book.

The Inter-Ocean of yesterday reported the following:

W. O. Tegtmeyer will erect a four-story apartment house on the property with 300 feet of frontage at the southeast corner of Kinney avenue and 71st street.

S. T. Fish has purchased the property improved with five houses, at the northwest corner of Calumet avenue and 32nd street for $50,000.

On the ground 100x100 feet at the southeast corner of Michigan and Cass streets, sold by the McKey estate to Dr. V. C. Price for $60,000, the latter will erect a 7-story warehouse building to cover the lot.

Nothing tangible exists beyond desire to secure the site of the postoffice for the erection of an office building.

L. J. McCormick has bought of the Newberry estate the northeast corner of Rush and Ontario streets for $43,100. The property is 109x150 feet. The southeast corner of Rush and Erie streets, 109x150 feet, has been sold by the same estate to Emmons Blaine for $44,200.

The block of five two-story houses at the northwest corner of Calumet avenue and 32d street have been bought by S. T. Fish for $50,000. They have a frontage of 90 feet and a depth of 110.

CHICAGO RIDGE.

The Chicago Ridge is located at the junction of the Wabash and the Chicago & Calumet Belt Line Railroads. The latter road runs from Lake Michigan in a circular and westerly direction, crossing all roads having an entrance into Chicago, and every point on this road enjoys Chicago's low freight rates in all directions. Chicago Ridge has three and one-half miles frontage on this road. It has also two miles of frontage on the Wabash Railroad, and as the land is perfectly level switches from every plant can be laid at comparatively little expense, and parties locating at Chicago Ridge will enjoy as good facilities in reference to freight as if every railroad entering Chicago passed alongside their plant. The switching advantages cannot be too highly set forth, as having direct switching with both roads no delays through receiving or delivering cars will be suffered. In addition while the different trains can receive and deliver cars of all the different roads with promptness and dispatch, the high switching charges, sometime amounting to $5 per car, are saved to the manufacturer. The great Standard Oil Works, at Whiting, on the Calumet Terminal road, and near its Eastern terminus, enable oil to be furnished at Chicago Ridge at the very lowest rates of any point in the country. The Wabash railroad penetrates some of the best lands in Indiana add Illinois, from which steam coal can be supplied and delivered at this point from 75 cents to $1.25 a ton. The Chicago & Calumet Terminal, cross all the roads passing through the coal lands, and in addition to being a belt it is also a part of the Northern Pacific Railroad System—the great Trans-Continental Line. A little north of Chicago Ridge are situated the grounds of the great Stickney Transfer Company, which are being rapidly developed and will soon form the greatest railroad clearing house in the world. At this point, also, the proposed National Stock Yards is located, which will require, in completion, several millions of dollars, and give employment to several thousand of men.

Although situated two miles from the city limits of Chicago, Chicago Ridge is three miles nearer to the business center of the city than the southern boundraay of the city itself, and is free from city taxes and the restrictions necessary in a great metropolis.

The great feeder of the Illinois and Michigan canal runs close by Chicago Ridge, and hence, an abundance of water is secured. The whole tract to be occupied by the new town has good natural drainage, and the site with its natural and artificial advantages is an ideal one for a manufacturing and residence town. The company are offering special inducements for the location of factories and manufacturing concerns of a reliable and solvent character. There is no doubt but that within a few months Chicago Ridge will become a bustling, active, prosperous town, as its advantages are unsurpassed by those of any other place situated in the environs of Chicago—the future great manufacturing center of the whole United States.

Architects Wilson & Marble have completed plans for a block of five residences for M. L. Swift to be erected on the north west corner of Ellis avenue and 45th street Three stories and basement. The fronts will be of Bedford stone, varied in design and richly carved. Plate and ornamental glass. The interior will be finished in cherry oak, and other woods. Tiled floors, nickel open plumbing, electric lighting and everything modern throughout.

TAX REBATE LIST

NOT PREVIOUSLY PUBLISHED AND NOT YET FULLY PAID, ESPECIALLY REPORTED FOR THE REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL.

The JOURNAL prints this week through the courtesy of Mr. J. S. Sheahan, superintendent of the bureau of special assessment, a list of warrants upon which rebates are due. Owners will find in many cases that rebates have been paid them on these assessments, and if on examination of their receipts this is found to be the case, they will save themselves disappointment and the department annoyance by not calling a second time. Owners who have received no rebate on the warrants listed below can obtain the same by presenting their receipts at Room 50, City Hall, the office of the special assessment bureau.

PLANS FOR NEW BUILDINGS.

Flanders & Zimmermen heve prepared plans for school house to be erected at the corner of Greenwood avenue and Forty-sixth street for the school board, 150 x125 feet, two story, basement end attic. The front will be of selected pressed brick with cut stone trimmings with terra cotta panels and enrichments. The roof will be of slate. The building will be heated throughout by steam, electric attachments. The basement will be laid in cement and arranged for engine room. Cost $70,000. Also school building at the corner of Grand avenue and Geneva street, 115x100 feet, two story and basement. The front will be of pressed brick with cut stone dressings and terra cotta enrichments. The general arrangements will be the same as those of the preceding structure. Cost $60,000.—Also school building on Harrison street, near Sacramento avenue, for same party. This structure will be same as preceding, but will have a gravel roof. Cost $60,000.—Also school house to be erected on One Hundred and Eighth Place, near Wentworth avenue, for the same party. The size and arrangements will be as the above. Cost $60,000.—Also apartment block on Ogden avenue, near Sixty-third street, Mr. J. W. Boyd, 100x75 feet, four stories and basement. The block will virtually comprise four separate buildings, with spacious entrance to each pair. These entrances will be approached by stone steps, and have marble wainscoting and mosaic floors. The front will be of St. Louis pressed brick with cut stone dressings, copper cornice and bays and gravel roof. Plate, ornamental and art glass, etc. The building will be heated by steam throughout and wiring for electric service put in. Cost $50,000.

Architect G. W. Thiel has completed drawings for flat building on Shober street, near Wabansia avenue, for Mr. Ernest Leistikow, 25x56 feet, three story with basement. The front will be of Indiana pressed brick with cut Bedford stone dressings, galvanized iron cornice and bays and gravel roof. Plate and ornamental glass, cost $6,000.

Architects Beers, Clay & Dutton have completed plans in the colonial style of architecture for handsome residence to be erected at the corner of Fifty-first street and Washington avenue for Mr. E. E. Smith, 40x51 feet, two story, basement and attic. The first story will be of cut stone, the superstructure will be of selected pressed brick with cut stone trimmings and slate roof. The interior will be handsomely finished in choice hardwoods, much of the work being specially designed. Plate, ornamental and art glass, mosaic floors, and the best of sanitary plumbing. The house will be heated by hot water. Cost $16,000.—Also block of residences on Forty-first street near Greenwood avenue, for Mr. Montgomery Ward, 25x65 feet, three story with basement. The front will be of pressed brick with cut stone trimmings and gravel roof. The houses, three in number, will vary in design and internal arrangements. The approach will be by flights of stone steps leading to recessed and tile paved vestibules. Plate glass, and all modern improvements. The interiors will be heated by steam. Cost, the block, $24,000.

Architects Treat & Foltz have completed plans for addition to the Pinkerton Protective Patrol building on Fifth avenue, near Adams street. The addition consists of raising the existing structure two stories, and rearranging interior to correspond.—Also residence to go up on Deming court, Lake View, for Mr. L. H. Ferris, 28x80 feet, two stories, basement and attic. The front will be stone with bays of same, and slate mansard roof. The entrance will be under a semi-circular arch and paved with tiles. Plate, ornamental and art glass. The interior will be handsomely finished in natural woods, etc. The house will be heated by steam. In the rear there will be a two-story brick barn corresponding in design with the main building. Cost, $25,000.

Architect Fred Ahlslager has completed plans for store and flats to be erected at 321 Southport avenue, Lake View, for Mr. M. J. Sullivan, 24x42 feet, two story and basement. The front will be of Indiana pressed brick with cut stone trimmings, galvanized iron cornice and gravel roof. The store will be fitted with a modern plate glass front. Cost $5,000.—Also fine church in the Gothic style of architecture to be erected at the corner of Belmont and Laurel streets, for the Evangelical Lutherans. The church will have a frontage of 70 feet and a depth of 112 feet, and capable of seating a congregation of 850 persons. The front will be of selected brick with cut stone trimmings end moulded and carved enrichments, and the roof will be slate. The elevation will be improved with tower and spire rising to a height of 150 feet. The interior will be fitted up with spacious galleries, organ and choir loft, benches, etc. The heating will be by furnaces placed in the basement. Cost, $25,000. Also St. John's church, Elk Grove, Ill., for the Lutheran body, 40x78 feet. The basement will be of stone, the superstructure of framed work with shingle roof. The exterior will be improved with tower and spire 110 feet high. The interior will be fitted with galleries, etc. Cost $8,000.—Also store and flats to be erected at corner of Clybourn and Cleveland avenues, for Mrs. Hattie Soloman, 16x78 feet, three story and basement. The front will be of Indiana pressed brick and cut Bedford stone trimmings, galvanized iron cornice and bays and gravel roof. Plate, and ornamental glass. Cost, $7,000.

Architects Flanders and Zimmerman have completed plans for a block of stores and flats on Madison avenue, near Sixty third street, 33x50 feet, four stories with basement. The front will be of pressed brick with stone trimmings, copper cornice and bays and gravel roof. The interiors will be handsomely finished with wood mantels, etc. Cost, $12,000.

Architects J. F. and J. P. Doerr have completed drawings for a block of stores and flats to be erected at the corner of Cottage Grove avenue and Sixty-seventh street, for Mr. Mayer Louer, 50x72 feet, three stories with basement. The fronts will be of pressed brick with cut Bedford stone trimmings, galvanized iron cornice and bays and gravel roof. At the corner will be a handsome circular tower with projection ending in fancy finial. The interiors will in part be finished in hardwood. The stores will be fitted with modern store fronts, with iron columns and bressummers. Cost, $12,500.—Also a pair of residences on Champlain avenue, near Forty-ninth street, for Messrs. Doerr Bros., 48x65 feet, and comprise three stories and basement. The fronts, which are in the Romanesque style of architecture, will be of St. Louis pressed brick with cut Bedford stone trimmings, galvanized iron cornice and gravel roof. The approaches will be by flights of stone steps leading to recessed and tile paved vestibules. The interior will be handsomely finished in hardwood. Cost, the pair, $14,000.

Architects Ostling Bros., have completed drawings for flat building to be erected on Newport avenue, near Clark street, for Mr. John B. Johnston, 22x58 feet, three story and basement. The front will be entirely of rock-faced buff Bedford stone with bays of same. Galvanized iron cornice with fancy pediment over bays, and gravel roof. The interior will be finished in Georgia pine. The front will be improved with a graceful timber porch. Steam heat. Cost, $10,000.—Also flat structure on Sigel street, near Hodson avenue, for Mr. James Coffey, 25x50 feet, three story and basement. Pressed brick and stone trimmings for front. Cost $7,000, Architect Fred Ahlschlager has completed drawings for handsome flats, in the Romanesque style of architecture, to be erected at the corner of Belmont avenue, near West court, for Mr. John S. Smith. The house will have a frontage of 28 feet by a depth of 70 feet, and comprise three stories with basement. The front will be of rock faced stone throughout, with bays of same. The approach will be by a flight of stone steps leading to a recessed and tile paved entrance, under a semi-circular arch. The house will be heated by steam throughout. Cost $10,000.

Architects W. A. Youmans & Bro., have prepared plans for residence to be erected at Eggleston, for Mr. L. C. Gray, 35x56 feet, two story and attic. The basement will be of rock-faced stone, and the superstructure of framed work with shingle roof. The house will be improved with verandah, porch, etc. The interior will be completed with wood mantels, bevelled glass, etc. Cost, $8,000.—Also business block with livery stable on State street, near Fifty-sixth street, for Mr. J. Boyd. The block will have a frontage of 50 feet by a depth of 78 feet and consist of two stories and basement. The front will be of Indiana pressed brick with cut stone dressings. Plate glass, sanitary plumbing, etc. Cost, $10,000.

Architect William G. Barfield has completed plans for alterations and additions to premises on Fourth avenue for Messrs. H. C. Marsh & Son. There will be added two additional stories, and existing premises will be renovated and remodelled. Cost, $8,000.—Also block of buildings to be erected on Lincoln avenue for Mr. J. C. Soales, 85x75 feet, three stories with basement. The front will be of selected pressed brick with cut stone trimmings, etc. Cost $24,000.

Architect Tabor & Pagels have prepared drawings for ornate residence in the Romanesque style of architecture, to be erected on North Hoyne street, near Emery Place, for Mrs. Caroline Niedert, 22x70 feet, three story and basement structure. The front will be a combination of rock-faced and hammer dressed buff Bedford stone with bays of same, and red slate mansard roof. Oak and Sycamore finish, with wood mantels, etc. Cost, $11,500.

Architect Charles S. Frost has completed plans for a two story business block for J. Q. Adams, to be built on the southwest corner of Wabash avenue and Peck court. Excavation has already begun. The building will be constructed with special reference to its use for carriage or furniture salesrooms. There will be three stores on the ground floor. That on the corner will be 60 by 160 feet and each of the others will be 30 by 160 feet. The second floor will be devoted to mercantile offices. This project indicates an upward tendency in Wabash avenue property caused in part at least by the establishment of elevated railway terminals in that vicinity.

Architect William Thomas has prepared plans for two 3-story and basement flat buildings for Dr. H. P. Skiler on Polk street, near Sacramento avenue. The buildings will be fitted throughout with every modern appliance and will cost $6,000 each. The same architect has also planned a three-story store and flat building, 25x65 feet, for A. M. Crawford on Herrison street, near Leavitt. This building will contain a store and two flats and will cost $9,000.—Also a two-story and basement flat building, 25x63, on Fulton street, near Parker Place, for L. D. Evans. Cost $7,000. Mr. Thomas will erect for himself on Homan avenue, near Madison street, a three-story flat building, 24x60 feet, to cost $7,500. Also for F. L. Baldwin on Evanston avenue in Buena Park, three dwelling houses, 28x55, two stories, attic and cellar, to cost $8,000 each.

RULES FOR THE INSPECTION AND GRADING OF LUMBER.

Inspectors of lumber are not manufacturers and must measure and inspect lumber as they find it, of full length and width (except as to wane, which must be measured out and inspected in a lower grade), making no allowance for the purpose of raising grade.

Inspectors must use their best judgment, based upon these rules for their guidance.

The standard knot shall not exceed 1¼ inches in diameter, and must be of a sound character.

Splits are always more or less damage to a piece of lumber. An allowance must be made, either in determining the quality or quantity, according to the nature of the split. A split extending to exceed one foot will reduce it to one grade lower.

Lumber should be sawed plump thickness, otherwise it is not considered marketable, and must be reduced to the next standard thickness or at least one grade lower, on account of thinness.

A cull below the standard thickness is a mill cull,

A cull which will not work one half of its size free from all defects, is a mill cull and no recognized value and no account is necessary to be made of it.

When lumber or timber does not come up to the grade or contract, it must be placed in the next lower grade named.

Lumber sawed for specific purposes, such as axles, bolsters, tongues, reaches, newels, balusters, squares, etc., must be inspected with a view to the adaptability of the piece for the intended use, as in many cases, it cannot be used for other purposes.

Wagon stock must be clear, cut from good, live, sound, tough, straight-grained timber.

Timbers must be free from unsound knots. Sound hearts not showing on the outside will be allowed.

In the grade of firsts and seconds, the purchaser is entitled to the full average of firsts, which must not be less than 33⅓ per cent.

Standard lengths are always recognized as being 12, 14, and 16 feet. Shorter than 12 and longer than 16 feet does not come within the range of standard. In black walnut and cherry an exception is made, and ten feet is a standard length. Shorter or longer than standard lengths, in all varieties of hardwood lumber, except in counter tops, are reduced one grade lower.

Common and cull lumber must be 8 feet and over long, except cherry and walnut, which must be 6 feet and over long.

Mixed lots, containing boards, planks, flooring, bolsters, reaches, etc., shall be measured and inspected according to the rules governing the measurement and inspection of boards and planks.

Flooring strips should be 4 and 6 inches in width; 1 and 1¼ inches in thickness. Other widths and thicknesses shall be designated as special sizes. It must have one face and two edges clear.

Common flooring strips shall be of the same size and general character as clear, but may have two small sound knots not exceeding three-fourths of one inch in diameter, or a small amount of wane on one edge which will not injure it for working to its full size.

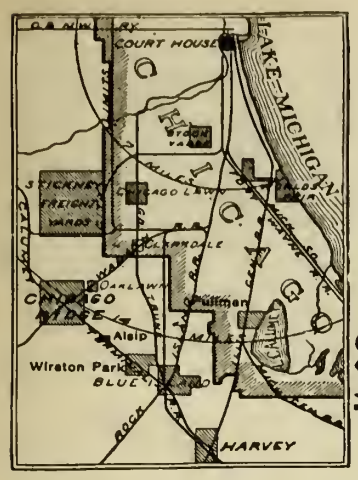
Hickory should never be cut while the sap is rising, as it is then liable to powder-post, and indications of deterioration of this character should be carefully scrutinized.

Newels from all kinds of timber must be clear and free from heart, to square 5, 6, 7, 8, 9 and 10 inches plump. The length must be 4 feet full or multiples thereof.

Balusters and table legs shall be clear and square, 2x2, 2½x2½, 3x3 and 4x4, 32 inches long.

Newels, balusters and table legs not coming up to the grade of clear, shall be classed as cull.

Counter tops shall be 12 feet and over long, 1, 1¼ and 1½ inches thick, and must be strictly clear, not less than 20 inches wide.



Firsts are always classed as clear.

Clear lumber must be 6 inches and over wide, excepting cypress and poplar, which must be 8 inches and over wide, free from all defects of every kind and nature.

Bolsters must be 4 feet, 4 feet 6 inches or multiples thereof in length, and the size must be 3x4, 3½x4½, 3½x5, or 4x5 inches.

Reaches must be 2x4, or 2½x4½ inches, and the lengths 8, 10, 12 and 16 feet.

Harrow timber must be 2½x2½ inches, and the lengths 5, 10 and 14 feet.

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company's 6,150 miles of road traverses a vast territory, rich in all the resources that insure industrial success.

The Industrial Department is conversant with the Iron, Coal, Lumber and Tanbark, the Water-Power (both river and artesian) for factory and electrie power purposes, the markets, the transportation and financial facilities, and other interests on the line pertaining to industrial development, and disseminates information concerning same.

A number of new factories have been induced to locate—largely through the instrumentality of this Company—at enterprising towns on its lines.

As the interest of the Company is to secure the location of industries at places where the surroundings will insure their permanent success, the information furnished a particular industry is pertinent and reliable.

In the Eastern States and in other parts of the world factories are so congested and distant from the actual markets as to result in fierce and destructive competition. That the West is taking a place as one of the great manufacturing territories of the world is forcibly impressing itself upon discerning and enterprising manufacturers. Steps should be taken by such while the field is as yet not fully covered, and while inducements are still being offered, to locate in the West.

Individuals or companies wishing to embark capital in Western industry can find a profitable field.

Luis Jackson,

C., M. & St. Paul R'y, 160 Adams St., Chicago, Ill.

Western Springs

The Queen Suburb of Chicago

26 MINUTES FROM UNION DEPOT!

ON THE CHICAGO, BURLINGTON & QUINCY R. R.

56 TRAINS DAILY.

WATER, from the CELEBRATED MINERAL SPRINGS will be conveyed to all portions of the village.

A system of Drainage has also been adopted by the Village Board of Trustees, both water and sewer systems have been developed by Engineer Benezette Williams, and will be completed as speedily as possible.

These improvments make this suburb in all particulars, the most desirable about Chicago, as a place for Homes with schools and churches.

The train service is complete.

Rapid transit is a fact.

This location is 96 feet above level of Lake Michigan. The ground high and rolling. The streets are shaded by trees of more than 20 years growth, In fact the entire village is a beautiful Park. Lots can now be secured at prices that insures purchasers large returns for their money in the Near Future. All desiring Homes for their families, should look this property over before purchasing elsewhere.

Call and go out with us any day, and we promise to surprise you with the advantages and beauty of this place.

C. C. COLLINS,
